Many File For Delegates For Sixth District

Many candidates have filed for delegates to the Democratic and Republican National Conventions for the Sixth Congressional District.

According to the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, 53 candidates including three from this county have filed as delegates to the Democratic National Convention. Five positions will be filled.

There are 12 in the contest for delegates to the Republican National Convention from the Sixth Congressional district, with three to be selected.

Garrett County residents who filed for Democratic delegates are Ada Mae Welch, Mt. Lake Park; David C. Beard, Route 1, Swanton; and Elwood L. Groves II, Mt. Lake Park.

In the Republican delegate race, Mrs. Brenda J. Butscher of Oakland, is a candidate.

There are 10 Democratic candidates in the race for the party's nomination for the U. S. Senate and two for the House of Representatives from the Sixth Congressional District. On the Republican side, two Frostburg residents are assured of nomination without any GOP opposition. They are Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., who filed for a second six-year term, and Arthur T. Bond, for House of Representatives.

There is also an independent candidate for the Senate, Bruce Bradley, Bethesda.

Rep. Goodloe E. Byron of Frederick is a Democratic candidate for a fourth two-year term in the House of Representatives and faces primary opposition from Dan Rupli in Frederick county.

Letter to the Editor

Gentlemen:

Congratulations on your 100th anniversary. Not many firms have achieved this goal.

I have been a subscriber to a number of weekly newspapers in the past years, and you can take pride in the fact that your general appearance, news stories and advertising layout have never been surpassed.

Now that you have reached the age of a centenarian, why not have a news column on the events of a hundred years ago.

Sincerely,
William L. Wilson
Cumberland, Md.

Students Continue Relating Writings To Bicentennial

The eighth in a series of stories from English and Creative Writing classes at Southern High school appears this week. This time the article concerns the Boston Tea Party and was written by Steve Liller, a tenth grader.

My name is Samuel Adams. I was one of the big leaders of the Boston Tea Party. It all started when the mother country, which is, of course, England, put into effect some very stringent taxes on tea and other items we rely on very heavily. We tried to get them to recognize this act of tyranny. We sent Benjamin Franklin to the Parliament of England to try to plead our case of "taxation without representation," but it failed. We knew that we must ignite a spark in the people to rebel.

One night we had a meeting to see if a more peaceful solution could be seen, but there was none. Consequently, that night we dressed in Indian costumes and threw the open boxes of tea overboard. After we had done this, we were regretful. The British closed Boston Harbor, and we could not even get the Dutch Tea we usually smuggled into Boston. Then they began the "Intolerable Acts," which were very harsh and impatient. This turned out to be a major turning point leading to the Revolution.

GCC To Open Spring Baseball Season April 1

Garrett Community College will open its spring baseball season on April 1 against Frostburg State J.V. at Frostburg.

The Laker team, coached by Dennis Fearnow, is the only two-year college team in the state playing both fall and spring baseball with some 46 games scheduled over that period. The Lakers will enter the spring part of their schedule with a record of 11 wins and three losses carried over from the fall.

The 20-man roster shows a total of nine sophomores and 11 freshmen. Among the returning lettermen are Mike Brady, Jim Kostyak, and Mark Deutsch, pitchers; Robert Whitfield (captain) and Glen Wrzesinski, infielders; Craig Bosley and Bob Ingram, catchers; Randy DiSimone and Randy Bolinger, outfielders. Brady, Bosley, Ingram and DiSimone are from Southern High in Oakland.

With an excellent freshmen group, the Lakers have depth at each position along with an even number of right and left-handed batters as well as two switch hitters, according to Coach Fearnow.

Last year the Laker baseball team combined for a 23-4 record and accepted an invitation to play in the Region 20 baseball tournament.

The schedule is as follows:

MODERN DAY BETSY AND BILL ROSS — These youngsters, members of Miss Jan Cozad's kindergarten class at Oak Street School, are learning more about the original American flag flown by the colonies as they work to construct one for the classroom. All youngsters in the class have been taking turns sewing on the flag under the supervision of Miss Cozad and Mrs. Ed Wawzinski, teacher's aide. The youngsters are studying about the flags and customs of 1776 as compared to 1976 in their Bicentennial program.

Bicentennial Hymn Service Scheduled

A Bicentennial Hymn Service featuring hymns in use in Methodist congregations around 1776 will be presented at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland on Sunday, March 21, at 10:45.

Five of the hymns to be used may be found in the hymnal published in Charleston, S. C., in 1737 by John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist movement. This was the first hymnal published in the colonies that included hymns other than metrical versions of the Psalms.

The service will include the only hymn known to have been written by John Wesley as well as one translated by him from the Moravians.

Four of the hymns in the service were written by Charles Wesley, the author of about 6,000 hymns.

All are invited.

Byron Measure To Get Hearing

Congressional legislation to save the family farm and preserve open spaces near metropolitan areas began this week, according to Rep. Goodloe Byron, the bill's sponsor.

Byron, whose bill now has 55 co-sponsors, will testify before the Ways & Means Committee at the hearings on March 17.

The proposed measure seeks to revise estate tax laws which are playing a part in driving the family farm out of existence by forcing families to sell their land in order to pay estate taxes.

The Byron bill would change this tax policy and allow family heirs to have their land assessed for its actual use as farmland rather than at its highest market value as required under Federal estate tax law.

DOEBLER'S
Corn is Beautiful
HYBRIDS

WHY CAN DOEBLER'S SELL FOR LESS??

Sometimes people ask why Doebler's Hybrids cost the farmer less than other brands of seed corn. The difference is mostly in two areas — OVERHEAD and ADVERTISING.

In reference to OVERHEAD, Doebler's operate a family owned seed business. Everyone works, from the part time helpers to the so-called executives. When it is time to plant corn, detassel corn or harvest in the fall, everyone helps. Just to be a family operated business in seed corn is unusual at a time when many name companies have either gone public or have been purchased by conglomerates, pharmaceutical companies, etc.

In reference to ADVERTISING, have you ever wondered what a four page colored spread costs? It gets pretty scary and such expenditures do nothing to improve the product being sold. Doebler's do some advertising, but the cost is kept within a reasonable figure — no big color spreads or fancy brochures. Doebler's will continue to rely on the 56# bag and four annual field days as their major advertising programs.

Does money spent on high overhead and advertising contribute to better seed corn in the bag?? We think not!!

Rams Take Second Place In State Championship; Fall To Gwynn Park In Class B Finals, 79-59

WELCOME BACK! — Despite snow, high wind and freezing temperatures, quite a crowd was on hand to greet the Southern High Rams varsity basketball team upon their return to Oakland Saturday night from College Park. Identifiable in the photo is a smiling Allen Lewis [the tall one] who was sidelined from the tournament due to a separated shoulder, and Aleta DeiSignore [behind Allen]. The team bus was led from Shady Acres to the school with lights and sirens by a county deputy's car and a fire engine from the Oakland Fire Department.

The Southern High Rams dropped a 79 to 59 decision to a talent-loaded Gwynn Park High School Saturday afternoon in the battle for the state class B basketball championship at the University of Maryland field house, College Park.

The Rams, who advanced to the finals with a come from behind 58 to 52 win over North Caroline High Friday afternoon were battling for the first state championship ever for Garrett County after coming home without a title in two previous trys.

Southern made its first trip to College Park in 1961 and lost to Sparrow's Point 68 to 61 in the class A finals. In their last try in 1971 the Rams were stopped by Stephen Decatur 55 to 53 in the class B semi-finals.

Gwynn Park had been winning state championships in class C five years but moved up to class B for the first time this year.

Coach Don Stemple admitted that the team had superior talent all down the line, claiming the Rams would have had to have all the breaks and played a super game to beat them. "Their strong physical ability wore us down."

The Rams concluded the season with an 18-9 record after capturing the district 1 title with a victory over Francis Scott Key. Coach Stemple felt eight of the losses could have gone either way. Southern had beaten eight of the teams to whom they lost this season.

Southern stayed with the taller and quicker Yellow Jackets in the first half on some good shooting by Ed Panther and Kevin Liller and had a 12 to 11 lead in the opening chapter. Ken Niner, the Rams' 6-5 junior, then went to the bench with his third personal foul with 1:30 left in the first period and that, combined with the absence of injured Allen Lewis, proved to be Southern's downfall as Gwynn Park dominated the boards.

Lewis, a 6-4, 210 pound senior, separated his shoulder and suffered a concussion in the game against Bruce High. He was the team's leading rebounder at the time and third leading scorer. With Lewis out and Niner on the bench most of the game the Yellow Jackets totally controlled the boards, often getting three and four shots before making the basket. They out rebounded Southern 52 to 27. Having trouble with turnovers, Gwynn Park led 15 to 14 at the quarter and was on top by only seven, 36 to 29, at the half.

After Southern cut the gap to five points at 38-33 on two jump shots by Kevin Liller early in the second half the Jackets outscored the Rams 18 to 4 in five minutes to break the game open. They were ahead 56 to 39 entering the final quarter.

Kevin Liller, 6-3 senior, who had 26 points in the second half and total of 31 in the win over North Caroline, had 28 and 10 rebounds Saturday. He made 10 of 24 shots from the floor and eight of nine free throws. Panther, 6-1 senior, had 15 points and eight assists. Steve Liller had 7, Niner had 4, Proudfoot 3, Miller 2. Raynovich and Ritchie did not score.

For Gwynn Park, Banks had 30, Clark 26, Jackson 7, Hawkins 8, Bailey 2 and Thomas 4.

Southern had the largest crowd of rooters of any team at the championship games, around 600 to 700 being in attendance during the Friday and Saturday games.

Rams Defeat North Caroline In Semi Finals

Kevin Liller turned on the steam in a Southern come from behind game against North Caroline high school, for a victory which put them in the class B finals at College Park last Friday afternoon. The final score was 58 to 52.

Liller, described as "50 percent of our offense" by Ram Coach Don Stemple, poured in 26 points of his game high 31 in the second half as Southern erased a 25 to 21 intermission deficit.

The Rams, with Steve Liller and Ed Panther providing the spark, took a 12 to 11 lead at the end of the first period on a basket by Kevin Liller with 22 seconds left. North Caroline then took a 17 to 11 lead. Southern, giving away height to the Bulldogs, fell behind by 10 with 2:01 left to play in the half but scored the last six points to close the gap to four at intermission.

Kevin Liller and Ken Niner knotted the contest in the third period but fell back to a 34-33 mark. Kevin Liller put the Rams on top with his 10th point of the period with 56 seconds left. The lead went up following an Ed Panther foul toss at the end of the third period. The Rams moved to a six point lead but North Caroline again tied the count. The game was tied once more at 46 before Liller, who scored 16 points in the last period, got two goals and Southern was on top for good.

Liller was 15 for 23 from the field, and one of two from the foul line. He also hauled in seven rebounds, had five assists, blocked four shots against taller opponents and came up with two steals as well as directing the Southern offense. Steve Liller had 15 rebounds and 8 points.

The Rams shot 54.8 percent in the second half. Raynovich had 4 points, Panther 7 and Niner 8. Murray led the Bulldogs with 15, Mark Reachlin had 11, while Billy Mason and Milligan had 10 each.

Bruce High of Westernport was defeated at the buzzer by Pocomoke High in class C competition, losing 71 to 69. Aberdeen, a class A team, coached by Terry Colaw, former Southern High player, defeated Largo 80 to 65. Bethesda-Chevy Chase beat Annapolis 57 to 51 in the class AA division.

SHOW OF ACHIEVEMENT — This spectacle was the first thing to emerge from the door of the team bus of the Southern Rams on Saturday evening after their arrival at the high school. This gesture was representative of the tremendous enthusiasm and support by local fans and the student body, as some 600 to 700 of them accompanied the team to College Park last Friday and Saturday.

Terry Colaw's Team A Winner

Aberdeen High school ended a 25-year drought in the finals of the Maryland State High School basketball tournament. Aberdeen won the class A championship, beating Andover of Linthicum 66 to 55.

The Aberdeen team is coached by Terry Colaw, a Southern High school basketball and football star in the 1960s. He is a son of Mrs. Madeline Colaw. Colaw's soccer team has also won a state championship in that sport.

Terry is one of the many Colaws who figured in Southern sports play for a number of years, Ron, Toby, Fred, Exie and Terry, were some of the Colaws who starred in their day. Ron Colaw was on the team that went to the state finals, and later played with the West Virginia university mountaineer football team.

A PROUD PRINCIPAL — Luther D. Parrack, principal of Southern High School, proudly displays the trophy that was won by the varsity Rams at College Park last week in the Class B basketball finals. Southern lost to Gwynn Park in the finals, but was assured of second place in the state after defeating North Caroline in the semi-finals game on Friday, 58-52. This shot was taken Saturday evening just after the team returned to Oakland.

FOOTSTEPS

Dad was a railroader, a dedicated one. The rails were his love as well as his life. To him the "Twentieth Century" wasn't a span of history — it was "his train" roaring through the night.

Dad often took me to the train yards. He taught me that a railroader never steps on the rails. A "trackwalker" always walks the ties! This was no superstition — just respect for the "road."

There are other lessons to be learned . . . that involve reverence, respect and the footsteps of life . . . lessons that help us express in our simplest actions the things we believe in.

Learning those vital lessons every Sunday at church is even more fruitful than a trip to the train yards with Dad.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHO ARE YOU FOOLING?

Lesson for March 21, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 22:15 through 23:39
Devotional Reading: Matthew 22:34-40

Upon reading the twenty-third chapter of Matthew, a boy in my confirmation class exclaimed: "Gee, Jesus sure had it in for the scribes and the Pharisees, didn't he?"

Rev. Althouse

When we read the gospel narratives it certainly seems that way: his bitterest words and acts are aimed at the scribes and Pharisees. Yet, some people today find that difficult to understand, for the scribes and Pharisees were, for the most part, the most conscientious and dedicated followers of the Jewish faith. They were dominated by a passion to make that faith relevant to the daily lives of the people.

'Whitewashed tombs'

Why was Jesus so hard on these dedicated religionists? Why did he reserve his strongest language for them?

"Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for you are like whitewashed tombs, which outwardly appear beautiful, but within they are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanness. So you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but within you are full of hypocrisy and iniquity" (Matt. 23: 27,28.)

The answer is that, although these people were in truth the most dedicated and faithful followers of the Jewish faith, they still were not what they pretended to be. It seems that the person who is "good" and pretends to be even better, is not actually as "good" as the person owns up to being what he is. In other words, Jesus expected more of the "good" people. The proof of their being "good" would be their refusal to pretend to be more than they really were.

The measure of your fathers

The scribes and Pharisees dutifully honored and revered the prophets and saints who had been martyred in their time, but this struck Jesus as hypocritical: "...you are the sons of those who murdered the prophets. Fill up, then, the measure of your fathers" (Matt. 23: 31,32).

Jesus did not mean that they were the biological descendents of these tyrants, but rather that they were their spiritual heirs and offspring. In other words, despite what the Pharisees said about these long-dead martyrs, if they were to come back from the dead and begin to prophesy again as before, the Pharisees would be among the first to oppose and try to destroy them.

The problem, thus, was not just that the scribes and Pharisees were fooling others, but they were first of all fooling themselves. They were "good" people, but they weren't nearly as "good" as they supposed. And because they assumed that they "knew better," Jesus expected more of them than others.

And you? Who are you fooling?

Bethel Methodist To Host Third Lenten Service

Bethel United Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park, will be the host for the third service of the current series of Lenten services on Wednesday, March 24. Sponsored by the pastors of seven Oakland area churches, the services are held each Wednesday evening during Lent, beginning at 7:30.

The theme for the sermons by the ministers during the series is based on "Fruit of the Spirit" as expressed by St. Paul in the Epistle to the Galatians. Guest preacher for the service next Wednesday evening will be Pastor Richard Seaks, of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland. His topic concerns "peace" as a fruit of the Spirit.

Also as a part of their Lenten activity, the pastors have been conducting the Family Lenten School on Sunday evenings at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland. The evening sessions of the classes begin at 7:00 o'clock and continue until 8:30 P.M.

Offerings this year will be given to CROP agency of the Church World Service to assist in its fight against world hunger.

CAUSE OF DEATH— CHOKING!

It happens and it happens often. But, now a physician has developed some new techniques that have proven successful in aiding a choking victim. It involves a very simple procedure.

Both hands are used. From behind you grasp your fist with your other hand and press it with quick upward thrust against the victim's abdomen just above the naval and below the rib cage. Or, kneeling in front, with one hand on top of the other, press the heel of the bottom hand against the abdomen and thrust upward. Repeat several times if necessary.

LIBERTY BELL REPLICA — Members of two classes at Oak Street kindergarten have been working for the past three weeks on a model of the Philadelphia Liberty Bell, rung for the first time July 8, 1776 declaring Independence. The replica, formed of wire covered with papier-mache and painted by the children, is exact in detail, even to the crack the original obtained while tolling for the funeral of John Marshall in 1835. The 26 class members taught by Miss Jan Cozad and the 26 class members taught by Mrs. Lynda Durst collaborated on the project. The bell was hung in the main entryway of the school Tuesday.

Minority Report

Senate Minority Leader, Edward J. Mason, (R.-Allegany-Garrett), a vocal member of the General Assembly's anti-subway coalition, has warned fellow legislators to remember the past programs for which the Governor has fought before succumbing to his pressure to approve the subway.

"The record shows that the programs the Governor has fought hardest for are the ones which have been the greatest financial disasters," said Senator Mason. "A similar coalition of Republicans and others who believe many of the Governor's programs are not fiscally responsible have tried to open some eyes to the dangers of his policies. However, the Governor has been able to wheel and deal to get the votes he needs and we are stuck with his extravagantly costly calamities."

Senator Mason cited as examples of these programs the state takeover of school construction, the Maryland Automobile Insurance Fund, and the property tax circuit breaker, none of which would have been adopted without the heavy lobbying efforts of the Governor.

Senator Mason cautioned that the Governor's claims that the subway would acrue no overhead cost were as realistic as his original estimate for the state takeover of school construction.

Accidents Last Week Injure Two

Two persons were slightly injured in accidents last week, one due to a snow covered road.

Judy Green, a passenger in a car driven by Robert E. Green, both of Star Route, Grantsville, was slightly injured. Green was driving west on U. S. 40 about a mile west of the Zehner road just after 3 p.m. last Tuesday. He was on a steep down grade when he lost control of the car which slid onto the right shoulder and struck a guard rail. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile charged him with failing to observe snow emergency regulations as the roads were snow-covered Charee Y. Reckner, McHenry, was slightly injured when her car struck the rear of another on U. S. 219 just south of Thayerville about 9 a.m. Saturday.

Bernard C. Harmon, Cresaptown, in a pick-up, was being followed by Charee Reckner southbound on Rt. 219. Harman had slowed and started to make a left turn into a private drive. At the same time, Charee Reckner attempted to pass and doing so, struck the Harman pick-up. Charee Reckner, was charged by Tpr. J. E. Foley with passing when unsafe.

Two cars collided on the Underwood road Saturday afternoon due to a blinding snow storm.

Sharon Y. Liller, RD 1, Oakland, was driving south as James L. Holler, also of RD 1, Oakland, was driving north. The two collided at the crest of a hill due to blinding snow and the resulting poor visibility. Cpl. Ronald Lewis investigated.

Bushrod K. Hardesty, RD 3, Deer Park, was traveling south on State Route 560 about a half mile south of Bethlehem road about 1 a.m. Sunday. His car went off the left side of the road and struck an embankment. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged him with having faulty tires.

The first stop will be at the residence of Paul and David Countryman. This family operated partnership milks 81 Registered Holsteins which have a DHI rolling herd average of 15,400 pounds of milk and 580 pounds of butterfat. The cows recently achieved a Holstein Breed average adjusted score of 102.6 points during a recent classification of the dairy herd. Garrett dairymen will be able to observe milking daughters of the "Ivanhoe Star", "Performer", and "Black Eagle" bulls at the Countryman dairy. In addition, the Countryman farm has recently added an 60 cow tie stall barn which is fully insulated and has forced air ventilation. The dairy herd is fed from a poured concrete upright silo which has a bottom unloader mechanism.

Lunch will be served at Shelva's Restaurant in Berlin, Pa. Persons may bring their lunch if they so desire, however, Mr. Bender said.

The second phase of the tour will feature a stop at the Calvin Wills and Sons farm. The feature attraction of the Will's operation will be an opportunity for Garrett dairymen to observe the Round Oak Ivanhoe Eve Cow. The Eve cow is the dam of the Round Oak Rag Apple Elevation bull. Elevation currently has a Predicted Difference, or transmitting ability, of plus 1224 pounds of milk and plus 42 pounds of butterfat. This means that Elevation should increase the income of his daughters by an average of $102.00 per lactation. In addition, the Eve cow is due to freshen in April, 1976.

The Will's herd of 130 Registered Holstein cows has a DHI rolling herd average of 16,300 pounds of milk and 620 pounds of butterfat produced per cow for the past twelve months. Their current Holstein Breed average adjusted classification score is 101.6 points. The Will's herd is housed and milked in a stanchion barn.

All Garrett dairymen are being urged to participate in the car-caravan tour. Persons needing transportation should contact Carl Bender, Oren Bender, Don Mason or Lawrence Little at the Extension Office. In addition, persons who are planning to drive should contact one of the above Holstein Board members if they have room for additional persons in their automobile, Mr. Little advised.

There Is An Answer . . .

Norman Vincent Peale
and Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. (To Dr. Peale): Our family is having a discussion on where you go after death. Also, when you are cremated, where does your soul go?

A. (Dr. Peale): I believe that after death we pass as souls to the spiritual realm from which this physical world is sustained and governed. I do not believe that the disposition of a person's body after death, whether by cremation or otherwise, has any particular importance for the soul. The dead body is merely a discarded garment.

Q. (To Dr. Peale): What is the best way to beat insomnia?

A. (Dr. Peale): First check with your doctor for any possible physical reasons for your sleeplessness and the means of correcting them. Beyond that make up your mind that you do not need sleeping pills; if you are depending on the crutch of pills you will only increase your need for them. (This is not to imply that under certain circumstances a mild sedative prescribed by your doctor is not proper.)

Try to check your worries and resentments outside your bedroom door and go to bed with positive, relaxing thoughts. You will find some other suggestions in a booklet entitled YOU CAN RELAX, a copy of which is on its way to you.

Q. (To Mrs. Peale): My husband and I have a problem concerning parents. We were both brought up by foster parents (not the same ones). After we married, we decided to look up our real parents, whom we had never known. This is the cause of the problem, for now they are all elderly and seeking help from us—four sets of parents! Our inclination is to give what we can to our foster parents, who brought us up. Where does our responsibility lie?

A. (Mrs. Peale): To the foster parents, if you have to make a choice. The responsibility of parents does not end but rather begins when they bring children into the world. Apparently yours could not accept their duty of care and nurture; it was assumed by others. If you can do something for your natural parents, fine, but your chief loyalty belongs to those who acted as real parents.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE's AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

Florida

Florida is the southernmost state except Hawaii. It is called "Peninsula State", as it is southward about 400 miles into the sea. It is nicknamed the "Sunshine State" because of its climate. Marshy grasslands near the southern tip account for another nickname, "Everglade State."

Tallahassee is the capital and Jacksonville the largest city. Governor is Renkin Askem, Democrat.

Florida has no state income tax. For nearly two hundred years the flag of Spain waved over what is now Florida. They discovered and named the land. Ponce de Leon noted many flowers there. Florida is a Spanish word meaning "full of flowers."

Ponce de Leon landed between St. Augustine and Jacksonville in 1513, in search of a fountain of youth. St. Augustine is oldest city in U.S. being founded by Pedro Menendez de Aviles, Spanish explorer, in 1565.

The state produces most of the nation's oranges and grapefruit, ranks second only to California in production of vegetables. Tomatoes are second leading truck crop with tobacco most valuable field crop. The 1974 output was an estimated million tons of oranges and two million tons of grapefruit.

Cattle industry has grown in importance. State leads in production of phosphate rock and second only to New York in titanium. Large stores of peat, sand and gravel are found. Commercial catch of fish and shell-fish is worth over $66 million a year.

Population is growing rapidly with 1974 census reporting population of 8,090,000. Many elder people retire there. There is a large senior center in St. Petersburg.

Tourism is leading industry. State has many miles of beaches. Miami Beach, suburb of Miami, is one of the world's most famous resorts. Others are Fort Lauderdale, Palm Beach, St. Petersburg. Some 24.5 million visitors spend some $67 billion annually. Many tourists have become permanent residents.

Disney World attracts many people. John F. Kennedy space center is another tourist attraction.

Everglades National Park preserves beauty of Everglades swamps. State has largest colonies of egrets, herons, ibises, pelicans and water turkeys. Alligators stay in the swamps.

Marineland, world's first oceanarium, south of St Augustine, has over a hundred kinds of marine life in natural surroundings. Hialeah Park in Miami is a most beautiful race track. Cypress Gardens is a leading attraction. The Overseas Highway, opened in 1938, links mainland with Key West and runs 128 miles between Florida City and Key West. The southern tip of Florida is 90 miles from Cuba.

Key West is first U.S. city to get its fresh water from the sea. A desalting plant, opened in 1967, produces 3.5 million gallons of pure water a day.

Work on the world's largest jetport was blocked by Florida citizens who feared it would endanger wildlife in Everglades.

Famous Floridians include Henry M. Flagler, Rex Beach, Irving Bachaller, James Weldon Johnson, Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, MacKinley Kantor, General Joseph W. Stilwell and Barbara Walters.

The next state in the series will be Georgia.

Mary Edith Harman

Letter To The Editor

Dear George:

It is indeed a pleasure to note that The Republican has officially begun its 100th year of publication and of service to the citizens of Garrett County. I am delighted to offer my congratulations and best wishes for a good centennial year, and for many more to follow.

With best wishes,
Sincerely,
Charles McC. Mathias, Jr.
United States Senator

Editor:

Two items occurred last week which pleased me. They are:

1. The March Term Grand Jury recommended to the county commissioners that they develop a plan to insure that farm land remain approximately the same amount of acreage as exists today. This would eliminate the need for the state government to buy "development rights" as stated in HB 783. The cost to taxpayers for purchasing these "rights" would also be eliminated (HB 1230).

2. Rep. Goodloe E. Byron has submitted a bill on the federal level to modify the federal "inheritance Tax," structure so that farmers will be better able to hold on to their farms.

The only thing left is to have Delegate Bolden to submit a bill or come out in favor of a bill that would exempt "active" farmland and equipment from inheritance taxes. If interested in having Delegate Bolden vote against these bills he can be called collect.

Assault, Battery Cases Are Heard With One Jailed

All trials on the District Court docket for the week ending March 16 were assault and battery, with one person jailed. Judge Lewis R. Jones held one bond hearing.

James Lininger, Jr., Rt. 53, Friendsville, pleaded not guilty of two charges of assault and battery, one on Pearl VanSickle and the other on a minor (girl). His plea was sustained in reference to the minor but he was found guilty on the other, against Mrs. VanSickle. On the guilty charge he was fined $50 and costs.

David Lee Hardesty, RD 3, Deer Park, pleaded not guilty of assault and battery on Kimberly J. Reams at Oakland February 27. He was found guilty, ordered to pay costs and was sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail.

Wade Edwin Janoske, RD 2, Oakland, had been charged with assault and battery on Julia A. Reckard, on Rt. 135, RD 2, Oakland. The case was dismissed as the complainant did not wish to testify.

Solomon Tasker, Westernport, had been charged with violation of probation by being drunk, carrying a weapon and threatening his wife. The original bond was $500 full cash. At a bond hearing Monday the bond was changed to 20 percent of $500 and $100 was paid. He has been released pending trial in Circuit Court with no date set.

Nominations for officers for the coming year will be made at this meeting. All persons interested in flying are welcome.

Byron Honored

Some 500 persons gathered at Frostburg last Friday evening for the testimonial dinner given in behalf of Rep. Goodloe E. Byron.

The Democrat from Frederick is running for a fourth two-year term in the House of Representatives from the Sixth Congressional district.

Rep. Byron was first elected to Congress in 1970. He pledged to continue to work with Maryland's two U. S. Senators, Charles McC. Mathias and J. Glenn Beall, in seeking a long-term solution to economic problems facing the area.

Wayne Hamilton, County Commissioner and president of the Tri-County Council of Western Maryland, noted that Rep. Byron had played a role in helping the three counties to obtain $16 million in Appalachian Region Commission funds for education, health, water and sewer projects and that the seed money had grown to a total project package of $36 million.

Whitewater Canoe-Kayak Races Set At Petersburg

Petersburg Whitewater weekend canoe and kayak races are scheduled along with other programs for March 27-28 and April 2-4 consecutive weekend dates this spring.

The whitewater races through rapids in the North Fork of the South Branch of the Potomac River attract so many contestants and spectators that separate weekend schedules were instituted first in 1973. This is the 13th year these nationally-prominent races are being held.

Slalom competitions are the March 27-28 date features. Paddlers negotiate through suspended slalom gates which are hanging over a one-quarter mile whitewater rapids section. Missing a gate or touching a pole subtracts points from each racers' time score.

The Middle States Wildwater Championships are featured on Saturday, April 3, then the nine-mile-long Potomac Highland Downriver Championship is run Sunday, April 4.

Sponsored by the City of Petersburg and the Canoe Cruisers Association of Washington, D. C., upwards of 20,000 people attended the 1975 weekend races.

Weekend activities include outdoor barbecues and food concessions, square dancing, a muzzle loading rifle shoot and the April 4 special April Fools Race for "anything that floats that is not a boat." A Grand Old Opry Show and an old-time fiddling contest are highlights of the weekends.

To Distribute Pine Seedlings Among Students

Every student attending Maryland schools will receive a pine seedling from the Maryland Forest Service in honor of the Bicentennial.

Approximately one million trees will be received by pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade students as part of a Bicentennial Arbor Day observance and the seventieth anniversary of the Maryland Forest Service.

Trees are the living connection between America's beginning in 1776 and today. These seedlings, planted with care, will grow out-of-doors, although they can be started in a flower pot indoors.

White pine and loblolly pine seedlings were grown at the Buckingham Tree Nursery to be given to students in 1976. The seedlings will be distributed to coordinators in each school in the state in late March.

April 5 is the seventieth anniversary of the Maryland Forest Service. In 1906, John and Robert Garrett gave to the State of Maryland some 1,967 acres of woodland near Oakland in Garrett County for the purpose of demonstrating forestry practices. Since then, the Forest Service has expanded its efforts and promotes forest-tree programs for the benefit of Maryland citizens.

The Forest Service has worked cooperatively with the Maryland Board of Education in the distribution of seedlings to students.

Local representatives of the Maryland Forest Service will assist the local schools in their projects. Department of Natural Resources Regional Service Centers are located in Bel Air, Cumberland, Laurel and Salisbury.

Over 150 million are eligible to vote in November.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my husband Robert Rhodes who passed away one year ago, March 17, 1975.

Should you go first and I remain
To walk the road alone.
I'll live in memories garden dear
With the happy days we've known
In spring I'll wait for roses red where the lilacs bloom
Early fall when brown leaves fall
I'll catch a glimpse of you.
Should you go first and I remain for battle to be fought
Each thing you've touched along the way will be a hallowed spot.
I'll hear your voice I'll see your smile
Though blindly I may grope
The memory of your helping hand
Will buoy me on with hope.
Should you go first and I remain
To finish with the scroll
Lengthening shadows shall creep in
To make this life seem droll.
We've had so much happiness
We've had our cup of joy.
And memory is one gift of God
That death cannot destroy.
Should you go first and I remain
One thing I'd have you do . . .
Walk slowly down that long, long path.
For soon I'll follow you.

Wife,
Pearl

Projects Ease World Hunger

Projects to ease world hunger have been supported in the area for some time and in order to conserve food to relieve the distress in many countries additional projects are being undertaken, particularly in the Grantsville area and nearby Pennsylvania.

Henry Yoder, manager of the Yoder Meat Packers at Grantsville, has issued an appeal to area church congregations, farmer groups and other interested organizations to work together to supply canned beef for the world's hungry. He has made the facilities at Yoder's Locker plant available for the project. Yoder's will slaughter and dress all animals to be slaughtered for this purpose. any type of beef is acceptable, he said.

Quite often farmers donate cows because that is what they have, but bulls and young animals are also good for the canning process.

The Mountain View Amish Mennonite congregation, located between West Salisbury and St. Paul, has been packing beef in an ongoing project since World War II. The Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) has a portable canner in a large van that moves from place to place where supplies and volunteers are located to pack the beef.

Besides volunteers who are needed to cook, debone and can the beef, funds are also needed to buy cans, labels and boxes in which to pack the finished cans, according to Mr. Yoder.

An MCC truck will be arriving at the Yoder plant soon to pick up several thousand cans of beef that the Mountain View people canned the other day, Yoder said.

Although the MCC is coordinating this effort, the program is open to all groups and individuals who may want to provide the animals, their volunteer services as canners or funds for necessary supplies.

Mr. Yoder said he hoped to see the canning project become a community-wide or country-wide project.

Anyone who is willing to donate beef animals or cows, time and money, is urged to contact Mr. Yoder at the Yoder Locker plant Monday through Friday until 5 p.m. or at his home in the evening. He said he would make arrangements for the processing and has volunteered to assist in coordinating community efforts.

The Teachers Of Garrett County

By Marianne Flinn and Dorothy Leighton
League of Women Voters

As of September 1975, the Garrett County school system had 5,774 students taught and guided by 303 teachers who were assisted by 80 county and federal aides.

Procedures for hiring teachers include examination for proper certification, good scholarship personality, executive ability, and teaching proficiency. An applicant is considered by administrative personnel, recommended by the superintendent, and officially approved for contract by the board of education.

All teachers new to the system serve a 2-year probationary period. At the conclusion of two years of successful service if the teacher's contract is continued by the board of education, the teacher gains tenure, meaning that his employment cannot be terminated without formal procedures specified by law. More than 80 % of Garrett County teachers have tenure.

Teachers are periodically evaluated by principals and supervisors, according to standards developed by committees of professional employees and approved by the board of education. Written evaluation reports are submitted on all new and non-tenured teachers twice a year and on all other teachers once a year. The evaluation reports are completed subsequent to classroom visitations and teacher-evaluator conferences. Teachers receive copies of written evaluation reports.

In addition to teaching students, teachers are responsible for keeping records, participating in faculty meetings, and reporting to parents.

Beginning teachers in Garrett County receive the lowest salaries of any teachers in the state of Maryland.

The state police fraud squad was formed at the direction of Governor Marvin Mandel in an attempt to combat meaningful cases of welfare abuse.

The case involved Charlotte Friend, formerly of Crellin, who was sentenced in circuit court to two years in custody of the Commissioner of Corrections for welfare fraud, false pretense and false application. The two year sentence was suspended and a two year period of probation was imposed on her under conditions she make restitution of benefits she illegally received from the county social services department.

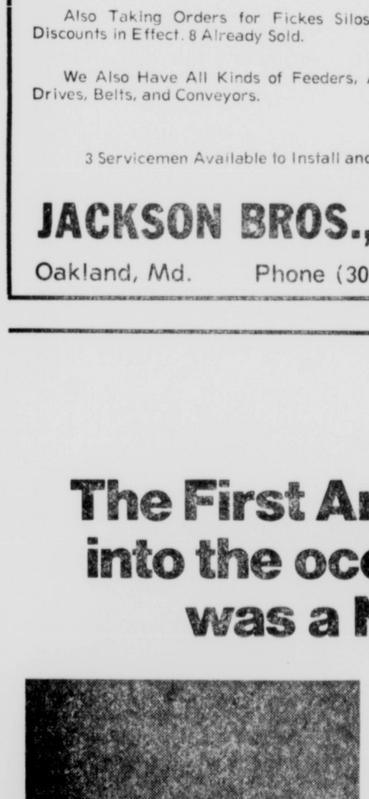
The First American to sail into the oceans of space was a Navy man.



5 May 1961.

3 ... 2... 1. "we have a lift off."

And America had its first man in space. Commander Alan B. Shepard, Jr., USN.

In 1962, the first three Americans to orbit the earth were also naval aviators: Lt. Colonel J. H. Glenn, USMC; Lt. Commander M. S. Carpenter, USN; and Commander W. M. Schirra, USN.

When these men joined the Navy, they saw the world all right. From outer space!

And they are but a few of the many Navy men we are proud to salute as the United States celebrates its Bicentennial; Navy men who helped shape our country's growth into a world power.

Eight Are Killed On State Roads

Eight persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed six were drivers and two were passengers.

Admittedly it is not speed itself that kills or maims, it is the sudden stop of a collision, as reflected in last week's fatal experiences, Lt. Heiger explained. If that sudden stop occurs at 65 miles an hour, there is a 1 in 20 chance of death, according to the American Insurance Association.

PUBLIC RELEASE

The Garrett County Board of Education has announced its policy for free and reduced price meals and free milk for school children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served in schools under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk Programs.

The local school officials have adopted the following family-size income criteria for determining eligibility:

If the number of people in your family is:	...and your income is at or below this level, you are eligible for a free meal and free milk	If your income falls between 2 & 3, you are eligible for a reduced price meal (A reduced price meal is established at $.10)
Column 1	Column 2	Column 3
1	$ 3,230	$ 5,040
2	4,240	6,620
3	5,250	8,200
4	6,260	9,770
5	7,190	11,210
6	8,110	12,650
7	8,950	13,970
8	9,790	15,280
9	10,550	16,460
10	11,310	17,640
11	12,060	18,820
12	12,810	20,000
Each additional family member	750	1,180

Children from families whose income is at or below those shown are eligible for free and reduced price meals or free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 per cent of income, special education expenses due to mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms were sent to all homes in a letter to parents at the beginning of the school year. Additional copies of the application are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, they should contact the school.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family should contact the school to file a new application. Such changes may make the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the school principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If he wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Eugene Flinn, Garrett County Board of Education, 40 South Fourth Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550, telephone number 334-8121, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the office of the Garrett County Board of Education where it may be reviewed by any interested party.

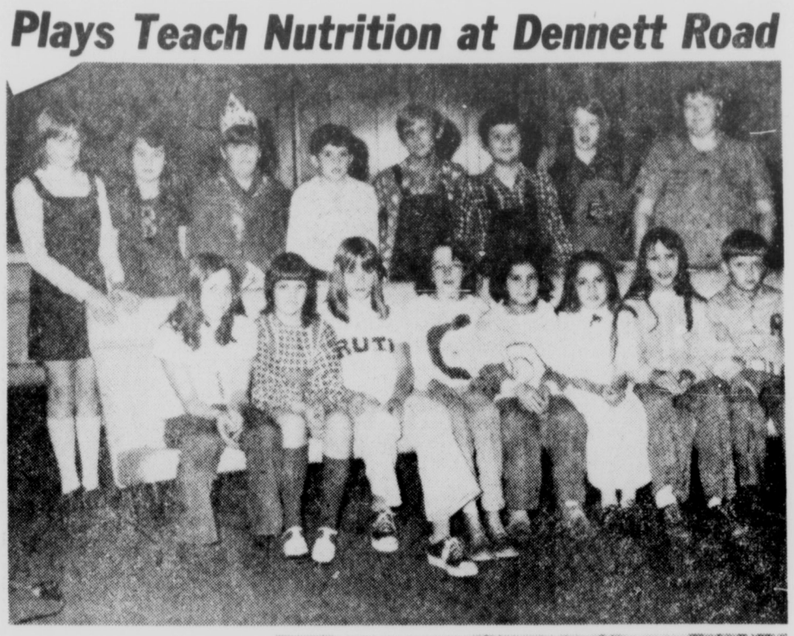
Plays Teach Nutrition at Dennett Road



As part of a recent Berkeley Health workshop held at the Board of Education for sixth grade science teachers, several Dennett Road school students delivered two plays.

Students were sixth graders in Miss Doris Opel's classroom. Both plays emphasized the nutritional part of the health program.

"Long Live the King," and "A Visit to Vitamin Village", developed the idea that every person should eat daily from the four basic food groups and that all vitamins are important to proper health. Students made their own props and play backgrounds. Mrs. Jean Noel, art teacher, advised on backgrounds.

Students also gave the plays to several other Dennett Road school classes and to the ladies working for the Extension office. Plays were video taped by "Dusty" Stanton, of the Board of Education office. The plays, along with other nutritional aids were received from the Extension Aide office, Alder street.

In the lower photo are Patti Dixon, "Vitamin D" and Tom Dodge, "Vitamin A", talking about a new vitamin, "Vitamin B." It was decided, although B was a relatively new vitamin, it too was very important.

How Government Grows . .

In 1972 Congress passed a law requiring permits from the Environmental Protection Agency for industrial plants wishing to empty pollutants into streams. The EPA is now proposing regulations which would give it authority to approve construction of new plants, their location, and how they would be allowed to operate.

"The result of the EPA's approach would be to impose tremendous additional costs, red tape and paper work on American industry at a time when that is the last thing our economy needs," according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

Federal land use legislation usurping the right of local authorities has been proposed in Congress for the past several years but has not yet passed. Certainly Congress did not intend to authorize the EPA to become involved in the site selection of manufacturing plants or to give it life or death power over construction. There is no legislation which makes EPA a national social or economic planning agency. All it is authorized to do is to set standards for issuance of discharge permits.

Federal preemption of state and local zoning, industrial development and land use control was not intended. But one can see how government grows through decisions by groups or individuals who have no real laws backing them. A similar situation may exist in the regulations and restrictions set up on the Youghiogheny Scenic River measure. Someone has termed it "our fourth branch of federal government, run by persons who were appointed and who seem to be accountable to no one." This practice certainly is not good for business or the country.

Repeal Of Blue Laws Opposed At Public Hearing

At a hearing in Annapolis last Thursday in the House of Delegates Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, was one of those testifying in opposition to bills introduced by State Senator Ed Mason and Delegate DeCorsey Bolden which would exempt the county from Sunday blue laws which legally prohibit certain Sunday activities.

Rev. Leake said he believed that the blue laws definitely need being amended but not abolished. He asked the House Judiciary committee to either report unfavorably on the bills or let the voters speak by adding a referendum clause to the bills.

Delegate DeCorsey Bolden and Senator Ed Mason also testified before the committee in favor of their bills. Some merchants and religious groups also opposed legislation to abolish the blue laws in other Maryland counties. Opposition was noted in Washington, Prince Georges, Montgomery and Baltimore counties in addition to Garrett.

The bills were originally introduced to permit the tourism-related businesses particularly around Deep Creek Lake, to operate legally on Sunday.

The General Assembly already approved legislation establishing local blue law referenda in Montgomery and Prince George's counties and a separate bill would permit a referendum on the same subject in Baltimore county.

Contractors for state roads work in this county have been notified to resume full operation on Monday, April 5. Major project is completion of the final 13-mile stretch of the National Freeway from west of Finzel Road interchange to Keyser Ridge.

All eight bridges which carry traffic over the Freeway on this stretch have been completed. Contractors are to install a stone base for the 13-mile stretch and then surface it with bituminous concrete (hot mix), do some remaining drainage and excavation work and erect various signs.

The Freeway is scheduled for completion by the first week in July.

Two resurfacing projects will be started in the county, with Interstate Amiesite Company to work on 9.5 miles of U. S. Route 219 from Keyser Ridge to McHenry; and Phoenix Construction Company of Cumberland to work on 4.1 miles of U. S. Route 219 from Oakland to Gortner.

Three Candidates Form Team In GOP Delegate Race

Three Republican delegate candidates in the Sixth Congressional District announced late last week that they have mounted a joint election campaign effort.

State Senator Edward P. Thomas (R-Frederick, Washington); Del. Donald Munson (R-Washington), and Mrs. Brenda Butscher of Oakland, said they will run as a team in the election for delegates to the GOP National Convention in Kansas City.

The three said that through the joint effort they feel they can offer responsible representation at the convention to all Republicans from all areas of the Sixth District.

Three delegates to the Republican convention will be elected from each of Maryland's eight congressional districts. Another 19 will be selected as at-large delegates by the State Central Committee when it meets in June.

The trio plans to campaign for the re-election of Republican U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. and to serve on the state-wide Friends of Glenn Beall steering committee.

Sen. Thomas is a Frederick businessman, a former chairman of the Maryland Republican State Central Committee, and former chairman of the Frederick County GOP Central Committee.

He was elected as an at-large delegate to the Republican Convention in 1972 and served as an alternate delegate to the 1968 Republican convention.

He currently is serving his second term in the Maryland Senate.

Mrs. Butscher is presently chairman of the Garrett

Yough Bill Is Amended

Senate Bill 153 concerning the segment of the Youghiogheny river becoming a "wild river" from Millers Run to the southern boundary of Friendsville, was amended to become effective January 31, 1977 instead December 1, 1975, was amended by Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden on third reading and final vote on the House floor.

This means the due date for the rules and regulations to be adopted by the Department of Natural Resources for that segment of the river will be delayed for over a year.

The amendment, adopted by the House the bill with the amendment was then returned to the Senate for concurrence. Bolden indicated after a conference with Senator Ed Mason that there didn't appear to be any problem with the amendment in the Senate and that both looked to a speedy concurrence and final passage.

Bolden pointed out "This will allow a more comprehensive and longer study and more input by the local land owners into the contents of the rules and regulations that are to be adopted and this is the way it should be."

The house was on the old Dan Sisler property, and was unoccupied at the time. A young relative of the Sislers had been staying periodically at the house, but was not there at the time of the fire.

Estimates of loss and the cause of the fire were not determined. Personal belongings of the young man who stayed at the house were also lost.

Friendsville responded with two pieces of equipment and nine men.

The purchase of the majority of the portable equipment to be used in the new Broad Ford and Southern Middle schools were approved by the Board of Education at a regular meeting of the board on March 12. Following a detailed study by the staff and upon the recommendation of Dr. William Buser, county superintendent, Clarence Stem moved, Mrs. Diane Thayer seconded and the board approved the purchase.

In other bid awards, the board approved the instructional supplies for the 1976-77 school year.

Switch In Voting District Enacted

Legislation switching some 1,200 voters in district 16, Mt. Lake Park, to another county commissioner voting district has been enacted by the General Assembly and sent to Gov. Marvin Mandel for his signature.

Sponsored by Del. DeCorsey E. Bolden the measure will take effect as soon as signed. The change was made to even out the population in each of the county's three commissioner districts.

The new district setup will add Mt. Lake Park to district 1, along with Bloomington, Bittinger, Deer Park, Kitzmiller and Swanton. Total registered voters would be 3,326.

Commissioner district 2 will remain the same, including Accident, Avilton, Friendsville, Elbow, Grantsville, Jennings, Sang Run and Finzel, for a total registration of 3,441.

District 3, which had included Mt. Lake Park in the past will now have East Oakland, Ryan's Glade, Red House, West Oakland and Crellin, for a registration of 3,320.

The change was favored by the County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors.

Week Has Been Warm, Dry, Windy

Spring arrived Saturday with mild temperatures and sunny skies, in other words typical. Some high winds with rain were noted Sunday morning. Otherwise skies have been mostly clear and temperatures mild.

Winds kicked up and temperatures dropped Sunday morning as a cold front passed through. Showers began late Saturday night and continued into Sunday. The mercury had a slight rebound in the afternoon as clouds broke with some sunshine showing through. High winds in the northern part of the county blew over some trees on the New Germany Road and caused some carrier failure in the telephone lines in the Grantsville area. The rest of the week skies were mostly clear. Clouds gathered last night and light rain was falling this morning. During the week only .98 inch of rain fell. With March near its end, it is about two inches short of normal.

Temperatures for the week have averaged 7.5 degrees above normal. Highs averaged 57.9 or 10.5 degrees above normal. The highest reading was last Saturday, the first day of Spring, 72 degrees. The coolest day was Monday with a 43-degree reading. Lows averaged 28.9 degrees or 4.6 above normal. The lowest readings were 19 degrees on both the 23rd and 24th. This morning the reading was 43 degrees.

One Pleads Guilty, One Prays Jury Trial, Same Counts

One pleaded guilty and another prayed a jury trial on identical charges in District Court Monday.

Robert Stanley Sterner, Addison, Pa., pleaded guilty on two counts before Judge Lewis R. Jones. On the charges of malicious destruction of property at Ridge Tavern, Grantsville, on February 28, Sterner was fined $50 and costs. A 30-day jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for six months. For disorderly conduct at the same time and place, he was fined $10.

Lance Nolf, Confluence, Pa., is charged on the same two counts but prayed a jury trial.

Friendsville School May Not Open This School Year

There now exists a strong possibility that the Friendsville School will not be occupied this school year, according to Dr. William Buser, County Superintendent of Schools.

The school, which has been plagued by nearly every delay imaginable, including building problems and by lack of sewage facilities in the town, was originally scheduled to open in January. Jackard Company, Inc. was the contractor.

At the most recent Board of Education meeting, both the architect, J. Prentiss Browne, and the Board agreed not to accept the building at this time. Many minor items, such as clean-up, carpeting, etc. have not been completed to the satisfaction of those involved.

The sewage problem still looms, with the Board faced with the decision to either pump the sewage to the present facility, or to put in a temporary drainfield, neither of which is eligible for federal or state funding and therefore money would have to come from local sources.

Fire Companies Fight Woods, Brush Fires

Firemen from Deer Park and Deep Creek Volunteer fire companies responded to calls to douse woods or brush fires over the past weekend.

Deep Creek responded with two pieces of equipment and 14 men about 10:30 a.m. Saturday to a woods fire along Glendale Road approximately one mile from the Glendale Bridge. A small boat at the edge of the woods was also burned.

Nearly one and one-half acres were burned before the fire was brought under control. Members of the Forestry department were also battling the fire. Deep Creek returned to the station about 11:30 a. m.

Deer Park responded to a call about 4:50 p.m. Saturday, to a brush fire in the vicinity of the Nestle water impoundment about one mile from the town. Members of the forestry department and 14 firemen battled the fire, which spread near two cabins at the reservoir before it was brought under control.

Firemen could find no indication of how the fire started.

Library Gets Copy Machines

More efficient copy machines have been installed in the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland and in Grantsville. This new equipment makes faster copying possible. These machines are available for copying both library and non-library material.

Children's movies to be shown at the Ruth Enlow Library on Saturday, March 27, at 1:00 p.m. include "Rosie's Walk," "The Shoemaker and the Elves," "The Little Mermaid" and "The Lost Pigeon."

A story hour for pre-school children is held at the library each Thursday morning at 10:30 with Mrs. Lynn Elmlinger, storyteller.

Leagues Report To Board Of Education Given

A tentative report to the Board of Education related to the League of Women Voters' study which has taken place in the last year, was presented at the last meeting of the board by Mrs. Dorothy Leighton, president of the League, and Mrs. Dayle Dabney, elementary committee chairman.

They reviewed items that would be presented to their total group membership in order to seek a concensus of opinion on them. They also presented materials about the school system which will be prepared in booklet form for distribution throughout the county.

The school board agreed to support the purchase of these booklets for families of school age children.

A questionnaire was reviewed by the school board, a revised version of which will be used to implement the school program review as directed by the board at its February meeting.

In an effort to improve programming for students at the Green Street school, the Board agreed to house these students in the Dennett Road school in the fall.

After discussion of a minimal school staffing policy, Herbert G. Harman, board president, suggested and the board agreed to ask the superintendent and staff to develop a policy which would be more in keeping with the State Department of Education's suggested school staffing guidelines.

Commissioners Note Opposition To Regulations On Yough River

An organization of property owners in the Youghiogheny River corridor asked the County Commissioners to register opposition in their behalf to the proposed regulations set forth in the Wild and Scenic Rivers act for Maryland, and all three, George Edwards, chairman, Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton, unanimously voted to enter the property owners' opposition in the commissioner minutes and to petition the General Assembly in its next session to repeal the act.

The commissioners further noted that the wild and scenic character of the Youghiogheny River has been preserved during past decades by the property owners themselves and it was because of this voluntary preservation that the river could even be considered as a wild river.

Seek Bond Issue Counsel

In other business during their regular Monday meeting the commissioners met with Sanitary Commission representatives and bond counsel to discuss requirements the county would need to meet for an upcoming bond issue by the Sanitary Commission to finance the Broad Ford utilities project. This project will provide water and sewer service for the new middle school and the new elementary school to be opened next September, the commissioners pointed out.

The commissioners opened bids from three contractors to construct the three central alarm facilities for the county-wide Emergency Communications system. Commissioners also discussed the Southern Rescue Squad utility truck bids which were received last Monday. On the basis of recommendations by the rescue squad the commissioners unanimously voted to reject all bids as being too high, and to re-advertise for a smaller vehicle.

Nursing Home Volunteers Honored

NEW COORDINATOR for the volunteer program at Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home in Oakland is Miss Darla DeWitt, a full-time student at Garrett Community College. Miss Fike took over the position in February upon the resignation of Mrs. Dorothy Straub. She was formally introduced Saturday evening at the annual appreciation dinner held for the volunteers, this time in the Knights of Pythias Hall on Third Street in Oakland. Miss Fike thanked everyone for their assistance and dedication and asked for continued cooperation.

The Garrett County Department of Social Services, in cooperation with the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, held an appreciation dinner March 20 for members of the nursing home volunteer program. The dinner, held at the K. of P. Building in Oakland, was attended by approximately forty persons. Musical entertainment was provided by Tim DeWitt and Susan Eberly, members of the Southern High band, accompanied by Mrs. Patti McLaughlin on the piano. The Pythian Sisters prepared and served the meal.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Dorothy Straub for her work as coordinator of the volunteer program during the past year and a half. Robert Shaffer, Supervisor of Services of the Garrett County Department of Social Services, praised Mrs. Straub for her diligent, dedicated service. In February Mrs. Straub was succeeded by Miss Darla Fike, the present coordinator of volunteers, and a full-time student at GCC where she is majoring in human services.

Miss Fike gave a brief report on the status of the program, thanking the volunteers for their continued support. Miss Fike also read a poem written by Miss Mary Bond, a resident of the Cuppett-Weeks home, expressing the pleasure she and other patients have derived from the volunteer activities.

The Volunteer Program, which began in November 1972, maintains a wide range of activities for nursing home residents, including arts and crafts, table games, social teas, bingo, birthday parties, movies, mobile library, and personal visitation. The appreciation dinner is an annual event, honoring the volunteers for their valuable service. Over 70 volunteers participated in the volunteer program in the past year.

Additional volunteers are urgently needed at the present time. Interested persons should telephone Miss Darla Fike or Robert Shaffer at the Garrett County Department of Social Services.

Brezhnev Spells It Out Again

Detente, Soviet style, has again been defined by Soviet chieftain Leonid Brezhnev at the 25th Soviet Party Congress, held in Moscow. Again, there was the two-fold theme: the Kremlin will continue to "search patiently and consistently" for ways of "expanding peaceful, mutually advantageous cooperation" with the West, but at the same time Brezhnev repeatedly reaffirmed Moscow's commitment to the "revolutionary-democratic, anti-imperialist" movement. And he boasted of the victories of Soviet backed forces in Angola and Vietnam as proof "that nothing can crush the peoples' aspiration to freedom." Detente, according to Brezhnev, does not "in the slightest abolish the laws of class struggle."

Concerning Russia's ever-expanding military power, Brezhnev blandly asserted there is no need to fear it. "There is no Soviet threat," he said, "either in the West or in the East. It is all a monstrous lie from beginning to end. The Soviet Union has not the slightest intention of attacking anybody. The Soviet Union does not need war. The Soviet Union does not increase its military budget."

The problem for the U.S. with these remarks is that they demand a free rein for the Soviets to interfere militarily almost anywhere on earth in order to aid any faction which they choose to define as "anti-imperialist." And they ask us to ignore all the accumulating evidence that shows the Soviet Union is seeking to achieve across-the-board military superiority on the basis of a few reassuring words that describe this threat as a monstrous lie. Above all, by again reaffirming that detente does not abolish the laws of the class struggle, Brezhnev is telling us that it is still his objective to overthrow our social system and recast us in the communist mold.

Everything Brezhnev said, in short, tells us that detente is a Soviet strategy for doing us in — without a shooting war, perhaps, but only if we do not resist.

We hope Americans have enough intelligence to see Brezhnev's remarks for what they are: a warning that the "cold war" never ended and that it is sure to get even hotter in the years to come. —U.S. Press Association.

Listen Americans!

. . . by Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

The Federal Regulator Mess

The best way to reach a point of total confusion is to hand a Federal Agency the power to regulate anything! If you want to improve safety in America's business establishments, turn safety practices and regulation over to OSHA, and you get increased accident rates! You also get total harrassment of America's small businessman. You get him so drowned in paper work that he may decide to close up shop and quit. In a short sentence, OSHA, the Occupational Safety & Health Act which was designed to improve the safety and health of those who work in America's free enterprise system has NOT WORKED.

OSHA Not Only Culprit

Presently the government is trying to enforce regulations designed to control noise levels at work locations. Now, undoubtedly noise of great intensity is dangerous and everyone who has ever listened to a "rock band" understands that. So OSHA made a decision that noise no higher than 85 decibels would be permitted. When they figured up the cost of this to industry, it came to a required additional expenditure of $31.6 billion.

Quite amazingly, OSHA decided this much additional expenditure would be excessive for industry and raised the noise level to 90 decibels. This standard is already met in 70 percent of America's factories and the expenditure to bring the rest of industry into line would be a "mere" $13.5 billion.

At this point, the EPA, Environmental Protection Agency entered the picture and claimed jurisdiction over the nation's noise problem. It set the standard back at 85 decibels. Now whose regulation is the standard? Shall the businessman obey OSHA or EPA? If he obeys either one, the other has the authority to fine him WITHOUT DUE PROCESS OF LAW.

But now comes still another Federal regulatory Agency, the Council on Wage and Price Stability. This agency says the standards should be implemented on an industry-by-industry basis, and not on a single standard for all industry. So, a third federal regulatory agency is now involved and each presents still more conflicting rules and procedures.

At this point, the average businessman is totally confused. Certainly he doesn't want a bunch of deaf employees, certainly he doesn't want to be hauled up before three different regulatory agency boards and pay fines to all three because they can't agree on whose regulations are binding.

You would think he had enough troubles wouldn't you? But, his troubles are just beginning if he is in the food business. Enter the FDA, that's the Food and Drug Administration. This federal regulatory agency tells him that he can't use certain noise reducing materials because such materials violate FDA regulations for the food industry.

Isn't that a bureaucratic mess? Well, it is not the only one.

Delegate Bolden Makes Report

By DeCorsey E. Bolden

Full-Time PSC

The Administration has introduced legislation that would make the three Public Service Commission members full-time state employees.

The Commission, hit by a rapidly increasing workload the last three years, now serves on a part-time basis. Both Houses have passed different bills that would change it. One bill increases membership from three to five and makes People's Counsel a full-time position.

If S.B. 896, the Administration measure, is enacted, it is likely to give the Public more access to Commission members, and speed up the time between a Utility's Rate Proposal and the PSC decision.

Prevailing Wage

The House now has for consideration, a measure passed by the Senate, that would repeal the requirement that prevailing wages be paid on Public School Construction Projects.

The bill, Senate Bill 111, came out of committee with heavy opposition from the construction workers union.

The State would save up to 20 percent of the labor cost on school construction projects by not requiring contractors to pay the prevailing wage. The prevailing wage, set by the Labor Commission, is generally close to the union wage.

When a laborer gains employment with a contractor he agrees to work for a certain rate or salary. I do not believe that the State should dictate to the employer that he pay otherwise.

I will support this measure when it reaches the House floor.

State Employee Unions

House Bill 1373 would give State Employee's Unions three things they have been seeking for a long time; binding arbitration, a modified "agency shop" and the right to strike.

The agency shop proposal often referred to as compulsory unionism would make the union the bargaining agent for virtually all state employees whether or not they belonged to the union. However, all employees, union members or not, would also be required to pay dues. I oppose any such compulsory action.

Additionally, I feel that public employees are public servants providing services not offered by private enterprise and therefore should not have the right to strike.

I would hope that public resentment alone is sufficient reason this bill will not be enacted this year. Seeing New York City's financial crisis makes me reluctant to support any move in this direction.

Garrett Tossers Win Two Games

Garrett Community College, playing host to Allegheny C. C. South Campus, Pittsburgh, on the spur of the moment, to take advantage of some fair weather, rapped out a total of 23 hits, while holding the Pennsylvanians to only three safeties enroute to a 15 to 0 and 10 to 1 doubleheader sweep by the Lakers yesterday on the McHenry diamond.

The lopsided double victory by Coach Dennis Fearnow's Lakers continued the surge carried over from last fall's record of 11-3. Yesterday's two victories makes the official ledger for the campaign 16-3 overall. The regular season opener is next Thursday against the Frostburg State junior varsity team.

Freshman infielder Chris Cullen provided the Laker firepower when he hit a pair of home runs and a double, driving in four tallies. He hit a three-run homer in the second inning to give the Lakers a 7-0 lead, and then hit a solo smash in the fourth inning for a 10-0 advantage.

Bob Whitfield added to the 12-hit attack with two triples and a single, accounting for two runs. His first inning triple opened the scoring, putting Steve Didik home. Hribik added two singles.

ACC's only first game hit was a single by Holzer in the first inning off Andy Zitzer, the first of four pitchers for the Lakers. He was followed on the mound by Jim Kostyak, Mark Deutsch and Kevin Grant.

In the nightcap the Lakers rattled off ten singles and a double. Craig Bosley, Dave Shotwell and Ed Danel had two hits each. Mark Simpson picked up the win. He was followed by Mike Brady, Kevin Steffenhagen and Cullen.

Others playing for Garrett included Neill, Wrzesinski, Bolinger, DiSimone, Orshoski and Ingram.

Hurry Up and Wait

The following is taken from a column in The American Legion magazine, "The Free State Warrior," written by Rev. John A. Grant, Deer Park, the department chaplain for the state of Maryland.

A lot of G.I. terminology will be remembered by us until the day we die. This isn't because we seek to keep it in our minds, but because in G.I. language there were distilled expressions about service life that expressed basic truths. "Hurry Up and Wait" is one of those expressions.

The first time I heard it was early in the morning of the first day in basic training. I was awakened by maniacs running around in the darkness yelling, "O.K. Everybody rise and shine!" Sleepily, I stumbled into a formation that quickly moved off to the mess hall. In a matter of minutes we were there; then we stood and waited—and waited and waited. Back in the ranks I heard someone in disgusted voice say, "yep. . . that's the way it is . . . hurry up and wait."

Unfortunately, we find the truth of "hurry up and wait" carried forward into our civilian life. We rush to be on time to a meeting, only to find that starting time has been postponed half an hour for one reason or another. Or, we break the speed laws to get to the airport and find that the airliner's departure time has been delayed an hour or more. And we wait, and wait, and wait . . . growing more angry with ourselves and everyone else as the minutes pass by.

"Hurry up and wait" seems to a curse on our modern society . . . provided we look at our allotment of time as a burden rather than a blessing.

Yet, this isn't new. A concern about time has been with us down through the ages. The wisdom literature of the Bible speaks about time and its relation to a man's life. Much of this relationship between time and life found in the 3rd Chapter of Ecclesiastes. It begins by telling of the span of a man's life in the words,". . . a time to be born and a time to die." It continues with words about the years between life and death by speaking of the time of many events. The wisdom literature concludes the passage by saying that God has given every moment of the passing years a special quality, and highlighted each one because, ". . . He has made everything beautiful in its time."

If we look on time as a gift rather than a burden, perhaps we can see some of the beauty that the writer of Ecclesiastes saw in the days before high speed automobiles and jet airplanes. Maybe the "wait" of hurry up and wait can take on a special meaning for us. Look at it as an unusual part of a busy life, when we are forced to stop what we are normally doing. We are held captive by circumstances beyond our control. Why not turn it into a special time of dreaming or planning rather than a time of frustration.

The writer of Ecclesiastes knew how to make the most of enforced "hurry up and wait." As a matter of fact he might have even looked forward to such a time, for in the end he wrote, "better a handfull of quietness than two hands full of . . . a striving after the wind."

So next time the swirl of events forces you to "hurry up and wait," think about the writer of Ecclesiastes and grab yourself a "handfull of quietness."

Three Injured In A Two-Car Wreck Saturday

A two-car wreck on Md. 135 along the top of Backbone mountain caused injury to three persons shortly past midnight Saturday. Another person was slightly injured in a Grantsville mishap.

Frances E. Paugh, 23, Piedmont, W. Va., operator of one car, and one of her two passengers, Connie Hawk, 22, Westernport, were taken to the Potomac Valley Hospital. James M. Miers, 4, Mt. Lake Park, a passenger in the car operated by James F. Miers, was apparently only slightly injured.

The Paugh car was traveling east on Rt. 135. Miers, westbound, crossed the center of the road and struck the Paugh car in the eastbound lane. The Paugh car then struck an embankment. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated.

At the other end of the county, the driver of the car received slight injuries last Friday. Leroy F. Bennett, Jr., Cumberland, was traveling east on U. S. 40 in Grantsville shortly past noon. He noted a pick-up backing from a private drive. He applied his brakes but the pedal went all the way to the floor without holding. His car then went off to the right, and struck a tree. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated.

One car was totaled but the driver apparently escaped injury in a one car wreck on Md. 495 about one and one third miles north of Legeer road last Friday evening. David C. Wilburn, Star Route, Grantsville, was southbound and lost control on a curve, crossed the road, struck an embankment and came to rest on the shoulder on its top. Tfc. E. J. Upole made the investigation.

A hit-and-run mishap occurred on U. S. 219 near the Mansfield road about 1 a. m. Saturday. Carl B. Slaubaugh, Aurora, W. Va., was driving south. An unknown vehicle northbound struck the Slaubaugh car and failed to stop. The unknown car was said to be a Valiant.

People interested in living in homes with elderly residents of Garrett County may contact Dale Ellis at Garrett County Community Action immediately. The director of Senior Citizens Programs for Garrett County said he has at least 12 elderly who want someone to live in for odd jobs and companionship.

Ellis explained that most of the people in need are offering free room and board and a small salary. He said that some of the homes available to not only the elderly but the young are in the Pleasant Valley, Grantsville, Mountain Lake Park, Deer Park, Hutton and Swallow Falls areas.

Judge Hamill Hears Three Appeal Cases

Three appeal cases were heard in Circuit Court Monday by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., with two charges involving one person being upheld and another had the sentence suspended.

Charles Albert Overton, Gormania, W. Va., had been found guilty on two counts of assault and battery on two different persons in September at a trial in District Court October 6. At the appeal trials Monday, Overton again pleaded not guilty but Judge Hamill also found him guilty and levied the same fine of $100 and costs and 60 days in jail on each of the two counts. The jail sentences are to run concurrently, with credit for time already served.

At a trial October 14, Carl Wilson, Jr., Oakland, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle without consent. At Monday's appeal trial, a two-month jail sentence was upheld but then suspended. He was placed on probation for one year under supervision.

Hearing Is Set For Health Act

President Ford signed into law last January 4, 1975, the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act with goals and purposes to increase accessibility, acceptability, continuity and quality of health care services, restrain rising costs of health services and prevent unnecessary duplication of health resources.

It established at the local level Health Systems Agencies to be responsible for effective health planning and development of these services. Boundaries of areas in Maryland were recommended by Governor Mandel. The Western Maryland area included the four western counties. A steering committee was formed to advise county commissioners.

As a result of the committee's efforts a "Grant Application for Health Systems Agency Designation" was developed. Public hearings are to be held for local review. The one for this county is set for March 31 at 7:30 p.m., at Garrett Community college in McHenry.

The public is being invited to provide ideas on how the organization can be improved. After the hearing the application will be revised and submitted by April 16 to state and federal agencies for final approval. If certified and funded the agency may become operable by July 1.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Being a citizen of Garrett County, I respect the laws and law officers. However, I think some of our deputies should be taught to respect the laws also.

While traveling west on route 135 at the Foodland intersection, waiting to make a left turn into Heck's one of our deputies passed me on the right, clearly breaking the law. I feel that even an emergency doesn't warrant such an act, especially at an intersection as dangerous as this one! Had this been me, I am sure I would have received a nice big fine.

This is not the first time I have seen laws being broken by our law officers, but how often do we read their names among the traffic violators?

Sincerely,
Arlene Wilson

Five Are Killed On State Roads

Five persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed four were drivers, none were passengers and one was a pedestrian.

Facts last week's fatal accidents had in common: Alcohol, 11:00 p.m. and after, ail to grant right of way by crossing center line.

Said Lt. Heiger: "When we think about the drinking driver problem, most of us assume it's the alcoholic. Not necessarily true. It is the social, weekend drinker who doesn't understand the danger of one too many, too quickly, that is our deadliest highway problem. Ironically, it is not the hard fast rule for the driver who has been drinking to become the statistic. Invariably, the innocent victim is in the pattern."

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

Please let me know the status of the Estate Tax Reform Bill?

Hearings were held last week on congressional legislation I sponsored to save the family farm and preserve open spaces near metropolitan areas. The proposed measure seeks to revise estate tax laws which are playing a part in driving the family farm out of existence by forcing families to sell their land in order to pay estate taxes. This bill would change the tax policy and allow family heirs to have their land assessed for its actual use as farmland rather than at its highest market value as required under current estate tax law. I am pleased the hearings are being held and hopeful that this tax reform measure will be acted upon by this Congress.

How do I go about obtaining a birth record?

A booklet entitled "Where to Write for U.S. Birth and Death Records" is available for 35 cents from the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado.

What is the projection for U.S. oil imports ten years from now?

The Federal Energy Administration projects only a slight reduction in oil imports by 1985. Revising estimates made in 1974, FEA estimates that 1985 oil imports will be 5.9 million barrels a day, compared to 6.1 million barrels a day in 1975.

When will hearings resume on your legislation requiring an annual balanced Federal budget?

Hearings by the Democratic Research Organization began again this week and will continue through mid-May. Among the witnesses scheduled to appear are Treasury Secretary William Simon, Commerce Secretary Elliott Richardson, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur Burns, Council of Economic Advisors Chairman Allen Greenspan and New York Stock Exchange President James Needham. I believe there is strong support for this proposed constitutional amendment at the grass roots level as evidenced by the results of a recent 6th District poll showing 83 percent of the respondents favoring a balanced Federal budget.

How much foreign aid has the U.S. pledged to Angola?

Congress has prohibited the use of any funds in Angola.

I possess a passport that is valid for another three years. Is there any way to exchange it for the special Bicentennial Passport?

During 1976 only the Passport Office will issue a special Bicentennial Passport. Citizens who already possess valid passports may have them cancelled and apply for this Bicentennial Passport. To do so, however, will involve a new application, the payment of the required fee and two new photographs. No Bicentennial Passports will be issued after December 31, 1976.

Why does our country give aid to foreign nations who don't pay back their debts?

I am happy to report that the House of Representatives has just passed an amendment to prohibit foreign aid to nations that are delinquent for more than one year in repaying principal or interest on debts owed the United States. I supported this amendment which passed 229-139.

How did you vote on last week's foreign aid bill?

I voted against the $5-billion foreign aid appropriation.

I have a suggestion on improving our National Parks. Who can I get in touch with to discuss this matter further?

Inquiries, complaints or comments should be addressed to Jean Hawkins, Office of Communications, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C. 20240.

Do you have any literature on how to select a good vocational school?

The Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado, publishes a free booklet entitled "Guide to Choosing a Vocational School". Among other things the leaflet discusses questions to ask before signing a contract and rights of veterans and servicemen in correspondence courses.

Who do I contact for information on Presidential Sports Award materials.

Adults interested in earning the Presidential Sports Award in any of 40 sports can obtain Qualifying Standards and Personal Log Books free of charge by writing to: Presidential Sports Award, P. O. Box 129, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Colleges, athletic clubs, military installations, YMCAs, YWCAs, recreation and park departments and other groups may obtain these materials in quantity, plus colorful display poster, from the same address.

I did not receive a mail order item I sent for several months ago. A letter of complaint was sent the company but I have received no reply. Can you help me?

You can seek aid under the Postal Service consumer protection program. Just ask your local post office for a Consumer Service Card. By filling in this card and returning it to the post office, the consumer turns the matter over to the Postal Service, which will then deal directly with the company involved.

How did you vote last week on extending the public debt limit?

I voted against the bill which raised the debt limit by $32-billion, to a staggering $627-billion. Unfortunately, the legislation passed the House 212-189.

When is the deadline for job applications for those who want to work with the Summer Youth Conservation Corps?

The Youth Conservation Corps provides gainful summer employment to young men and women between the ages of 15 and 19, with emphasis on conservation work to improve the environmental quality of public lands and water. The deadline for filing an application is March 19. Information can be obtained from the local Board of Education Offices or by writing the Department of Natural Resources, Environmental Manpower and Education, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis 21401.

Column For Homemakers

With Lent activities going on, budget-minded housewives may be interested in serving those delicious Maryland Rockfish for that special evening or noontime meal. This advice comes from Maryland's Department of Economic and Community Development, Seafood Marketing Authority.

Now is the time to take advantage of this delicacy from the Chesapeake Bay. Like other popular Maryland species, Rockfish go from salt water to fresh water to spawn. They are reaching the height of their "run" now, so it would be wise to take advantage of the fresh supply and treat your family to an excellent meal.

The Rockfish is also known as the Striped Bass, which is the official Maryland State Fish. Like most fish, the Rockfish is very high in protein (about the same as the same weight of porterhouse steak) and very low in fat. It also contains practically no carbohydrates.

For a free recipe brochure of Maryland finfish, write: Fish Recipes, Seafood Marketing Authority, 1748 Forest Drive, Annapolis, Md. 21401.

Skipjack Stuffed Maryland Rockfish

1 4-lb. Maryland Rockfish, (striped bass) pan dressed, Salt and pepper, 4 strips bacon, Oyster stuffing (see below).

Wash and dry fish thoroughly. Sprinkle inside with salt and pepper. Put in shallow foil-lined baking pan. Stuff fish loosely and secure edges. Put bacon strips over top. Bake at 350 °F. for 45 to 60 minutes until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: If additional stuffing is desired, double recipe below and bake excess in covered baking dish along with fish.

Oyster Stuffing

1 small onion, chopped fine, 1 small stalk celery, chopped, ½ pt. shucked standard oysters with liquor, ½ cup margarine or butter, 4 slices day-old bread, cubed; ½ tsp. salt, dash pepper, mace, poultry seasoning, ¼ tsp. lemon juice.

Cook vegetables in margarine until tender. Add oysters and cook until edges curl. Mix in remaining ingredients. Makes 2 cups stuffing, enough for a 4-pound fish.

To Freeze Or Not To Freeze?

With increased meat prices many families are considering quantity purchasing as a measure to cut costs. This decision to buy a whole, half or quarter carcass should not be a hasty one as there are several factors to consider. First of all, make sure your family is willing to eat all the retail cuts from the wholesale one you might purchase.

Storage Costs

Families must take into account either the cost of owning and operating a freezer or locker rental. Because storage is essential in preserving a large quantity of meat, this cost must be added to the price of the meat before comparing it to supermarket prices.

Also remember that the greater the turnover of food in the freezer, the lower the storage cost per pound. For example, if a freezer is used to store 480 pounds of food in a year, the cost of storage is about 16 cents per pound. If that is increased to 720 pounds in a year's time, the cost drops to around 11 cents per pound.

Know Your Meat

Meat Quality depends on tenderness, juiciness, odor and flavor. In U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) terms, beef quality is designated prime, the highest; choice; good; standard; commercial; utility; canner or cutter, the lowest grade. Most supermarkets carry USDA choice beef.

Some freezer food firms advertise beef of a lower grade than this. The lower grades would naturally bring lower prices. Before buying meat, find out what grade it is. If it is graded by the USDA, their stamp should appear on each major cut.

Compare Prices Accurately

A 1,000 pound choice steer will weigh 600 pounds as a carcass. Of this weight, approximately 25 percent is lost in cutting retail portions. Therefore, if the advertised price is $1 per pound for a side of beef, the comparable supermarket price per pound is $1.33 for the 450 pounds you have to take home. Another consideration is finance charges. If meat is bought on credit, the finance charges must be included in the total cost.

Attend Ice Follies

Nine cub scouts, four Webelos, and five leaders of Pack 57, Swanton, went to Pittsburgh March 20 to see the Ice Follies at the Civic arena.

Introducing Dodge Aspen. It's priced lower than Pacer. And has more total room than Cadillac Seville.

Aspen got 27 MPG highway. 18 MPG city.
According to official 1976 EPA mileage estimates for an Aspen sedan equipped with a 225 Six and manual transmission. Your actual mileage may differ depending on how and where you drive, the condition of your car, and its optional equipment.

Aspen is priced lower than Pacer.
Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices for base models.

Aspen has more total room than Cadillac Seville.
Aspen may be a small car on the outside, but it's a big car on the inside. When you add up the front and rear leg-, head-, shoulder-, and hiproom, an Aspen sedan has over 15 inches more total room than a Cadillac Seville. And for a car that costs about a third as much as a Seville, that's unbelievable.

"Unbelievable."

4-H, FFA Young People In Broiler Program
2,300 Chicks Delivered This Week To 44

Counting his chicks is Jim Hilton, a member of the FFA at Southern High School, as he readies his brood for the trip to his home. Jim is one of 44 participating in the annual 4-H and FFA Broiler rearing program in the county. Chicks were donated by Sterling Processing Company, Oakland.

The Sterling Processing Company has placed 2,300 Broiler chicks among forty-four 4-H and FFA young people who are participating in the Garrett County Broiler Program for 1976, according to Gilman Sylvester, manager of Sterling's Oakland operation.

This is the fifth consecutive year that Sterling Processors has donated the Hubbard chicks which are noted for their rapid growth characteristics. A total of 10,000 broilers have been grown out in the Garrett Broiler program to date.

Richard Bishoff, Vo-Ag Instructor at Southern High School, related that the following are participating in the Broiler Program for 1976: Richard Beckman, Annette Bowman, Larry Blamble, Sharon Brenneman, Sam Brenneman, Ron Brenneman, Dennis Cooper, Bradley DeWitt, Kenny DeWitt, Tom Evans, Dora Fitzwater, Tim Gnegy, Kenlee Hardesty, Sandy Harvey, Jim Hilton, John Hinebaugh, Pam Kissner, Debra Kitzmiller, John Martin, Patty Mayle, Clarence Mellinger, Jr., Charlie Miller, Harriet Myers, Billy Noel, Eugene Paugh, Garry Paugh, Ron Reckner, Durenda Riley, Diane Rinker, Steve Rinker, Henrietta Rausch, Miles Rausch, Eric Sisler, Theresa Sisler, Tim Skipper, Charlotte Sliger, Shelly Stoner, Lisa Tasker, Bill Wilt, Dave Wilt, Sharon Wright, Glenda Yoder and Norman Yoder.

The Broiler Program involves an eight-week feeding period during which time accurate records on feed consumption and chick mortality are kept.

At the end of the growing phase, a representative sample of the fifty birds are weighed. The youth will then use the average final weight of the broilers to calculate the rate of gain and pounds of feed consumed per pound of gain, or feed efficiency of the broilers.

The youth will have an opportunity to attend a dressing workshop at Southern High on May 19th to learn how to prepare their birds for home consumption. Each participant will eviscerate three birds for the Dressed Broiler Show on May 22.

Dr. Dan Bigbee, Extension Poultryman at the University of Maryland, will climax the Broiler Program by judging the dressed birds on that Saturday.

Recent Accidents Occur Without Causing Injury

A number of recent minor accidents were noted around the county. No injuries were indicated. Some were apparently caused by the snow storms.

Slippery roads apparently caused the car driven by Vallie J. Schields, New Berlin, Wis., to skid when she applied her brakes. The accident occurred last Tuesday afternoon on U. S. 48, about two miles west of U. S. 219 and was investigated by Tfc. C. H. Hinnant.

Traveling across Pysell Cross Cut road the afternoon of March 15, Mary L. Loomis, Deer Park, failed to yield the right-of-way to a car driven by John W. Upole, Accident, traveling south on Sand Flat road and struck the left side of it. Tpr. J. E. Foley charged Mary Loomis with failing to yield.

About 20 minutes after the above accident Elwood E. Sweitzer, RD 2, Oakland, and Jonas Kinsinger, also of RD 2, Oakland, on a farm tractor, were traveling south on Mason School road about two miles west of U. S. 219. Kinsinger attempted to make a left turn into a private drive without giving a signal. Sweitzer had attempted to pass the tractor and the two collided. Tpr. Foley investigated.

Another accident the same afternoon occurred on Md. 495 just south of Maple Grove road. Judy E. Resh, RD 2, Grantsville, was traveling south on Rt. 495 as Clarence O. Richardson, Salisbury, Pa., in a pick-up, was crossing Rt. 495 and in the path of the Resh car. The two collided on the southbound shoulder. Sgt. H. W. Graham charged Richardson with failing to yield the right-of-way when crossing a road from a private driveway.

Sally A. Althoff, College Park, was traveling east on U. S. 40 the afternoon of March 14. She attempted to pass several vehicles but then noted an oncoming westbound vehicle. In attempting to get back into the eastbound lane, she lost control of her car which struck an embankment, went backwards and struck a large rock. Tfc. Dale Williams charged her with passing where view is obstructed.

An accident occurred last Wednesday evening as the result of sliding on the snowy road surface at a tavern parking lot along the Crellin road. The pick-up of Robert L. Lewis, Sr., was parked on the parking lot and as John B. Nair RD 5, Oakland, was turning around, his car slid into the side of the pick-up. Tfc. E. J. Upole investigated.

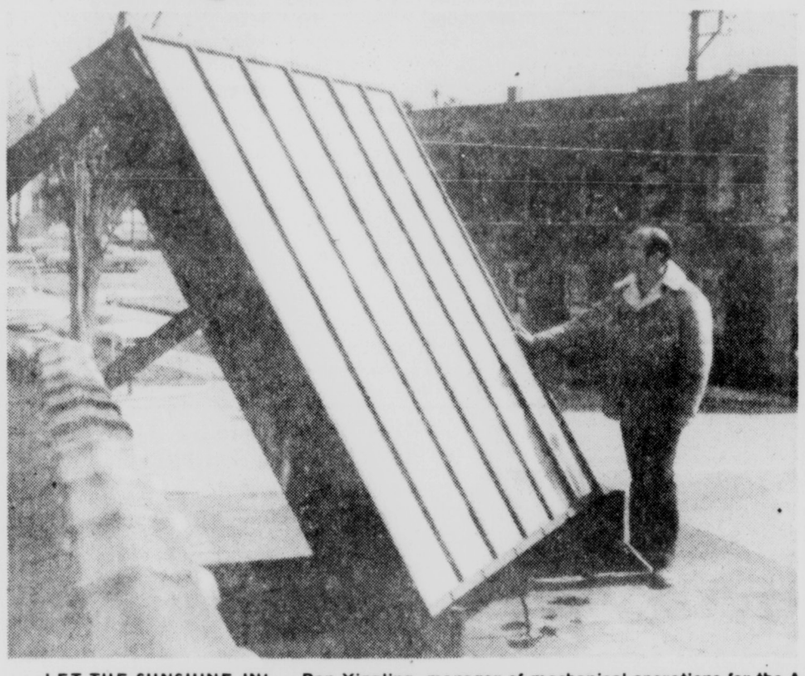
Solar Energy - A Possible Threat To The High Cost of Home Heating



LET THE SUNSHINE IN! — Ron Yingling, manager of mechanical operations for the A. D. Naylor Company, inspects his latest project, a solar heating unit which is now in operation at the Naylor hardware store. The unit is only a test model but has been doing an excellent job in heating an office space inside the building.

By Donald W. Sincell

A popular headache for nearly everyone these days is the skyrocketing cost of electricity and the cost of heating our homes, whether it be with gas, coal or electric heat. We wonder how people ever survived without electricity but when we find that bill in the mailbox we wonder how we're going to financially survive WITH electricity! Heat is something that is an absolute necessity, especially here in Garrett County. We can't afford the heating bill but we can't afford not to pay it. It's a vicious circle.

Scientists are working day and night attempting to discover easier, less expensive ways of providing us with the many necessities and luxuries that we enjoy in this country. Sources of power that have to be extracted from the earth, namely gas, coal and oil, will always run into many dollars expense which ultimately comes out of our pockets. Therefore, the scientists' latest approach is the "getting back to nature" approach, using natural sources of energy which exist all around us and are there for the taking.

Sunlight, wind and moving water are excellent sources of energy that are available to nearly everyone and, ironically, they are all free. There is no monthly bill for the sunlight that falls on our property, nor is there one for the wind or the water in the streams and rivers that flow across our fields. Yet all three are tremendous sources of energy, energy that is being wasted every minute. The problem lies in harnessing this energy and converting it into power and heat.

Solar energy is being used more and more as the heat source for homes. Naylor's Hardware in Oakland recently completed construction of solar energy collecting unit and now has it in operation. The unit is only a test model but has proved quite satisfactory in heating an office space at the hardware store. The project was spearheaded by Ron Yingling, in charge of mechanical work for Naylors.

The collector is an 8'X8' wood frame box, about 12 inches deep. Approximately 10 inches of the 12 inch depth is nothing but an air space, which is covered by a sheet of aluminum painted flat black. This is the absorbing layer which captures the sunlight and heats the air in the 10 inch air space behind it. The box is well insulated with styrofoam to prevent heat loss from the back and sides. The absorbing layer is covered with two layers of specially treated fibreglass with a ¾" air space between each sheet, to prevent heat loss back off the front once the sun rays have struck the absorbing layer. The collector box is on the roof of Naylors' building, facing southeast at an angle of 60 °to the horizontal.

The blower is located inside the building and is responsible for sending air into the collector to be heated and then forced back into the office.

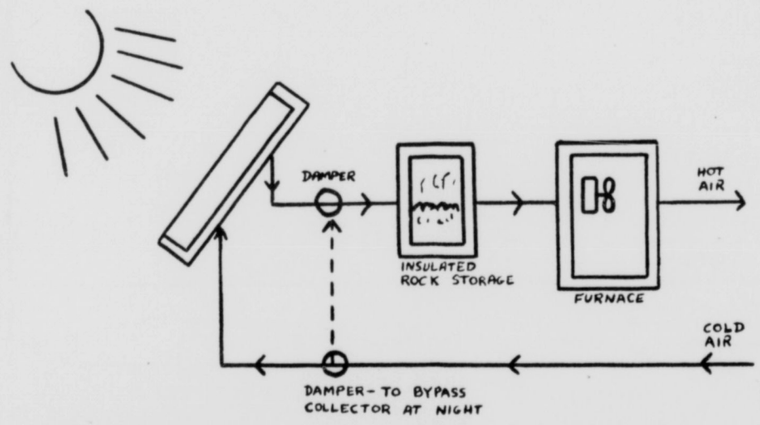
Ron is pleased with the test module and pointed out that it is the sun's intensity and not the air temperature that determines how much heat is produced. In other words given a clear sunny day at 20 °, and a clear sunny day at 60 ° there would be almost no difference in the amount of heat collected by the unit. The blower has a thermostat on it and when the temperature in the air space reaches 100 °, the blower comes on and then shuts off when the air space temperature drops to 88 °. Ron stated that on some of the coldest days this past month, it became too hot in the office and the blower had to be shut off.

Since the project at Naylors' is only a test model, there was no heat storage unit installed. Should one wish to heat his home with this type of system, a rock storage would be a must in order to store heat for nighttime and for heavily overcast days when the sun's rays are weak. The rock storage tank would probably be located in the basement. The diagram below illustrates how a solar heat unit could be installed with an already existing forced air furnace. The same blower would be used to circulate the solar-heated air. The furnace could then be used only as a back-up heat source.

The collecting unit for a house would obviously have to be much larger than the test model at Naylors' to satisfy heating needs. There are mathematical formulas available which can be applied in order to figure such specifications for any given house. Architects have already designed numerous homes aesthetically including the solar collectors. After installation the only regular expense would be for the electricity used by the blower.

The solar heating of water, although more expensive, is also a promising theory for home heating. It works basically the same way as the hot air unit, but involves circulating water through coils in the collector unit where it is heated and then throughout a baseboard system in the house. The storage unit is nothing more than an insulated water storage tank.

Attempting to beat high heating costs is a game everyone has to play. Perhaps our ol' sun ball is the high card we need to win the game.



This diagram gives a general idea as to how solar heat could be adapted to an already existing forced air system in the home. The air would be heated by the sun in the collecting unit, instead of by the furnace which would be used only as a back-up heat source. No fuel would ever be necessary except during an extended period of heavily overcast and rainy days. The rock storage can hold sufficient heat to keep the house warm at night.

Capitol Comment

By Senator
Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

A Tribute to Sen. Mansfield: He Used the Carrot, not the Stick

One of the distinguishing features of Senator Mike Mansfield, who has announced that he is retiring as a Member of the Senate from Montana and as the Majority Leader of the Senate, is that he has been able to make the beast go by using the carrot, not the stick.

During 16 years of observing him and serving with him in the Capitol, I have seldom heard him raise his voice, or show anger on his face. He has always been reasonable and rational and has brought people with him not by the force of his office and prestige but by the force of his logic.

Senator Mansfield is unique in many ways. One way, certainly, is his contrast to the stereotype of a United States Senator as a man who makes many speeches but perhaps says very little. Senator Mansfield is perhaps the briefest speaker since Calvin Coolidge. That is a remarkable achievement in itself, and we will miss him for it, because his brevity, his conciseness, and his ability to conserve not only his time but that of others as well has been a major factor in his success on Capitol Hill.

But far beyond that, the Senate owes Mike Mansfield a tremendous debt of gratitude. He has served as Majority Leader through some of the most tumultuous years of this Republic's history.

He was a close associate of President John Kennedy and came to the Majority Leadership of the Senate when President Kennedy came to The White House. He was, of course, one of the stabilizing factors in the country at the time of President Kennedy's assassination.

He maintained his leadership during the difficult period of the Vietnam War. It was a particularly difficult time for him. He had to maintain his loyalty to the Nation and the Constitution as one of the pricipal public officials of the Republic while, at the same time, expressing his own personal opposition to the Vietnam war and his distress at the ravages that the war was making on the American scene.

Following the Vietnam war, he helped to steer the country through the agonies of Watergate. A more partisan leader might have sought to take more partisan advantage of those difficult months. But again, Senator Mansfield saw his duty and performed it in a stable manner that contributed to the success of the system as we passed through the Watergate years.

We say thank you to Senator Mansfield. The job he has done as a great United States Senator has earned him the respect and tribute of the American people.

Common Problems, Cooperative Solutions

By Senator
Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

The Senate District of Columbia Committee has started a series of hearings on problems facing the local governments in the Washington metropolitan area. As the ranking Republican member of the Committee, I am chairing these hearings, and I think they are of significance beyond the Washington area.

Throughout Maryland and across the country, local governments are confronting common problems but are grappling independently to seek solutions to them. As a practical matter, I think it is essential for local governments to look for cooperative solutions to the problems that face a metropolitan area as a whole.

It is my hope that the hearings underway in Washington can increase the awareness of the need for a metropolitan perspective on many of the issues that local officials now are facing on an independent basis.

In areas like transportation, water supply, air quality, public safety, health care, and solid waste, independent action by local governments simply is not sufficient to adequately address the problems that confront the metropolitan area as a whole.

What seems to be getting lost in our vision of urban problems is the fact that we can not neatly categorize issues as 'city problems' and 'suburban problems'. Often these problems are intertwined and sometimes they are the same.

That is the perspective in which local governments must work together to seek cooperative solutions to their common difficulties.

Recognizing A Fact Of Political Life

The Senate has come to recognize a basic fact of political life in America today. It is that not all Americans are either Republicans or Democrats. Some have decided they want to belong to a third Party. Others have decided they don't want to belong to any Party at all. They are the political Independents, and they may well be the largest single political group in American life today.

A great many Americans have decided that they simply will not put up with the hyprocrisy of the political Parties. While they want to discharge their civic duty to vote — to let their views be known on candidates and issues — they do not want to do it through the political Parties and partisan activities.

This became an important factor in the Senate's consideration of legislation to revise the Federal Election Commission, which is to police all election activities. The legislation will be the basic law governing future Presidential and Congressional elections.

The Senate recognized the role of the Independents for the first time by providing, through an amendment that I proposed, that membership on the Federal Election Commission will be composed not only of representatives of the Republican and Democratic Parties, but also of representatives of this vast group of Americans who decline to affiliate with a political Party.

If this provision of the Senate bill eventually becomes law, I think it may encourage greater vitality in the American political system.

Arbor Day To Be Observed April 7

Arbor Day will be marked in Maryland this year on April 7, according to a proclamation issued by Governor Marvin Mandel.

This year marks the 104th observance of the day in the Nation and the 70th anniversary of the Maryland Forest Service. Arbor Day calls attention to the forests of Maryland, the state's most valuable renewable and recyclable resource. Forests provide timber for industry, habitat for wildlife, watershed protection, clean air, improved water quality, recreational opportunities and aesthetic beauty.

The Maryland Forest Service was created in 1906 when John and Robert Garrett gave the state nearly 2,000 acres of woodland in Garrett County for use as a demonstration of forest management. An agency of the Department of Natural Resources, the Maryland Forest Service observes Arbor Day by taking part in ceremonies throughout the State. In this Bicentennial year, the Forest Service is giving every school student in Maryland a pine seedling to commemorate the seventieth birthday of the Forest Service and Arbor Day. The Maryland Board of Education is cooperating with the Forest Service in the distribution of the seedlings to the schools.

On hand when Governor Mandel proclaimed Arbor Day were Adna R. Bond, Director of the Maryland Forest Service, Thomas Ober, President of the State Association of District Forest Conservancy Boards and Experana Largent, fifth grader at Tyler Heights Elementary School and the recipient of the first pine seedling presented to students across the State. Experana is the daughter of Helen Largent, department of Natural Resources Library Assistant.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone who has been so very helpful during the long illness and recent death of our loved one, Paul W. DeWitt. We appreciate the care and concern of the hospital staff at Garrett Memorial, in particular, Dr. Thomas and the nurses on the second floor. We could never thank everyone in the community personally for all their kindnesses shown, but we will always remember the many true friends.

WINS SILVER MEDAL — Nine-year-old Jonny Umbel of Oakland, won a silver medal in the Giant Slalom race sponsored March 9 by Nastar at Aspen Highlands, Aspen, Colorado. Jonny was in the all-ages competition and his time for second place was 37 seconds. This is the first major competition entered by this young man, a fourth-grade student at Dennett Road Elementary School. He and his mother, Ruth Umbel, and older sister and brother, Sherry and Jeff, traveled through 15 states enroute to and from the ski races. Jonny has had no formal ski race training but has picked up pointers from his older brother and from Jerry Geisler, ski instructor at Wisp, McHenry. He won a race during Winterfest in February. Other local people in Aspen for the ski races were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lascaris, Mrs. Ruth Beitzel, Jay Kamineck, Mrs. Jackie Wachter, "Buzz" Gosnell, Peggy McBride, Charles Nelson, Mike Kennedy, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Geisler.

Aurora FFA Wins Honors At Ham, Bacon, Egg Show

Five members of the Aurora FFA Chapter participated in the Northern District Ham, Bacon, and Egg Show at Morgantown on March 18.

Odus Henline, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Odus Henline, Horse Shoe Run, was awarded the Grand Champion prize for Ham and Bacon. The thirteen and half pound ham was bought by the Ramada Inn, Morgantown, for $12.50 a pound and the six and three-fourth pound bacon was bought by Farmers and Merchants Bank in Morgantown for $10.00 a pound.

Allen Dale Strawser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Strawser, Eglon, was awarded the Reserve Champion Ham. It weighed sixteen and a fourth pounds was purchased by the Interstate Lumber Company, Kingwood, for $8.00 a pound.

Eric Strite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Strite, Eglon, exhibited a prime ham and bacon in the same show. Brian Strawser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strawser and Roger Strawser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Strawser, both of Amboy, exhibited a dozen eggs.

In order to prepare hams for the show, students must select their own pigs, feed and manage them, butcher them, and cure the meat. Eggs for the show must be selected from a student's own flock.

All five students will be participating in the state show in Charleston this coming weekend.

Mt. Top Gymnastics Team Takes 12 Medals At Jr. Olympics

Handstands take great coordination and balance, both of which are rigorously encouraged in gymnastics. Wendy Johnson and Terry Fraley demonstrate how, above.

Local gym team members copped top honors in every event they entered, bringing home 12 medals from six classes. There were 115 girls and over 100 boys from all over the state of West Virginia competing, in addition to the local team.

Top winners in events were Mark Wells, gold medal for first place in men's side horse; Jim Flanigan, silver medal, second place.

Jim Flanigan and Mark Powles won gold medals for their efforts on the rings in their age groups. Wayne Dixon won a silver medal on the rings; Matt Scheffel and George Scheffel won bronze medals.

Terry Fraley won a gold medal in girl's floor exercise. Tim Panther, Oakland, a member of the Morgantown Gymnastics team, won a gold medal in men's floor exercise.

On the balance beam, Terry Fraley won a silver medal.

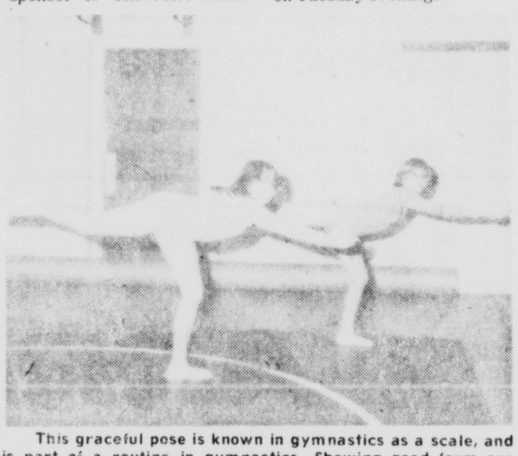
As a group, the Mt. Top team brought home six gold medals, three silver medals and three bronze medals from the six events entered.

Others from the local team with high scores were Carrie Johnson, floor exercise, 7.35 out of a possible ten points; Susan Devlin, floor exercise, 6.8; Amy Gosnell, floor exercise, 4.45, and Wendy Johnson, balance beam, 7.5.

The group, including parents, left Oakland at noon on Friday, spending the night at Holiday Inn, Morgantown. Events were held Friday evening and Saturday at the West Virginia University Coliseum, with the University as the local sponsor. National sponsor is Chevrolet Motor Division.

Coaches working with the team are Lynn Fraley, head coach and physical education teacher at Dennett Road School; Mrs. Penny Fraley, assistant Coach and teacher in the Head Start program in Preston county; and Phil Caruso, volunteer men's coach and graduate of FSC in physical education, who is currently seeking a teaching position in this county.

The group works out once a week throughout the school year in the Dennett Road gymnasium rented by Mr. Fraley. He and his assistants also coach a gymnastics class Thursday afternoons at 4 p.m. at Dennett Road gym for all interested elementary and high school students, and Mr. Fraley has just begun instructing a women's gymnastics program at the school on Tuesday evenings.



This graceful pose is known in gymnastics as a scale, and is part of a routine in gymnastics. Showing good form are Susan Devlin and Carrie Johnson.

A difficult maneuver looks easy when done by Wayne Scott, four-year veteran of the Mt. Top Gymnastics class taught by Lynn Fraley. Gymnastics is currently gaining in popularity as it is a year-round sport which can be followed by men and women with a minimum of cost and maximum of physical well-being. Wayne is doing a back lever.

Family Of Five Injured Saturday

A Lonaconing family of five persons were injured in a one-car mishap on the Avilton-Lonaconing road late Saturday night.

Charles Lee Thomas, 38, operator of the car, and his wife Jenevieve Thomas, 32, were taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, by the Northern Rescue Squad. Three children, Sandra, 11; Eva, 10; and Paula, 5, were apparently less seriously injured. Thomas was traveling south near the Frostburg road when his car ran off the right shoulder, down an embankment and struck several trees. The car was called a total loss in the accident investigated by Tpr. J. E. Foley.

A parked car was struck on the Oakland-Rosedale road Tuesday evening. The car of Milton C. DeWitt, Bradley Manor, Oakland, was parked unattended, on the shoulder of the Oakland-Rosedale road. Charles Edward Stemple, Jr., RD 2, Oakland, in a small van truck, was backing along the road and backed into the DeWitt car. Sgt. H. W. Graham investigated the accident. About an hour later, Stemple was picked up in Oakland by Cpl. Jack Thomas of the Oakland police.

A tractor-trailer damaged the traffic light in Friendsville Monday evening. The rig with a Pa. license struck the light and continued on without stopping. Damage was placed at $25. According to the report of Tfc. Dale Williams, charges are pending.

Demonstrates Canine Dog Program Thurs.

An explanation of what law enforcement officers can do with a "canine dog" for a buddy was given last Thursday night at the weekly meeting of the Oakland Rotary club at the American Legion home.

Providing the explanation and also the demonstration was Deputy Sheriff David Livengood along with his trusty German Shepherd "Sarge." After explaining the method of training the dog Deputy Livengood gave a demonstration with his animal. George Stanya, with a protective sleeve, served as the "culprit," when the deputy gave the order to attack.

Cooking With Honey

There are recipes specially developed for honey, or honey may be substituted for other sweeteners in any recipes. If one or more cups of honey is used as a substitution, reduce other liquids by ¼ cup to insure that the final product has the right consistency. You may wish to add ¼ to ½ teaspoon of baking soda for each cup of honey used to offset the honey acids.

Cakes and cookies made from honey remain fresh and moist for a longer time. Some actually improve in flavor and texture when aged a few days. Crisp cookies, however, are likely to lose crispness on standing, and some honey candies and frostings may stay too soft in warm weather.

Honey may be used measure-for-measure in place of sugar in preparing puddings, custards, pie fillings, baked apples, candied and sweet-sour vegetables, salad dressings, and cinnamon toast. Brushed or drizzled on ham during the last half hour of baking, honey adds flavor and give a golden glaze.

Use a mild-flavored honey for delicate dishes. Honeys with stronger flavors may be used in spice cake, gingerbread, brownies, and in other highly flavored products.

When using honey, use the same measuring cup in which shortening was measured. Dip measuring spoons in water or oil so the honey slides off completely to give an accurate measurement.

Honey will caramelize at a high temperature, so lower oven temperature about 30° when baking cakes and other baked products made with honey, or they may become too brown on top.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Grace Resh who passed away five years ago today, March 30, 1971.

"Our Mother"

It seems like only yesterday
That Mother went away.
Yet we twelve know that it has been
Five years ago today.
Just now she is in heaven,
Walking hand in hand with God.
No more pain, no more tears.
No more crying, no more fears.
Mother is in heaven enjoying her reward.
For praying for all of us
Throughout her earthly years.
We love her still and always will.
She was our guiding light.
May we never forget what she Meant to us or how much that she Prayed, someday we would walk
With her on heaven's golden streets.
She always will be near us
She's in our hearts to stay.
No matter where we wander,
Her memory will never fade.
We ask that God be with us in our hearts today, so we can go
To Heaven and be with her to stay.

SAVE $41 TO $62 per set of four Goodyear 'POLYSTEEL' RADIALS

You've seen them advertised on TV – 'Custom Polysteel' radials are built to help avoid hydroplaning – a loss of control that can occur when tires ride up on a slippery film of water instead of the road. Eight wide tread grooves channel the water through, instead of letting it build up. With 'Polysteel', you get gas-saving radial construction too – steel cord belts for handling stability, polyester cord body for ride. Buy now and save.

Measure Receives Favorable Report

A measure introduced in the House of Delegates by DeCorsey E. Bolden, Oakland; and Delegates Pesci and Bienen of Prince Georges county, which alters the method of appointing members to the local boards of social services, has received a favorable report from the Constitutional and Administrative Law committee as well as passing the second reading on the floor. The measure passed with one amendment which Delegate Bolden offered providing that any vacancy be appointed in the same manner.

Under existing law Bolden said the state social services administration nominated persons after consulting with the state board and local governing body. The list is then forwarded to the local government for appointment. He said, "Although this process has produced competent local boards in the past it is my feeling that this process is a bit too bureaucratic and could be handled far more expediently if the local county government simply appointed the board members."

He said he felt that county governments were closer to the people and share an insight into the community and its problems, making them the logical body to make such appointments.

Rodney The Rider

Elbridge Brooks wrote a poem about him. It says, "I've but half a day, and the Congress sits eighty miles away. But I'll be in time, if God grants me grace, to shake my fist in King George's face."

John Adams also wrote about him, from first-hand observation. "Caesar Rodney is the oddest-looking man in the world; he is tall, thin, and slender as a reed, pale; his face is not bigger than a large apple, yet there is sense and fire, spirit, wit and humor in his countenance."

And who was Caesar Rodney? He was a bachelor, a farmer, and an attorney of the eighteenth century. He became a delegate to the Second Continental Congress from his colony, along with Thomas McKean and George Read, with whom he signed the Declaration of Independence. But Caesar Rodney was the one delegate who was a native of Delaware, and in a dramatic moment, he was the only one who could save the real independence of a new country.

Rodney showed his colors early in the colonial struggle. He actually took power from the Delaware proprietary governor and called a special meeting of the legislature at New Castle. This followed what the new Americans abhorred, the closing of Boston Harbor by the English Parliament. It was also the first Revolutionary convention in our new land.

Being a true patriot, Rodney was in attendance at the Congress, but he had temporarily absented himself because there was trouble in Sussex County, Delaware. Here he was needed in his position as brigadier general of the militia, to raise volunteers against the Tory uprisings which were creating ferment because of rumors that Lord Howe would soon land in New York to subdue the pugnacious colonists.

On July 2, the Congress considered other minor affairs. Then their group was set up as a committee of the whole for one last consideration of Lee's resolution that connections with the mother country be dissolved and that the colonies declare themselves to be independent states.

There is a deadlock of Delaware's delegates, as McKean favors the resolution and Read is against it. Carl Becker tells us vividly of the sentiment and wondering of the other delegates, who realize that the postponement of voting can delay no longer after July 1. "Which of the deputies slept this night is not known. But it is known that Caesar Rodney, hastily summoned, mounted his horse and rode post-haste to Philadelphia."

It is a troublesome ride through a rainstorm, a worse one for a man with a terrible cancerous growth on his face. But he makes it. Secretary Thomson has asked for Delaware's vote and the two men have responded, but Colonel McKean hears hoofbeats and sees striding into the room the man he has summoned. Rodney comes forward to cast his vote for freedom.

As the roll call continues, twelve colonies have at last voted the same, and the delegates formally adopt the resolution. One week later the New York deputies will cast the vote which unanimously creates thirteen new states.

And what of Rodney, soaked and mud-spattered? He incurs the wrath of the Kent County conservatives by his vote. He cannot go home, and there is nothing for him to do, as he is not re-elected to Congress or appointed to Delaware's constitutional convention. So he bears arms and recruits troops for small battles in Delaware and New Jersey. Your not going to subdue Rodney.

McKean becomes the state president (governor) and appoints him a major general, and later Rodney is an Admiralty judge and then his state's president in 1781, until the term expires. The cancerous growth is now hastening death, but how can a patriot go to England for any treatment? He goes on to the state senate, becoming its speaker before his life ends.

He made it in Delaware, too. Not bad for a small, pale farmer.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear mother, Grace E. Resh, who passed away March 30, 1971.
What is home without a mother?
Never, never more the same;
There's no name so sweet as mother,
How we love to call her name.
Though you're in God's heaven, Mother,
Still our hearts are filled with pain.
For we'll never find another
Like you in this world again.

The suspect was seen in the truck but was gone by the time the owner got to the truck. The suspect left the scene by unknown means. Destruction of property is the crime listed.

Urges Approval Of Bill To Save Farmland Areas

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. (R-Md.) has urged Congress to approve legislation he introduced more than a year ago to protect farmland, woodland, and historic sites from destruction by changing federal estate tax laws.

Mathias said Maryland was the first state to provide for differential assessment of farmland almost 13 years ago and more than 30 other states have adopted similar programs.

"But the effectiveness of state programs is severely limited and often undone by the federal government when the farmer dies," Mathias said in testimony.

"All too often," Mathias said, "although a farmer's heirs may want to keep the land in agricultural production, they are forced to sell the land to developers or speculators to pay the estate tax."

DNR Chief Blasts Idea That State Buy Yough Land

Maryland's Secretary of Natural Resources, James B. Coulter, has taken the federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) to task for advocating that the state purchase land in the Youghiogheny River scenic corridor.

Secretary Coulter reaffirmed Maryland's intentions to preserve the scenic and wild characteristics of the Yough "without a huge outlay of public funds," and he accused the federal bureau's Philadelphia regional director of "going your independent way to nowhere."

The clash between Mr. Coulter and Anthony M. Corbisiero, who heads up the BOR's regional office, is the latest controversy in the state's efforts to implement regulations to preserve the Yough corridor from Millers Run to the southern limits of Friendsville.

Both Sen. Edward Mason and Del. DeCorsey Bolden have introduced bills which would delay the state DNR's regulations until 1977 because of the protests which the regulations have raised from Yough River area property owners.

Regulations for the river are necessary since the General Assembly has included the Youghiogheny in the state's Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

The federal BOR is also seeking to add the river to the national wild and scenic rivers system and Mr. Corbisiero told Mr. Coulter in a letter earlier this month that the federal agency "can no longer postpone any elements of the Youghiogheny planning process." Thus, he said, the BOR has scheduled its own public hearing for April 8 at 8 p.m. at Northern High School.

Mr. Coulter responded by accusing the BOR of encouraging people in Maryland to believe that the state can and should buy the Youghiogheny River to preserve its wild and scenic character. Mr. Coulter called this "counterproductive" saying that the state decided not to buy the river, but to leave it in private ownership and protect its beauty by lawful control of development.

Coulter also said the Philadelphia BOR office refused his request a year ago to take part in the public process of drafting the regulations, and concluded his remarks by saying "We are going to preserve the scenic and wild characteristics of the Youghiogheny — and we are going to do it without a huge outlay of public funds."

Five Juveniles Are Placed On Probation

Five youths charged with breaking and entering and larceny were found delinquent and then placed on probation by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., last Friday.

A male 16 years old was found to be delinquent by breaking and entering and grand larceny of a summer residence in January. He was placed on probation before judgment.

A ten-year-old and a 13-year-old were each found to be delinquent, also because of breaking and entering and larceny in January. Both were placed on probation for an undetermined period.

Another ten-year-old and a 13-year-old were each found to be delinquent, charged with three counts each, of breaking and entering and larceny in December. Both were placed on probation.

Yough Property Owners Band To Fight Legislation

A property owners' association was formed Saturday evening at McHenry aimed at fighting the state's proposed Youghiogheny River regulations.

More than 100 land owners agreed to set up the organization, called Youghiogheny Property Owners Association, and Col. Richard C. Browning was named chairman. Other officers are Mrs. Douglas Schenk, treasurer, and Miss Jean Frantz, secretary. According to Col. Browning, the immediate objective of the organization is to get a delay of the state's regulations until 1977, or possibly even repeal of the legislation which put the Yough in the Maryland Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

Col. Browning was quoted as saying that the owners are opposed to the "dictatorial position" of the regulations begin proposed by the Department of Natural Resources.

The organization will be represented at a second DNR hearing on the river rules in Annapolis on April 1, and plan to turn our for a federal hearing on the river at Northern High School in this county April 8.

At the meeting were two of the county commissioners, George C. Edwards, chairman of the board, and Wayne B. Hamilton.

The commissioners agreed to endorse a position of opposition drawn up by the property owners. The commissioners were to discuss the position Monday and take a vote on the matter.

Col. Bronwing, pointed out that the association is backing efforts by Sen. Edward J. Mason and Del. DeCorsey Bolden to have legislation passed delaying the Yough regulations until next year.

He said if a delay can be accomplished, the property owners want to see if the legislation authorizing Natural Resources Secretary James B. Coulter to promulgate regulations for the river can be tightened so that the DNR will not have blanket authority to approve whatever regulations it desires.

Another concern of the land owners is that the state plans to regulate the Yough area in the so-called scenic corridor—a 22-mile section between Millers Run and the southern limits of Friendsville — without giving consideration to some type of compensation to the persons whose property use will be restricted.

However, Col. Browning listed as the chief concern the fact that the state will be able to impose regulations which the land owners see as harsh and unrealistic. He said the majority of land owners would rather keep their land and have it remain unregulated.

He noted that the regulations would affect a sizable number of property owners, some of whom own as much as 2,100 acres while others own parcels with five acres or less.

Unless efforts by Sen. Mason and Del. Bolden are successful, the DNR's Yough regulations probably would take effect about 60 days after the April 1 hearing in Annapolis.

Both legislators have introduced bills calling for the regulation delay, but the measures were introduced after the General Assembly's deadline for new bills, making it difficult for the legislators to convince the rules committee of the Senate and House to allow the bills to get to the floor.

Del. Bolden also plans an amendment in the House to a Sen. Mason bill which makes a technical correction to the Yough corridor's boundary definition. The bill was introduced this session after the legislature last year erroneously listed the boundary end at the western end of the Friendsville corporate limits, rather than the southern end.

Del. Bolden plans to add a paragraph to the bill calling for the DNR river regulations to be put off until 1977. If the House approves the amendment, the bill would return to the Senate for concurrence. The Senate has already passed the bill, but without the Bolden amendment.

Col. Browning said the property owners' group has no immediate plans for another meeting, and that members will now spend time lobbying for the regulation delay and attending the state and federal hearings to continue to voice opposition.

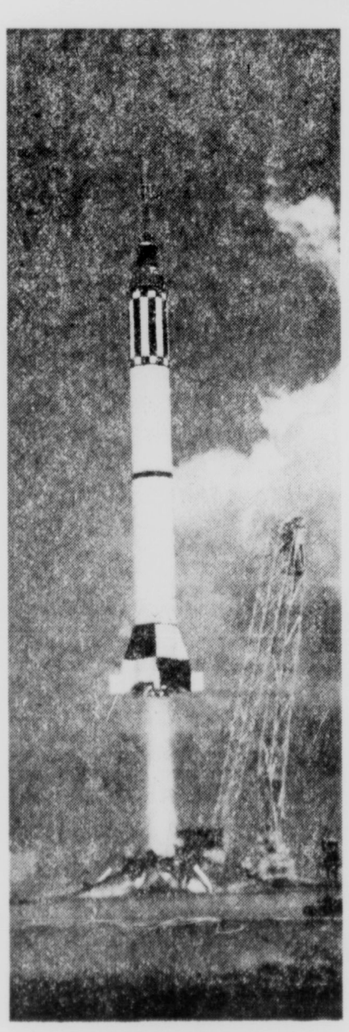
The First American to sail into the oceans of space was a Navy man.



5 May 1961.
3...2...1...we have a lift off."
And America had its first man in space. Commander Alan B. Shepard, Jr., USN.
In 1962, the first three Americans to orbit the earth were also naval aviators: Lt. Colonel J. H. Glenn, USMC; Lt. Commander M. S. Carpenter, USN; and Commander W. M. Schirra, USN.
When these men joined the Navy, they saw the world all right. From outer space!
And they are but a few of the many Navy men we are proud to salute as the United States celebrates its Bicentennial: Navy men who helped shape our country's growth into a world power.
If you'd like to know how you can help carry on this fine tradition, we'd like you to know all about the careers and opportunities that await you in the United States Navy. Just see your Navy recruiter, or call toll free 800-841-8000 (in Georgia, 800-342-5855).

Less Drudgery... ...More Living

That's what retirement has meant to Fred and Frances. Of course, they spent close to forty years getting themselves ready.

They learned the richness of living . . . the adventures of believing and serving and sacrificing. They surrounded themselves with people who care, who are concerned, who like helping others. They based their lives on truths and ideals that do not change with every passing opportunity or disappointment. They found God.

Now they are prepared to enjoy the rest of life.

Not the REST. Who looks forward to idleness?

Rather THE REST . . . the years not yet lived . . . the unfolding culmination of our destiny as children of God.

In the lives of Fred and Frances, retirement has been one more Christian adventure. And a blessing to their church, their community and their family. They have more time now for things they ALWAYS valued most.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE CLOCKWATCHERS

Lesson for March 28, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 24
Devotional Reading: Matthew 24:1-8

Occasionally we read in the newspapers stories about persons or groups who are convinced that the world is going to "come to an end" on a particular date in the near future. For the most part, we tend to treat those stories with "tongue-in-cheek," for we really don't share their convictions.

Rev. Althouse

Yet, at the same time, we can't help but feel a small degree of relief when that day has come and gone and the world is still intact—more or less. We are a little like the man who said, "I don't believe in ghosts, but I'm afraid of them."

'No one knows!'

One reason for this reaction to pronouncements of impending Judgement Day is that as Christians we are rather uncertain to what Jesus meant about his Second Coming. Scholars and theologians disagree. Many early Christians, including Paul, believed at first that Jesus' return was immanent and some of the teachings in the early church were predicated upon that expectation (for example, Paul's advice not to marry[1]).

Eventually the early church had to revise these expectations and we have been in dispute and doubt ever since. Each century has had its prophets informing us that the Second Coming was "just around the corner," and there are those who today believe that the conditions prerequisite for the Return of Christ are to be found in our own world today. Yet, every age has had its adventists who were equally convinced that the world had "had it."

The fact is, we really don't know when Christ will return and what that Second Coming will be like.

Not even angels know

Ironically, many of the sayings of Jesus have been used by interpreters to establish specific theories (usually proclaimed as "given truth") about the return of our Lord. Yet, the one thing that Jesus did say clearly about his Return was that the date and time could not and would not be known. "But of that day and hour," he said, "no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, nor the Son, but the Father only" (Matthew 24:36). "Watch therefore, for you do not know on what day your Lord is coming" (24:42). No man, not even the angels or Jesus himself, will know.

How strange, then, that despite those clear warnings, Christians today spend so much time trying to determine the one date Jesus said we would not know until it was upon us.

What, therefore, is the point of Jesus' warning? It is not to calculate the hour, not to determine for God who will and will not be among the "redeemed," not to stand in readiness upon a mountaintop, nor cringe in an underground shelter. Rather, it is to be "ready" whenever and however he comes. Blessed is that servant whom his master when he comes will find so doing.

Tag Renewal Said Lagging

Having processed about a quarter million less tag renewal applications than at this time last year, the Maryland Motor Vehicle administration reminded motorists this week that the deadline for displaying validation stickers on all passenger vehicle and motorcycle tags is midnight, March 31.

Validation stickers may be obtained at branch offices or from the county treasurer's office.

HERPES VIRUS NOW A COMMON VENEREAL DISEASE

Little known ten years ago it has become almost as common as syphillis and gonnorrhea. And, genital herpes can have serious consequences. Children born to mothers suffering from this type of herpes can develop Neo Natal herpes which is most often fatal. Also, there appears to be evidence that women with herpes run a greater risk of developing cervical cancer.

Right now there is neither a certain treatment or cure for genital herpes. Although researchers feel that eventually a vaccine may be the answer, none is close to development.

Accountability In Public Schools

By Ethel Thayer
And Dorothy Leighton
League of Women Voters

National testing agencies are continuously reporting the downward trend in student scores covering every major field of education. Low achievers and disadvantaged students alone are not pulling down the test averages. New and old approaches to education have failed even to maintain the basic-skill test scores.

The taxpayers who pay for the public schools and colleges as well as interested parents and educators are raising definite questions about the efficacy of the education to which American students are being exposed.

In response to this concern, the Maryland General Assembly mandated in 1972 a program of accountability "to assure that all public school students throughout the state of Maryland, have access to an education that will enable them to function to the best of their abilities as informed citizens."

This program includes the developing and implementing of educational goals and objectives for subject areas including, but not limited to, reading, writing, and mathematics; and the surveying of the current status of student achievement in these and other areas.

Under the guidance of state-level goals committees in each subject area, statewide goals, system goals, and individual school objectives have been developed in conformance with each other.

Assessment of student progress includes, but may not be limited to, the Iowa Test of Basic Skills, 1971 edition, and the nonverbal subtest of the Cognitive Abilities Test. Testing is done in grades 3, 5, 7, and 9. The skills tested by the ITBS are vocabulary, reading comprehension, spelling, capitalization, punctuation, language usage, mathematical concepts, and mathematical problem solving.

When all factors are considered, Garrett County students are similar to students in other Maryland subdivisions in spite of the fact that in the past the per-pupil expenditure in Garrett County has been the lowest in the state. Maryland as a whole ranks below the national norms in the skills tested, and many people feel that the national norms for reading and basic mathematics levels are too low.

A yearly report is transmitted by the Maryland State Superintendent of Schools to the Governor of Maryland and the Maryland General Assembly which lists and publishes detailed information on the results of the accountability tests in each school and local system. A copy of this report will be placed on file in the Ruth Enlow Library.

Students Continue Relating Writings To Bicentennial

The ninth in a series of stories from English and Creative Writing classes at Southern High school appears this week. This time the article concerns a letter from a son to his parents and was written by Teresa Casteel, a tenth grade student.

Dear Ma and Pa:

I miss you very, very much, and I hope to see you again soon. In the past few months I have been away from you, you have been in my thoughts at least once a day. It is very exciting playing the drums for the troops, expecially during battle. You can't imagine the thrill it gives me to hear the guns go off. Our men have been very lucky so far. I always get sort of a cold chill down my back when I hear the cry of battle ring out. I truly would feel honored to able to be out there fighting for the colonies. Please don't worry at all about me. I'm doing fine. The food is as good as can be expected, and I am getting enough even though our food supplies are getting low. I'm sure we will manage. Give my love to everyone and remember me in your prayers. I hope you receive this letter soon.

Your loving son,
Nathan

Mrs. Echols, the former Marilynn Niner, daughter of Oliver and Dorothy Niner, Oakland, has lived in Wheeling about five years and for most of that time has been employed at the Wheeling brokerage firm of Hazlett, Burt and Watson, Inc.

She was graduated from Southern High school in 1970. She attended the Wheeler School in Pittsburgh and West Liberty State college in Wheeling.

When she began her employment Mrs. Echols served as operator of the teletype system that links Wheeling brokerage office with the New York Stock Exchange. After two years there plus learning other facets of the business, she was placed in charge of the firm's bookkeeping department.

On Feb. 21 she completed the New York Stock Exchange and National Association of Securities Dealers exams, qualifying her as a licensed broker in West Virginia. She is only the second woman associated with a West Virginia brokerage firm and registered with the New York Stock exchange to work in West Virginia. First is Betty Huffman, also of Wheeling.

Mrs. Echols has taken several courses while working and in August started three correspondence courses the New York Institute of Finance offers as preparation for exams, because that was "the next step up" in the field. She said she expected it would take a couple of years gradual transition period until she has enough experience to devote all of her working time to duties as a broker. In the meantime she will continue to head the bookkeeping department.

Mrs. Echols expects several factors working to her disadvantage — her youth, she is 23, and another the myth held by many who believe men know more about the stock market than women. "That's only because they aren't used to dealing with women," she said.

Mrs. Echols said her family was enthusiastic about her new career. Her husband, Paul Echols, employed by Kepner Funeral Homes, has encouraged her all the way. Her parents, who reside in the Sand Flat area, are pleased she is building a career in the brokerage business. Her mother-in-law takes care of her three year old daughter, Jennifer Lynn. Male stock brokers in the firm have shown "no resentment" toward her but have encouraged her.

Portable Telescope Alignment

Correct alignment of the telescope axis is essential for its effective use. One method is to select two bright stars, one near the pole, the other near the equator using the coordinates of the stars align the telescope, first on the star near the equator and then on the star near the pole. If the star near the pole doesn't center in the telescope move the telescope mounting to center it. Then repeat the procedure, if necessary. A set of stellar coordinates for the current year is required.

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr., a member of the Health Subcommittee, is shown discussing with Dr. R. Adams Cowley, Director of the Maryland Division of Emergency Medical Services, legislation to extend the Emergency Medical Services Act of 1973 (EMS). Allegany and Garrett Counties have received over $142,000 under the Act, and in addition, have utilized over $150,000 in funds from the Appalachian Regional Commission to improve emergency care. Beall in urging enactment, told the Subcommittee that the "1973 Act is making a difference between life and death of accident and heart attack victims which account for one-quarter of the total deaths in the United States." Beall predicted enactment this year.

Foster Care In County Outlined

Foster Care in the county was discussed recently by Perry Shaffer, director of the Social Services department of the state and he outlined some of the problems involved.

Garrett County has been one of the leading counties of Maryland in providing foster care services to needy children. Surprisingly, the history of foster care in Garrett County spans six and one-half decades. In 1911 the Amish-Mennonite congregation of the Maple Glen Church, under the leadership of the Rev. Jacob S. Miller, began developing plans for a children's home. In 1913 a temporary children's home was established in the residence of another Mennonite minister, Noah Brenneman, at Accident. By 1916 the Conservative Mennonite Conference opened a large, brand-new Children's Home one mile north of Grantsville, and began accepting foster and orphaned children. The home was designed for 75 children, but the number of children in care fluctuated over the years from 35 to 87. This home, which remained in operation until 1938, enjoyed a good reputation for service to children. Though the Children's Home was closed in 1938, the building is still in good condition, and presently houses the Goodwill Mennonite Nursing Home.

For about a year after the closing of the Children's Home, the Maryland Children's Aid Society assumed responsibility for locating private foster care homes in the county. In 1939 this responsibility was shifted to a the Garrett County Welfare Board.

Since 1939 the Garrett County Welfare Board, presently known as the Garrett County Department of Social Services, has provided foster care to approximately 600 children. The Social Services Department currently has 24 homes licensed to provide foster care. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson, foster parents at Underwood, have been providing care for children for thirty-six years, and have served a total of 33 children. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Friend, Friendsville, have been licensed since 1943, and have provided care to 47 children. The Department of Social Services expresses deep appreciation especially to the Friends and the Petersons but also to all foster parents in the county who continue to provide high quality service each day.

Foster parenting requires a high degree of patience and skill. Children from broken homes, or who have suffered neglect or abuse, sometimes have serious emotional problems and require an unusual amount of attention and loving care. Therefore, the Department of Social Services carefully screens each prospective foster home prior to licensing. Homes must also meet basic sanitary requirements of the State Health Department. The Department of Social Services pays for the room, board and clothing of children placed in licensed foster homes, but such payments sometimes do not cover the full expense of child care. The maximum payment for older children in care is $114.00 per month which includes everything except medical care.

There are presently 56 children in Department of Social Services homes in Garrett County. Most of these children were placed in foster care by the Juvenile Court as having been neglected or abused by their parents or guardians. However, approximately one-fourth of the children presently receiving foster care were placed in care voluntarily by their parents. The voluntary foster care plan affords an opportunity for families who are facing unusual stress or problems to make temporary arrangements for full-time child care until the problems can be resolved and the parents and children reunited. It should be pointed out that the Department of Juvenile Services also maintains several homes in the county which serve children who are in need of supervision and who may be judged "delinquent". This program is separate from the Social Services Department's program of "Foster Care".

All foster care placements, whether by the court or voluntary, are considered to be temporary in nature. The ultimate goal in foster care is to enable the natural parents to resolve their problems and resume care for their children. However, under Maryland law, if children remain in foster care as long as two years, it is necessary to begin permanent plans for the children, possibly through adoption or long-term foster care agreements.

Additional foster homes are urgently needed in Garrett County at the present time. There is a special need for foster parents who would be willing to accept older teenagers. In addition, the Department of Social Services is seeking a home to provide very short-term, emergency-type shelter care. Persons interested in applying for a foster care license should telephone the Garrett County Department of Social Services 334-9461.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my beloved husband, Henry L. Gibson, who passed away March 24, 1975.

So sadly missed and a broken heart you left behind.
But you are one who will never, never be forgotten.
Just to hear your voice and see your smile.
Just to sit with you and chat awhile.
But memory is one gift of God that death cannot destroy.
Absent from the body, present with the Lord.

Wife,
Myrtle Gibson

Blood Pressure Program Is Set

In an effort to help uncover the over fourteen million people who may not be aware they have high blood pressure, a free blood pressure screening program will be held at Gregg's Pharmacy in Oakland on Wednesday, March 31, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The screening will be held in association with the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad who will be sending qualified volunteers to help with the screening procedures. The actual screening takes only a few minutes and each person screened will be given a written record of their reading.

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. When a person is afflicted with an illness such as epilepsy or multiple sclerosis or has undergone surgery for cancer, is it on the level to accept a job without telling an employer about the malady? It seems more likely that one will not get a job if he tells. I feel that is unfair.

A. If you withhold information about a condition that you know exists, you are certainly wrong and not "on the level." If you are not hired, it may be because there is too much risk of injury to yourself and possibly to others and also employers try to avoid the expense of sick leave and higher health insurance payments required to cover the chronically ill. Also an employer may feel that your condition would limit your ability to do the best work.

Difficult as it is, you need to learn to accept your situation. That does not mean you should give up, however. Pray earnestly and humbly for God's help. Do everything you can to receive treatment that will cure or control your illness. With faith and determination, you should be able to solve your problem and find your niche.

There is a national organization called JOB, Just One Break, with headquarters in New York, that has helped to break down the barriers that keep many handicapped from finding work. JOB has helped many people with physical handicaps find satisfying and remunerative employment. Perhaps they can help you. Why don't you write to them? Their address is: JUST ONE BREAK, 373 Park Avenue South, New York, N. Y. 10016.

Q. I am a college student with a speech difficulty and I'm worried about whether it will affect my business career. Can you suggest a cure or a way to overcome the trouble?

A. There are of course various kinds of speech problems. We can only assume that yours is a matter of stuttering or stammering, or perhaps a lisp. Perhaps the difficulty is psychological rather than physiological; in other words, caused by an emotional problem. It could be based on an unconscious fear of meeting people or a deep lack of confidence in yourself. Most people who have this difficulty are supersensitive to the reactions of others.

Speech training might help. We suggest that you consult a speech therapist or a psychological counselor.

Q. We have two daughters. The older is well adjusted, well behaved and easy to manage and to love. The younger one, aged 10, tells lies and does things in a sneaky way to gain her way. I'm bewildered and discouraged. What can I do to help this child?

A. Your little girl does not really want her way. Actually she is seeking love and attention with her behavior. She wants your esteem. The fact that she is not as well adjusted as your other child means that more thought and patience are required in your relationship with her. That of course involves extra effort.

Letting yourself become disgusted and frustrated is no answer to the problem. Do not give the younger child the impression that you love the older girl more. She probably already feels that. Give your love and confidence to her in fuller measure. Eventually she will respond. But you must be very giving and very loving—and very patient.

If you feel that she needs help outside the family, consult your clergyman or physician as to where the best counseling is available. Sometimes skilled counselors, particularly pastoral counselors, help to find solutions by working with entire families, for when one member has a problem others often do, too.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

Call To Action . . .

As signs of spring keep appearing, our winter-dulled consciousness again becomes aware of the outdoors, with green buds and sprouts and early flowers making the past season's debris stand out in real contrast. Grass is getting green. It should sharpen the urge of all of us to improve the landscape.

A Keep America Beautiful day has been planned nationally, for Saturday, April 24, and offers us a wide variety of ways to channel our urges into constructive action.

This year the emphasis is to be on one-day activities which will initiate or dramatize long range cooperative programs between business, industry, government and individuals. If a person's passion is recycling, there is opportunity in the community to carry out this project. If digging turns one on, there are tree planting projects. If interested in water sports, persons may find satisfaction in working on river and stream cleanups, it is suggested. Those with particular interest in history can help restore historic landmarks and there are plenty in the area.

More and more people appear to be interested in gardening and this presents an opportunity to clean up the landscape, make an area more presentable with flowers and vegetables. Cleaning up vacant lots or a neglected park area will help in this call to action. What is important is that everyone who is able get involved and stay that way so that keeping America beautiful and productive becomes a habit rather than a once a year occasion.

It is not too early to begin this week.

Pa. Man Pleads Guilty of Second Degree Murder

A Pennsylvania man pleaded guilty of second degree murder before Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., in Circuit Court Monday.

Richard E. Fox, 42, Scottsdale, Pa., pleaded guilty of the charge of the drowning murder of his wife Nealie Jane Fox, 39, at Deep Creek Lake last May 20.

Fox was originally charged with first degree murder and bond was set at $25,000. He then pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity. As a result, by court order, he was taken to Clifton Perkins Hospital for examination. Fox had prayed a jury trial but later the request was changed to a court trial.

At Monday's trial, the "not guilty" plea by reason of insanity was withdrawn. He then pleaded guilty of second degree murder. A presentence investigation has been ordered and he has been remanded to the custody of Sheriff's department, pending filing of the investigation.

When the tragedy occurred the husband had told authorities that they had stopped south of Deep Creek bridge near the Trading Post to get a better view of the lake, and that while standing on a private dock she apparently became ill and fell into the lake. She wore braces on her legs and he said he had a cardiac condition and was unable to pull her from the water. He flagged down a passing motorist and the body was raised from the water after ten minutes. Resuscitation was attempted without success.

The case was investigated by William Ferry, criminal investigator and Tfc. Bob Friend of the Maryland State Police, and the indictment was returned as a result of their investigation.

TEARS AND JOY — Tears were apparent but there was also joy in the faces of members of the congregation of St. Mark's Lutheran Church as they participated in a procession from the old church to the recently completed worship building last Sunday morning. The new structure is adjacent to the old building, which has served the congregation since 1906. The new building will be dedicated later this month with special ceremonies. Worship services will be held in the new building this Sunday and continuing regularly in the future.

Grantsville Girl Fatally Injured By Automobile

A four-year-old Grantsville girl, Geneva Joy Schrock, was fatally injured Saturday morning when she reportedly ran into the path of a northbound vehicle on Route 669, a short distance off Route 40 in Grantsville.

Roland Allan Murphy, 21, of RD 2, Swanton, told State Police he had observed several children on the southbound shoulder of the roadway and slowed his vehicle as he approached the children. However, the victim reportedly ran onto the roadway and was struck by his vehicle.

The accident was investigated by Tfc. Dale K. Williams and Cpl. Stephen M. Russell. No charges were lodged against the driver.

Born in Meyersdale, the victim was a daughter of Olen and Miriam (Beachy) Schrock.

Surviving, besides her parents, are four brothers, Martin, Millard, Mayard and Melvin Schrock, all at home, seven sisters, Vera, Delores, Gloria, Loretta, Lyla, Julia and Rebecca, at home, and maternal grandparents, Noah and Elizabeth Beachy, Salisbury, Pa.

Services were conducted Tuesday morning at Mountain View Amish Mennonite Church, West Salisbury, with Rev. Eli Tice officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Three Sentenced To Three Years Each In The Pen

Three men were sent to the Penitentiary for three years each, by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., yesterday. They were involved in storehouse breaking of Englander's Pharmacy last August.

Dieringer Lee Vanderwaart, Michael Thomas Skinner and Richard Stephen Campbell, all of the Baltimore area, were sentenced to the Commissioner of Correction for three years each following the filing of a presentence investigation.

All were charged on the same three counts, each: Storehouse breaking, being a rogue and vagabond, and malicious destruction of property. All pleaded not guilty on all counts at a trial January 16 before the Court.

Vanderwaart was found guilty of storehouse breaking, the other two charges being dismissed. Skinner was found guilty on being a rogue and vagabond, the other two charges being dismissed. Campbell was found guilty on storehouse breaking with the other two charges being dismissed.

Bond was continued on all three pending a presentence investigation. After sentencing, all were delivered to the custody of the Sheriff's department awaiting transfer to Baltimore.

Organized by seven Oakland area pastors, the services are held each Wednesday evening during Lent, beginning at 7:30 P.M. Leave-Taking Ceremony Is Held Sunday By Lutheran Church

Members of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland had a historic leave-taking ceremony last Sunday morning following the regular worship service, moving in procession from the old church to the new house of worship next door, on South Second street.

The leave-taking ceremony followed the final prayer of the church in the day's worship. Midway in the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers", pastor Richard A. Seaks invited the confirmands to come forward to receive the appointments which included the processional cross, Bibles, candlesticks, offering plates, the missal and the banner.

The appointments were followed by the children's choir, the adult choir, the first usher, members of the congregation and the pastor. The adult choir formed in two lines on the outside of the old church, the children's choir and appointments on the outside of the new church. Then the congregation moved into the new church, followed by the choirs, still singing "Onward Christian Soldiers". Once inside the sanctuary there was the final prayer and the singing of "A Mighty Fortress Is our God."

The new church, constructed at a cost of over $300,000, takes the place of the church that was constructed in 1906 and eventually will be torn down. The church will be officially dedicated the latter part of this month. A congregational covered dish dinner is scheduled for this Sunday following the morning service.

Red Oak Named Bicentennial Tree

An oak tree on the farm of Benjamin O. Aiken, of Accident, chairman of the County Bicentennial commission, has been designated as the Bicentennial tree.

This was learned following a meeting of the county Bicentennial committee Sunday afternoon at Garrett Community college at McHenry. The Aiken oak proved to be 251 years old as measured by a core boring done by Paul Mateer, district forester.

This red oak stands near where the old Miller distillery once operated. It was the oldest of five specimens checked by Mr. Mateer in recent weeks.

The tree had been nominated as the oldest tree and Tom Butscher, member of the bicentennial committee, moved that the tree be accepted in appreciation of the work that Mr. Aiken had done as chairman of the group.

In other matters before the committee, Mrs. Maxine Broadwater, Grantsville, reported concerning a project of reprinting a book written by Jacob Brown entitled "Brown's Miscellaneous Writings." The book is being reprinted in Parson, W. Va. It carries information on the early history of this region. Mrs. Broadwater is chairman of the reprinting committee. She is being assisted by Mrs. Earl Opel and Robert Ruckert.

Dr. Raymond McCullough reported that the Garrett County history material was proceeding satisfactorily with the writing being done by Stephen Schlossnagle. Mr. Schlossnagle said he thought the manuscript would be completed by the last of May. A review board from the Bicentennial committee including Robert B. Garrett, Mr. Aiken, Dr. McCullough, Dr. Bruce Jenkins, Walter W. Price, Mrs. Robert Ruckert and Paul T. Calderwood had been reading Mr. Schlossnagle's manuscript. Dr. Jenkins was chosen as liaison from the board to work with Mr. Schlossnagle.

Brenda Butscher Gets Backing Of President Ford

Mrs. Brenda J. Butscher, Oakland, has been endorsed by President Gerald Ford as a candidate for delegate to the Republican National convention this summer.

National convention delegates will be elected in the May 18 Maryland primary election.

President Ford has indicated to Mr. Pascal and the rest of the Maryland committee that he based his support for Mrs. Butscher on the fact that "we share a solid basic viewpoint on the issues and challenges confronting this nation and a common philosophy for America's future."

Pascal said "The President has tapped a cross section of Marylanders who have singly and collectively compiled an impressive record of community and political involvement. The committee has committed itself to work hard for their election on May 18."

Presiding at the meeting was James O'Neill, county zoning administrator. Six of the eleven who voiced their opinions were in favor of issuance of the special permit, which can only be granted by the Mt. Lake Board of Zoning Appeals.

A Mt. Lake zoning ordinance states that when a nursing home, hospital or similar institution applies for a permit, the decision is left up to the zoning appeals board. On the three-member Board are Charles Munday, Alfred Kight and W. Clayton White.

Hearing Held

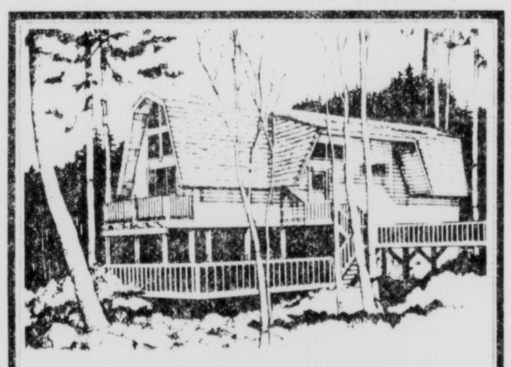
decision on or before April 4, ten days following the public hearing.

According to Robert Weeks, one of the officials in the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home in Oakland, the structure proposed is a fireproof, single story split block masonry building capable of housing 100 patients. The present facility at Alder and Seventh Streets in Oakland houses 155 patients, and will remain in use. There is now a waiting list of over 30 people awaiting admission to the local nursing home.

The new nursing home, to be 258 by over 100 feet, would be called Dennett Road Manor, to be operated by a new corporation of local businessmen and women. Three years of planning have gone into the structure, according to Mr. Weeks.

One of the main reasons for objection to the nursing home project is the lack of sewage facilities in the Park. It was explained at the meeting that the nursing home would construct a pumping station which would then be operated and maintained by the town of Mt. Lake. This pumping station would be of help to residents of homes already constructed in the area, according to Mr. O'Neill.

Representing the Dennett Road Manor Thursday were Robert Weeks, James Cuppett, Thomas Cuppett and Melvin Evans, attorney.



You have to compare it to believe it.

The Justus Company cordially invites you to look at other kinds of homes. Before you look at ours. Because when you compare, you'll find that there is no comparison to our solid cedar home. Solid cedar means more durability and lower maintenance for you. And you can't top the warm natural beauty of cedar. The Justus system is flexible. You can customize our basic designs to suit your needs. Other Justus offers you warmth, beauty and flexibility for your year around or leisure living.

Man Involved In Traffic Death Gets Heavy Fines

Heavy fines were levied on a man involved in a traffic death last summer by Judge Lewis R. Jones in District Court. Others were found not guilty.

Martin Patrick Anderson, 18, Elizabeth, Pa., pleaded not guilty on two charges, but was found guilty on both. For failing to stop after being involved in a collision resulting in death, he was fined $255. On the charge of reckless driving, he was fined $105.

Anderson was involved in the death of Jerome Lewis Denk, Jr., of Pittsburgh who had been vacationing at the lake. The accident occurred on Mayhew Inn road about 12:25 a.m. July 4. Anderson struck Denk's father's car and Denk who had been talking to his father, throwing him on top of the father's car. Denk died at a Uniontown, Pa., hospital on the way to Pittsburgh. Anderson was picked up five days later by Cpl. S. M. Russell. Tfc. Dale Williams investigated the accident. Anderson received suspended sentences on two other counts, driving too fast and no registration in possession.

Three 'not Guilty' pleas were sustained. Sally Ann Althoff, College Park, had been charged with passing another vehicle on the crest of a hill; Gary E. Sebold, Rt. 495, Grantsville, had been charged with refusing to have vehicle weighed, (coal), and Steven B. Friend, Oak street, Oakland had been charged with having no registration in possession.

One case was dismissed as the witness did not appear. Harold D. Bucklew, Mt. Lake Park, had been charged with leaving the scene of a property damage collision.

From Farm To Fair: 4-H Beef Program In Action

CHICAGO—Beyond souvenir stands, commercial exhibits and carnival attractions on the midway lie what many young people might call the "real action" at the state fair: the junior livestock judging events.

Last summer's fairs are only a memory now to many of the 160,000 boys and girls in the national 4-H beef program. To others, the experience is to come in the next month or two. Regardless of time, 4-H'ers who take part in judging contests get a real-life workout in decision making and confidence building that perhaps can never be duplicated.

Producing quality beef

Learn-by-doing experiences like judging and showmanship events are only part of the 4-H beef program sponsored by Celanese Chemical Company, A Division of Celanese Corporation. In a variety of projects supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, 4-H members from 9 to 19 acquire breeding, feeding and management skills they can apply to caring for one or more beef animals.

4-H'ers also earn awards donated by Celanese through the National 4-H Service Committee. The company offers $800 college scholarships to six national winners in the program, and expense-paid trips to the 54th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago, to one winner from each state.

Up to four 4-H'ers per county are eligible for medals of honor. All winners are selected by the Extension Service on the basis of their records of accomplishment in 4-H beef projects.

Projects for fun and profit

A beginning beef project may involve raising one or more feeder calves to market weight, then selling them for a relatively quick return. More advanced 4-H cattlemen can undertake beef breeding and stocker-feeder projects. Whatever activity they choose, program members keep up to date on current trends in beef production and marketing.

More information on the national 4-H beef program is available from county extension agents.

Judging and showmanship contests test the decision making abilities of the 160,000 young people in the national 4-H beef program sponsored by Celanese Chemical Company. The program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, enrolls 4-H'ers 9-19 in a wide range of breeding, feeding and management "learning by doing" projects.

New Way of Life . .

The great and wonderful United States of America, which has been blessed with 200 years of almost unlimited growth and expansion, is inevitably and irreversibly plunging toward a time of destitution and want in many areas of natural supplies. For years, Mother Nature has provided us with all of the natural resources we desired. There appeared to be, and indeed for most of that time, there was, literally no limit to what we could have, from the earth, the sky, and the sea. The larder was always full, and all we had to do was simply to take what we wanted.

But within a very few years, when we turn to Mother Nature for further supplies, we will find the cupboard bare. There won't be any more of many things. The oil and gasoline shortage of last year was simply a ripple on the surface, a bare tip of the iceberg. We are running out of things, and within a shockingly short period of time, there will be no more to be had.

The enormous impact of this new, totally unprecedented situation upon the American economy and society has yet to be perceived by the American people. But it is high time to start thinking about it.

The Brookings Institution has projected that by the year 2000, a very short 25 years from now, we will be totally dependent on foreign sources for 12 of the 13 basic raw materials required by American industry to fill consumer demands; bauxite, chrome ore, copper, lead, manganese, nickel, sulfur, tin, tungsten, zinc, phosphorus, and potassium. All known reserves of iron will be gone in 72 years. Natural gas, used for heating millions of American homes, is rapidly disappearing. We are told that there are untapped reserves of natural gas in Alaska, but if we tap that supply with the idea that it will last forever, we will be foolish indeed. Asphalt and concrete paving now covers a land area almost equal to that of the entire New England states, covering soil once available for the raising of crops and cattle.

What all of this means is that the American people, both manufacturers and consumers, must begin thinking in terms of conservation of not only energy and fuel, but of a great many things that we have heretofore taken for granted.

This does not mean that we should become alarmists, or hysterical, or see the end of the world. It does and will mean, however, that there is a new way of life ahead for most Americans, and we had best get ready for it. — U.S. Press Association.

But we all must cease to languish
O'er the grave of him we love,
Strive to be prepared to meet him
In the better world above.
Deeply and sadly missed by his wife Marcelline, Daughters, Mary and Family, Kathryn and Family.

Mr. Shimer said a call was received Monday from Leo Friend, McHenry, owner of the cabin, that during a probe by the C and P telephone company of line trouble, it was discovered that the cabin had been destroyed by fire. The cabin was located adjacent to a state primitive camping area off Sang Run-Cranesville road.

The barn, about three miles from the destroyed cabin, also was damaged by fire which was checked by the Oakland fire department. The barn reportedly is owned by a Colonel Wensel, of Baltimore and is adjacent to the property of Asa Lewis, Cranesville road. Damage to the interior of the barn was minor, Mr. Shimer said.

Energy Conservation Program . . .

Saves 6 Million Barrels of Oil

HOUSTON, TX. — To paraphrase an old adage, a barrel of energy saved is a barrel of energy gained.

This year, to take a case in point, Exxon USA will save the energy equivalent of about 6 million barrels of oil. This is compared to company usage in 1972, basepoint year for its energy conservation program.

The program covers all phases of the company's operations—from refining and production, marketing and marine transportation to the lighting, heating and air conditioning of office buildings.

The largest portion of these energy savings will be realized at the company's five refineries, where the equivalent of about 120,000 barrels a day of fuel are consumed. It takes energy to process energy—about one barrel of fuel is used to refine 10 barrels of products. Each refinery has embarked on a major conservation program which is expected to reduce fuel consumption 15 percent from 1972 levels.

"This is expected to be achieved through operational improvements, increased maintenance and training, and capital investments involving new equipment," says Bob Taylor, who coordinates the refining department's conservation program. "We have already accomplished about two-thirds of our objective."

They are also approaching completion of a program designed to reduce by 15 percent the use of energy in producing oil and gas. Some of the steps already taken include: installing heat recovery units and sophisticated analyzers and controls on compressors and using high-temperature exhaust gases from turbines to drive pumps in a secondary recovery project. At the King Ranch Gas Plant in South Texas, energy is recovered from hot exhaust gases to heat water for boilers, saving two million cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Elsewhere, crews of the company's 17 tankers are extracting increased energy efficiency from the fuel their ships burn. The marine department set and met a goal of saving 140,000 barrels of fuel in 1974—about 5 percent of the total fuel consumed. Marine energy savings were achieved by reducing speeds of tankers and towboats, a reduction in nonessential power use aboard ships, and adjustments to the steam power systems. In a novel experiment, the company is testing navigational data relayed from an earth satellite and other sources that show where the Gulf Stream flows fastest and where ships may best take advantage of this flow for fuel savings. As far back as December 1972, Exxon USA expanded its program of returning ballast and tank washings to Gulf Coast refineries. This procedure recovers an additional 40,000 barrels of oil a year.

In its marketing operations, Exxon has rescheduled itineraries for sales personnel to achieve greater efficiency, lowered temperatures of certain products in storage, improved the insulation on storage tanks, and installed radial tires on its trucks. Service station dealers, in turn, has been advised of various steps they may wish to take to help save energy.

In Exxon USA's buildings, temperature levels have been adjusted to 68 degrees for heating and 75 degrees for cooling, and lighting levels have been reduced by removing every other light in corridors and every third light in the offices. In the company's Houston buildings alone, this step will reduce annual consumption of electricity by enough to supply 600 residences a year.

And to encourage car-pooling, a computerized matching system enables employees to locate other potential car-poolers in their neighborhoods.

Cancer Society Holds Luncheon

The annual kick-off luncheon for the Garrett County unit of the American Cancer Society was held Tuesday at noon in the foods service department at Southern High School.

Some 36 chairmen, staff and volunteers gathered for a baked chicken luncheon and for talks by various persons before the collection kits were distributed to the volunteers. April has been chosen as "Cancer month" with the campaign officially beginning today, April 1.

Local Cancer board president Clint Englander led the group in prayer before the meal. Jerry O'Neill, executive director for the western Maryland district, introduced special guests, Mrs. Pat Meadors, southern campaign chairman, and Mrs. Sally Schwing, northern Garrett crusade chairman.

Mrs. Victoria Hastings, Miss Hope of Washington county, a nurse at Western Maryland State Hospital and a graduate of Mercy Hospital School of Nursing in Baltimore, pointed out the importance of volunteers in the overall crusade results.

Mrs. Schwing read three testimonials from local people, two of whom are grateful to the Cancer Society for help in early detection of cancer, and the third for the monetary assistance the Cancer Society afforded his late wife, a victim of Cancer.

Others recognized for their efforts in the local campaign are Mrs. Ruth Durst and Mrs. Elaine Marple, public information chairmen; Mrs. Pauline Parrack, Oakland residential chairman, assisted by Mrs. Alana Winters; Mrs. Louise Messenger, special events chairman, and Mrs. Dottie Greenwood, Public Health Nurse, and Steve Hartley, program director.

Mrs. Greenwood presented a few statistics about the free Cancer pap smear and breast self-examination clinics held last summer and fall, noting that over 500 women had attended the clinics. This was the best response to such clinics in the state.

Five additional clinics for Pap tests and to teach breast self-examination are planned this spring. Clinics will begin Monday, April 19, in Kitzmiller, and are scheduled each Monday thereafter. Other clinics will be April 26 in Oakland; May 3 in Friendsville; May 10 in Bloomington and May 17 in Grantsville. All clinics are free of charge to any woman interested in such checkups.

All clinics are held in health department facilities in the various locations.

Mr. O'Neill also reviewed the results of an independent auditing firm which publishes an annual report for the Garrett County unit. The 1975 audit showed that 64.6 percent of the money raised comes from door to door crusading. Of the local money collected, 40 percent goes for national research and development; 12 percent to Maryland research and development; 10 percent to public education; five percent to professional education; 10 percent to patient service; four percent to community service; 11 percent for fund raising; and eight percent to management.

Mr. O'Neill also mentioned that Garrett and Allegany counties are recipients of a $2,500 grant to the Berkley anti-smoking project.

Locally, the county unit served seven patients during the last fiscal year (September 1974 to August 1975) provided 23 adult education programs, seven clinics for pap smears and breast self-examination and three youth programs.

The kick-off luncheon concluded with a film featuring Mrs. Betty Ford, who told of her experience with breast cancer and who urged all women to have regular checkups.

Nine Are Killed On State Roads

Nine persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed four were drivers, one was a passenger and four were pedestrians. At least four of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use. This could apply to the four deaths in which the occupants were ejected from the vehicles in which they were riding.

Making safety belts available does not guarantee their usage. It soon becomes distressingly clear that only a minority of clear-thinking citizens are taking full advantage of these life-saving devices said the officer. As a result, literally thousands of persons have died, and tens of thousands live with permanently painful and disabling mementos of past highway crashes.

Persons killed through March 28 totaled 107 compared to 151 for the same period a year ago.

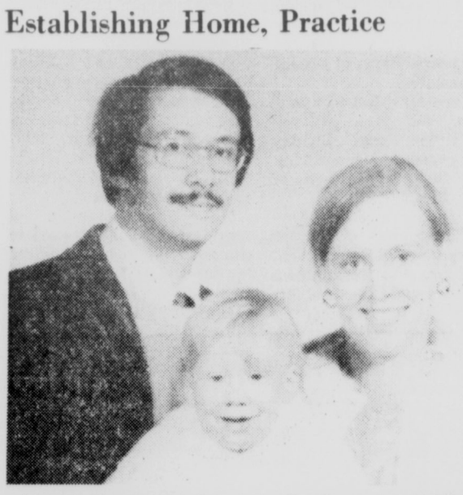
Pediatrician And Family Are Establishing Home, Practice



Garrett County now has a pediatrician added to its roster of doctors, with the addition of Dr. Mark Sugar, a native of Baltimore.

Dr. Sugar, his wife Susan (Raikes) Sugar and their 15-month-old son Ezra have moved into an apartment on Buena Vista Drive and he will officially begin his practice April 5. Dr. Sugar will locate an office in the Medical Center near Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Sugar is a graduate of the University of Maryland College of Medicine, graduating in 1969. He did residency work at Kaiser Hospital, Oakland, California, before enlisting for two years in the U. S. Air Force.

Following his discharge from the service, he worked two years at Children's Hospital, Oakland, California.

The Sugars first looked into this area last May, when they were searching for a place to practice which would not be too far from his home city, yet be located in a rural area. Dr. William Pope, county health officer, was instrumental in recruiting the new doctor.

In his spare time, Dr. Sugar plans to learn to ski. Mrs. Sugar is adept at hooked rug making and needlepoint.

Senate Adopts Amendment

The Senate has adopted an amendment offered by Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. (R-Md.) requiring that at least 75 per cent of United States Ambassadors to foreign countries be career Foreign Service officers.

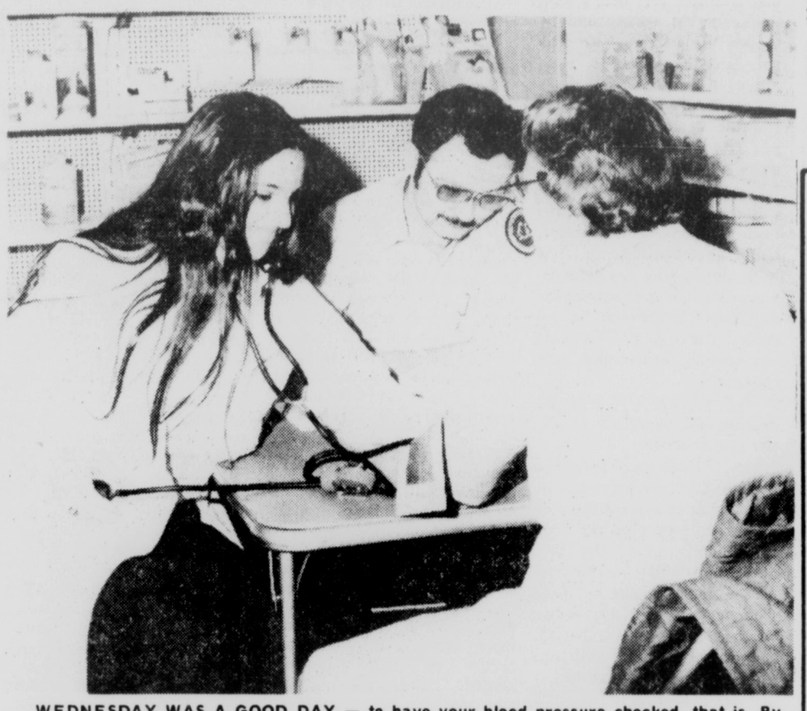
Mathias said that at the present time, 28 per cent of all U. S. Ambassadors are non-career persons, but at 22 posts in Europe, the split between career and non-career personnel is 50-50.

Mathias said his amendment helps to assure "that men and women selected to serve in our diplomatic posts as Ambassadors will be the best individuals available based on their professional competence and experience in foreign affairs."

The Maryland Senator said the amendment still allows the President to select up to 25 per cent of his Ambassador appointees from among distinguished Americans outside the career service.

But the amendment "greatly restricts the possibility of questionable criteria such as personal fortunes, political contributions, and personal contacts from running rampant in the diplomatic service," Mathias asserted.

The Senate adopted the Mathias amendment to the State Department authorization bill, which the Senate passed and returned to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.



WEDNESDAY WAS A GOOD DAY — to have your blood pressure checked, that is. By 4:30 p.m., over 250 persons had had free blood pressure readings taken by members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad in Oakland. Shown above are Barbara Friend and Chris Donley, EMTs, and Mrs. Ruth Mayfield, Swanton. Readings were taken in Gregg's Pharmacy free of charge. Ernie Gregg, owner, donated $200 to the squad for their services. On Friday evening between 6 and 8 p.m., EMTs, who are also members of the Southern Garrett Jaycees, will be taking free blood pressure readings at the First National Bank in Oakland. On Saturday, they will be available at the Garrett National Bank from 9 a.m. to noon.

Women Aided Cotton Industry Growth In U.S.

Women have made important contributions to America's cotton industry throughout its history.

One of the first attempts to establish textile manufacturing in the South, for example, was made by a woman. Mrs. Frances Ramage, a South Carolina widow, began operation in 1789 of a cotton mill that was powered by mules on James Island near Charleston.

And it was a Georgia widow who suggested to Eli Whitney in 1793 that he turn his inventive talents to designing a cotton gin. Mrs. Catherine Greene, whose husband Nathanael had been one of Washington's generals at Valley Forge, befriended Whitney when he came South looking for work.

The young inventor soon worked out a wire-toothed device to strip lint off cottonseed, but then ran into the problem of removing the lint from the wire teeth. Mrs. Greene is said to have picked up a brush, used it to remove the lint, and laughingly suggested this as a solution to the problem. The idea worked, and Mrs. Greene helped change the course of American history.

In the same year a woman in Rhode Island came up with another far-reaching idea. Hannah Wilkinson Slater, whose husband Samuel established the first successful cotton yarn mill in the United States, found she could make sewing thread by twisting fine cotton yarn on her spinning wheel. Hannah's ingenuity led to establishment of the first cotton thread mill in America and made a vital contribution to clothing manufacture in this country.

The National Cotton Council reports that women today are continuing to play active roles in the cotton industry, being involved all the way from the research level to the finished product.

Letter To The Editor

Farmers and Trappers: Beware

Senator McC. Mathias is trying to pass these bills, S1602-S1603 to outlaw the steel jaw trap. These bills are being submitted and we know nothing about them. One of these days they will pass this and we won't know about it till it's passed. So write to the Senators and tell them your feelings about it. This is the only way we can control taxes.

If they do away with the steel trap the foxes will have all the grouse and rabbits killed, then they will starve to death or get rabies.

Inside Business

"More Planning"– Calls for a Critical Look

By Ross Wilhelm

Since the passage of the Full Employment Act in 1946, the federal government has assumed responsibility for managing the nation's economy. In addition, the federal government regulates and controls a number of our basic industries, such as railroads, electric power, airlines and, indirectly, the housing industry. Further, the government has responsibilities for providing welfare and redistributing incomes. Yet, despite the enormous amounts of money spent, it is clear by most reasonable tests that the government has failed miserably in its efforts to manage the economy.

The most obvious failure of national economic planning has been in preventing recessions, unemployment and inflation. Over the period, since 1946, we have had a recession in each president's term of office, except when we were at war. The frequency of recession since World War II has not been significantly less than before when the government did not attempt to manage the economy. Yet, since World War II we also have had chronic inflation. We had occasional inflation during war periods prior to big government. However, the inflation in these earlier times always ended and prices returned to their prior levels. We have had almost continuous inflation since World War II, and there is little indication that we can end it in the foreseeable future.

Similarly, the industries where government regulates the firms or plays a major role in the industry have not fared well. The eastern railroads are a disaster area. The airlines are in a weak condition. The electric utilities are in serious difficulties, and we still have an energy crisis. The housing industry which depends on government for financing and assurance is in the worst crisis in its history.

Likewise, the welfare mess and the total failure of most of our efforts to end poverty do not indicate that the government can effectively plan or manage the economy or major parts of it.

Yet, despite the poor record, politicians in Washington are calling for the creation of a super government economic planning agency and more government control over business. The new agency would be called the Economic Planning Board. The Board's function would be to provide comprehensive economic plans for all sectors of the economy for long periods into the future. The plans would be based upon economic forecasts and national priorities.

There are, however, many economists and others who are skeptical of the ability of government to solve our economic problems. Part of the skepticism comes from the recognition that our long-range economic forecasts in the past have been poor. Others are skeptical because of our poor planning record to date. Still others believe that in a large number of cases, government is the cause of our economic problems—not the cure.

Before we add another government agency and give the government more control over the economy, we should first examine the proposal and our past experiences very carefully.

Terrorism . . .
A Declared War

The recent column we entitled "The War Has Begun" was greeted in some quarters with skepticism. It is now officially declared. The Communist Dictator, Fidel Castro, and the illegal dictator of Panama, Omar Torrijos, joined each other in Havana during the second week in January, 1976 and proclaimed "The war of liberation of Panama, Puerto Rico and Guantanamo has begun." Their declaration was broadcast over Radio Havana, and was repeated several times during the broadcast.

As we have previously reported, this "war" was planned at two meetings in Havana sponsored by Fidel Castro and attended by representatives of terrorist organizations from all over the world. Castro called the meetings "The International Congress for Puerto Rican Liberation" and they were held in March and September of 1975. In addition to terrorist organizations such as the PLA (Palestinian Liberation Organization), the Soviet Union and other Communist governments sent official delegations. These delegations promised liberal financial support to the terrorists who would be carrying out the plans and directives of this offensive against the free world, in particular, the United States.

One direct result of those meetings is the present participation of Cuban troops, supported, transported and commanded by the Soviet Union in Angola. This strongly suggests that there is now international connection, if not control of terrorist activity wherever it occurs in the world.

Terrorist Activity Increasing in 76

Since January 1, 1976, the pace of bombings, shootings, kidnaping and bomb threats has been stepped up noticeably. During 1975, according to FBI reports, the rate of such terrorist activity doubled from the year before.

The simultaneous bombings in October, 1975 which occurred in New York, Chicago and Washington was the work of the FALN, a Puerto Rican terrorist organization closely associated with the Weather Underground. There is strong evidence pointing to a direct connection between the Symbionese Liberation terrorists and Fidel Castro's leadership in international terrorism.

Clarence M. Kelly, Head of the FBI, in a speech before the Press Club at Washington, D. C. on January 13, 1976 said:

". . . There were 89 bombings attributable to terrorist activity in our nation last year, as compared to 45 in 1974 and 24 in 1973. During the past five years there have been 255 such bombings, 122 fire bombings, 45 sniping incidents, 120 shootings, 24 ambushes and 21 arsons. Eleven persons were killed in terrorist acts of violence in 1975. And 72 people were injured. Property damage amounted to more than $2.7 million . . . Since 1971, the deaths of at least 43 (Police) officers and the wounding of 152 more have been linked to terrorists."

". . . I'm not saying that our nation is in imminent danger of being devastated by terrorists. But I do consider terrorism a very real and growing problem."

One Needed Weapon Against Terrorism

Since terrorism is considered the ultimate evil by Director Kelley, and we agree . . . we urgently suggest that capital punishment for terrorist crimes should be made a part of the law by every State Legislature.

No Injuries As Car Hits Bus

A car struck a school bus along U.S. 40 Tuesday morning but no injuries were reported.

A school bus operated by James A. Carney, Star Route, Frostburg, had stopped at a private road about a quarter mile west of Green Lantern road about 8:30 a.m. Signals on the bus were flashing as a passenger had just been taken aboard. A car was stopped just back of the bus. Coleman P. Brown, 2nd, LaVale, following these two vehicles stated he was traveling about 30 m.p.h. and due to extremely heavy fog could not see the bus flashing in time to get stopped. After applying his brakes the car skidded out of control and struck the left side of the school bus.

Tfc. Dale K. Williams investigated.

Bussing Rules Being Tightened

Bussing rules for students have been tightened considerably, it was announced this week by Dr. William Buser, county superintendent of schools, as the result of new regulations of Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, state Superintendent of schools.

Dr. Sensenbaugh issued some new guidelines to eliminate some of the costs to the state in the school bus transportation program.

The County Board of Education recently reviewed at some length the new state department of education guidelines, for the next budget year.

Dr. Buser indicated that about five million dollars in state transportation funds had been cut from the State Department of Education request.

Changes that will have direct effect on Garrett county school bussing system include these: all students, grades 7 through 12 within ½ miles of the school will be required to walk; no hazardous walking conditions for new or renovated schools will be recognized; the state will pay for a maxiumum of 180 school days rather then the current 184 days.

Eugene Flinn, supervisor of transportation, indicated the state had reviewed all requests this year for funding hazardous walking conditions. He said he felt some of these might not be funded by the state, which could mean that they would need to be funded at local expense.

Girl Scouts See Ice Follies, Learn About Local People, Places

Members of Mt. Lake Park Girl Scout Troops 116 and 522 traveled to the Pittsburgh Civic Arena March 20 to see the Bicentennial Ice Follies.

Some 60 Scouts and adult advisors were present to see the costumed skaters and the Muppett characters.

On Tuesday, March 23, Girl Scout Troop 116 was entertained at its regular meeting by Dr. Lawrence Sherwood, pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist Church, who spoke on the history of the county.

Rev. Sherwood talked of special people and places in the past, and identified them with places which the girls can see and learn about in the present. The song and blessing, "Johnny Appleseed," was sung and refreshments were then served.

The troop now has planned a small trip around the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park area to visit the sites Rev. Sherwood pointed out.

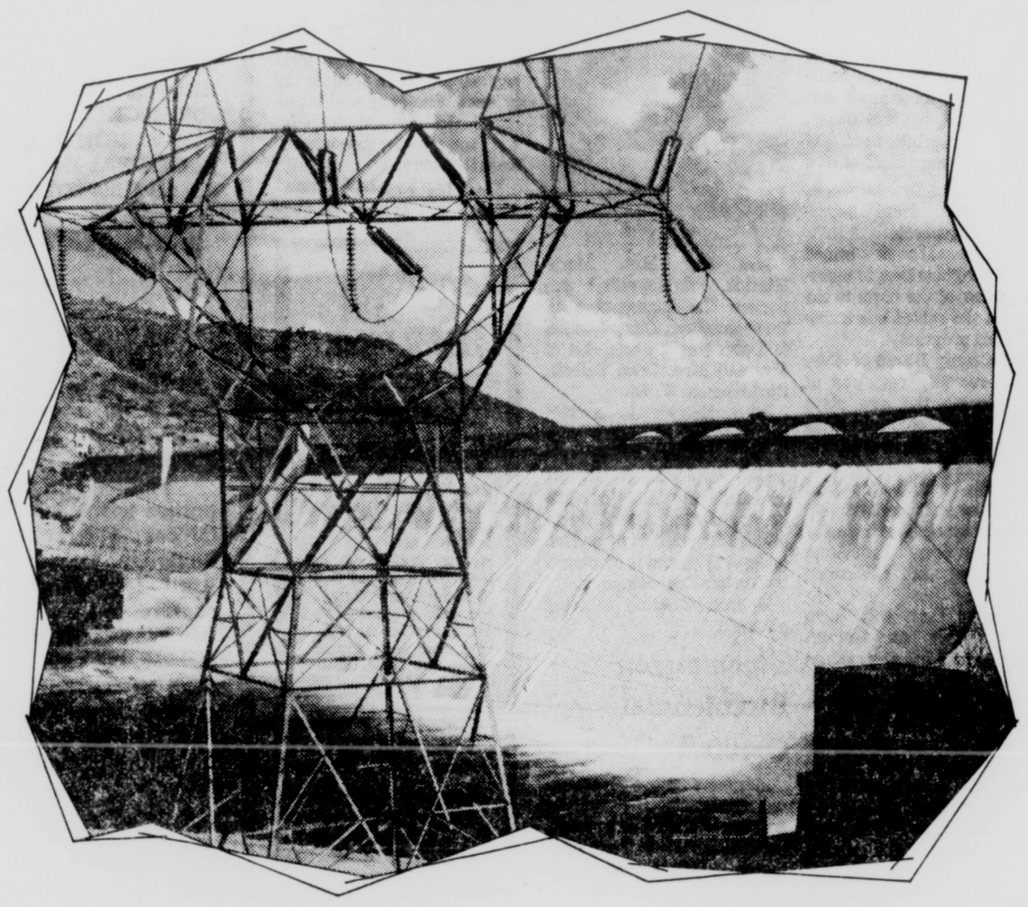
AMBITION and ENERGY



Ambition is strong in some people. They have the unique ability to define their goals in life and they are able to channel their skills and energy in order to realize these ambitions.

Of course, each of us has our own individual goals — all different in proportion and nature. And, each requires a different amount of energy to be realized. If we fail, we should exert more energy! For this ability to keep trying — in the face of great odds . . . can lead eventually to success.

To one degree or another then, all of us are constantly using up our individual energy supplies. To tackle the fresh challenges and problems of each tomorrow, we need a dependable source of unfailing power. Such continuous power is always available to you within the supporting bonds of the Church.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE MOST FOR THE LEAST

Lesson for April 4, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 25
Devotional Reading: Matthew 25:19-30

There isn't anyone who hasn't seen Jesus at some time.

Of course, that doesn't mean we recognized him. More than likely we didn't. Nevertheless, you have seen him and so have I.

Recently I saw him in a prison cell. He appeared in the guise of a young man who has been in and out of trouble for most of his twenty years. In his haunted eyes I saw a life that is still redeemable—providing he gets some help, providing some one takes an interest in him and shows him that all is not lost.

Rev. Althouse

When did we see you?

I saw him also in a convalescent home. He appeared as a frail woman of seventy-five who for the past few years has passed each solitary day in the confines of her tiny room. Her eyes are too weak to watch television; her hearing too poor to listen to the radio; her family is "too busy" to visit her. Jesus looked at me through her eyes and it was enough—he didn't need to say anything to me, my own conscience spoke loudly enough.

But there's nothing unique about my experience: everyone can see Jesus... if they look closely enough. Some of us have the opportunity to see him every day, perhaps often each day. He meets us in many different disguises, but he is ever walking, standing, and sitting along the paths we take each day.

You, for example.

When did you last see him?

Was it last night as you watched the evening news? Was it his face that looked at you through hunger-glazed eyes as the commentator spoke in matter-of-fact tones about hundreds of thousands dying of starvation in Africa? Perhaps like many you averted those eyes and complained about showing "such things" at mealtimes.

Then again, it may have been Jesus who came knocking at your door the other day and asking for used clothing and furniture for the family whose home was destroyed by fire. Perhaps it was Jesus whose disguised face appeared on the little brochure asking for support of community agencies and services.

As you did it

No matter where we go and what we do, Jesus is waiting for us in the lives of people who are hungry, thirsty, naked, sick, strangers, and in prison. And it is how we respond to him in these circumstances that matters in the long run. Not, what church do we go to, not how perfect or unperfect is our attendence, not the doctrines we affirm, or the church offices we hold, nor the respectability ascribed to us by others. However important these things may be—and they are—they are only peripheral to the basic question of how we respond to our fellowmen in need, no matter how unlovely they may appear, and give our most for those whom Jesus called "the least of these my brethren."

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. I have been married 14 years and not at all happily, although I do have three wonderful, healthy daughters, for whom I thank the Good Lord.

My husband, aged 49, treats me shabbily. Sometimes he strikes me with his fists. I think the real trouble is that he needs rest and relaxation. He doesn't take a vacation. He'd rather have double pay, though we don't need it because he makes good money. He owns his home. We have never been in debt.

I wonder what should be done tactfully about him. Can you give me any suggestions?

A. Try standing up to him. Tact doesn't always work with a bully. Tell him in no uncertain terms that you are finished with being a punching bag. By all means don't nag or whimper or be too soft and forgiving, unless he sincerely wants forgiveness.

Your husband may be one of those men who punishes himself with overwork in an effort to compensate for some inner conflict. Consult a pastor, psychiatrist or psychologist about methods for getting at his — and your problem. You obviously have a problem because you have let him get away with his outbursts for too long. We note with interest that you refer to your home as his not "ours." Maybe you should change your thinking about that.

Q. When one is fully occupied with the care of children and the home, it is wrong to refuse to take on the care of an aged, semi-invalid parent My father is well cared for in a home for the retired but he keeps urging me to take him into my home. I feel that it would be unpleasant for my husband and children and that he would need more care than I can give him.

A. It is only natural for a son or daughter to have guilt feelings about not caring for an aged, infirm parent. But the chances are that such a parent is receiving better and more constant attention in a good retirement community or well-run nursing home than could be provided in a family situation.

If your father is well looked after and if you and your family are able to see him frequently, you are no doubt doing what is best for him. His desire to come into your home may seem inconsiderate but it is understandable and can be overlooked in view of his age. Naturally his world has shrunk and he has more time to think about himself, and so despite himself he has become a bit selfish.

If you let him know you still love him you can help him overcome his feeling of abandonment.

Q. I am in my last semester at school and soon must start looking for a job. My problem is that I lack self-confidence and have a hard time "selling" myself to others. I would be grateful for your advice as to how to overcome my stage fright at the mere thought of applying for work. Obviously no one will have confidence in my ability if I am unable to talk to them convincingly. Can you help me?

A. Why not start by changing your attitude toward yourself. Stop telling everyone — especially yourself — that you are scared and shy. Instead, form the habit of affirming that you are outgoing and courageous. If you lack confidence in yourself, no one else is going to have confidence in you.

People who say that "thinking does not make it so" are wrong. The mind tends to accept as fact what you think, if you make yourself mean it and keep emphasizing it. When self doubts arise, try to cancel them out with affirmative thoughts. Tell yourself you can talk to strangers. Tell yourself you are qualified for the job you seek. And—tell yourself to stop doubting your abilities. Try putting a smile in your voice and speak firmly, rapidly and with enthusiasm and you'll make a better impression on every-one — including yourself.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

Bradford
The Governor
Part I

In 1856, the Massachusetts Historical Society issued the first edition of Of Plimoth Plantation, by William Bradford. It is now the great treasure of the library in the State House at Boston. For this author, Bradford was the governor of the first New England colony, and also its inspiration.

William Bradford was a small town boy from Yorkshire, England, who joined the Separatists when he was only 12. (The Separatists are termed the "left wing of Puritanism" by the Encyclopedia Britannica writer.) He grew up with the idea of local and personal responsibility for one's actions, with the help of God as a higher authority, of course, but nevertheless implying that individual effort was important. And sure enough, the people who settled in his colony adopted many policies of self-government which are today a part of our American thinking: use of franchise, the town meeting, annual elections of a chief executive by the people. Bradford helped to put Plymouth on a sound economic footing, and even evolved a means for assimievolved a means for assimilating non-believers into this group, no small feat in the days of such bigotry.

With the first group to leave England for Holland went Bradford. He married one of the English girls while there, and was a weaver and small businessman in Leyden. He was extraordinary in that he taught himself Latin, Greek and Hebrew, with a 400 volume library set up in Plymouth later. His balanced sentences and use of antithesis indicate a familiarity with the style of the Geneva Bible. One biographer indicates that he almost never crosses out words, but finished them in firm strokes almost like engravings, showing us his firmness of character. His work is termed the best history produced in seventeenth century America.

His narration begins with the search of the "Mayflower" occupants for a suitable place to land. They needed a good site for land cultivation and for a defense post, as they did not know what dangers might come from Indians. Bradford was selected to travel with the group which sailed out in a small boat to find a landing place. His great grief must have given the new land a forbidding tone, for upon returning from the successful search, he found that his wife Dorothy had mysteriously drowned. Yet he did not write of any remorse or of her death.

The Pilgrim fathers are always depicted as wise with age and gravity. It was not so. Bradford was 30, Standish 36, Winslow 26, and Allerton 34. Soon the rigors of winter and disease had made widowers of these leaders, and two others, Cooke and Fuller, had left their wives in Holland. Priscilla Mullins was left alone by death, and John Alden was a bachelor of 21, so perhaps the story of their courtship was not illogical; with so few women, both Alden and Standish probably wished themselves to be in Priscilla's hands.

John Carver was the first governor of Plymouth, but he became ill while farming and never recovered. Bradford was chosen to succeed him, but as he also was ill, Isaac Allerton was made his assistant.

What we should understand is that these men, of whom Brewster was the only one over 50, were without experience in statecraft or education in government. Bradford Smith points out that "in the old world they would never have discovered what talents for governing they possessed. But the New World gave them that chance. And despite the fumblings, the setbacks and errors, they carried on an experiment in self-government which changed the course of world history."

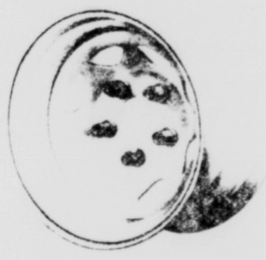
CRAGAR TRAIL MASTER
55000 Series (Vari-Slot)



Neither spoke nor slot, the Trail Master is a fresh new design of all steel construction. It shines with a high gloss, white painted surface and blue stripe. Vari-Slot enables fit to all popular bolt circles. Packaged with Vari-Lug Nuts (Pat. Pend.), which fit most cars.

CRAGAR ROAD STAR
57000 Series (Vari-Slot)

Four Wheel Drive Vehicle Tires

TRACKER A-T

A rugged tire for Four Wheel Drive vehicles. On the highway, it rides smooth, grips down tight on wet pavements. Off the road, the angled tread bars brace against the terrain for firm hard-pulling traction. The rugged cord body is made with four plies of Goodyear's Triple-Tempered (3-T) polyester cord. And the long-wearing tread contains Tufsyn, the toughest rubber Goodyear has ever put in its heavy duty tires. Available in standard raised white letters or black sidewall.

WRANGLER R/T

A tire of beautifully balanced design for on and off the road use. With center riding rib for a smooth highway ride, hefty shoulder lugs for deep-biting traction in sand, mud, or snow. And for stability on the road, plus extra protection on rocky terrain, the Wrangler R/T is made with rugged fiberglass cord belts in Load Ranges B and C. Add a strong polyester cord body and long-wearing tread compounds, and the Wrangler R/T is high on the list of preferred tires for Four Wheel Drive vehicles.

WRANGLER XT

The Wrangler XT offers the ultimate in off-the-road traction. Compared to conventional tires, it has a wider cross section, a larger air volume, a more flexible body, and a lower inflation pressure. The result is a high flotation effect — for unmatched go-anywhere performance. The Wrangler XT easily traverses the mud, snow, or soft sand that would bog down ordinary tires. And it literally envelops many rocks, stumps, and other obstacles.

Save Your Money — Diet Sensibly

Government experts estimate that as a nation, Americans spend $16,000 a minute for diets and weight loss gimmicks. $16,000 a minute! The figure is mind-boggling.

The reason weight loss is such big business is that millions of people are willing to pay a premium price to try to lose weight without reducing food intake. But nutritionists agree that the only safe way to lose weight and keep it off is by reducing calories in a balanced diet over a long period of time. It took time to put on that weight, so you can't expect to lose it overnight.

If you're one of those who looks for gimmicks to lose weight, why not do yourself and your pocketbook a favor. Eat a balanced diet with smaller portions than usual. Substitute fresh lemon juice for high-calorie sauces and butters over vegetables and baked potatoes. Yes, even baked potatoes are low in calories without all the high-calorie additions, and fresh lemon juice is a flavorful substitute. Sprinkle fresh grated peel on your tossed green salads and squeeze two or three lemon wedges on the salad in place of dressing. The flavor is so great you won't even miss those high-calorie dressings at 75 to 85 calories per tablespoon. Use fresh lemon peel and juice to flavor fish and chicken, too, without the unnecessary high calories of sauces and breadings.

Lemons aren't the only calorie-saving seasoning you should use on a weight-loss program, but they're certainly a lifesaver for making a diet bearable.

Now is a good time to go on a diet. The lovely new fashions and the beautiful spring colors should make us want to be trim and neat.

Letter To The Editor

It appears as though the Blue Laws will prevail and those persons, whether for religious or other reasons shall continue to impose their will on those who do not favor laws which restrict their purchasing merchandise to certain days of the week.

We supposedly live in a country in which laws are enacted for the benefit and welfare of society. Laws are apparently also enacted to allow religious groups to inflict their particular beliefs on the remainder of the population. Laws that appear to me to violate and be in direct conflict with the Constitution of The United States. The right of freedom of worship must include all faiths, many of which do not observe Sunday as a Holy Day, and also the rights of those observing no faith must be maintained.

It is my contention that we all are endowed with a free will which enables us to act within the confines of what we consider correct and proper. Those persons who feel it morally improper to make purchases on Sunday will not be coerced to make these purchases on Sunday. To abolish the Blue Laws would have no effect on the moral fiber of this community or that of the State.

Therefore I urge all concerned persons who wish to separate the affairs of Church and State, thus allowing all to practice their own beliefs and not have the beliefs of others imposed upon them, to contact their elected representatives and urge them to support abolition of the Maryland Blue Laws.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ethel Marie Bowman, who passed away three years ago, March 28, 1973.

Loving memories never die, as years roll on and days pass by:
In our hearts a memory is kept, of one we loved and will never forget.

—Adv. 5-1t.

Ample Jar Lids Are Expected

That supplies of canning lids and other equipment for home canning would be adequate this summer, was indicated by U. S. Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. He said the Federal Trade commission which had been monitoring the home canning situation, pointed to sufficient lids to satisfy all needs. Production capacity is 4.1 billion lids. It was estimated the demand for lids this year would approach 3.1 billion.

Child Care Issue

Few issues in recent years have generated so much mail to law-makers in Washington as a current federal child care proposal. The proposal is carried in identical bills now pending before both the House (H.R. 2966) and Senate (S.626) and called the Child and Family Services Act of 1975.

Proponents of the legislation, which is similar to a bill vetoed by then President Nixon in 1971, say it is needed to help meet such problems as: a U.S. infant mortality rate higher than that in 13 other countries; the lack of preventive health care for children illustrated by the 40 percent of youngsters in the U.S. who aren't fully immunized against childhood diseases; lack of special services for handicapped preschool children, 65 percent of whom aren't receiving such help; and the shortage of day-care centers to serve children of working mothers.

Opponents, however, charge that, in attempting to take over such roles, Uncle Sam threatens to drive a wedge between traditional parent and child relationships.

"The Federal Child Care advocates seem to have forgotten what our country is really all about," says Rep. Steve Symms (R-Idaho) in a recent press release. "There is an inner strength in our society which transcends adversity and serves to hold our nation together. It is the foundation upon which all free societies must finally rest. This strength is the family.

". . . There are, unfortunately, a number of people in our federal government who would like nothing better than to tell us how to raise our children and run our lives . . . We must never let these people or this philosophy gain the upper hand."

Muddying the child care issue, unfortunately, has been a scurrilous propaganda campaign by some opponents of the proposal, based on phony charges of what the bill would do. More responsible opponents, however, including Symms, are quick to point out the bill would not allow the federal government to intervene in parent-child relationships, without the consent of the parents.

Although the problems posed by the bill's sponsors are real enough, we share Symms' worry over Washington trying to preempt the roles of parents and private organizations in solving them. Sad experience in recent years has taught us that America's social problems will not run away simply by throwing more taxpayer dollars at them.

THE ALMAGEST

The greatest astronomical text of antiguity contains all the mathematical astronomy known at the time it was written. Authored by Ptolemy in the 2nd century A.D., the book includes everything needed to duplicate the mathematics it contains. It is a model of clarity and completeness; however, many of the methods and terms are unfamiliar to modern astronomers. Both Copernicus and Kepler based their writing on material contained in The Almagest. Today, The Almagest is a source of ancient observations ranging from 721 B. C. to the 2nd century.

Thursday at 2:02 P. M. the moon passes through its First Quarter Phase. It is one-fourth of a turn to the east of the sun. Moonset varies from 8:46 tonight to 1:04 next Wednesday morning.

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are the planets visible to the unaided eye. Venus rises about an hour before the sun. Mars, among the stars of Gemini, sets shortly after the sun sets. Saturn, in Gemini, sets shortly after Mars sets.

Wednesday there will be sixteen more minutes of daylight than there was today. Sunrise was at 6:02 this morning. Sunset follows twelve hours thirty-nine minutes later at 6:41 P.M. Wednesday the sun rises ten minutes earlier and sets six minutes later than it does today.

The Supreme Court, again, narrowed rights of the private citizen by denying the right to sue public officials.

Bids Opened On Rescue Equipment

The last of a series of bids on behalf of the Northern and Southern Garrett County Rescue squads to obtain needed equipment were opened during the regular Monday meeting of the County Commissioners, George Edwards, chairman; Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton.

The bid opening was for rescue equipment to supply the rescue vehicles for both squads. Eight manufacturers submitted bids. The rescue squads will be evaluating the bids prior to awarding of contracts by the Commissioners.

Wednesday there was a hearing at Garrett Community college conducted by the Steering committee for the newly formed Health Services Area encompassing the four western Maryland counties. Edwards explained the new Health Service area was formed to comply with federal legislation requiring health planning districts throughout the U.S. Purpose of the Wednesday hearing was to discuss the newly drafted by-laws. Col. Haig Jackson, Dr. William Pope and Commissioner Hamilton are the county representatives to the 12 member steering committee.

Commissioner Edwards said the three commissioners would meet on Tuesdays for the next month and a half to discuss agency budget requests and that these meetings as are all commissioner meetings, open to the public.

They have scheduled three meetings next Tuesday: Planning, 1:30; Economic Development, at 2; and Social Services, at 2:30.

4-H Launches Gardening Program

SPECIAL—Young people who like to grow and work with plants can look forward to the support and encouragement of Ortho Division, Chevron Chemical Company.

With the recent signing of a memorandum of understanding, Ortho assumed sponsorship of a national 4-H gardening program to be launched in 1976.

The announcement came from Omer G. Voss, president of the National 4-H Service Committee, a nonprofit citizens' group that channels private sector support for 4-H into the Cooperative Extension Service conducted 4-H youth program.

The new program will be a broad approach to gardening, with emphasis on exploration of careers in agriculture and horticulture. 4-H members, whether city, suburban, or rural, will learn practical and scientific approaches to growing ornamentals, flowers, vegetables and fruits, both indoors and out.

David B. Barlow, vice president of Chevron Chemical and general manager of Ortho, described the program as "action-oriented, giving 4-H'ers 9 to 19 the opportunity to work as individuals or in groups. Young persons will experience the excitement of growing things," he said, "and at the same time contribute to the family food supply and to home beautification."

New national 4-H gardening awards program is launched with signing of memorandum of understanding by David B. Barlow, vice president of Chevron Chemical Company and general manager, Ortho Division. Norman C. Mindrum, director of the National 4-H Service Committee, looks on. New program, to be supported by Ortho, will be a broad approach to gardening and will offer incentives to 4-H members through awards ranging from medals of honor to $1,000 college scholarships.

Program members will be eligible for awards donated by Ortho for excellence in 4-H gardening projects and activities. Eight top 4-H'ers can earn national college scholarships of $1,000. Sectional winners will receive expense-paid trips to the annual National 4-H Congress, and 50 state winners will be awarded U.S. Savings Bonds. In addition, Ortho will provide medals of honor to an estimated 7,000 young people, a maximum of four per county.

Ortho has supported 4-H for 19 years through scholarship awards in food production. More recently, the Chevron companies have supported 4-H Community Pride activities, a local improvement grant program.

Founded in 1907, Chevron Chemical Company manufactures under the ORTHO trademark insecticides, fungicides, weed killers and fertilizers for home garden beautification and for increasing farm crop production.

Bids on the first contract to be let this year on the Bloomington Dam project will be opened April 15 in Baltimore by the Corps of Army Engineers.

This contract will be for the grouting of the West Virginia abutment of the dam, according to Robert W. Craig area engineer.

The grouting of the Maryland abutment was started last year by the B. H. Mott and Sons, Inc., Huntington, W. Va., and is scheduled for completion this year.

The only other contract to be let this year will be for the construction of the base of the dam and that is to be let in December.

Progress of the dam was delayed one year until 1981 when the President's budget called for only $11,800,000 for the fiscal year starting in July. this is half the amount requested for fiscal 1977 by the Army engineers in order to complete the dam on schedule, Mr. Craig said.

The dam will be built across the valley of the North Branch of the Potomac River connecting Backbone mountain in this county and Green Mountain in Mineral county.

The grouting work on the Maryland side is being done on an almost perpendicular 296-foot high cliff. Grouting on the West Virginia side is not expected to be as difficult. Grouting is the forcing by pressure of concrete material into the fissures of the rock strata onto which the dam will be built.

Army Engineers have thus far spent $35,881,521 on completed work and the total dollar value of work under way is $9,298,262. First phase of construction was relocation of nearly 12 miles of Western Maryland railway. This work, started in 1971, is scheduled for completion in May. The outlet tunnel, 16.3 feet in diameter, which was cut through solid rock on the West Virginia side for 1,619 feet, was started in early 1973 along with the intake portal.

Two Dollar Bills Available

The two dollar bill, which has not been printed since May of 1965 and was officially discontinued in 1966, will be back on the U.S. monetary scene on April 13, and The First National Bank of Oakland will have a supply available for distribution on that date, it was announced by Courtney Tusing, president.

The April 13 release date was chosen by the Federal Reserve because it is Thomas Jefferson's birth date. Many will remember that Jefferson's picture appeared on the face of the last issue of the two dollar denomination.

The front of the new two dollar bills will appear much the same as those printed in 1965 with Jefferson's picture also to be shown. However, the back of the new bill will show a depiction of the signing of the Declaration of Independence by John Trumbull.

A free brochure, published by the Federal Reserve Bank, is available. The brochure is entitled, "BACK IN THE MONEY." It provides information on the two dollar bill which dates back to June 25, 1776.

Your State Delegate Reports

By DeCorsey E. Boiden

The workload in Annapolis is increasing with committee hearings extended into the evening and on Saturdays and the House holding double sessions. Legislation is now moving from the House to Senate and vice-versa, as sponsors try to have their bills enacted before adjournment which is in less than two weeks.

A cloud is beginning to form over the passage hopes of many House bills being sent to the Senate due to the increasing threat of a filibuster on the mass transit issue.

After a marathon session the House gave preliminary approval to the $3.5 billion budget and the $120 million earmarked for the 8 mile Baltimore subway. I voted for all attempts to delete the subway funds but after countless efforts and amendments, the small counties were no match for the Baltimore City and Washington area delegations, combined support for the rapid transit plan. After all efforts failed, the budget bill was ordered printed for 3rd reading and the House adjourned at 2:30 a.m.

The final vote on the budget, normally a formality, was held last Thursday. Forty four Delegates cast negative votes — the most ever received on a budget bill.

On the Senate side Administration backers figure they have over the 22 votes necessary for a simple majority, but it is short of the 32 votes needed to invoke cloture against filibuster threatened by some opponents. The effectiveness of such a filibuster in this case is questionable because the subway item is part of the $3.5 billion state budget. The filibuster then would be against the entire state spending program for fiscal year 1977. This gives proponents of the $741 million federal supported project a tactical advantage they would not have if rapid transit were a separate piece of legislation. The Senate has until April 2 to act on the Budget.

Reform Measures

Several reform measures are progressing in this session including tighter requirements on lobbying and open government meetings. Under legislation approved by the Senate Committee on Constitutional and Public Laws, lobbyists will have to keep closer tabs on their spending. The bill requires six-month reports to include spending on members of the Executive Department as well as legislators. The measure also calls for a list of those on whom a lobbyist spent $100 or more for food, drink or entertainment.

The House Committee on Constitutional and Administrative Law approved a Senate-passed measure that would require meetings of Governmental Bodies to be open to the public.

Automobile Insurance

A House bill that would bail out the financially troubled state fund for high risk drivers has been released to the Floor by the House Committee after amending out the provisions the Industry found most objectionable. The bill would allow higher broker commissions, allow the Maryland Automobile Insurance Fund to reject extremely high-risk drivers and require additional contributions from private insurance companies. The private insurance companies, dissatisfied with the increased contributions they must make to the fund, sponsored bills of their own to eliminate the fund and replace it with a fund that the private companies control — only to see that bill defeated.

I would appreciate your views and opinions of legislation which may be of interest to you. Please feel free to call me at 301-267-5364 or write to me at Room 430, House of Delegates Building, Annapolis, Md. 21404.

Maryland 4-H Farm Youth Wins Agricultural Scholarship Award

MARYLAND farm youth, Earle Canter, accepts $1,000 scholarship certificate from J. Patrick Kaine, president, Agricultural Equipment Division, International Harvester Company at 54th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Earle, 18, of Mitchellville, was one of six national winners in the 4-H Agricultural Awards Program sponsored by International Harvester.

A Maryland farm youth, who says farmers take much abuse for consumer prices even though many only make middle income wages, has been named one of six national winners in the 4-H agricultural program.

Earle Canter, 18, of 2905 Mill Branch Pl., Mitchellville, received a $1,000 scholarship from International Harvester Company, sponsor of the program.

He and the other winners were presented with their awards at the 54th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 30-Dec. 4. They were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, which supervises 4-H work.

Canter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Canter, is a freshman at the University of Maryland and plans a career in agriculture. He is an eight-year 4-H'er.

The Prince Georges County youth says that young farmers, like himself, must take the responsibility to present to the public the farmer's side of the story.

Canter notes that farmers work long hard hours. "There are no eight-hour farm days, most average 12 hours or more, six or seven days a week," he explains.

The youth has found most persons in the agricultural field are "a little more relaxed" than those in other careers. And he feels this indicates "they like what they are doing and most do not have to answer to anyone but themselves."

In eight years, Canter has grown 26 acres of tobacco, 22,500-square-feet of Irish potatoes and helped raise 40 acres of wheat and 50 acres of corn. The youth also has raised poultry, learned conservation practices and taken soil samples.

"One year I lost a lot of my tobacco to bad weather and that got me interested in some of the newer and better farm practices so that next time I might to able to save a little more of the crop and increase my profits," the winner said.

In his farming operations the youth provides the labor and his grandfather provides the land, fertilizer, lime, pesticides and equipment. The two split profits from the crops.

His other 4-H projects have included bicycle, automotive, junior leadership, photography and public speaking.

Red Agents In Congress?

Radio newscaster Philip C. Clarke of "Washington Report of the Air" was intrigued by what he heard about a German television documentary broadcast over Radio Stuttgart. In the documentary, produced by one Gerhard Konzelman, it was reported that over 10,000 Soviet spies now operate in West Germany. It was said that through the systematic use of blackmail, money, and threats, thousands of additional agents are being recruited by the KGB. It was reported that under the cover of detente, the USSR has built up "the largest and most effective espionage network in all of Europe."

"What about the United States?" wondered Clarke. To find the answer to that question, he summoned — and interviewed over the air — Mr. Frank J. McNamara, former Executive Secretary of the Subversive Activities Control Board and former staff director of the House Committee on Internal Security, (both of which, by the way, have been abolished by Congress).

In the interview with Clarke, McNamara declared, among other things:

— that the Communist apparatus has for years been making efforts to infiltrate Capitol Hill;

— that the FBI has, in fact, confirmed that there has been increased KGB efforts in that direction;

— that a Senate Committee has confirmed that Communists had successfully "colonized" key committees of the U.S. Congress; — that secret members of the Communist organization have conspired to write laws, conduct congressional hearings and write congressional reports.

— that undercover Communist agents on congressional staffs have given valuable publicity to friendly witnesses, smeared unfriendly witnesses, slanted research material and provided propaganda material for or against legislation depending upon whether it helped or harmed the Communist party..

He also made the shocking statement that there is NO security check or investigation of any of the personnel employed by and working for the U.S. Senate or House, in fact, no personnel security program of any kind which would prevent a Soviet spy from going to work on a congressional staff.

If Senator Frank Church of Idaho and Congressman Otis Pike of New York are genuinely concerned about the safety and security of the American people (which was the excuse they gave for investigating the FBI and the CIA), why don't they launch an investigation into the activities of Soviet spies who, it has been charged, are operating right in their own legislative halls? — U. S. Press Association.

"Throw Them Out!"

And with that he promptly fired all 70 members of Utica's Public Works Department, who simultaneously are members of Teamsters Union Local 182.

"Because of the monsters they've gotten to be — the Unions per se," said Mayor Hanna, "we want them out of our lives. They are ruining the lives of taxpayers, our economy, and the posture of our cities and towns."

Mayor Hanna is probably in for a fight, but he declares that he is ready for one, "all the way up to the Supreme Court, if necessary."

This is an exceedingly important issue that has bothered a great many taxpayers, as well as State and local officials: do public employees have an outright, monopolistic "right" to negotiate wage scales and other matters through a union, to the total exclusion of all other competition from any quarter? Does not such a "right" put them in a position of absolute dictatorship, whereby the taxpayers and their representatives are allowed no freedom of choice whatsoever as to how their money is to be spent?

In the Utica, New York, controversy, the Mayor declares that he wants to have the work done — trash collection, snow removal and road repair — through private contracts issued through competitive bidding. And if it turns out that independent contractors can provide the people of Utica with better service at lower cost, why shouldn't they be permitted to enjoy such benefits?

Friedlander - Weimer Nuptials Held

Anita Marie Weimer, of Miami, Fla., became the bride of Robert Nathan Friedlander, also Miami, on February 15, in Miami, her parents announced.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weimer, of Tallahassee, and granddaughter of Mrs. James Treacy, Oakland. Mother of the bride is the former Mary Treacy. Samuel Friedlander, Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Jim Russo, of Newark, N. J., are the parents of the groom.

Maid of honor was Janice Weimer, of Tallahassee, while bridesmaids were Karen Weimer, Tallahassee, Fla., Catherine Sanemeterio, Miami, and Priscilla Lawrence, of Tallahassee. Serving as best man was Steven Gendel, Lodi, N. J. Ushers were Paul Weimer, Tallahassee and Frank Sanemeterio, of Miami.

A reception was held following the ceremony at DuPont Plaza hotel, Miami, and the wedding trip included a cruise to the Bahamas.

The groom is employed by Southeast First National Bank of Miami, while the bride is employed by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service in Miami.

Minority Report

The state Senate's Republican Minority received a rare accolade from a member of the Democratic opposition on the floor of the Senate this week. The words of praise were directed at the Minority by Senator Harry McGuirk, Chairman of the Senate's Economic Affairs Committee which on Wednesday heard Republican-initiated legislation pertaining to the state budget.

"It is an excellent bill," Senator McGuirk said of S.B. 1044 in complimenting the Republicans on their efforts to develop a package of legislation to give the General Assembly more meaningful input into the Budgetary process.

Senate Minority Leader Edward J. Mason, who testified before the Economic Affairs Committee on S. B. 1044 said that provisions of the bill require each state department to submit an operational plan to the legislature by March 1st for the fiscal period a year hence. The plans would be based on existing programs, new programs, and the departments' recommendations for programs to be reduced or cut.

"By receiving these operational plans a year before the Governor's budget is formed, the legislature would have the chance to study them carefully and make budget recommendations to the executive branch. Then when the budget is introduced, the legislature would have solid information on which to base its decisions for approving funding," said Senator Mason.

"The system the Minority proposes is highly preferable to our present one because now when the budget is introduced, few legislators have the time to study it carefully. They must accept the recommendations of the two fiscal committees who hear the budget bills. As a member of one of these committees, Budget and Taxation, I can attest to the fact that we do not receive enough data to make highly informed recommendations to our colleagues," he said.

Senator Mason said that a budgetary process in which the legislature assumes a more important role is vital to the future financial security of the state. "Since it is the legislature's responsibility to approve the budget, we should have a say in setting priorities," he said.

Another Republican-initiated budget measure, S.B. 1017, has also won the approbation of 24 Democrats who joined them in sponsoring it. S.B. 1017 would give the legislature the authority to require audits of the financial records of institutions and associations who receive money from the state but are not organs of state government.

"The legislature is entitled to a disclosure of the financial situation of an organization which seeks state funds," said Senator Mason. "We are shirking our responsibility to the public by not requiring a total financial picture from an organization before dispersing public money."

Capitol Comment

By Senator
Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

Improving the Quality of Life

A sense of purpose is one of the elements crucial to the quality of life. It is lacking now in most of our lives. What we need is a goal to fire our imagination and galvanize our energies, and the leadership to move us forward.

What better national goal could we set ourselves than the total revitalization of our cities?

There has been talk from time to time of a new Marshall Plan for the cities, based on the theory that national problems require national solutions. But I think we have dabbled with national solutions long enough. Solutions imposed from the top just don't seem to work.

It seems to me that the time has come to try a completely opposite approach. We've tried working from the top down. Now let's try working from the bottom up.

I propose that we let the people who actually live and work in each of our cities dream their own dreams and build their own models of the city where they would like to bring up their children.

Government's role—both local and federal—would be to encourage citizen initiative, to provide administrative structure and, to some extent, to provide funding.

But I do not believe that government should provide all the funding or that it should play mid-wife to our urban rebirth. That role should be reserved to the people themselves, with a massive assist from the private sector of our economy.

My proposal is this: that every business organization, every labor union, every professional group which is involved in any way in the life of the city, contribute not only a certain percentage of its earnings to help finance urban revitalization, but also make it possible for each of its employes to donate his ideas, his labor, and his talent, on a regular basis, to the work of rebuilding the city.

The great merit to this approach, it seems to me, is that it is people-oriented, not project-oriented. It would give people an opportunity, once again, to shape their future and feel that somewhere in their life there was meaning.

One Injured In Mishap Thursday

The driver of one car was injured in a two-car mishap last Thursday afternoon near Deer Park.

Vava Jane Bowen, 18, RD 5, Oakland, was injured when her car ran into the rear of a car driven by Mark D. Kyle, Star Route 1, Oakland.

Kyle was stopped on Md. 135 behind a third car waiting to make a left hand turn into the Deer Park Hotel road. The cars were held up due to traffic coming in the opposite direction. Vava Bowen failed to note the stopped car of Kyle and struck it. She was charged with failing to reduce speed under the existing conditions by Tfc. E. J. Upole.

A deer attempting to cross Md. 39 at Hutton ran into the side of a car driven by Thomas E. Stemple, Star Route 2, Oakland, just past midnight Tuesday. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated.

A woman lost control of her car driving east on Md. 39 near the Old Crellin Road, last Thursday about 1 a.m. The car driven by Loretta A. Friend ran off the road and struck a car on a used car lot. A chain reaction followed which involved three other cars. She was charged with traveling at excess speed.

Attend Dairy Meet

Goals for a profitable cow/calf operation were outlined by Dr. William E. Kunkle, extension livestock specialist, University of Maryland, speaking at the annual dinner meeting of the Maryland Shorthorn Association, Inc., held in Frederick March 20.

Over fifty members, guests and juniors attended. Singled out for commendation were juniors present who had won trophies offered by the association for showing junior division champion Shorthorn calves at 1975 Maryland fairs and shows. Among those honored was Paul Lytle, of Friendsville.

Observes Ninetieth

Mrs. Blanche Pease, Deer Park celebrated her 90th birthday recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. Emma Broadwater. The latter is 92.

Guests included Mrs. Bruce Brennenman, Mrs. Melvin Smith and sons, and Mrs. Clement J. Falstick.

Public disinterest encourages criminals, said FBI Director Kelley.

Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

How do you interpret the overall results of your questionnaire?

Taken as a whole, the survey results would seem to indicate an overall concern for federal spending and the fact that attractively worded programs do not have the majority support of citizens if theyincrease federal spending and/or taxes. Over 70 percent of the respondents opposed foreign aid, a national health insurance program and an increase in public service jobs. At the same time, a significant 83 percent of the citizens favored a constitutional amendment requiring an annual balanced Federal budget.

Does the government publish a guidebook to National Parks?

A booklet entitled "Guide to the National Parks" is available for 35 cents from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado. The leaflet lists seasonal and year-round activities of nearly 300 parks and includes a highway map.

I have some ideas on mass transit and would appreciate your forwarding them on to an appropriate government official. Who do you recommend the letter be addressed to?

The Department of Transportation maintains an Office of Consumer Affairs for just this purpose. Ideas from citizens are welcomed and are often used during policy-making meetings. Your letter may be sent directly to Ann Uccello, Director of Consumer Affairs.

Is the U.S. ever going to establish national petroleum reserves?

Can you please tell me your voting attendance record in Congress?

According to the records maintained by the House of Representatives I have a 95 percent voting attendance record in Congress in 1975.

I understand Congress has extended the 12-mile fishing limit. Please explain.

The House and Senate reached agreement on legislation to extend the existing 12-mile exclusive U.S. fishing zone off our coasts to 200 miles. Enforcement of the new fishing limits would begin on March 1, 1977. The bill is designed to protect the American fishing industry from foreign competition for certain fish species which are in low supply.

What were the results of your poll on the question concerning the Panama Canal?

By a 5-to-1 margin citizens opposed giving control over the Canal Zone to Panama. As you know, negotiations are currently underway between the U. S. State Department and the government of Panama to draft a treaty which would transfer control over the Panama Canal Zone from the U. S., which has held this control since 1904, to the government of Panama.

Who can I contact concerning a question I have about my tax return?

The IRS operates a toll-free telephone number for citizens who have questions about their income tax returns. The toll-free number is 1-800-492-0460.

Can you tell me whatever happened to that bill you sponsored to create national petroleum reserves?

A provision to authorize the establishment of national petroleum reserves on certain public lands was contained in the Energy Conservation Act signed by the President last year.

When does the Bicentennial begin? When does it officially end?

It has already begun. Understandably the focal point of much planning is directed towards the weekend of July 4, 1976. However, Congress directed the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration to start the official recording of programs and events of March of 1975 and to have this Master Calendar inclusive of events through December 31, 1976.

Good News About America

"If you can imagine this entire world as a village of just 1,000 people . . . you'd find: only 56 of them are Americans . . . but they enjoy more freedom than any others and have half the total income. The life expectancy of these Americans is 71 years today, while the other 944 people have expectancy under 50 years."

That salient fact comes compliments of Walt Seifert, professor of journalism at Ohio State University. Seifert was born in the slums of Cleveland and has never forgotten his debt to America, which gave him the freedom and opportunity to rise above his humble beginnings. After painstaking research, the patriotic professor suggests these answers to doomsayers who charge America is heading downhill:

Charge; "Our poor get poorer."

Answer: In 1970 we had 14 million fewer poor people than in 1960. By OEO (Office Economic Opportunity) standards the percent of poor dropped from 22 to 12 in 10 years."

C: "Our small towns are dying."

A: "Today we have 30 percent more small rural towns than 50 years ago."

C: "The American farmer is going broke."

A: "Our average net income per farm increased from $3,024 in 1964 to $9,271 in 1974 and farm assets more than doubled."

C: "The arts are dying in America."

A: "Today we support 1,500 symphony orchestras and 5,000 community theaters."

C: "Our air is filthy today."

A: "Facts are — it's much cleaner than 50 years ago, when every Ohio home belched coal smoke all winter and every street had clouds of flies all summer."

C: "Blacks aren't getting educated."

A: "More blacks go to college here today than anywhere else in the world. The total has doubled since 1960 and keeps increasing."

There you have it — some of the reasons why America, by any reasonable yardstick, remains the greatest country on earth.

Open Space And Open Education

By Dayle Dabney
Aud Dorothy Leighton

In Garrett County, as well as in other localities, some confusion has arisen as to the terms "open education" and "open space education". "Open education" refers to a specific philosophy of teaching and suggested procedures for implementing this philosophy; "open space education" refers to the physical construction of an educational building. One can see that a school system can employ conventional teaching methods within an open space structure. It is also possible to adhere to the philosophy of "open education" within a conventional educational building. Although the terms are not synonomous, they can occur together.

In Garrett County, three modified open space schools are presently under construction: Friendsville Elementary, Broad Ford Elementary, and Southern Middle School. Plans have been made and are being made through seminars, in-service work shops, and trips to other schools to adopt and implement the philosophy of open education within these new schools. The Board of Education of Garrett County also intends that this philosophy be extended to the existing conventional schools, so that the children of Garrett County will receive a similar education regardless of the particular school they attend. It may naturally follow, however, that certain activities will be possible in the newer schools because of the open construction that may not be possible in conventional schools.

As with any change, there are both advantages and disadvantages. This is also true with implementing a program of open education. In an open education program, the child is an active participant, using many of his own ideas in learning specific skills and being assessed on an individual basis according to his ability and performance. Each child works at his own level of ability in each subject, using varied activities both individually and within groups. Therefore, a teacher who is teaching in an open education classroom must keep detailed, accurate, and individual records of each child's progress in each subject, along with a plan for immediate and long range goals.

Teaching in an open area requires understanding, respect, cooperation, and team planning among the teachers, for they will be working together much more than in a self-contained classroom. Opportunities might thus be provided for teachers to teach only those subjects in which they are best prepared. The faculty of each school should be committed and fully trained to implement the philosophy of open education in order to achieve success.

Many students enjoy and profit from this type of learning environment, exhibiting fewer disciplinary problems and finding more motivation for their work. Some students, on the other hand, require a more structured learning environment involving less movement. Provisions must be made to meet the needs of each student and not merely the needs of the majority.

In the new open space schools in Garrett County present plans call for groups of about 100 students and 4 teachers. The number of aides per group may vary with grade level. It will be possible for small group instruction to be conducted separately within each large area. Special acoustical materials throughout the building will reduce noise levels.

After studying the concept of open education and arriving at a consensus, the League of Women Voters of Garrett County presented its recommendations to the Board of Education Garrett County and to the Garrett County Commissioners. Many of these suggestions are already policies of the Board of Education, yet they reflect specific needs that will require active implementation.

The League feels that, in order for the implementation of open education to be a success, administrators and teachers must be adequately trained, be given enough time to plan both before and after inception of the program (especially in team-teaching situations), and be given enough assistance by aides and volunteers.

The League recommends more specific, relevant in-service training for all teachers. There can be clearer understanding of each student's subject mastery when the schools establish specific skills goals for students on each grade level, evaluate the student's progress, and inform parents of the evaluation results.

It is of paramount importancethat the program of open education, as well as other educational programs, be continually evaluated after it is implemented.

Know Your Country

BICENTENNIAL FEATURE

Hawaii

Hawaii is nicknamed the Aloha state because of the people's friendliness toward the tourist. It means "greetings" in Hawaiian language.

Youngest of the fifty states, it joined the union August 21, 1959. The mene, a kind of goose, is state bird with Kukui or candlenut the state tree. Its kernel can be burned for light. Many beautiful flowers grow there with hibiscus the state flower. Honolulu, the capital and largest city, is some 2,400 miles west of U. S. mainland. George R. Ariyoski, Democrat, is governor. Population is 847,000.

It has a heterogeneous population including those of Polynesian descent, Americans from the mainland, Japanese, Filipinos, Chinese, people from Asia, Europe and Africa extraction. Polynesians were original settlers. The eight white, red and blue stripes in the flag stand for eight most important islands. It carries flag of United Kingdom in upper left corner.

The state consists of a 1,610 mile long chain of 122 islands with main islands at eastern end of chain. All people live on seven of eight islands.

Principal islands are Hawaii, largest; Oahu, on which are Honolulu and Pearl Harbor; Lanai, Maui, Malakai and Kauai, Nuhau and Kahoolaure. Two islands are volcanic, Mauna and Kilauea. Captain James Cook, British Navy, discovered Hawaii in 1778, naming them the Sandwich islands. Whaling ships stopped there for supplies in mid 1800s enroute to Alaskan whaling grounds. Pineapple and sugar industries began in 1800s and are leading sources of income.

Pearl Harbor on Oahu was attacked by the Japanese December 7, 1941, forcing U.S. into World War II. Its location in the Pacific gives it a major role in U. S. military planning.

Known for its beauty and pleasant climate it has deep blue seas, brilliantly colored flowers, graceful palms and plunging waterfalls. Tourism remains fastest growing industry. Visitors enjoy feasts, folk luaus, street dancing and other events. The Hawaiian dance, the Hula, has become a symbol of the state. Love for informality is evident with loose fitting clothes. Rice and fresh fruits are basic parts of the diet. Some eat poi, starchy food made by pounding the cooked root of the taro plant into paste. Plantations produce over third of the world's supply of pineapples which is the state's second largest crop. Sugar cane is the important crop. Transportation is chief problem and area has 45 airports.

State has few minerals. Barren areas of lava rock cover many parts. Coral and lava quarries provide building stone. Commerical fishermen catch millions of pounds of fish annually most important being skipjack, a kind of tuna. Dolphin and marlin also abound. Hawaii does not have much wildlife.

Tropical plants and trees thrive with heavy rainfall. Hibicus and other flowers bloom year around. Poinsettias and coral trees bloom in fall and winter. University of Hawaii, Honolulu, excels in fields of marine biology, tropical agriculture, geophysics, Pacific and Asian studies. Hawaiian cowboys called Paniolas have great skill in roping and handling cattle. Largest religious group is Roman Catholic.

First English language newspaper, "Sandwich Island Gazette," began publication in Honolulu in 1836. Islands have about fifteen newspapers. A marine exposition is scheduled for 1978, bicentennial of Captain Cook's arrival.

Famous Hawaiians include Duke Kahanamoku, Don Ho, Patsy Mink, Father Joseph Damien, Bette Midler and Daniel K. Inouye.

The next state will be Idaho.

Staying Out Of The Jungle ---

As the complexity of our economic problems becomes clear, federal economic planning is being touted by some as a new cure-all. Result of this trend is a bill in Congress, the "Balanced Growth and Economic Planning Act." Certainly a planned decision is preferable to an unplanned one, but that is not the major interest of the advocates of the bill. They seem interested in the transfer of vast areas of private planning and decision making into the hands of the government, ignoring the American public's right to choose for itself in a free market the kinds of products it wants and needs. This Youghiogheny River hassle may be one of those, even if the Department of Natural Resources says not.

The government's record in the area of economic planning is far from encouraging. We had "New Economics" of the mid 1960s and the "New Economic Plan" of the Nixon administration in 1971, both intended to promote price stability, full employment and economic growth. End results of these two episodes of interference in the free market system have been the highest level of unemployment and fastest rate of inflation in the present era.

Rather than broadening the scope of its planning, government should improve planning in its proper spheres such as fiscal and monetary responsibility, like balancing the budget, and other related items. All would benefit if more attention was given to the long range and indirect effects of government plans on the economy.

Meanwhile our market-directed economy, less encumbered by government interference would again have a chance to function properly.

AAUW Honors 2 Members With Name Grants

Two name grants of $500 each that will go into the National AAUW organization for fellowships were announced at a party last Friday evening at the American Legion home given by the local branch. The name grants are in honor of Mrs. Kathryn Helbig and Mrs. Polly Hanst, as charter members of the local branch, and in celebration of the 30th anniversary of the group.

The party was by invitation and was held to earn money for the name grants. Friends of the organization who were unable to attend, also contributed funds for grants, and an auction held at the party helped to add to the funds. AAUW also contributes $300 annually for scholarships at Garrett Community college at McHenry. Present recipient is Brenda Broadwater.

Sixty five couples attended the party. Music for dancing was furnished by James M. Wallace, Clarence Savage, Bud Savage, John McLaughlin. Serving as auctioneers were Messrs Blizzard and Hill, from Terra Alta.

Mrs. Thomas Johnson was in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Manning Smith and other AAUW members. Food for the affair was provided by AAUW members.

W. D. Nace Is Named Engineer For Commission

William D. Nace has been appointed as an engineer to the County Commissioners, effective Monday, April 5, filling a vacancy created by the resignation of Col. J. Haig Jackson as administrative engineer to the Sanitary Commission.

Commissioners said Mr. Nace would be primarily responsible for coordinating and engineering for the sanitary commission and other county water and sewer projects.

A son of William W. Nace, Oakland, he graduated from Southern High school in 1957 and received a civil engineering degree from Penn State university four years later. Following college, Mr. Nace, a registered professional engineer, worked for engineering firms in Harrisburg, Pa.; Alexandria, Va., Boston, Mass., and Waltham, Mass. In 1972 he was appointed town engineer for the town of Derry, New Hampshire and was promoted to director of Public Works. He resigned from that position to return to Garrett county.

He served in the 121st engineer battalion, Maryland National Guard and is married to the former Carol Sanders, of Oakland. They have two children, ages 3 and 7.

In other commissioner business the three members conducted their first budget hearing Tuesday, meeting with the Planning commission, Development corporation and Social Services. Next Tuesday, April 13, they will conduct three more budget meetings, the sheriff's department at 1:30; Extension Service at 2, and the Ruth Enlow Library at 2:30.

Four Picked Up On Drug Charges

Four have been charged with possession of marijuana in the Friendsville area on Sunday afternoon. Two of the four are juveniles.

John Wayne Suter, Friendsville, was still being retained in the Garrett County Jail Tuesday under $1,000 bond. Espy Emerson Hook, also of Friendsville, has been released on recognizance under $1,000 bond.

The two juveniles, both 15, were released to the custody of their parents, both passengers in the car.

According to the State Police report a trooper noticed a passenger in the car toss something out of the front passenger window of the car which they were occupying. Upon examination the substance was found to be marijuana. Other marijuana was found in the car.

Sgt. H. W. Graham was making a routine traffic stop when he noted the substance being thrown from the car. Trooper R. C. Georg is assisting in the investigation.

No hearing date is scheduled.

April 19 Final Day to Register

Garrett County residents who will be 18 years of age on or before November 2 still have a few more days to register with the Board of Election Supervisors so they can vote in both the May 18 primary election and the general election on November 2.

The last day to register in order to vote in the primary is Monday, April 19. On that date the election board office on Third street will be open from 9 a.m., until 9 p.m. Regular hours are 8:30 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Palm Sunday Special Planned

Churches of Oakland have planned an unusual worship experience for the entire community for the observance of Palm Sunday and the opening of Holy Week.

It is scheduled for Sunday, April 11, at 11 o'clock on Second street in downtown Oakland where worshippers from the churches of the area are invited to gather.

Even as the entrance of Jesus and his disciples into Jerusalem was a community event, so it is hoped by the various pastors this will also be reenactment of the Palm Sunday story in Oakland this year. The celebration will include instrumental music, hymns, an anthem by a combined choir, scripture readings and prayers, the distribution of palms and the pageantry of Jesus and his disciples coming into town on a donkey.

Worshippers themselves will parade up the street at the end of the ceremony for a time of fellowship at St. Mark's new Lutheran church. In case of rain or inclement weather the ceremony will take place at St. Mark's.

Union Good Friday

The union Good Friday service this year will be held at St. Mark's church, Second street, from noon until 3 o'clock.

Organists for the three hour affair are Mrs. Donald R. Sincell, Kim Liller and Susan Eberly.

Other Ministers participating will be Rev. Manning Smith, Rev. James Mitchell, Rev. William E. Carlson, Rev. Fred Illick, Rev. Gail Hixon, Rev. Richard Seaks.

There will be two anthems by St. Mark's choir during the first and last word sections. There will be solo numbers by Norma Mitchell, Courtney Tusing and Richard Ridder, and a trio by Debbie Paige, Judy Custer and Linda Rush.

A community sunrise service is also scheduled for Easter Sunday morning at Memorial Gardens, at 6:30 o'clock. Offering on Good Friday will go to CROP for work against hunger on every continent.

Jury Verdict Favors Plaintiff

A suit filed in Circuit court by Sterling Processing company against six meat inspectors was heard by a jury on Tuesday, who entered a judgment in favor of the plaintiff, but the amount was considerably less than that sought by the processing plant.

The company, with Gilman Sylvester as vice-president, had asked for $2,000 compensatory damages and $10,000 as punitive damages.

The company had charged that the defendants had left their inspection stations against the order of the inspector in charge, making it necessary to hold 18,000 chickens until the following day, causing them to lose weight and downgrade their value, making it necessary for overtime pay and reducing plant facilities by 50 percent.

Defendants in the case were listed as Andrew H. Saffel, David Dixon, Bernard Dixon, Sam Eisentrout, Dewey Keller and Thelma Sharpless. They were represented by John F. Somerville, Jr., Cumberland. S. R. Pagenhardt was attorney for the Processing company.

The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $300, with the defendants being ordered to pay the costs of the case. Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presided.

Bill Eliminates "Blue Laws" Ban

An emergency measure to wipe out the Sunday "blue laws" in this county was passed by the State Senate Tuesday night and sent to Gov. Marvin Mandel for signature.

Sponsored by Del. DeCorsey E. Bolden the bill was passed on its second and third readings after the Senate agreed to a suspension of rules motion made by Sen. Edward J. Mason.

Because the measure is an emergency bill, the legislation will take effect as soon as the governor signs it.

The blue laws question had caused some debate in the county and resulted in circulation of a petition against the proposal. A majority of businessmen apparently favored doing away with the law, although there were reservations on the part of some owners of business places in the Oakland area. who have said they are not interested in opening on Sundays.

Senator Mason had also introduced a bill in the Senate on the same question. That bill has been passed by the Senate but still needs House action.

The General Assembly will conclude its 90-day session at midnight Monday, April 12.

"No Harm Telling a Friend About a Good Thing"

Mrs. Grover Stemple Is Example Of Concern For Fellow Beings

By Carol Canan

A nickelodeon show some 70 years ago planted the seeds for the start of a long, successful and rewarding project begun in Oakland nearly 50 years later — the visits of the Red Cross bloodmobile.

Miss Nelle Workman, who was deeply influenced by a show she saw at the nickelodeon in Oakland when she was only 16, is the only surviving member of the group of women, and some men, who helped to organize bloodmobile visits in the county for the first time 25 years ago.

As she tells it, during the nickelodeon show, Babe Ruth was shown donating blood directly to his son, and she never forgot the profound generosity and love shown by this act.

Time went by. Her name was changed from Nelle Workman to Mrs. Grover Stemple, and she and her husband had a family of four sons. Her family, her work for St. Paul's United Methodist Church, where her father had served as pastor from 1904 until 1909, and for civic organizations took up most of her time.

But the good work done by the American Red Cross was never quite forgotten, and was brought home to the Stemples in an especially poignant way during World War II, when three of their sons were in the service.

At that time, Mrs. Stemple formulated some tentative plans to establish regular bloodmobile stops in the county, but her efforts met with little encouragement at that time. People who wished to donate blood had to travel to Keyser to the nearest bloodmobile stop.

A few more years passed, Garrett County Memorial Hospital was established, and members of the local Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club volunteered to supply blood for the hospital.

After a few months it was evident that not nearly enough blood could be obtained in this way, so Mrs. Stemple, by this time 61 years of age, was called upon to organize bloodmobile stops in the county.

Coordination was vital since a doctor had to be on the premises and volunteers found for every phase of duty. Possible donors must also be contacted. Arrangements were begun in October for the first visit the following February. The schedule was set up, volunteers arranged, and a dinner prepared for the mobile workers who would come from Johnstown.

Although a great deal of work went on behind the scenes, at last all was ready. The first visit was set for Ash Wednesday, the crew of a nurse, a doctor, and six helpers came from Johnstown to work at the bloodmobile, volunteers were preparing food, taking names, weights, temperatures. Over everything wafted the delicious smell of roast beef, prepared by local women for the Johnstown staff.

Only one fly was in the ointment — the roast beef. All the staff from Johnstown were devout Catholics, unable to eat meat on a religious holiday such as Ash Wednesday. Back went the roast beef and some of the women hurried out to change the menu to fish for the guests.

All else went reasonably smoothly, and has done so ever since. Mrs. Stemple held the position of director of the bloodmobile visits for some 15 years before her health forced her to hand over the reins to Mrs. William Hesen, county Red Cross director.

Mrs. Stemple says she found everything to be running so smoothly that she did not intrude upon visits to Kitzmiller or Grantsville, as women there were dedicated people who took the project seriously and were perfectly capable.

The first few times were the most difficult, when this "new idea" began here. She recalls people took a lot of persuading, especially donors.

Many rules have changed since the first bloodmobile visit. Doctors are now on call, but it still takes approximately 30 volunteers to conduct a successful, smooth-running bloodmobile visit.

Mrs. Stemple continues her interest to this day, helping in whatever way she can. She lives quietly now in Oakland surrounded by her family, with sons Robert, Donald and William and their families nearby. Son Richard and wife live in Sarasota, Fla. She still derives much enjoyment from her church, her "first love after my family."

The key word throughout Mrs. Stemple's narrative was cooperation — cooperation of many, many local citizens, doctors, nurses, Boy Scouts, club members and businesses who help make each bloodmobile visit successful and keep hospital shelves supplied with the life-giving red fluid. Through the efforts of people like Mrs. Stemple, and these many others, the Red Cross had never failed to fill a need for blood here.

Due to efforts of this woman, who cared enough about others to give fully of her time, Garrett County is now a link in the important bloodmobile chain. For that, the county owes her a great "thank you."

March, actually, averaged slightly more above normal than February by two degrees. The March average was 7.9 degrees above normal. Daytime highs averaged 56.9 degrees or 9.5 above normal. The warmest was a summer-like reading of 77 degrees on the 4th. The mercury was in the 70s two other days. The coolest day was the 17th when the mercury went no higher than 24 degrees.

Lows averaged 30.5 degrees or 6.2 above normal. Low readings were 10 degrees on the 18th (the lowest), and 12 degrees the day before. Two other low readings were 19 degrees on the 23rd and 24th. The mercury dropped to freezing or below on 18 days.

Precipitation-wise the month averaged 3 inches or 1.55 inches below normal. The wettest day was the 21st with .9 inch. Even though the precipitation was below normal, there was some fall on 18 days. The explanation is that on nine days there was only one or two hundredths of an inch of precipitation, little more than a trace.

Snowfall totaled ten inches or 5.9 inches below normal. The heaviest fall was on the 9th with six inches. There were two inches on the 16th and lighter falls other days. Snowfall for the 1975-76 season totaled 51.6 inches as of March 31. This is 15.1 inches below normal as of the same date.

Figures for statistics are based on information supplied by Logan Weber, local observer for the National Weather Service.

in Boy Scouting and is presently a member of the Deep Creek District and the Potomac Council.

Mr. Feather is also a member of the American Association of Hospital Accountants, the American Academy of Medical Administrators, Tygart Lodge No. 76, Knights of Pythias, Elkins, W. Va., and Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

He is married to the former Margaret Jeffers of Elkins, a retired teacher in the Garrett County schools. They have one son, Charles, who resides in Lewistown, Pa.

Mr. Feather says that during his retirement he hopes to read, fish, travel and garden.

Irvin Feld, president of the Board of Governors for Garrett County Memorial Hospital, commended Mr. Feather warmly for his many years of devoted service, and added that although he would be greatly missed at the facility, the Board wishes him many long years of contented retirement.

Mr. Feld went on to say that Mr. Feather's work was especially invaluable during the two expansion periods at the hospital and praised his ability to continue smooth functioning even in the midst of such extensive remodeling.

In speaking of Mr. Richmond, Mr. Feld pointed out that he comes very highly recommended from a responsible position at Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore, and that he is well qualified for the duties here. Mr. Feld noted that Mr. Richmond is extremely eager to begin his work and feels that he will be a most capable executive of the hospital, and that he and his family will be an outstanding addition to the general community.

AMERICA'S HERITAGE

HIGHLIGHTS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

General Francis Marion's Lunch Party, Georgetown, S.C.

By Joan Russo

By 1778, the British had shifted their war effort to the southern colonies in order to capitalize on strong Loyalist support there. However, within two years General Francis Marion earned his name the "Swamp Fox" leading guerrilla raids against the British in the moss-draped forests of South Carolina. One measure of his success was the number and importance of the prisoners he captured. Anxious to make a prisoner exchange, the British sent a young officer to the American camp to accomplish the mission. Accustomed to British army comfort, the officer was startled at what he witnessed: the meal was served on a fallen tree trunk and consisted entirely of baked potatoes and water, a scene recreated in this oil painting by Frederick Coffay Yohn from the private collection of The Continental Insurance Companies.

On his return, the young officer spread the story of "an American General and his officers, without pay, almost destitute of clothing, living on roots and water." He later declared: "Men who endure such privations can never be conquered."

Although the American generals Horatio Gates, Nathanael Greene and Daniel Morgan failed to win any major victories in the South, the Swamp Fox, along with colonels Thomas Sumter and Andrew Pickens, made British occupation of inland areas very costly. Patriot resistance was so effective that it convinced British General Cornwallis that a large-scale offensive in the South was useless and costly. In 1781, he abandoned his southern military strategy, and withdrew to coastal Virginia and his fateful meeting with the Continental Army at Yorktown.

Miscellaneous Motor Vehicle Cases Heard

A number of miscellaneous motor vehicle cases were heard in District Court by Judge Lewis R. Jones during the week ending April 7.

William P. Shaffer, Jr., pleaded guilty of failing to stop before entering a highway from a private drive and was fined $15.

Michael C. Nitz, Winchester, Va., pleaded not guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit but was found guilty and was fined $35.

Bradley J. Harvey, Deer Park, also pleaded not guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit, but was found guilty, and fined $30.

Robert H. Liston, Rowlesburg, W. Va., pleaded not guilty of operating at a speed greater than reasonable and prudent but was found guilty and fined $20.

Gyle W. Davis, Mt. Lake Park, pleaded guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit. He was placed on probation before judgment and paid costs.

Bradley A. Reams, RD 1, Oakland, pleaded guilty of failing to meet obligation on striking an unattended vehicle and was fined $30.

Charles S. McCrobie, Glendale road, Deer Park, pleaded guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit and was fined $30.

John B. Furr, RD 5, Oakland, pleaded not guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit. He was placed on probation before judgment and paid costs.

Falamarz Baiat, Morgantown, W. Va., pleaded not guilty on three counts. On the charge of exceeding the posted speed limit he was found guilty and fined $45. On the charge of operating an unregistered motor vehicle he was found guilty and fined $15, and on the charge of driving under a foreign license which was suspended or revoked in Maryland, he was placed on probation before judgment.

Michael Chroussis, Columbia, pleaded not guilty of passing in a 'no passing' zone but was found guilty and fined $15.

Drama Committee Makes Change In Pageant Name

The name of the Bicentennial pageant, to be produced by the people of the area for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 8, 9 and 10, has been changed from "We the People," to "Portrait of Liberty." The change came about because the state of Maryland production is to be named "We the People." The change was decided at a luncheon meeting of the steering committee at Fireside Inn, yesterday noon.

At the luncheon it was announced that the Rotary club and the Junior Woman's Civic club would take charge of the program; Mrs. Frances Riley, Civic club, and Wayne Hamilton, county commissioner, in charge of promotion; George H. Hanst, Carol Canan and Brad Stewart, publicity; AAUW, hospitality; Robert F. Rodeheaver, stage backdrops. The latter group also will help with the educational area of the pageant. The BPW will be in charge of tickets. Mrs. Polly Hanst, chairman of the coordinating committee, said many other areas are yet to be decided and the responsibility placed. Other members of the coordinating committee include Dr. and Mrs. Walter Price; Mrs. Nancy Turney and Fred Learey. That committee finalizing the drama, to be presented this fall, the week before Autumn Glory.

House Of Delegates Will Not Consider Subway Compromise

The Maryland House of Delegates voted overwhelmingly Wednesday against suspending its rules to consider the Senate compromise on funding the Baltimore subway.

Both subway opponents and supporters joined in rejecting the motion on a 110 to 27 vote. The only major delegation which voted to allow the three bills making up the compromise to be introduced was Prince Georges County. Delegation Chairman Fred Rummage explained his colleagues feared a vote against the motion could ultimately lead to Baltimore's loss of subway funds and hence retaliation against Prince Georges and Montgomery counties which are receiving state aid to support construction of Washington's Metro transit system.

After the vote was taken, House Speaker John Briscoe expressed hope the Senate subway opponents would realize the Senate leadership had acted in good faith and not resume the filibuster which has already consumed eight working days, jeopardizing hundreds of backlogged bills and possibly forcing an extension of the legislative session, due to end April 12.

The Army plans to close 9 bases and move 20 others.

Observes 98th Birthday At Akron

Mrs. Mary Herman, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Mills, at 651 Alaho Avenue, Tallmadge, Ohio, adjacent to Akron, observed her 98th birthday anniversary, March 30. She is the widow of John W. Herman who served two terms as county commissioner. He died in 1954.

A photo of Mrs. Herman, along with her daughter, Mrs. Carolyn Mills, one granddaughter, Mrs. Carl Placella, a grandson, Marvin Mills, and a great grandson, Joey Placella, appeared in the Akron Beacon-Journal on the occasion of her anniversary, showing her cutting a cake.

She was born Mary Paugh March 30, 1878, in this county. She was a schoolteacher, being paid $30 a month until she married Mr. Herman in 1901. She had seven children. She told a reporter of her father's involvement in the Civil War as a Northerner and her great grandfather's participation in the Revolutionary war.

She remains interested in politics and has had 19 presidents in office during her lifetime, beginning with Rutherford B. Hayes. She said she had "preferred Nixon until the time things came out as they did. I still see more prosperity from him than any other president."

She refuses to sit still, saying that the secret to her long life is that she has always been busy "from the time I was old enough to do anything." She rises early, cooks her own food, washes her clothes by hand, makes her own bed, answers the telephone and "bosses me around," said her daughter, jokingly, a real estate agent.

Swanton Man Found Guilty At Jury Trial

A Swanton man was found guilty by a jury of receiving stolen goods at a trial yesterday, Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., presiding.

Glen Eugene Harvey pleaded not guilty of two charges; receiving stolen goods and storehouse breaking and entering. The jury found him guilty on the first and the plea was sustained on the second. A charge of petty larceny was dismissed.

The property involved was that of Charles Nicodemus on Green Glade road in January 1975. Harvey was first held on $1,000 full cash bond and then released shortly after on a property bond. The case was transferred from District Court January 6.

Harvey is being held pending a presentence investigation.

Ranking first in the state was Talbot county with a quota of $272,000 and sales of $30,376 for 11.2 percent of its quota. Caroline county ranked third.

Conservative Majority

No one needs to be told that the Congress of the United States is overwhelmingly "liberal." The record shows that over the past several years, legislation passed by the Congress has consistently leaned toward the "liberal" side of the scale.

This would perhaps not be very remarkable except for the altogether interesting fact that in poll after poll on issue after issue, the great majority of the American people have indicated that they are "conservative."

How is it that a conservative people, in a conservative nation, should elect to office legislators who vote "liberal" is something that the political scientists will have to explain — if they can.

In the meantime, however, another straw in the wind that indicates a basic, underlying conservatism of millions of Americans can be found in the amazingly rapid growth of a brand-new, national organization bearing a very "plain-Jane" name of "The Conservative Caucus." Starting from ground zero in November, 1974, the new group now boasts 73,000 dues-paying members, 47 State coordinators, 125 congressional district directors, an average of more than 100 people in every congressional district in the United States, and, at the present writing, an additional 150,000 people who have been identified as prospective members.

The Conservative caucus is headed by National Chairman Meldrim Thomson, Jr., successful businessman, publisher, and Governor of the State of New Hampshire whose conservatism is reflected in the fact that the citizens of his state pay no general sales tax and no income tax — and by National Director Howard Phillips, former Acting Director of the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity and one of the founders of Young Americans for Freedom, who has been described by the WALL STREET JOURNAL as "a zealot for conservatism."

One of the positions espoused by the Conservative Caucus — under the heading of "The Right To National Sovereignty" — is: "The defense policy of the United States should be based on a goal of strategic and tactical supremacy on land, in the sea, in the air, and in space. Our foreign policy should have as its sole and overriding purpose safeguarding the national interest."

Random polls have shown that from 67 to 85 percent of the groups polled were in favor of such a national policy.

Hopefully, the 1976 elections will bring the legislative and executive branches of the government more in line with the obvious wishes of the people. — U. S. Press Association.

Traffic Deaths Continue To Drop

Maryland State Police statisticians report that highway deaths in Maryland have continued their downward trend since the speed enforcement program was begun in July of 1975.

The dramatic drop in highway deaths that immediately followed the speed enforcement program has continued through the first quarter of 1976. As of March 31, 111 persons have died as a result of highway accidents, 53 less than the same period last year. This first quarter figure represents the lowest traffic death figure in eleven years. The total number of people killed on Maryland highways in 1975 was 691, a decrease of 46 deaths as compared with 1974; and the lowest number of highway fatalities in Maryland in the last ten years.

Troopers have continued enforcement of the 55 mile per hour speed limit and have issued over 153,000 traffic tickets since July of 1975.

Of those persons killed this year 55 were drivers, 24 were passengers, 27 were pedestrians and five were riding on motorcycles.

An evaluation of these fatal accidents indicates that only one person who was killed was wearing a safety belt. Statistics show that drivers and passengers who wear safety belts have fewer serious or fatal injuries than their unbelted counterparts.

Colonel Thomas S. Smith, State Police Superintendent, credits the careful driving habits of the motoring public with helping to keep the death rate at an eleven year low. Without public support and their active participation, State Police efforts to reduce highway fatalities would be unsustained, he said.

House Burning In Your Spare Time

RARE SIGHT INDEED — It is truly a rare sight to see a firefighter standing beside a burning house and smiling. This house was burned last Sunday for use in practical training of local firefighters. Crabtree Photo

By Donald W. Sincell

As everyone knows, there is a big difference between reading and studying about how to perform a particular task and then acutally going out and doing it. One can study the fundamentals for years but it's the real experience that counts.

Members of the present basic fire training class in the local area finally pushed aside the textbooks for a while after 60 hours of class and put what they had learned into use, fire fighting.

They did this by intentionally (and legally) burning a house on Liberty Street in Oakland last Sunday. The two-story house caught fire several weeks ago and was damaged beyond practical repair, although a number of rooms were still intact. The owner of the house, Homer Bennett, was approached by the instructors of the class and he gave the OK to burn it.

The training session lasted all day. Instructors set fire to the house no less than a dozen times as teams of three men had to go into the house with a charged hoseline, find the fire and extinguish it. The University of Maryland teaches that structural fires must be fought from the inside of the building, not from the outside. (This is one reason that Maryland's fire training is considered among the top three in the country, quite possibly the best.) Breathing devices, or air packs, and full protective gear was used by all the men for protection against heat, smoke and possible lethal fumes. Water was pumped by a unit from the Oakland Fire Department.

Gene Carlson, LaVale, and George Comp, Deer Park, instructors of the class, felt it was an excellent session because nearly all the basics of fire fighting were at least touched upon, such as the use of ladders, ventilation, forcible entry, hose streams, extinguishment, and salvage and overhaul. They also noted fine cooperation and good teamwork.

Jim Atkinson, fire fighter and instructor from Prince Georges County and three other P G County fire fighters brought a van full of air packs and assisted with the instructin. Line officers, from the Oakland and LaVale Fire Departments also assisted.

The present basic class has completed their training and will be given their final examination in a few weeks. The class was composed of men from the Accident, McHenry, Friendsville, and Oakland Fire Departments. Approximately 80% of the fire fighters in Garrett County have had formal training.

Fire fighting is not simply riding a fire engine and squirting water. It is a science. Many hundreds of books have been written on the subject. It takes years of study and practice to be GOOD fire fighters. The members of our local companies are doing their best to do just that.

MEN FROM MARS? — Although it appears that these are two creatures emerging from their space craft, in reality they are two firefighters at a house burning on Liberty Street last Sunday. The session was held for members of a local fire training class who have recently completed their studies. Crabtree Photo

Garrett Loses To Potomac State

Dave Trevisan, Potomac State's outstanding football player, made his presence known in baseball yesterday as he slugged two home runs and sparkled defensively in center field, boosting Potomac State to a 10 to 3 victory over Garrett Community College at Keyser.

Trevisan had a two-run homer to highlight a five run first inning, and he hit a solo blast in the second for a 6-0 advantage at that time. Garrett outhit Potomac 11 to 8. Jeff Moomaw went the distance on the mound for State, giving up three runs and 11 hits, walking a pair and striking out seven. Mark Simpson, first of three Garrett hurlers, lasted only two thirds of an inning. He was followed by Jim Kostyak and Mark Deutch.

The Catamounts built up a 9 to 0 lead before Garrett rallied briefly for their three runs in the eighth inning. Garrett suffered its fifth loss in 19 games and will play two games in Pittsburgh Saturday against ACC-South Campus, and will be at home Sunday to meet Frederick CC in a single game.

Capitol Comment

By Senator
Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) has introduced and the Senate has passed a bill which would establish a 15-member Commission to study the United States participation in the United Nations. The bill is an amendment to the State Department Authorization Act of 1976

"The world has changed a great deal since the United Nations was chartered more than 30 years ago," Beall said. "The U.N. itself has changed a great deal, in its make-up and operation. I believe the time has come for a complete re-evaluation of the United Nations and the role our country plays in it."

Under the Beall amendment, the Commission would be charged with the responsibility for conducting a complete review of all aspects of U. S. participation in the world body with a mandate to report its findings to the Congress at the end of one year. The Commission would be composed of fifteen members. Five members would be appointed by the President, five appointed by the President of the Senate (including two Senators) and five members appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives (including two Representatives).

"My proposal for a review stems from several concerns," Beall continued. "I am concerned over the manner in which the U.N. has expanded from 51 members in 1945 to 144 members in 1976. Some of those newer nations have populations of less than 10,000 yet in voting procedures they are given equal weight with nations as populous as the United States." (The population of the United States is larger than the combined populations of the 77 smallest nations represented in the United Nations).

"I am concerned with the financial consequences of our $440 million annual contribution which constitutes a full 25% of the U.N. budget. Such inequities have led to a decline in support for the U.N. on the part of the American people. But most of all, I am concerned by recent actions and trends which have developed in the United Nations over the past several years".

Beall cited participation of the Palestine Liberation Organization in a General Assembly debate; the expulsion of Israel from participation in UNESCO programs and the expulsion of Taiwan from U.N. membership as examples of recent decisions which influenced his call for a review of U. S. participation in the United Nations.

"I believe that the time has come for a fair, thorough and indepth review of all aspects of our participation in the U.N. I do not wish to prejudge or preordain the outcome of this policy review, but I would hope that the Commission members will reflect the varying points of view so that their final report will serve to help the President and Congress develop a new policy and a new American relationship with the United Nations"

Marriage Licenses Show Increase

March marriage licenses showed an increase over the previous months but less than the same month the last few years. The percentage of civil ceremonies was as high as it has been for several years. Last week 18 licenses were issued.

During March 62 licenses were issued of which 32 or 52 percent were civil ceremonies. Eighty couples made application, of which it seems apparent many did not pick them up.

Of the 18 issued last week, four were not to be published. Where a person is under 18 years old, parent's consent was given. Information is taken from records in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of the Circuit Court.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Editor:

We hear emphasis put on the number of peopie who ride the Garrett Bus System. I wonder when these peopie ride since the buses are nearly always empty when seen on the road. It is very rare that as many as three are seen on it and mostly none.

A true picture of this project could be seen in a financial report showing all expenses and income. May I ask why this is not done?

In the March 7, 1974 issue of The Republican, Mrs. Jacob Oester had a letter condoning this project. If she and the few others were to see the proven picture, they may reverse their opinions or just want to slump out of the picture.

Really, Mr. Editor, won't you agree with the many other people who wish this bus system would be discontinued and just relieve the congestion.

Assembly Approves Yough Rules Delay

The General Assembly has passed legislation which could delay implementation of state regulations for the Youghiogheny River's scenic corridor.

A bill making a technical amendment to the boundary of the corridor was passed last week after Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden and Senator Edward J. Mason succeeded in putting a rider on the bill to push the regulation deadline up to January 31, 1977.

While the provision does not require the Department of Natural Resources to wait until next January before imposing the regulations, Del. Bolden said he believes the department will wait a while before putting the regulation into effect.

The effort was the latest development in the dispute between Yough property owners and the DNR concerning regulations.

A second DNR hearing on the rules was held in Annapolis last Thursday with some 25 persons attending, more than half of them from Garrett county.

Because the legislature added the Youghiogheny to the state Wild and Scenic Rivers act, the DNR must now come up with regulations controlling development of the scenic corridor portion of the river.

The State was proposing to place restrictions on land within the corridor without paying the easements or making any other reimbursement to the property owners. Land owners are arguing that it is unfair to have their property regulated without the state paying them any compensation.

Warren Rich, deputy attorney general, who works with the DNR, said that the deadline extension should be an advantage to everyone concerned.

At Thursday's hearing George C. Edwards, chairman of the local County Commissioners, read a statement asking the state to consider repealing the law which added the Youghiogheny to the Wild and Scenic Rivers act.

Mr. Edwards later said the commissioners were attempting to look after the property owners' interests in the scenic corridor area and because the regulations are so strict, the commissioners are opposed to the rules proposal.

He said he hoped the regulations would be delayed and that the DNR would meet with the property owners, county commissioners and other county officials in an attempt to come up with at least a compromise.

Others attending the hearing included George Bishoff, member of the local Youghiogheny Advisory board and representative of Soil Conservation District; Nevin Umbel, member of the local board; and Col. C. Richard Browning, president of the Youghiogheny Property Owners' association.

Several groups in favor of the regulations spoke, including Trout Unlimited, Inc., Sierra club and the Citizens Coalition for the Youghiogheny. They all said they would like to see even more stringent regulations for the corridor area but they admitted the state has an obligation to compensate owners of affected property.

Another hearing is scheduled by the federal bureau of outdoor recreation to be held at Northern High school, Accident, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Clipping Coupons Pays Off in 4-H Consumer Education

CHICAGO—Clipping "cents off" coupons from magazines and newspapers really paid off last year for 4-H'er Sara Buff, 18, of Monroe, N.C.

Although her mother's initial reaction was "Is it worth all the clutter!" Sara became an expert at stretching the dollar. But her biggest reward was an $800 college scholarship presented by Montgomery Ward & Co.

Montgomery Ward is donor of awards in the national 4-H consumer education program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and Sara was one of six national scholarship winners last year.

"Cents off" coupons can help stretch shrinking dollars. So can comparative shopping and many other practical consumer skills taught in the national 4-H consumer education program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. And 4-H members 9-19 can earn awards ranging from college scholarships to medals of honor donated by Montgomery Ward & Co.

Shopping for best buys

Other winners also were smart consumers. They comparison shopped to get the best quality for the lowest price, examined hang tags and labels, learned that a store brand can often be more economical—and just as satisfactory—as a national name brand, and studied the "fine print" in warranties.

These are only a few of the practical projects and activities undertaken by more than four million young people in the 4-H consumer education program. Through learning by doing, 4-H members 9-19 discover how personal values, goals and available resources affect their behavior as consumers. And they become aware that consumerism is a two-way street, with both consumer and business having rights and responsibilities.

Winning recognition

In addition to scholarships, 4-H'ers can earn medals of honor and expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress. Up to four medals are awarded in each county, and a trip to Congress to one winner in each state.

1976 scholarship recipients will be announced at the 55th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2 in Chicago.

All winners are selected by the Extension Service. Awards are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

More information on the 4-H consumer education program is available from county extension agents.

PRESIDENT — NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

I AM THE NATION

"I was born on July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is my birth certificate. The bloodlines of the world run in my veins, because I offered freedom to the oppressed. I am many things, and many people. I am the nation.

I am 213 million living souls — and the ghost of millions who have lived and died for me.

I am Nathan Hale and Paul Revere. I stood at Lexington and fired the shot heard around the world. I am Washington, Jefferson and Patrick Henry. I am John Paul Jones, the Green Mountain Boys and Davy Crockett. I am Lee and Grant and Abe Lincoln.

I remember the Alamo, the Maine and Pearl Harbor. When freedom called I answered and stayed until it was over, over there. I left my heroic dead in Flanders Fields, on the rock of Corregidor, on the bleak slopes of Korea and in the steaming jungle of Vietnam.

I am the Brooklyn Bridge, the wheat lands of Kansas and the granite hills of Vermont. I am the coal fields of the Virginias and Pennsylvania, the fertile lands of the West, the Golden Gate and the Grand Canyon. I am Independence Hall, the Monitor and the Merrimac.

I am big. I sprawl from the Atlantic to the Pacific . . . My arms reach out to embrace Alaska and Hawaii . . . 3 million square miles throbbing with industry. I am more than 5 million farms. I am forst, field, mountain and desert. I am quiet villages — and cities that never sleep.

You can look at me and see Ben Franklin walking down the streets of Philadelphia with his bread loaf under his arm. You can see Betsy Ross with her needle. You can see the lights of Christmas, and hear the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" as the calendar turns.

I am Babe Ruth and the World Series. I am 110,000 schools and colleges, and 330,000 churches where my people worship the living God. I am a ballot dropped in a box, the roar of a crowd in a stadium and the voice of a choir in a cathedral. I am an editorial in a newspaper and a letter to a Congressman.

I am Eli Whitney and Stephen Foster. I am Thomas Edison, Albert Einstein and Billy Graham. I am Horace Greeley, Will Rogers and the Wright Brothers. I am George Washington Carver and Jonas Salk.

I am Longfellow, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Walt Whitman and Thomas Paine.

Yes, I am the nation, and these are my component parts. I was conceived in freedom and, God willing, in freedom I will spend the rest of my days.

May I possess always the integrity, the courage and the strength to keep myself unshackeled, to remain a citadel of freedom and a beacon of hope to the world.

This is my wish, my goal, my prayer in this year of 1976 — two hundred years after I was born."

The touching story you have just read, "I AM THE NATION," was originally published by Norfolk & Western Railroad in 1955 and was recently updated and republished by that private enterprise Company to help celebrate the Nation's Bicentennial.

Washington Report

by
Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-MD) on April 5 introduced a bill in the Senate that would make illegal the knowing disclosure of intelligence personnel and operations by current or former employees of the U. S. intelligence community. Beall cites the need for the legislation on recent disclosures of intelligence information. "In some cases," says Beall, "criticism of the intelligence community was deserved and healthy in a free and democratic society, but there are limits beyond which criticism becomes shrill and destructive."

Beall says that he is not defending abuses of the overseas intelligence community with his proposed legislation, but says that the deliberate disclosure of confidential information can seriously jeopardize national security. "There is a very important place for confidentiality in our national security system," says Beall. "We can no longer tolerate, with legal impunity, the despicable conduct of organizations such as the 'Fifth Estate' and its publication of Counterspy. The murder of CIA Station Chief Richard Welch late last year was a tragic but entirely predictable outcome of such irresponsible disclosures."

The Maryland Senator says that, in spite of Welch's murder and "despite the widespread editorial condemnation of this type of malicious public disclosure, some self-righteous zealots continue, to this day, their efforts to destroy intelligence operations by disclosing the identity of our overseas personnel." Beall pointed to the recent edition of Counterspy magazine which claims to disclose the identity of the CIA Station Chiefs and personnel serving in seven countries. "This type of conduct simply cannot be allowed to continue," says Beall. "I do not believe that the First Amendment covers such conduct. Disclosing confidential information about foreign intelligence operations and agents can place in jeopardy the security of our nation and its 215 million people."

Beall is calling for the prompt enactment of his bill which would make illegal the knowing disclosure of intelligence personnel and operations by current and former employees of the Central Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency and other components of the intelligence community. Under the measure, violations would carry a maximum penalty of $15,000 or 15 years imprisonment or both.

"We live in a far too dangerous era for us to dismantle or cripple our foreign intelligence apparatus," says Beall. "We must instead correct its faults as quickly as possible so that it can once again devote all of its attention to gathering the type of information our decision-makers need to shape our foreign and military policies."

Retreat From Liberalism

Can a politically liberal leopard change his spots? The ultimate test of that question may come during this election year when, it seems, the common sense views of the American people finally appear to be filtering through Washington.

A plurality of Americans — 43 percent in a recent Lou Harris poll — say they want the country to turn in a more conservative direction. And they have backed up their views in the early presidential primaries, where the hopes of liberal lights such as Fred Harris, Birch Bayh and Sargent Shriver have quickly been extinguished.

Morris Udall, the leading liberal still actively in the race, has seen the writing on the wall. Thus, in a recent huddle with news men in Wisconsin, Udall declared he is no longer a "liberal." And don't bother him with the facts, which include 15 years of voting in Congress for a bloated federal bureaucracy, weak defense, and unworkable social schemes.

Other liberals on the sidelines are becoming nervous over this sleight of hand. Rep. John Conyers (D-Mich.), in a March 28 speech in Western Pennsylvania, warned against the "new conservatism" flooding the Democratic Party. According to a news release from Conyers' office, he warned liberals that they had better "confront the new faddish conservatism of the three A's — Austerity, Arrogance and Apathy — before it completely innundates the Democratic Party."

Political conservatives, naturally, are positively chortling over such liberal uneasiness. "Liberals," declares House Minority Leader John Rhodes (R-Ariz.) in a recent newsletter, "this year are trying to pull off the greatest act of piracy since the infamous Blackbeard. Suddenly, they are trying to appear as devoted disciples of reduced Federal spending and decentralized government.... Ultraliberals, after four decades of deficit spending and agency building, now claim they actually are dead set against that kind of government."

We would be the first to applaud such a conversion — if it was for real. But we fear that the liberal leopard in this political year might not really be a leopard — but a wolf in sheep's clothing. — U. S. Press Association.

Vocational Survey

Jack Lear, vocational guidance counselor, is in the process of pooling the area's job resources into a "bank." Mr. Lear hopes to "reach into the community" and bring speakers into the school to discuss their various occupations or hobbies.

Mr. Lear noted that this program is a "take off" from the "Career Day" conducted last fall. "Another option," he said, "would allow students to visit the resource person at his job."

"Teachers were surveyed about people they know who might be willing to talk on appointment to classes or individual students. Parents were asked to respond to questionnaires about their interests and jobs," Mr. Lear said. "This information will be compiles into a 'catalog' which would be open for student and teacher use."

Hopefully, Mr. Lear will begin this program later this spring, but the "bank" will operate "full swing" next fall.

Frostburg Woman Lands Big Trout

A Frostburg woman hooked into a big trout in the Savage River dam recently, and had to battle the fish for nearly 20 minutes before she could land it.

Mrs. Ruth L. Stewart, Frostburg, plans to have her 27½ inch, 6½ pound brown trout mounted. She was using night crawlers for bait.

Eleven Killed On State Roads

Eleven persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed seven were drivers, three were passengers and one was a pedestrian. At least two of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Studies have been made, papers written, federal programs established and some light has been shed upon the enigma of the single-car accident, Lt. Heiger said.

It has been disclosed that:

Blood alcohol levels are higher in drivers involved in nighttime rather than daytime crashes, and somewhat higher on weekends than on week days.

BAC's are higher among drivers involved in single-car crashes than among those in two-car crashes, with 53 percent of the drivers killed in single-car crashes having a BAC in excess of .15.

At higher blood alcohol levels, driver speed is increased.

The percentage of single-vehicle accidents is much higher among heavier (higher BAC) drinkers, but single-car crashes, in addition to showing alcohol involvement, are clearly age-related, with youthful drivers being implicated.

Persons killed through April 4 totaled 118 compared to 169 for the same period last year.

Final Lenten Service To Be At Deer Park

The final one in a series of Community Lenten Services will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park, next Wednesday evening, April 14th, beginning at 7:30. Arranged by the pastors of seven Oakland area churches, the Lenten services have been held in a different church on Wednesday evenings since the beginning of Lent. Theme of the preaching for the services is based "The Fruit of The Spirit" as set forth by St. Paul in the Epistle to the Galatians.

Guest preacher for next Wednesday will be Dr. Lawrence Sherwood of St. Paul's United Methodist church, Oakland. His theme from the "Fruit of The Spirit" passage will be Gentleness and Self-Control.

This year the offerings will be given to the CROP agency of the Church World Service to assist in the fight against world hunger.

"Con Artists" Are Topic

The Grantsville Lions club met Thursday, April 1, at Hill Top Inn. Lion Stanley Finzel, who was in charge of the program, had as guest speaker Corporal Dick Alderton, criminal investigator from the Maryland State Police. Cpl. Alderton spoke about "con artists" who cheat people by use of talk and high pressure salesmanship. Barn painting, blacktopping of driveways, and selling of magazines and books are some of the rackets. Cpl. Alderton advised that the best protection is to refuse to allow such salesmen into homes or to buy anything from them. He also advised that citizens should get license plate numbers and descriptions of such vehicles and report them to the state police.

Governor Mandel Prolcaims Maryland Arbor Day

Arbor Day was marked in Maryland this year on April 7, according to a proclamation issued by Governor Marvin Mandel.

This year marked the 104th observance of the day in the Nation and the 70th anniversary of the Maryland Forest Service. Arbor Day calls attention to the forests of Maryland, the state's most valuable renewable and recyclable resource. Forests provide timber for industry, habitat for wildlife, watershed protection, clean air, improved water quality, recreational opportunities and aesthetic beauty.

The Maryland Forest Service was created in 1906 when John and Robert Garrett gave the state nearly 2,000 acres of woodland in Garrett County for use as a demonstration of forest management. An agency of the Department of Natural Resources, the Maryland Forest Service observes Arbor Day by taking part in ceremonies through out the State. In this Bicentennial year, the Forest Service is giving every school student in Maryland a pine seedling to commemorate the seventieth birthday of the Forest Service and Arbor Day. The Maryland Board of Education is cooperating with the Forest Service in the distribution of the seedlings to the schools.

On hand when Governor Mandel proclaimed Arbor Day were Adna R. Bond, Director of the Maryland Forest Service, Thomas Ober, President of the State Association of District Forest Conservancy Boards and Experana Largent, fifth grader at Tyler Heights Elementary School and the recipient of the first pine seedling presented to students across the State. Experana is the daughter of Helen Largent, Department of Natural Resources Library Assistant.

May Fellowship Day Is May 7th

May Fellowship Day will be observed by Church Women United on Friday, May 7, at St. John's Lutheran church, Red House, it was announced by Mrs. Gerald Eddy, chairman.

Registration will begin at 11 with the morning session beginning at 11:15 with Mrs. Eddy in charge. A luncheon is scheduled at 12:15 with reservations to be sent to Mrs. Lee Shaffer or Mrs. Keith Stahl.

Afternoon service and dedication is scheduled for 1:15, the same time as Protestant, Catholic and orthodox women in 2,000 other units across the country participating.

Church Women United in Oakland will continue the tradition established in 1933 of worshipping together. In this Bicentennial year May Fellowship Day celebrates "Valiant Women" in the life of the nation. Special tribute will be paid to women like Anne Hutchinson, Abigail Adams. The message during the service will highlight valiant women of this community.

Reception of the Least Coin (the penny) will also be observed and dedicated. Mrs. Charlotte Mousch is chairman.

"You Have Tried the Rest Now Vote For the Best"

You know that the Panama Canal is our property. It was constructed and paid for by American Citizens. You may also know that we have among us people who want to give our Panama Canal away to an unfriendly nation, so it will be under foreign control in the near future.

Do you care to know which of our duly elected Representatives in Congress voted for more steps to be taken to turn our Panama Canal over to this unfriendly nation?

212 voted for the give-away, 20 did not bother to vote at all.

63 Senators voted to reduce our already inadequate defenses further. 22 did not bother to vote at all on this important treaty. These missiles are ready and in place. The installation of them is complete and was paid for by the citizens of the United States. What do you think their real reason for voting the way they did was???

The two examples stated are just a sampling of what goes on all the time in our Congress. Our hard earned money is constantly given away. The wars we were involved in were not won.

Why is our Navy built down while the Communists increase their navy at a fast rate?

Can American citizens not see that there must be a conspiracy going on to eventually overpower us and force us in the long planned One World Government?

Have these and many other incidents been an unsolved mystery to you? Write for information packet. Get the startling facts about who the real world planners are. Who is manipulating our Government into a Communistic State of an atheistic one world government. These facts may save you and your family. One dollar for postage and handling will be greatly appreciated. Refer to this ad for prompter processing. Address all correspondence to:

A piece of the energy puzzle.

The natural gas shortage is costing more than just higher gas bills.

First of all, let's not kid ourselves that the natural gas shortage isn't for real. It is very real.

And yes, we all know that gas bills are going up.

But the gas shortage has a price that doesn't show up on our gas bills. It's the cost of curtailment — rationing — of natural gas.

In 1975, U.S. industry couldn't get all the gas it needed. Companies that could afford to, switched to alternate fuels — at a cost of nearly three billion dollars more than their gas bill would have been! And who pays for that extra cost? All of us do. In the cost of the products those firms make.

And when companies cut back or shut down because they can't afford the cost of going to alternate fuels, there's an even higher price to pay. Lost jobs.

Higher product prices and higher unemployment.

They don't show up on the gas bill.

But they're a real cost of the gas shortage.

Column For Homemakers

To The Market Place — Try Sharing

Cooperative efforts — a real sharing concept — may be one of the answers to the battle of reducing the family food bill, according to Dr. Evelyn Johnson, Extension Service nutritionist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The idea is for consumers to "pool" all their efforts to save time, labor, and money in the market place. This is not a new concept — it's just a method of reducing the problems by putting them in a new vehicle called "pooling".

"Pooling" to the market place is not unlike the idea of car pooling to the office . . . it's sharing a vehicle to get where you need to go with a minimum of time, labor and money. Pooling to the grocery store allows an inter-change of ideas along the way to benefit consumers. It's not unlike the habits of our forefathers who frequently hauled food stuffs and dry goods together — or for each other when they went to the "general store" in town. They had to plan ahead because they didn't have the array of modern appliances and conveniences we have today.

"Pooling" to the grocery store will give you a chance to share ideas for nutritious menus and "good buys". You can swap those money-saving coupons you've clipped — and maybe wouldn't use. Remember, there's no bargain in purchasing something with "cents off" if you're not going to use it, Dr. Johnson warns. But — maybe your coupons can be used by your neighbors. Tired of the same old menus? Your neighbors may have old family recipes to exchange with you according to Dr. Johnson.

Do you do a lot of impulse buying? Maybe with your neighbor you can curb this habit — you might want to buy in "family lots" and share a carton-saving price on some items . . . maybe (when practical) even buy "by the dozens". Perhaps the lettuce is three for a dollar this week . . . you don't need three? . . . but, your "pool members" might each need one and want to share in the bargain. If paper products are a good buy — get a case. It's easy to split the cost.

Bicentennial days remind us of the togetherness homemakers enjoyed when they prepared foods for their socials. It was a time for eating — and getting together. Times really haven't changed that much — though some of us have forgotten the concept. Maybe we're missing something. With cooperative efforts, we may bring back togetherness and recoup some of our spending in time, labor and money in the nearest market place.

Byron Lists Key Issues

Congressman Goodloe Byron believes that excessive government spending and higher taxes are the key issues on minds of citizens this year.

He based his opinion on the results of his recent questionnaire. He said there is an "increasing awareness of the nation's financial problems coupled with a concern toward embarking on new and costly federal programs."

He said large majorities opposed a national health insurance program financed by higher social security taxes and that people wanted the federal government to live within a balanced budget.

Woman Satisfactory After Accident

One woman was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Garrett County Memorial hospital following an accident on U.S. 219 north of Oakland.

Admitted to the hospital was Mrs. Patience Harmon, Davis, W. Va. Her husband, Harper Harmon, was treated and released. Their automobile was struck by a county roads truck driven by Stephen Lewis.

Lewis has been charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision by Tfc. E. J. Upole, of the State Police. Both vehicles were headed north with Harmon slowing to make a turn when Lewis struck the rear of the car. Oakland firemen were called to the scene to wet down the spilled gasoline.

Mrs. Harmon was said to have facial injuries and a possible fractured left arm.

Signers were from various other churches in the county. Some 17 area businessmen also sponsored the petition, which was to be presented to the radio management this week.

County Teacher Accord Reached

The County Teachers association, representing some 300 in the school system, has reached agreement with the Board of Education on terms of the 1976-77 comprehensive contract, according to Harold Humberson, president.

Negotiators for the two parties reached tentative agreement Sunday night and will submit the package to the membership this week for ratification, Mr. Humberson said.

The school board is expected to take some action at its regular meeting today.

Submission of contract proposals covering salaries, hours and working conditions by GCTA was made in January following a tabulation of a questionnaire sent all teachers. Agreement was reached after 12 bargaining sessions, it was reported.

Details of the contract are to be released following the general meeting.

Dramatic Rescue In "Guideposts"

The April issue of "Guideposts," practical guide to successful living, published by Norman Vincent Peale, carries the story of the dramatic rescue of Richard Bouchard of Washington, D. C., at Swallow Falls on Memorial Day weekend of 1975.

The account was written by Donald G. Shaffer, Somerset, Pa., a volunteer scuba diver for the Somerset fire department, who responded to a call for assistance from Maryland authorities.

The boy, 10, had been wading with his father above the second falls. The boy was scooped up by the raging current and swept over the falls into a whirlpool some 40 feet deep. The boy had come up under the falls on a narrow ledge where he stayed until rescued by Mr. Shaffer, assisted by other Scuba divers and volunteer searchers. The article is accompanied by a photo of the high water at Swallow Falls in the Youghiogheny river, some ten miles from Oakland.

Social Security Report For 1975 Due By April 15

People under 72 who earned over $2,520 and got one or more monthly social security retirement, dependent, or survivors checks in 1975 must submit an annual report of their earnings to social security by April 15, according to James E. Robertson, Social Security Administration District Manager in Cumberland.

The report will show how much was earned in wages and self-employment income last year by people who got monthly social security payments — as well as how much they expect to earn this year.

"The report will be used to determine if people were paid the correct amount of social security benefits for 1975," Mr. Robertson said. "It will also be used to adjust their monthly 1976 social security payments according to their estimated earnings."

Full social security benefits could be paid to eligible people in 1975 if they earned $2,520 or less for the year. But no matter how much they earned for the year, they could be paid their full social security benefits for any month they earned $210 or less and didn't do substantial work in their own business.

The figures for 1976 are $2,760 for the year and $230 a month.

People who were 72 or over in all months of 1975 don't need to file an annual report of their earnings.

Here was the symbol of torture and death . . . during the Roman Empire . . . until that Friday when they crucified a Galilean carpenter.

Then it became the symbol of God's love . . because the Son of God had died for the sins of mankind.

Except for that one fact there is no more reason to revere the Cross than there is to revere the guillotine, the electric chair, the gas chamber.

And there is no law, no police power, no military force that requires millions of families to remember the Cross and worship the One crucified.

The deepest meaning of this Lenten Season is that Christian believers voluntarily respond to the Sacrifice of Jesus Christ. This Act of Love that changed the destiny of humanity . . . it's in your hands now . . .

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BARABBAS CHOICE

Lesson for April 11, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 26 through 27

If you go to Jerusalem today, they will show where it is believed that Jesus stood with Pilate before the crowd. Called "The Pavement," it is the place where people of the Holy City made a fateful choice for Barabbas in place of Jesus.

Rev. Althouse

I have stood on that spot and closed my eyes so that in my imagination, I might see those sights and hear those sounds. I have reassured myself that I would not have been found among those who rejected the kingship of Jesus and bestowed pardon on a murderer and robber!

Yet, who knows what one would do in certain circumstances? It is so easy to make the right choice—after almost two thousand years of hindsight!

"Whom do you want..?"

The picture we get of Pilate is a familiar one. He might be a public official today. He has an obvious sympathy for Jesus and seems desirous of letting him go, but he is too much the politician to let himself be guided by these inclinations. He is reluctant to make a choice and shifts it over on to the crowd.

Without realizing it, Pilate makes a choice for Barabbas: instead of letting his sense of right and wrong guide him, he "plays it safe" and puts Jesus' life in the hands of the emotional crowd.

Pilate's behaviour is not so different from the actions of people in our world today. They are inclined to do the right things, but they are too fearful or too ambitious to make the right choices. They make the choice that is likely to do them the most good or cause them the least trouble. Thus, the Barabbas choice is often the choice we make to save our own skins at the expense of our souls. It is the choice of the opportunist, the coward, and the man who "didn't mean any harm."

What to do with Christ?

So Pilate makes his Barabbas choice and so does the crowd. And their choice is somewhat different from Pilate's. They must choose between the man who taught that love is the measure of all things and a man who fervently believed that only armed insurrection could meet their needs.

In retrospect it seems to us an easy choice—it usually is in retrospect! But today when we are faced with that choice, we are as likely to choose wrongly as they did. In church on a Sunday morning we read this incident and are incredulous, but throughout the remainder of the week as we are confronted with choices for either Christ or Barabbas, we approach them with the same insensitivity that influenced the crowd that day in Jerusalem. We choose violence and coercion, injustice and political gain, prejudice and cynicism, little realizing that in doing so we are rejecting the kingship of Christ and choosing Barabbas instead.

IDAHO

The popular name for Idaho is the "Gem State." Mountain bluebird is the state bird. Mock orange blossom is the state flower. There are great forests there, many of them white pine which is the state tree.

Boise is the capital and largest city. Governor is Cecil D. Andrews, a Democrat. Population is 799,000. Mormons make up the largest single religious group.

Exploration of the Idaho area began with Lewis and Clark in 1805. Next came fur traders, setting up posts, then came missionaries establishing missions. Mormons made their first permanent settlement at Franklin.

Indians lived this region 10,000 years ago. Cataldo mission is oldest building still standing. It was one of the missions built by religious groups during the 1800s.

Idaho's gold rush began in 1860. Thousands of miners poured into the region to strike it rich. Farmers, cattlemen and ranchers followed. As the mines were worked out many miners moved but farmers, cattlemen and ranchers became permanent settlers. Idaho became a state in 1890. It is a rocky mountain state with exciting scenery and enormous natural resources. It has towering snow-capped mountain ranges, swirling white rapids, peaceful lakes and steep canyons.

Hell's canyon, deepest in the U. S. is on Snake river. It is ten miles from rim to rim at widest point, and has an average depth of one mile. Evil Knievel attempted a jump over the Snake River with his motorcycle in 1975.

Idaho is nation's leading potato producer, growing about 80 million cwt annually. It ranks high in sugar beets, barley, wheat, hops and apples. It also ranks high in wool production. It still leads nation in production of silver, ranks high in lead, antimony, cobalt, garnet, phosphate rock, zinc and mercury.

With thirty-nine percent of its area in forest, Idaho produces much lumber, the world's largest white pine mill is at Lewiston. The state offers excellent hunting and fishing. Lake Pend Oreille, which has 111 miles of shoreline, is home of world's largest trout.

Electricity from atomic energy was generated for first time at laboratory near Idaho Falls in 1951. Nez Perce national historic park in Northern Idaho included many sites visited by Lewis and Clark expedition. State's historic museum in Boise has displays of early Idaho Indian life, fur trade, mining, farm and pioneer mementos. Ghost towns are reminders of early mining days. There are nine institutions of higher education there.

Famous people include William E. Borah, Fred T. Dubois, Chief Joseph and Sacajaurea, girl guide for Lewis and Clark.

Illinois will be next state in this series.

Bradford The Governor Part II

Food was quite a problem for the new colony of Plymouth and its governor. Expeditions were sent out to purchase food from the Indians southward at the Cape. These men were not fishermen, so they failed to get from adjacent waters the abundant fish which could have made such a fine diet. A Virginia captain named Jones came with a supply of food, but at such exorbitant prices that no one could pay.

However, the harvest of 1621 was bountiful, with "a peck a meal a week to a person," at least for a short period, plus waterfowl and turkeys, so a Thanksgiving feast was held on October 3. The day selected was from a custom of Holland, celebrating Leyden's deliverance from Spain. The Indians were guests with a welcome gift of five deer, for 90 braves was no small number to be fed.

Building houses of wattle and daub, as well as a timber fort, with mounted guns, was the other necessity of the group during their first year. Each one farmed under a type of communistic sharing of food, and no one was allowed to shirk his duties. The Indian Squanto became Bradford's aide and general liaison, but he and another Indian helper, Hobomok, developed differences. Only by finesse did Bradford delay the surrender of Squanto to Massasoits braves when this helper had tried to make himself as important as the neighboring chief.

Governor Bradford had several outstanding problems; perhaps the most urgent was his handling of the patent to Plymouth Plantation. This had been issued in his name. From the beginning, the settlers were obliged to place all material gains, even crops, in a common till. They sent to England traded furs and their sawed timber; in return they were to receive other provisions for living in the colony. The London financiers, mostly merchants who had paid for the voyage were eager to have more grants of land made. Bradford's authority was challenged, so he promptly presented to a meeting the story of the first hardships, and offered to surrender the patent to protect older settlers and allow new ones. This broke up the religious-governmental community and shattered the idea of Christian fellowship (saints) rather than a mixture of saints and strangers (non-believers). The people accepted his offer, thus taking away much of his power and wealth from the landholdings, but it bound the entire community.

Allerton was also his problem. The former manipulated funds to be sent to the British fiananciers and consequently piled up debts for the colonists, termed the Plymouth undertakers. Allerton failed to produce a royal sanction for the patent, and to gain funds, Bradford was forced to sell his farm when a claim was entered in the courts. It seems that the autonomy of Plymouth, as opposed to the later settlement of Massachusetts Bay, was constantly threatened in actions across the sea. In 1627, however, each settler was granted land, an impetus to work for his own family. Finally the colony's debts to creditors were paid in return for trading rights with the Indians. Now several trading posts were established.

The French added to the danger by slowly filtering south to overcome the English settlements. At Penobscot, Maine, where a new community had been established, the beaver trading post was attacked by the French, who managed to use the guns of the servants there against themselves by trickery. The French were dispelled, but only after the English soldiers had been sent from Plymouth.

Through the annals from 1630 to 1650, Bradford consistently depicted courage in his thoughts, but courage coupled with hope in Divine Providence. He was elected thirty times, serving every year as governor from 1621 to 1656, except for five years when he insisted upon being relieved.

Of Plimoth Plantation reveals the beginnings of our concepts of representation, and participation in, local government according to the wishes of the people. It is known for its rhythms and language, but also for that same sentiment that must ring through our bicentennial year: "So the light here kindled hath shown to many, yea in some sorte to our whole nation."

Ambulance Service Organized March 29

David Burdock, Kitzmiller, was elected president of the Elk District Ambulance service wich was organized March 29 at the Elk Garden fire hall. The new organization is called Elk District Ambulance Service.

Mr. Burdock said the organization has submitted an application for a new ambulance to the Mineral County Commission, and donations for purchasing of equipment are being solicited in the area.

Other officers are Robert Lyons, vice president; Charlotte Dunithan, secretary, and Mabel Hanisch, treasurer.

Discussion was held concerning charges for the services, and the group hopes a subscription basis can be worked out, possibly $15 per family per year which would include transportation to either Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser or Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland.

The area to be served includes Elk Garden, Oakmont, Emoryville, Hartmansville, Pinnacle Road, Cross and Nethken in Mineral County; and Kitzmiller, Shallmar and Blaine in this county.

Information regarding training classes will be available at a meeting in the near future.

Oil imports from the Arabs was said increasing.

Garrett County Elementary Schools

By Dayle Dabney
And Dorothy Leighton
League of Women Voters

Kindergarten and elementary schools try to teach students basic skills of learning in a way that contributes to their physical and emotional well-being and their later success in learning and in living.

In Garrett County in 1976, 15 schools include elementary school students in various combinations of grade levels. Future plans, however, call for elementary schools of grades K-5, middle schools of grades 6-8, and high schools of grades 9-12.

Garrett County provides full day kindergarten rather than the half day program offered in other counties because of the complexity of the bus transportation. Children who become 5 years of age on or before December 31 of a particular year may enter kindergarten that year, but are not required to enter. Children who become 6 years of age on or before August 31 of a particular year must enter kindergarten or first grade that year. It has been estimated that approximately 90 % of those children eligible attend kindergarten. While the state does not require students to attend kindergarten and some children do not, the school system tries to implement a program relevant to the needs of each child in the first grade.

As of this year, early indentification of learning disabilities through testing is mandated by state law. This screening device is administered in kindergarten for assessment purposes so that programs can be developed to try to correct specific learning disabilities.

The Title I program offers a federally funded program of compensatory education to Garrett County schools having a certain percentage of students in grades K-3 who meet federal criteria for educational and economic needs. In 1974-75, 489 children in grades K-3 received benefits from this program. This figure was approximately 8-9% of the total school population 5,727 or 25 % of the K-3 population. Approximately $306,000 was federally appropriated for this extensive program in Garrett County for the year 1974-75.

For children with special needs in the elementary schools, several programs are available at the present time. In 1974-75, Garrett County employed two reading resource teachers to service the special reading needs of elementary students. A specific program for gifted children does not exist at this time, although according to the Board of Education of Garrett County a program has been written and presented to the Maryland State Department of Education.

In 1974-75, Garrett County employed two speech therapists serving about 160 children who were selected through individual student diagnosis. Provisions are made through the state school for the deaf and blind at Frederick, Maryland, for those children so handicapped.

Public School Law 13.04.01.01 mandates that programs be established for all children handicapped either physically or mentally providing them with education from birth to age 20. The Title III federal grant presently assisting Garrett County in education of the handicapped will be completely phased out by 1977-78. Unless the state legislature provides additional funds for this program, local monies will have to be used for this purpose. At the present time only 116 of the 632 Garrett County children identified as needing these mandated services are receiving them; 516 students are not receiving the type of education required. A 5 year plan for compliance has been developed.

Evaluation of the elementary school program is done through the accountability program.

Additional information and material on student rights, accountability, and other subjects relating to elementary schools will be found in other articles and in the informational booklet published by the League of Women Voters of Garrett County. Source materials will be on file at the Ruth Enlow Library.

Northern County Has Three Mishaps

Three accidents were noted in the northern part of the county last week, with two at Keyser Ridge. No injuries were noted.

A New York man missed the U.S. 40-219 intersection in heavy fog, crossed Rt. 40 and struck the guard rail head-on. Donald J. Dwaileebe, Allegany, apparently escaped injury but was charged with operating on expired registration by Tfc. L. R. Rosage. The man had been driving north on Rt. 219 about 10:35 last Tuesday morning.

Carl J. DeWitt, RD 1, Oakland, traveling east on U.S. 40 Saturday afternoon, crossed the road to the left shoulder and struck the guard rail. The accident occurred about one-tenth mile west of Keyser Ridge and Trooper Ronald Georg charged him with operating while ability was impaired by alcohol.

An Accident man was charged with leaving the scene of a vehicle damage mishap late last Friday afternoon in Accident. The car of Linda C. Younkin, RD 2, Accident, was parked on the southbound shoulder facing north. Stanley R. Fazenbaker, also of RD 2, Accident, traveling south on U.S. 219 just north of W. Friend street, struck the side of the Younkin car. Tfc. G. A. Berkebile investigated and made the charge.

Another Friday afternoon mishap occurred on the Old Oakland-Deer Park road just east of Pysell Crosscut road. John W. True, Rt. 38, Kitzmiller was headed east, lost control of his car on a curve, crossed the center line of the road and struck the oncoming car of George F. Ahern, RD 1, Oakland, traveling west. Tfc. G. D Broadwater charged True with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

A common rear-end collision occurred at the intersection of Md. 135 and Old 135, also last Friday afternoon. Ruth F. Mayfield, RD 1, Swanton, stopped at a 'stop' sign waiting for traffic to clear and was struck by a car driven by Mildred E. Friend RD 5, Oakland. Cpl. R. S. Friend charged Mildred Friend with failing to reduce speed.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

How did you plan to vote on the upcoming foreign aid bill?

I will vote against the foreign aid measure. I don't understand how we can still be playing the game of dollar diplomacy when citizens are telling us to cut back spending, balance the budget and hold down inflation. The funds would be better used to begin paying off our huge national debt. Since 1946, the people of the United States have given over $172-billion in loans and grants to foreign countries and I think it is time we take a long, hard look at the rationale for the overall program.

What is your position on increasing the outside earnings limitation for Social Security recipients?

I can see from letters sent my office, the difficulties the present low-level earning limitation causes for citizens who depend on social security payments to survive. As a result, I introduced legislation last year to raise the amount of outside income a social security recipient may earn and still receive benefits.

Does your office have any more copies of the "Guide to Federal Consumer Service"?

My office still has a limited number of copies of this booklet. The 1976 edition has the answers to such questions as: What are the Federal Government's benefits and services for consumers? Which Federal Department or Agency can help me? and How do I obtain service? Interested citizens need only write my office in Washington for a personal copy of the guide.

Would you mind using your weekly column to urge employers to contact their local Employment Security Office when they have job openings?

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. I recently had a very heated argument with my wife about "disciplining" children. I maintained that what passes for discipline is actually a system of adult rules applied unfairly to kids without any consideration for the kids, desires and understanding. Further, I said punishment is often just a way for parents to let off steam by roaring at their kids and then thrashing them. Please give me your views on this subject.

A. Of course, yelling and screaming at children is hardly discipline. They properly resent it and rebel. They would have no spirit if they didn't. Real discipline involves esteem for the child as a person. It also includes an effort to understand the youngster and patient effort to establish mutual respect. Naturally, definite standards should be set up, but the child must understand why.

Children respond to strong, quiet control when based on an intelligent approach. Parental arguments overheard by children inevitably undermine disciplinary respect.

Q. I am engaged to be married soon to a man who is divorced and the father of two children. I am becoming worried, because he frequently visits the home of his ex-wife and sees nothing wrong with it.

A. This man will have to settle for either or. Either the ex-wife or the fiancee. Of course, this is not meant to rule out the opportunity to be with his children. But he'd better be sure it is the children he is interested in. Since he still seems to care for his ex-wife, perhaps he should return to her. This possibility should be fully explored before you marry him.

Q. I am troubled with evil thoughts that creep into my mind. They make me ashamed and unhappy. What can I do about it?

A. We cannot help having such thoughts come to mind, but we certainly can keep them from controlling us. While we cannot keep the birds from flying over our heads, as the expression goes, we can keep them from building nests in our hair.

The best plan of defense is to think of yourself as acting like a judge, weighing the good and the bad. If a bad thought arises and you decide against it, you have taken power over it. Each such moral victory will build up your strength until no guilt remains. Ultimately you will have fewer evil thoughts.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mildred L. Cuppett who went to her heavenly home April 9, 1974.

Today is a day of remembrance,
And a day of sad regrets.
A day we will always remember
When the rest of the world forgets.
Somewhere above this troubled world,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
Our loved one rests in heavenly peace,
Prepared by God for everyone there.
One thing we'd have her do . . .
Walk slowly down that heavenly way
And God grant we'll meet her there someday.

DEWCAP

When observing at night dew collects on the telescope under certain conditions. A dewcap will help prevent this. An unusual dewcap was devised by a Florida observer who used a grocery bag with the bottom cut out and the sides rolled up to make snug fit over his eight inch reflector.

Garrett Splits With Mennonite

Freshman switchhitter Steve Didik hit Eastern Mennonite pitcher Saturday by driving home four runs on five singles to lead an 11 to 5 first game romp over the Royals at Harrisonburg, Va., before the Lakers dropped the nightcap 8 to 2.

Didik, of Charleroi, Pa., picked up another single in the second game to emerge with six hits in eight trips to the plate to lift his average to .500.

The split Saturday with the Royal varsity gave the Lakers a spring record of 3-1, while overall their stand at 14-4 including last fall's schedule.

Ray Neill, another freshman, battered Royal pitchers for a double and three singles while Craig Bosley, Randy DiSimone and Gary Hribik added two hits each in the first game. Sophomore Jim Kostyak started on the mound for Garrett but was lifted for sophomore Mark Deutsch in the fourth, the latter picking up his first victory of the spring.

In the nightcap four Laker pitchers couldn't hold back the Royals at the plate as Steve Wyse plugged the Laker plate assault with a five hitter. Freshman Dave Shotwell collected two of the Laker hits in the nightcap.

A Joyous Season . . .

The Easter season should always be a joyous season. It is joyous because we celebrate the occasion when Jesus was not only crucified for the sins of all people but that he rose from the dead, making it possible for everyone to be saved for His eternal kingdom.

This particular Lenten and Easter season should have been a particular joy because of the response to the community Lenten program during this past six weeks.

There has never been anything like it in the history of Oakland where Roman Catholics and Protestants from Episcopal, Methodist, Lutheran, Church of the Brethren, and other religious bodies have combined cooperatively to enjoy classes and a rich fellowship following the brief sessions. Hoping to interest perhaps a hundred persons, there were some 250 people involved and the concensus of an evaluation study revealed that a majority of them would like for a similar program to be continued at an appropriate time next year.

There has never been such a warm feeling among the churches of the community, and had the weather cooperated the Palm Sunday service would have been an unusual and outstanding event. It ended up as an outstanding event regardless, with some 300 gathering at the Lutheran church for a brief service and a time of fellowship afterward.

This closeness now will be climaxed by Easter services in the various churches, Easter morning speaks not only of the reliability of God's promises but also of the intensity of God's love for His children. We think many of His children in the Oakland area have made a good start in the experiences of brotherhood and fellowship. May the feeling continue into the future!

Dedication Day Activities Set For New Church

St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Oakland, will dedicate its new church at 6 South Second street on Sunday, April 25, with special services to commemorate the occasion.

At the 10 o'clock a.m. Dedication Day service Pastor Emeritus William Ernest Fox will participate, and Pastor Donald McCoid will be guest preacher in his capacity as area coordinator of congregations of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia synod in this region.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock a community service will take place so that the congregation can welcome the entire community to share in the fact of the new building. Special music and remarks by community clergy will highlight this informal service. A children's program will take place simultaneously in the downstairs with the showing of film. Following the service an open house is planned for all persons of the community.

In the evening at 8 o'clock a concert will be offered at the church by the Collegium Musicum of West Virginia university. The group will provide instrumental and choral music as well as a performance of dance, according to Rev. Richard A. Seaks, pastor. A free will offering will be received at this evening service. The public is invited.

Community Good Friday Services Set at Lutheran

The community Good Friday service this year will be held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Second street, from noon until 3 o'clock.

Messages will be on the seven last words from the cross and participating will be Rev. James Remley, Mt. Lake Park United Methodist; Rev. Donald Haynes, Rev. Paul Crumley, Rev. Martin Feild, Rev. Lawrence Sherwood, Rev. John A. Grant, and Rev. Ellis Harvey. Organists will be Mrs. Donald R. Sincell, Kim Liller and Susan Eberly.

Other ministers participating will be Rev. Manning Smith, Rev. James Mitchell, Rev. William E. Carlson, Rev. Fred Illick, Rev. Gail Hixon, Rev. Richard A. Seaks.

There will be two anthems by the St. Mark's choir during the first and the last word sections. There will be solo numbers by Norma Mitchell, Courtney Tusing and Richard Ridder, and a trio by Debbie Paige, Judy Custer and Linda Rush.

A community sunrise service is also scheduled for Easter Sunday morning at Memorial Gardens, at 6:30 o'clock. Offering on Good Friday will go to CROP for work against hunger on every continent.

The services are sponsored by the Mt. Top Ministerial association.

New Curriculum Leading to Degree To Be Offered

A new Wildlife-Fisheries Management Curriculum leading to a Baccalaureate will be offered by Garrett Community College and Frostburg State College beginning in the fall of 1976, it was announced by Garrett College officials.

The program is designed to prepare a student for research and management positions with federal, state and other public and private agencies. A wildlife or fisheries manager participates in a wide range of activities, including natural history, systematics, aquatic and terrestrial ecology, population dynamics, management techniques, pollution biology and public relations.

The program is a consortium involving three academic institutions: Garrett Community College, Frostburg State College and the University of Maryland. The first two years of the wildlife-fisheries management program is designed to be taken at Garrett Community College. The final two years will be offered through the Biology Department of Frostburg State College, with the participation of the faculty of the University of Maryland's Appalachian Environmental Laboratory.

The four-year program is structured to meet the new guidelines for certification of the Wildlife Society and the American Fisheries Society, professional organizations of biologists and managers working in respective fields.

Each student entering the program will be assigned to an appropriate faculty member for counseling and guidance. Students at Garrett Community College will be assigned an advisor from the Wildlife Management Department while students at Frostburg State College will be assigned an advisor from the Appalachian Environmental Laboratory faculty.

Board Approves Special Permit For Nursing Home

The Mt. Lake Park Zoning Appeals Board has unanimously approved an application for a special zoning permit to construct a nursing home at Twelfth Street and Mary Drive near Mt. Lake Park.

Bids will probably be let on the new facility within the next two months, according to Thomas Cuppett, a partner in the new company, to be called Dennett Road Manor. Mr. Cuppett also advised that plans currently call for construction to begin this summer.

The building will house 100 patients in a one-story fireproof masonry building.

The two-dollar bill returned to circulation April 13.

A. F. S. Group At Northern Planning To Entertain Foreign Students

Plans to entertain some forty students of foreign countries are being made by the Northern High school adult chapter of American Field Service. A preliminary meeting was held March 24 at the school to discuss the details.

The students will spend a few days in northern parts of the county from Saturday, July 10, through Wednesday, July 14, as guests of the northern Chapter of ACS and local families. Completing a year in the United States the AFS scholars will be traveling by charter bus to communities around the country prior to returning to their own lands.

In the planning are a field trip to Frostburg State College for an interdenominational service on the campus and a program at the planetarium; a talent show by the exchange students; followed by a bonfire at Camp Hickory; a day at New Germany State Park; and other activities.

Persons interested in obtaining additional information or in hosting one or more of these students may contact teachers at Northern High, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Edmiston, or Sally D. Buser, Accident on or before July 1.

Greens In Good Condition For Golf Course Opening

All that is needed is warm weather to bring the 18-hole golf course at the Oakland Country Club into peak shape, says James Kreyenbuhl, pro superintendent.

The country club will officially open today, April 15, with a Ladies' Golf Association meeting April 22. The first Men's Golf Association meeting is planned Sunday, April 25.

This season, the clubhouse will be under new management, with Mrs. Jean Alexander in charge. The clubhouse and greens are open to the public.

The first Pro-Am tournament of the year will be held at Valley View Country Club, Petersburg, Monday, April 19.

The local country club course has been open unofficially since March. Mr. Kreyenbuhl noted that the mild winter had contributed to the good condition of the course, and that the addition of several drainage ditches last fall has aided in drying low-lying areas.

Oakland Rotary To Observe 50th Birthday Apr. 22

The Oakland Rotary club will observe its 50th birthday anniversary with a dinner and dance at McHenry House, Wisp resort, next Thursday, April 22. An eight-page supplement to The Republican will also call attention to the event with its fifty members.

The Oakland club was originally sponsored by the Frostburg Rotary club at a meeting held at the William-James Hotel on August 23, 1925. The first official meeting was held October 6 of that year and Dr. Henry W. McComas was elected first president. The charter was signed December 7, 1925, and presented January 28, 1926. The club also helped to organize a Rotary club at Kingwood January 21, 1926.

Dinner music will be provided by Northern High School Ensemble under direction of Gilbert Bernassoli. The second annual citizen of the year award will be presented to some active community person and the main talk will be delivered by Robert Lauver, district governor of Rotary International. President Cheston (Sonny) Browning, will preside.

Following the dinner there will be dancing with music furnished by the Southern Stage band under direction of Richard Clever.

Ballot Includes Referendum On School Board

In addition to the 78 names on the May 18 primary ballots there will be a referendum concerning the question of whether or not to initiate an elected board of education.

The question will be specific. There will be two places to mark: for an elected school board, and against an elected school board.

The Board of Supervisors of Elections announced that persons declining to state their affiliation, and normally not eligible to vote at a primary election, may do so this time, but voting only on the school board question.

They will be handed a yellow slip instead of the normal pink and white sheets, and during the time they are in the voting booth, the names of Democrats and Republicans running for office will be blocked out.

The board also noted this week that request of registration by mail would not be effective in the county office until July 1, but not before that time. The note to that effect in last week's issue was in error.

The office is open for registration from 8:30 to 4:30, Monday through Friday.

Hearing Held On Youghiogheny

Ideas were exchanged on whether a 22-mile section of the Youghiogheny river should be designated as a wild river under the Federal Wild and Scenic Act at a public hearing last Thursday night at Northern High school in Accident with some 200 persons attending.

The meeting was sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. Jack Hauptman, assistant northeast regional director for BOR, said the segment qualified as a wild river. The bureau will submit its recommendations on the river to federal and state agencies for review and a draft report is expected to be completed this summer.

By early 1977 the bureau expects to prepare a final report for the Secretary of the Interior which can be submitted to Congress and the President for consideration. The meeting was chaired by Maurice D. Arnold, director of the northeast region. The State Department of Natural Resources was represented by John Capper.

Dr. Wayne Spiggle, Cumberland, who represented the Coalition for Surface Mining, said the coalition, vigorously supports keeping the Youghiogheny as a wild river but not if it means an expense to the landowner or a reduction in the tax base of the county.

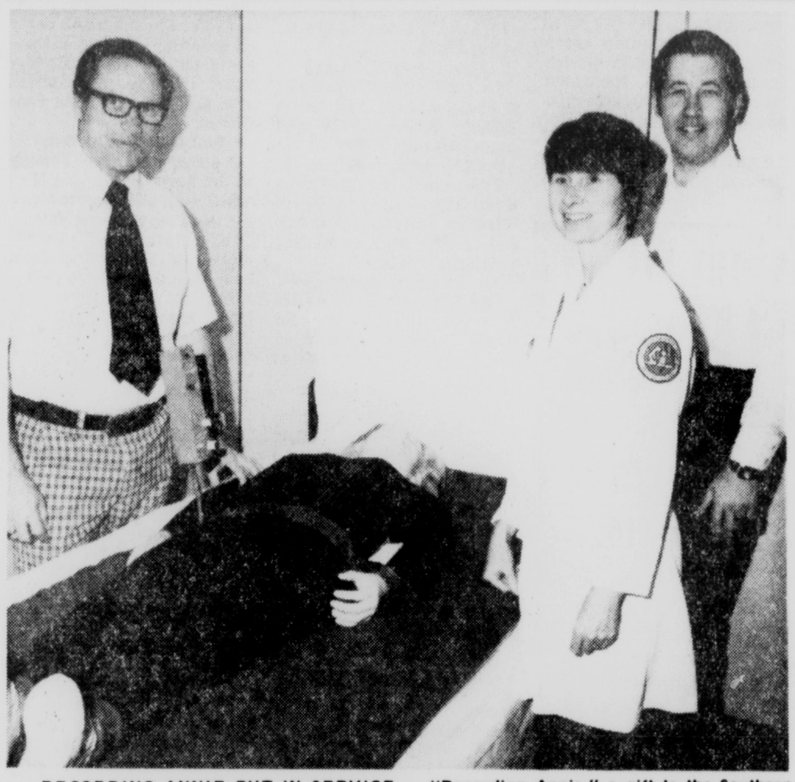
Mr. Arnold said state and federal agencies were cooperating on the issue even though they were making two separate efforts. He said their efforts would dovetail and the purpose of the public meetings was to seek advice and counsel from the citizens.

Sign Contract Award Is Given

The awarding of a Garrett County Signing contract to the Ben-Tom Corporation of Worthington, Ohio, was announced by Bernard M. Evans, state highway administrator.

The contract will involve U.S. 48, just west of Maryland 546 to the West Virginia line, a distance of 28 and one-half miles. The project will replace the temporary ground mount signs now existing on the segment of the national freeway with permanent regulatory signs, route markers, destination and mileage markers, warning signs, and school signs.

The contract will also provide for the erection of a large overhead "Welcome to Maryland" sign at the West Virginia border of the freeway. The Ben-Tom corporation submitted a low bid of $391,243 for the project.



RECORDING ANNIE PUT IN SERVICE — "Recording Annie," a gift to the Southern Rescue Squad, was recently placed in service, and will now provide a more sophisticated record of a patient's heart. The gift to the squad was made by The Browning Foodland and the Yum Yum Shoppe, which sponsored a dance last fall and raised $1,000 by the benefit. The money was given to the squad in memory of Cheston H. Browning, Jr., who died of a heart attack at the Oakland Country Club. "Recording Annie" provides a printed readout of heart compression and mouth to mouth resuscitation. In the photo, in addition to "Annie" are left to right, Thomas D. Browning, and his wife, Juanita Browning, brother and sister-in-law of Cheston, members of the rescue squad, and Brad Stewart, president.

Action Sought On Approval Of Northern School

At the regular meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education April 8, Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Assistant Superintendent in Administrative Services, reported that a meeting scheduled by the Interagency for Public School Construction had been postponed for one week and that action had not been taken to approve the construction documents for the Northern Middle School.

After discussion, the Board requested that a letter be sent by the superintendent to the Interagency indicating the need for them to act promptly and favorably to approve the project in order that the building may be put out for bids. This letter is to be followed at a later date by a letter from Herbert G. Harman, School Board President, to the Board of Public Works, asking for their assurance that the project would be funded as soon as approved by the Interagency.

The Board planned to make an inspection of the new Friendsville Elementary School with the architect on Wednesday, April 14.

The Board received a request from William Goldsborough, Paul Hoye, Winston Teats, Charles Ross, and Brad Frazee to consider renaming the Friendsville School the Friendsville Memorial School in honor of the young men who had attended the school and who were killed in action in Vietnam.

Authorization was given to proceed with building a kitchen addition onto the main building at Camp Hickory, which will have placed in it the kitchen equipment from the old Friendsville Elementary School.

The Board agreed to request of the Garrett County Commissioners, funding to move the cafeteria relocatable at the Friendsville Elementary School to the Red House School if they are unable to receive funding from the Interagency Committee for Public School Construction.

Judge Hamill Hears Four Juveniles

Four juveniles were heard by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., last Friday, with one delinquent and three in need of supervision.

A 17-year-old male was charged with being delinquent by reason of malicious destruction of property and assault with a knife. This case has been waived to Criminal Court.

An 11-year-old female was found to be in need of supervision and was ordered to be placed in the custody of the Department of Social Services for placement in a foster home.

A 14-year-old female was found to be in need in supervision by being truant from school and tardy. She was sentenced to the Montrose School for Girls until released by due process of the law. The sentence was suspended and she was placed on probation under the supervision of the Department of Juvenile Services for an undetermined period. She is to go to school regularly.

A 12-year-old male was found to be in need of supervision by being ungovernable and beyond control. He was committed to the Maryland Children's School for 21 days.

Resurfacing Award Given

Selection of a contractor for road resurfacing was announced by Harry R. Hughes, Maryland Secretary of Transportation. Interstate Amiesite Corporation, Concordville, Pa., was awarded a contract for $171,495, for 2.05 miles on U.S. route 219.

New bituminous concrete surfaces will be laid on the road and safety improvements will include upgrading and paving shoulders, upgrading guard rails to latest safety standards and drainage adjustments. The federal government will contribute 70 percent and the state 30 percent of the funds.

At the same time contractors were selected for work in St. Mary's and Washington counties, with a total 3-county outlay of $768,674.

Mr. Hughes remarked, "Over the next several years we can expect an increase in road resurfacing projects. This method is the most inexpensive way to improve Maryland's roads. Resurfacing costs about eight times less than road reconstruction. The process also is faster and causes less inconvenience to the motoring public."

Plans for fiscal 1977 call for 300 miles of roads to be re-

Baltimore Man Is Given 12 Years In Pen

A Baltimore man was sentenced last Friday to 12 years in the Penitentiary, having pleaded guilty of larceny and jail escape at a trial in February.

Ziegenhein pleaded guilty of larceny of a motor vehicle at the court trial, and was sentenced on this charge to ten years to the Commissioner of correction. On the charge of escape from the Garrett County Jail in December, he was sentenced an additional two years. He had pleaded guilty of this charge, also, at the February trial. IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our husband and Dad, Charles Strawser, who passed away April 14, 1968.

We do not need a special day
To Bring you to our minds,
The days we do not think of you
Are very hard to find.
They say that time heals all sorrow
And for some that may be true
But there are not enough days in our lifetime
To let us forget about you.
A heart of gold stopped beating,
Two shining eyes at rest,
God broke our hearts to prove
He only takes the best
God knows you had to leave us
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
The day God took you home.
To some you are forgotten
To others just part of the past
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will always last.

Sadly missed by his wife Nelda, Son and Daughters.

A BIG NIGHT'S CATCH — Fanny, a coon hound owned by Kenneth Harding, of Friendsville, got 15 raccoons in one night for one of her largest catches of the season. They are shown here along with Mr. Harding. The raccoons were taken from the farm of Merle Garletts on February 13.

Fanny was born in 1964 and started her hunting season in the fall of 1965. She has bagged more than one hundred raccoons yearly since that time and has treed more than 2,000 coons. Mr. Harding said he believed that by taking these raccoons it keeps them from being overpopulated in the area.

Washington Report

by
Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr.

Water Supply Jeopardized

Citing the Washington Metro Area's dangerously low water supply, Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R.-Md.) has urged Congress to move ahead immediately with several area water reserve projects. In his testimony before the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works, Beall said the funding for the proposed Public Works Appropriations Bill of 1977 is "inadequate and would, in its present form, require that the completion of both the Bloomington Lake Dam project and the Pilot Estuary Water Treatment Plant be postponed for another year."

Under the bill, the Bloomington Lake Dam project would receive only $11.3 million in 1977, "If the dam is to be finished by 1980 as planned, an additional $6.5 million is needed," said Beall. "Similarly, another $1 million is needed for the construction of the vital Pilot Estuary Water Treatment Plant which is designed to determine and demonstrate the feasibility of using the Potomac Estuary for the Washington area water supply. These projects are of immense importance and must be given full funding now. They cannot wait until Fy'78."

Beall pointed to the "Northeastern United States Water Supply Study" which predicts that the average amount of water drawn from the Potomac on a summer day will reach 530 million gallons by 1980. (Up from an average of 450 MGD in 1974.) According to that same study, the low-flow of the Potomac is 388 MGD — giving the Washington Metro area, at best, a three day water supply. (Compared to Baltimore's one year supply and New York City's three year supply.)

"It doesn't take a mathematician to figure that if the demand on the Potomac were to exceed the flow of the river for more than a three day period there simply would not be enough water to go around," said Beall. "We've known about this potential water shortage for several years yet the thinking in the past has been that we can afford to take a chance — to take our time. So far our summers have been wet, they say, we can make it through another two years. I don't like calling nature's bluff, expecially when the water supply of more than 2 million people is at stake."

In his call for immediate increased funding, Beall also pointed to inevitable cost overruns which will result if completion dates are allowed to slip. The Army Corps of Engineers estimates that a one year delay on the completion of the Bloomington Dam project alone would raise the cost of the project $7.5 million.

"We must also consider," Beall continued, "the impact that delaying the Bloomington Dam project, for example, would have on the economy of Garrett County — the construction site. The dam is 40% complete. If the additional $6.5 million is not included in the 1977 appropriations, many workers in that already depressed region will be out of work."

"It is inconceivable to me that the importance of these two water reserve projects could by underestimated; yet the 1977 Appropriations bill, in its present form, does just that. I am extremely concerned that if these projects are deferred in 1977, there will be a predisposition for future delays in later budgets. In the meantime, the Washington Metropolitan area is becoming increasingly vulnerable to devastating water shortages. We cannot afford to take our time."

Allegany CC Is Winner Over GCC

Mike Keel hurled eight innings of shutout ball only to weaken in the ninth to yield a run and ruin a shutout, as Allegany Community college rolled to a 5 to 1 victory over Garrett Community college yesterday afternoon in Cumberland.

Keel struck out nine batters and surrendered six hits and six walks before giving way to Kevin Logan with one out in the ninth. The Trojans scored twice in the first inning. Rich Dougherty was then hit by a pitch to load the bases and Nelson went home when Gary Grove drew a walk. Another then scored on a wild pitch. ACC picked up another run in the fourth.

Garrett broke into the scoring column in the ninth inning when Chris Cullen got on base and scored on a two-bagger by Mark Deutsch.

Garrett had runners on first and second with one in the second inning, but Keel picked off Deutsch at second base to avert a big Laker rally.

Joyce Ann Soya, 18, Rockville, driver of one car, was taken to the hospital by the Northern Rescue Squad. L. E. Beauseigneur, 70, Pittsburgh, driver of the other car, was apparently less seriously injured. Beauseigneur was traveling west on U.S. 40 just east of Green Lantern road about 4:30 last Thursday afternoon. Joyce Soya, traveling east, in attempting to tune a radio, crossed the center of the road and struck the Beauseigneur car. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore charged Joyce Soya with failing to keep to the right half of the road.

Roland F. Kiess, Silver Spring, in a pick-up, was traveling west on Second Street as Ringer was traveling south on Maple Street. Kiess failed to stop for a red flashing light and struck the side of the Ringer car. Tpr. R. B. Westmoreland charged Kiess with failing to obey the flashing signal.

Bonnie L. Wilt, RD 1, Grantsville, and Jerry L. Brown, Moundsville, W.Va., were traveling north of U.S. 219 at the Cove overlook last Saturday evening. Bonnie Wilt was in the process of overtaking the Brown car as Brown attempted to make a left turn into the overlook. The two cars collided. Tfc. Skidmore charged Brown with failing to stay in the proper lane.

A Monday afternoon wreck occurred at the intersection of Md. 135 and Md. 560. Charles D. Morgan, RD 1, Lonaconing, attempted to make a left turn from westbound Rt. 135 onto southbound 560. Raymond Mayle, Mt. Lake Park, stopped and then pulled from 560 and struck the Morgan car. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Mayle with failing to obey a stop sign.

Mrs. Cuppett Honored At Reception Monday

100,000 young people in the national 4-H forestry program are active in renewing the nation's valuable woodland resources. International Paper Company supports their efforts with incentive and recognition awards to young people selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

4-H'ers Learn How To Use, Not Abuse, The Forest

CHICAGO, ILL. — Efficient forest production, woodland management and resource renewal are priority objectives of the 1975 national 4-H forestry program.

Sponsored for the first time by International Paper Company, the Cooperative Extension Service-supervised program offers youths incentives, recognition and learning-by-doing experiences.

Forests are renewable

"The 4-H forestry program builds on man's increasing concern for his environment," says Donald I. Osburn, director of program services for the National 4-H Service Committee. "Unlike many of the earth's other resources, forests are renewable. And with good management, selective harvesting, replanting and seeding, and 100,000 4-H'ers to help carry out these practices, products of America's forests can be increased while providing pleasure for generations to come," he added.

4-H foresters from 9 to 19 take part in tree identification contests, visits to nurseries to see how seedlings for reforestation are produced, woodland "survival" courses, tree planting projects and career workshops. As they gain practical skills, they apply these to their home woodlots in producing and harvesting timber, pulpwood and other forest products.

Program incentives

International Paper Company provides a series of awards to 4-H members who excel in the forestry program. Awards winners are chosen on the basis of their record books by the Extension Service.

Up to four medals of honor are offered in each county. And one winner from each state will receive an expense-paid trip to the 54th National 4-H Congress to be held Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

Six national winners, to be announced at the annual congress, will receive college scholarships of $800.

More information on the 4-H forestry program is available from county extension agents.

Frederick Beats Garrett Lakers

Frederick came back in the eighth and scored three times on consecutive safeties by Reynolds, Molder, Orrison and Ogden to secure the win.

Mark Deutsch was the loser. The Lakers are now 17 to 7 for the combined campaign.

Illinois

This state is sometimes called "The Inland Empire."

Plains cover most of the state and have given Illinois one of its nicknames, "The Prairie State." People call their state, "Land of Lincoln." Abraham Lincoln lived most of his life there and was buried in Springfield, state capital.

Cardinal is the state bird, oak the state tree, and native violet the state flower. Governor is Daniel Walker, Democrat. Population is 11,131,000. It became the 21st state on December 3, 1818.

Region was once the home of prehistoric Indians called Mound Builders. Over 10,000 burial and temple mounds still stand. Monk's mound at Carokia is the largest known prehistoric earthwork in U. S.

Fur trade with Indians first made Illinois commercially important during the late 1600s. Traders paddled canoes with furs down Chicago river to Lake Michigan and then transported in sailing ships. Today ocean freighters dock in Illinois harbors. Illinois produces are carried to all parts of the world. River barges also carry cargo to Mississippi and Gulf of Mexico.

First white men were probably French explorers in 1673. Fort Dearborn, built in 1803, developed into Chicago. In 1812 Indians massacred the settlers and burned the fort.

State is fifth in population among all states, and has second largest city. In 1942 Enrico Fermi and other scientists launched the atomic age. Soldier's Field in Chicago is one of the largest stadiums in the U. S. Sandy beaches, wooded parks and harbors border most of Chicago's 30-mile shoreline.

Chicago attractions include two major baseball teams, national football league, national hockey league and national basketball association team. Major manufacturing lines are machinery, processing of grain, beverages, athletic goods, candies, plastic products, electrical machinery, metals, transportation equipment and chemicals. State vies with Iowa for the largest corn crop. Ranks first in soy bean production; has large coal and oil reserves.

Some 500 rivers and streams drain state with Mississippi on western border. Some 285 kinds of wild birds live in the state. Is resting ground for ducks and Canada Geese wintering place.

Illinois has 138 institutions of higher education, with first school in 1783. Public schools are supervised by state superintendent.

Helping to make history were Cyrus H. McCormick, George Pullman and John Deere; writers Eugene Field and Carl Sandburg; statesmen Everett M. Dirksen, Stephen A. Douglas, Mayor Richard Daley, Joseph Glidden.

The Chicago fire in October, 1871, destroyed much of the city and left about 100,000 people homeless, fire being started when a cow upset a lantern in a barn.

About a third of church members are Roman Catholic but there are many Mennonites in Chicago, Champaign, Urbana, and Peoria areas.

Indiana is the next state in this series.

Three Guilty Of Drug Charges; One Sentenced

Three persons pleaded guilty of drug charges in Circuit Court yesterday before Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr. Another man received suspended sentences in arson charges.

Elmer Eugene Caton, Jr., his wife, Myrtle Mirian Caton, and Marc Regis Kemp, all of Meyersdale, Pa., pleaded guilty of possession of marijuana in Grantsville January 31, at a trial yesterday. A charge of possession with intent to distribute against each was dismissed. Sentence has been postponed to a later date and bond was continued.

The car in which they were riding had been involved in previous drug traffic and was stopped in Grantsville by Tfc. D. E. Tharp, criminal investigator for the State Police. A large amount of marijuana was seized.

Leonard Leroy Beeman, Bradley Manor, Oakland, received three concurrent suspended sentences Monday. He pleaded guilty of three charges of arson of lumber at Beachy Lumber Co., last September, at a trial March 5. Beeman was sentenced to three years each on two of the counts and one year on the other count, to the Commissioner of Correction, to run concurrently. These were suspended and he was placed on probation for the same period of time as the sentences, under supervision of the Department of Parole and Probation. He is to obtain help and therapy from the Garrett-Allegany Counties Mental Health Department.

Armed men made off with an $851,000 payroll in New York in early April.

Reform Proposal Backed

A new approach to national welfare reform proposed by Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr. has been endorsed by a key unit of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, the National Association of Counties, and the National Conference of State Legislatures. It also has received favorable consideration by the National Urban Coalition.

The Mathias bill, introduced in the Senate April 8 with the cosponsorship of Sens. Edward W. Brooke (R-Mass.) and Jacob Javits (R.-N.Y.), calls for establishment of an 18-member commission to recommend specific reforms of all federal welfare programs.

The commission would include six members to be appointed by the Senate, three each by the majority and minority leaders; six members to be appointed by the House, three each by the majority and minority leaders; the Secretaries of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare; and four other members to be appointed by the President. Congressional and Presidential appointees would come from both public and private life.

The commission would have one year to make its recommendations for welfare reform to Congress and the President.

"I strongly endorse this legislation and the goals behind it," said New York City Mayor Abraham D. Beame, Chairman of the U.S. Conference of Mayors' Task Force on Income Security, in a letter to Mathias.

"Reform of the present welfare system is one of NACo's highest priorities and we applaud your leadership in introducing this bill," wrote Vance Webb, President of the National Association of Counties.

The Mathias bill was introduced four days before the Department of Health, Education and Welfare released figures showing that the nation's family welfare expenditures increased by 21.4 per cent last year to a record $24.8 billion.

Mathias, introducing his bill, said that by adopting it, "the Senate will be indicating its own dissatisfaction with our present system and that it does wish to begin and begin now, the process of designing a better income maintenance system."

Mathias said:

"It must be a system which assists citizens to achieve self-support and independence; it must be a system which provides expenditures in the amount adequate to meet the needs of families and individuals; it must be a system which eliminates duplication and overlapping of services, activities, and functions; it must be a system which consolidates services, activities, and functions of a similar nature.

"It must be a system which reduces fraud and errors in program administration; it must be a system which assures equitable treatment of citizens in similar circumstances and needs; and, finally, it must be a system which contains methods of equitable financing and some measure of fiscal relief for our financially pressed states, cities and counties."

"The need for reform is clear and pressing," Mathias declared.

Twenty-One Die On State Roads

Twenty one lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed eleven were drivers, six were passengers and four were pedestrians.

At least four of the deaths, in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in twelve of the deaths, speed in eleven and driver error in all but two.

"So far this year alcohol has been a contributing factor in over 46 %of all fatalities on Maryland roads, and this is a conservative figure," noted 1st Lt. Heiger. Fifteen of the victims were under twenty-eight years of age.

Persons killed through April 11 totaled 138 compared to 185 for the same period last year.

National Guard Has Drill Session

Squad engineering problems featured the monthly drill session of Company C, 121st Engineer Battalion of the Maryland National Guard on April 9, 10, and 11.

There was classroom training on Friday night and Sunday, and on Saturday, April 10 the members trained at the Pleasant Valley 4-H recreation area near Bittinger, concentrating on engineer squad problems they will be tested on during summer encampment.

The heavy equipment section utilized its equipment in cutting, filling and grading projects at the Mt. Lake Park tennis court and the Elks club in Oakland.

Next drill session will be held May 8 and 9 in preparation for summer camp. The unit plans to depart for summer camp at Camp Pickett, Va., and Little Creek, Va., on May 29.

Persons interested in joining the unit may visit the armory during the next drill at any time during a week day, officers stated.

Spring Meeting Of Homemakers Planned May 20

Plans for the annual spring meeting of the Garrett County council of Homemakers clubs, was the main order of business at an executive board meeting held recently at the Accident fire hall with Mrs. John Ledden, county president, presiding. Mrs. Donald Carstens had charge of devotions.

The spring meeting is set for Thursday May 20, from 2 to 9 p.m., at the Accident fire hall. The theme will be a "Mini Fair," with each club setting up a display booth. Some clubs plan to have items for sale, while some will give demonstrations and others will have items on display. The meeting is open to the public. People may come at a time they prefer.

Some of the things happening at the "fair" will be the making of mints, maple sugar taffy, place mats, cake decorating, holiday ideas, crafts, needlepoint, candles, variety shop, quilts, rugs, and some baked food.

Mrs. Freda Denison, extension agent, home economics, announced two coming events: Maryland Homemakers Week, June 6 to 12, proclaimed by Governor Marvin Mandel; and an open house by Montgomery County Council Homemakers clubs, June 3 through June 6, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and June 3, 4 and 5, from 12 noon to 6 p.m., on June 6. The theme will be a collection of colonial family life, and will be held at Rockville civic mansion, Edmondson drive and Baltimore road.

College Days will be held at the University of Maryland June 9 and 10.

General Assembly Ends With Flurry

The 1976 Maryland General Assembly concluded with a flurry, after overcoming the lingering effects of the Baltimore subway filibuster fight.

The subway produced an eight-day Senate filibuster and a flurry of hectic parliamentary maneuvers between the two chambers before the House adopted the operating budget containing the $120 million appropriation for the estimated $721 million first phase of the rapid transit system.

Approval of the budget permitted enactment of a series of bond bills which could not receive final votes before the budget. The budget was balanced with enactment of two bills pushed by Gov. Marvin Mandel to gain a one-shot infusion of $74 million through speeding up the collection and use of revenues including lottery agency funds.

The legislature enacted a bill to permit banks in Maryland to charge up to 18 percent interest on consumer loans, including automobile loans. Small loan companies lost an attempt to get their interest rates increased.

A measure was enacted prohibiting extra charges for telephone directory assistance for a year. The legislature authorized the creation of a centralized computer crime records network.

Last year's law restoring capital punishment to the statute books was expanded to make the killing of an on-duty policeman result in a mandatory trip to the gas chamber. Maryland teachers lost a couple of battles when lawmakers passed a resolution calling for a study of collective bargaining of public education and killed a measure which would have given after the fact sanction to the illegal strike by Baltimore teachers in 1974.

Clubs To Meet

Meetings of two Homemaker clubs of the county during the ensuing week were announced by Mrs. Freda S. Denison, extension agent.

Humberson-Miller Nuptials

Miss Trudy Renell Miller and John Mitchell Humberson were married at 7:00 in the evening on Saturday, February 28, in the Sugar Valley United Methodist Church, Bruceton Mills, W. Va. The Reverends Stanley Merrifield and Dayton Smith officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller of Bruceton Mills, the bride is a graduate of Bruceton High School and is presently a junior at West Virginia University where she is majoring in Family Resources. She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron professional fraternity.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Humberson also of Bruceton Mills, is a graduate of Bruceton High School and West Virginia University with a degree in Business Administration. He is presently employed with Fort Martin Power Station, Point Marion, Pa.

The bride wore a formal, floor length gown made of interlock knit and cluny lace. The gown featured a high Edwardian neckline and long Bishop sleeves. The waistline featured a cummerbund which floated into a semi A-line skirt. The headpiece was Dior bow, camelot cap trimmed with lace and accented with silk illusion veiling. The bride carried a colonial semi-colored bouquet. Her only jewelry was a locket a gift of the groom.

Miss Nancy Kelley served as maid of honor and Miss Stephanie Bishop, cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. They both wore identical gowns of patchwork print with a lace yoke and empire waist. Their white picture hats were accented with a navy ribbon to match the gowns. They both carried a long-stemmed red rose.

Luke Mill Has Odor Reducing Program Working

Completion of shakedown operations following earlier construction of all facilities in a major $1,300,000 odor reduction program has been announced by David McMaster, Mill Manager of Westvaco's Luke mill.

Operation of facilities for the three-phase program is designed to lower odorous emissions from Westvaco's Luke mill 90% below 1970 levels.

The key part of the odor abatement program consists of incineration of the odorous gases in the mill's power boilers.

The three-phase program, over two years in construction, consisted principally of installing a new hot water accumulator tank, three new heat exchangers, extensive pumping, piping, condensers and facilities for incineration of the odorous gases.

Shakedown operations of the facility had been underway for sometime at Luke.

The program to reduce odor has been a significant part of the multimillion dollar air pollution abatement program at Luke.

Earlier installation and startup of the $9,500,000 recovery boiler had reduced the capacity for odorous emissions significantly and this last $1,300,000 project is expected to make an even greater improvement in the typical kraft pulp mill odor.

Westvaco officials have pointed out, however, that these projects will not eliminate the odor completely. But they will reduce the frequency and intensity of the emissions. The materials that actually create the odor can be detected by the human nose in quantities as low as one per billion parts of air. They are extremely difficult to eliminate completely.

Bloomington Pupils Portray Area History

Bloomington School students presented a bicentennial program portraying the community's era on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 30 and 31. The production was under direction of Miss Alice Howard.

The community of Bloomington became the first community in the county to become a Bicentennial community last July 23.

The program from students of kindergarten through four included a musical salute under direction of Harold Hudnall, music instructor; children's songs through American history and various patriotic songs. Grades two and three also presented a radio play, "The Peterkins," under direction of Mrs. Newcombe Evans.

The pageant, "Bloomington at Mouth of Savage," was based on establishment and building of the town, given by students of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades with Miss Marilyn Bever as reader.

Costumes worn in the pageant were authentic. Students provided music through records, tapes and various instruments. Props and stage settings were also handled by the students. An old time schoolroom class was portrayed as well as recess period with old-time games.

A unique scene was portrayed in Borderside, the mansion once owned by the William Brydons. Those attending a dinner party also presented the minuet and several vocal selections. Two world wars had their part in the production. There was a reenactment of the dedication of a plaque in Bloomington on January 31, 1943, honoring all men and women who had served their community. The era of the "flapper" was also depicted with costume and makeup.

It was explained that Mouth of Savage was really the beginning of Bloomington. This village was located at the foot of the hill where the Savage river joins the Potomac. It existed prior to 1824.

Shown also were scenes concerning the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the establishment of Llangollen Mining company, first company incorporated in 1849; establishment of the Lochiel Lumber company in the 1870s, and the battle at Bloomington bridge when the southern army attempted to blow up the railroad bridge. A call to worship represented the religious groups of the community.

A scene of the pageant, "Serenade at Borderside," was based on the fact of Dr. Howard Kemp's election to the House of Delegates in 1889. He was feted at Borderside.

A closing scene had children carrying signs asking people to "clean up", "fix up," "paint up," "Beautify for the Bicentennial." Later the bicentennial committee and school plan to sponsor a poster contest on beautification.

Football Grant In Aid Provided For Dana Liller

Dana R. Liller, Dennett Road, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Liller, recently signed a football grant-in-aid and a National Letter of Intent to the University of Richmond, Richmond, Virginia. He was signed by Phil Elmassian, the offensive backfield coach at Richmond.

Dana is a transfer student from the U.S. Naval Academy, where he played football for two years. During his freshman year he started and was a co-captain on the Navy Jr. Varsity football team that finished at 5-2-1, including a 14-14 tie against Penn State Jr. Varsity.

During his sophomore year the 6'4", 239 pound lineman was a backup offensive tackle on the Navy varsity under head coach George Welsh that posted a 7-4 season.

According to NCAA rules, Dana must be "red shirted" during the 1976 season. He will then be eligible to play varsity ball for the next two years.

Since the first Easter, the Cross has remained the one great and enduring symbol of Christianity because it best expresses the meaning of faith. Like a precious jewel, the Cross shines with many facets of truth.

† The Cross signifies the hope of faith. It reveals God's love for us in the sacrifice of His Son. It is our assurance of His promise of salvation.

† The Cross signifies the challenge of faith. It reveals God's love for all men which we must share. It is the motivation of Christian action.

† The Cross signifies the victory of faith. It is the pledge of God's loving purpose in saving the world. It is the source of peace.

What does the Cross mean to you? On Easter — this greatest festival of our Faith, will you come to Church and discover its message?

GOD SAYS "YES!"

Lesson for April 18, 1976

Background Scripture: Matthew 28
Devotional Reading: Corinthians 15:20-28

The time: Three days after the crucifixion.

The place: A small upper room in Jerusalem.

The people: Followers of Jesus of Nazareth.

And: You are there and one of them.

Rev. Althouse

Your state of mind is that of both confusion and inspiration. You are confused by the events of the past few hours.

First, there were those seemingly wild reports by the women who said they had found the tomb of Jesus empty.

On top of that there were those even more unbelievable claims by those who said that they had seen the Lord — and that he was alive!

You are also inspired, for just a little while ago you had the same experience—or something like it. Jesus really is life, suddenly before your own eyes.

"Real as life!"

Or was he "real as life"? You can't really recall exactly how he looked. It happened so suddenly. Comparing your experience with others, you find that they too are both confused and inspired.

This has been almost too much. A few short hours ago your world seemed unalterably dark and tragic. Jesus was dead, the victim of a most unjust and humiliating execution. All your hopes, your anticipations, your beliefs had been shattered in one terrible afternoon.

Now, in this upper room with others who were his disciples, you are trying to sort out these conflicting thoughts and feelings. But it is not easy, for your emotions keep racing ahead of your reason. It is hard to think clearly when you are so excited. Yet, the excitement does not go away. It is like pleasant indigestion burning inside you.

On one point agreed

Unfortunately, there is such a variety of descriptions and explanations of what has happened in these last few hours. Some think they saw "someone who looked like the Master." others believe that they have seen his ghost, while still others are convinced that it was nothing less than the physical body of Jesus alive that had appeared to them.

On only one point are they completely agreed: JESUS IS RISEN. You are not sure of how he is alive or why, but you are convinced that somehow he overcame the power of death and is alive once again.

Though you still cannot say to each other precisely what happened, you can affirm that you have somehow experienced the living Christ. You feel a growing joy, not only in knowing that Jesus has survived his terrible ordeal in some way, but that the ugly cross now stands as a symbol of God's victory over the powers of darkness. These powers have done their worst at Calvary, but God has won the victory and said "YES!" to Jesus.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Due to my angry state of mind, I'm finding it very difficult to transfer my thoughts to paper. My anger is in Martin Patrick Anderson, the District Court, and the measly fines imposed upon Martin Anderson for the collision death of Jerome Lewis Denk, Jr.

I'm not a judge, nor a jury, I'm a father of three boys trying very hard to teach them the difference between right and wrong. Is it right for one young man (by means of an automobile), leave the scene of the accident, be found guilty of reckless driving causing a collision death and be fined a total of $360.

Where is our points system? How many points for taking a human life? Is a human life worth $360? Isn't there a possibility that maybe, just maybe, a more severe sentence could have been imposed? Something that might stick in the minds of a person tried and convicted of such a tragic accident.

How many lives before a driver's license can be revoked?

For the Denk family there is a feeling of sorrow. For the District Court in Garrett County and their decision in this case, there is a question, WHY?

Sincerely,
William E. Roszell

THE DANGER OF MAIL ORDER PRESCRIPTIONS

Often over the years, the danger of mail order prescriptions have been cited in many medical journals. Here is one example -

"The dangers of mail order prescriptions include delays encountered in obtaining the medication, the absence of the physician-pharmacist relationship, the difficulties of checking the prescription files for strength and dosage, and the possibilities that prescriptions will be filled by non-professional personnel. All physicians should cooperate by keeping their patients informed relative to the dangers of these schemes." (End of Quote)

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

On May 1 at 7:00 p.m. in the Aurora High School Auditorium a variety show, sponsored by the Union District Senior Citizens and open to the public, will be staged.

Homemakers Meet

"Your Social Security" was the theme for the April 6 meeting of the Eglon Homemakers in the home of Mrs. Avenell Roth at 7:30 p.m. Teaching the lesson was Mrs. Rebecca Teets who pointed out the fact that it is necessary to take any unusual problems to the Social Security representative.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Nina Layman. The president, Mrs. Linda Lewis, presided. It was decided that the club will have an exhibit of antique items in the Maple Spring Church beginning May 2 with supper for members and families centered around the Bicentennial with dishes from old-fashioned recipes. On May 4, the regular meeting date, a demonstration and work day will be held in the afternoon in the Eglon Memorial Building.

Members and guests attending were Lorraine Fike, Ruth Teets, Mergil Fike, Lois Layman, Mary Roth Rembold, Barbara Hauser, Florence Minnig, Rose Ina Harsh, Lectie Bonner, Jean Winters, and three children, Jim Layman and Julie and Emily Lewis.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of E. Scott Dyer of Salisbury, North Carolina to Frederic McGinnis of Aurora on Wednesday, April 7, in the Mt. Top home of the groom. The Rev. Donald Thomas officiated and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stemple were the only attendants. The couple plans to reside in North Carolina.

Twenty-eight guests attended a birthday celebration last Sunday afternoon honoring Lester "Slim" Hauser, of Stemple Ridge, where ice cream and cake were served to the guests. Family members and neighbors there were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hauser, Loretta Snyder, Jackie Snyder and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. George Hauser, Gladys Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miser, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Blamble, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Harsh, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harsh, Mrs. Oscar Lantz, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Hauser, and the hostess, Mrs. Lester Hauser.

The foundation is also conducting a fund drive in Garrett County with envelopes inside the booklet to be returned stamp-free with a donation.

The Hot Meal sites, under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Tasker, are at Crellin, Jennings, Kitzmiller and Finzel.

Garrett Sweeps Pittsburgh Five

Mark Simpson and Jim Kostyak turned in strong pitching performances as Garrett Community college swept a double header from Community College of Allegheny county, South Campus, 3 to 2 and 4 to 0, Saturday at Pittsburgh.

The twin win upped Garrett's overall record to 17-6 including last fall games.

Simpson hurled a two-hitter, struck out 11 and issued only one walk while going the seven-inning route for his fourth win against two losses in the opener.

A pair of former Southern High standouts combined to produce the winning run in the seventh inning of the opener. Randy DiSimone singled to center, stealing second and scoring on a base hit by pinch hitter David Shotwell.

The Lakers got their first run in the opening inning when Steve Dudik doubled and scored on Robert Whitfield's single. Didik doubled again in the fifth, moved to third on a single by Whitfield and went home on DiSimone's sacrifice fly.

Kostyak scattered five hits, fanned seven and didn't issue a walk in boosting his record to 3-0 in the nightcap.

Ray Neill, Didik, Whitfield and DiSimone hit four consecutive singles and Craig Bosley drove in a run with a sacrifice fly as Garrett pushed across three runs in the first inning. Mark Deutsch doubled and scored on an error for the final run in the second inning.

Ruth Enlow Will Participate In Films Plus Project

The Ruth Enlow Library of Garrett County has been selected to take part in FILMS PLUS, an experimental project funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Beginning in May, the library plans to present free showings of three outstanding film series for adults: The six Wives of Henry VIII; the Spoils of Poynton, and The Search for the Nile, all of which have appeared on national television.

FILMS PLUS, developed by the Modern Language association and Time-Life Films, has been established to stimulate more effective use of the library as a humanities resource by encouraging the reading of library books related to the project's film series.

Audiences who see the series will receive a free, illustrated film guide that contains literary and historical background on the series and suggestions for further reading. Because FILMS PLUS is experimental, audiences will be invited to express their opinions concerning the project by filling out brief questionnaires at some of the film showings.

The Ruth Enlow Library is one of more than 150 public libraries in all parts of the United States which will participate in FILMS PLUS this year. Included were many different kinds of public libraries, from those with extensive experience in showing films to those with no experience at all; libraries in urban, suburban and rural locations; and libraries serving communities of various economic and educational levels.

The "PLUS" in the project's name is derived from "Public Libraries in the United States" and the project is a cooperative one. The film series, printed film guides, suggestions for organizing the program, and publicity and evaluative material are supplies free of charge to the libraries by the Modern Language Association and Time-Life Films, through an NEH grant. Materials should be arriving at Ruth Enlow this week.

The libraries contribute space and seating for the film showings, the use of a projector, and the staff time needed to run the project. Mrs. Hazel Sherwood is in charge of the project at the local library.

The schedule of the film series that will be presented at Ruth Enlow Library is: The Six Wives of Henry VIII, six weekly programs beginning on May 12 and ending June 18. The Spoils of Poynton will be shown in two weeks beginning June 12 and ending July 1. The Search for the Nile will be presented in six weeks beginning July 7 and ending August 13. All showings will be in the film room at the library, and each episode will be shown twice: Wednesdays at 1 p.m. and Fridays at 7 p.m.

"THE JUDGMENT"

The Judgment, a new color film, will be shown at

Mt. Top Christian Assembly

Located 1 Mi. E. Mt. Lake Park, Md.

Sunday, April 18, 7:30 P.M.

This is the most soul stirring, full color motion picture ever produced! You are actually projected into the Judgment. Hundreds have found Christ as a result of the film! The Judgment was born 18 years ago. The Lord had dealt with Pastor Clendennen's heart concerning this subject. The Pastor had prepared a sermon on "The Judgment" which was to be preached on Sunday morning, but before time to preach the message arrived, God awoke Pastor Clendennen and told him not to preach the message as planned, but to wait until He showed him exactly what to do. A few days later, while in prayer, the Lord brought the matter to Pastor Clendennen's mind again and instructed him to write the message in drama form and to enlist people of the church to act out the message. This was done, and in the very first presentation over 100 people came to Christ! Needless to say, calls came from all over wanting to have the message presented in their church. At that time we were unable to travel with the play because of many reasons. So the manuscript was put in the Pastor's desk and lay there for 16 years, unused. In November, 1974, the Young People's leaders of Victory Temple heard of the play and wanted to read it. They read the play and were so impressed, they asked permission to get a cast and prepare to put it on as the Watch Night Service. Permission was given and there were at least one thousand people present, with at least 200 of them coming to Christ in the service. Two months later, it was presented in the City Auditorium with over 3000 people present, and again the Lord saved between five and six hundred people.

Now, the Judgment is a full color, 50 min., 16 MM film, and is being shown in churches and auditoriums across America. This film is proving to be one of the most effective Soul Winners of our time.

Plan to see this Powerful, Moving Drama!

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. I am a serviceman trying to hold fast to my religious training. The sergeant ridicules me because I do not join the men who go out chasing girls and indulge in drinking sprees. He gives me the meanest and hardest jobs to do, hoping to break down my resistance. I need help in controlling my temper and my tongue when I'm called all sorts of uncomplimentary names. I cannot hide my disgust.

A. Perhaps the key to your problem is in your last sentence. Learn to hide that disgust of yours and you will get along better. Go one step further. Stop viewing people and their actions in a censorious manner. It is a supercilious, holier-than-thou attitude. Naturally that stimulates resentment in others.

By all means stick to your ideals. Never give in on them. But learn to like people even though they do things of which you disapprove. They in turn may not like you all that much, but they will respect you. And, more important, they are likely to stop picking on you if they come to understand that you are a real human being even though your standards differ from theirs.

Q. My mother is 75 years old, selfish, self-centered, full of self-pity. The doctors say her health is good. I am a widow, employed, and have a teen-age son, and we live with Mother. I dread going home at night to the depressing atmosphere, and my son is unhappy too. Please tell me how to overcome my feelings and to improve the situation.

A. Many persons have to "double-up" with parents. It is understandable that after working all day you would like a pleasant atmosphere to come home to, but why not approach the situation with positive actions: First list the good things in your situation. Then make the effort to show your mother extra love. Praise any good or happy things she does. Tell her you appreciate her generosity in sharing her home with you and your son.

Suggest to your son that he show his grandmother love and perhaps do little kindnesses for her without being asked. I think your situation will improve as you do these things. I am enclosing the booklet THE POWER TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE and particularly suggest Chapter II. If others reading this column would like to have a copy at no cost send your request to: Dr. and Mrs. Peale, Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Q. A dear friend is having an affair with a married man, believing she is in love with him. She is intellectual, talented and married to a fine husband. She claims a psychiatrist has told her that sometime these affairs afford a certain satisfaction and bolster the ego. This has added zest to her infatuation for the man. How can I help her keep from ruining the happiness of both families and damaging her own honor?

A. It seems unlikely that any respectable psychiatrist could have been quoted correctly by your friend. Perhaps this is what her irrationally infatuated mind thinks he told her.

Of course, she has to make a choice: her marriage or the other man, for infidelity not only is wrong but is a devious road leading to nowhere. The best thing you as friend can do is make that point to her — the rest is up to her. Hopefully she has the intelligence to understand her precarious situation.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N.Y.

Garrett County Middle School Facilities

By Sara Ramsey
And Dorothy Leighton

League of Women Voters

The middle school is designed to serve the needs of early adolescent students. Grades 6, 7, and 8 are considered parallel with years of particular emotional, social, and mental changes of youth that can best be served by a school facility geared to these special needs.

At present, two middle schools are planned for the Garrett County school system. Southern Middle School is now under construction on Broad Ford Road near Oakland and is scheduled to open in September, 1976. Northern Middle School, to be located on the Northern High School site, has a projected opening date of September, 1978.

The middle schools planned for Garrett County will be designed for capacity enrollments of 700-800 students at Southern Middle School and 600 students at Northern Middle School. The following is a suggested staffing arrangement of professional personnel based on 800 students: 1 principal who will serve as a master teacher and instructional leader; 1 vice principal who will be the administrator of the school; 1 counselor; 1 media center specialist who will be the resource coordinator of library, audio-visual, and learning center materials; and 35 teachers.

School Program

The general plan of the middle schools the first year of their operation will be to create a unique educational environment that will allow an easy transition between elementary and secondary education using the best instructional patterns of each of these programs.

Students will be grouped according to similarities for instruction and will be assigned to one of three instructional levels in language arts, science, and mathematics. A student may be in a different level for each subject. In all other areas of curriculum, students will be grouped heterogeneously for learning experiences when possible.

Every student will receive instruction in language arts, social sciences, science, mathematics, and physical education each day. Experiences in art, music, home economics, industrial arts, career education will complete the program of studies. Sports and band experiences, while non-competitive, will be included in the school program during the school day.

Emphasis in the middle schools will be on flexibility and cooperative or team teaching. The pod (area) arrangement of the physical space in the schools calls for team teaching and cooperative planning among staff members. The traditional library, called the media center, will include all films, records and audio-visual materials. There will be new emphasis on the importance of this center in the school program. The media center specialist will function as a material resource coordinator for the teaching staff and the daily school program.

Curriculum Development

Questions for on-going curriculum evaluation have been prepared and a plan for curriculum development has been submitted. Phase I of the plan focuses on the adaptation of existing curriculum designs and practices to the new middle schools. Among goals for Phase I is the development of curriculum guides for each grade level in all areas of instruction. Curriculum development committees will be formed in each of the curricular areas.

Phase II of the plan calls for continued analysis of the curriculum. One specific goal of Phase II is the development of in-service programs for the middle school staffs.

Phase III will begin with the opening of each middle school and will be marked by continuous evaluation of all curriculum guides. A second revision of all guides under study would follow the first school year.

A copy of the plans of the new schools and a more complete description of the middle schools may be found in the Middle School Position Paper available at the Ruth Enlow Library.

American Freedom and Christian Responsibility

By Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

A CHRISTIAN SCHOOL IN OUR COMMUNITY, Are you interested? Let us share with you what we see as THE PROBLEM in our Public School system and also what we feel is THE ALTERNATIVE.

First, the Problem. Our nation's secular schools are no longer a desirable place for Christian youth to obtain their education.

HUMANISTIC PHILOSOPHY—Secular institutions are now committed to a belief in humanism; man and his accomplishments are valued as the highest and only goal. The existence of the supernatural is consistently ridiculed and denied by media and institutions.

A school system reflects the value of the society it serves. Therefore, America's humanistic-based schools teach that man is the center of existence and all things are explained by natural terms.

DENIAL OF STANDARDS—Believing man is the center of knowledge, humanists deny the existence of any permanent standard of conduct; each child is encouraged to decide for himself what is right and wrong. Judges 21:25 describes the results..."everyone did what was right in his own eyes."

Christian children in secular institutions are greatly influenced by the authority of both teachers and textbooks to accept many humanistic ideas, even though such ideas are in direct conflict with Biblical principles.

INDOCTRINATION IN TEXTBOOKS—Most U.S. textbooks are prepared by intellectuals committed to a humanistic philosophy. They are in great part the architects of our nation's fall to godlessness, and now their ideas and values are being presented as truth to our nation's children by the authority of their texts being used in the classrooms.

GENERATION WITHOUT GOALS—The results of teaching children that there is no God, no hereafter, and no standards are already being felt. For at least 10 years, our nation's graduates have left school with diminishing skills, lack of purpose, and a sense of aimlessness. In the turbulent 1960's this was seen in senseless rebellion against all authority. Today, even this passion has disappeared and a generation without hope is turning to acceptance of welfare instead of work.

THERE IS NOW AN ALTERNATIVE. Christian youth can learn by a superior method in an atmosphere conducive to development of spiritual strength and character.

THEISTIC PHILOSOPHY—Thousands of Christian schools are operating on the basic belief that there is a personal God and that He is the highest possible reality. Christian teachers, administrators, and parents can now work together with the Holy Spirit to instill within students a belief in God. Christian schools truly reflect Biblical values.

ESTABLISHMENT OF STANDARDS—At the Christian school, students benefit from the enforcement of standards of conduct as outlined in the Scriptures. They learn to distinguish between acceptable and unacceptable behavior. While their friends in secular schools are adrift in a system teaching no absolutes, the Christian student is growing in understanding and practice of Biblical self control.

REINFORCEMENT IN CURRICULUM—Truth is that which is set forth in Scripture. Christian curriculum accents this fact. From the origins of man to the study of geometry, a Christian curriculum re-enforces what a student is taught at home, in Sunday school, and from the pulpit. Each Child learns in an environment where all new knowledge is weighed against Scriptural truths.

AWARENESS OF LIFE MISSION—In Ephesians 6:2, parents are told to raise their children in the discipline and instruction of the Lord. In the midst of our nation's present society, the Christian school is best prepared to contribute to this commandment. Graduating students go forth with an appreciation of discipline, an understanding of moral values, and a true knowledge of God. They are physically, emotionally, academically, and spiritually confident to face their adult lives. Most importantly, they possess the awareness of the most exciting life mission: service for the Lord Jesus Christ.

IF YOU ARE AT ALL CONCERNED OR INTERESTED, THERE WILL BE A COLOR SLIDE PRESENTATION OF THE CHRISTIAN SCHOOL PROGRAM AT THE MT. TOP CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY, located one mile East of Mt. Lake Park, Md., on Route 135, Wednesday, April 21st beginning at 7:30 P.M. Parents, Grandparents, and ALL concerned Citizens are urged to attend this important meeting.

Observe 50th Wedding Event

Mr. and Mrs. George DeWitt, Sang Run, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Thanksgiving Day, November 27,1975. They were honored by a family dinner and reception in the afternoon, given by their children, at the McHenry fire hall.

The couple was married November 27, 1925, in Oakland by Rev. Henry Grubbs. They are the parents of five children, Mrs. Betty Harvey, Sand Flat; Mrs. Cleta Tasker, Sang Run; Mrs. Wilma Rodeheaver, Accident; Mrs. Barbara Peck, Oakland; Mrs. Patsy Bowers, Swanton. They have 12 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The couple was presented a gold and white corsage and boutonnaire of carnations. Guests at the head table were the immediate families of the couple. The centerpiece was a bouquet of red roses presented them from the Sang Run church.

Other decorations were in the gold and white theme. The refreshment table featured a four-tiered cake with gold roses and topped with a "50" and a miniature bride and bridegroom. Approximately 75 relatives and friends attended with out of town guests from Morgantown and Baltimore.

Mr. DeWitt is a retired foreman for the Garrett County Roads Department.

Teachers Ratify Their Agreement

A contract negotiated between the County Board of Education and the County Teachers' association for the 1976-77 school year was ratified April 7, according to Harold Humberson, association president.

The new pact calls for a $400 increase in starting pay from the current year's level of $8,000 to $8,400 for first year teachers. Maximum salary for teachers with advanced teaching certificates and masters' degrees with 16 years of service will go to $13,625, an increase of $755.

Seventy-five percent of the teachers voted approval of the proposal. The vote was 76 to 29. The contract terms represent a comprehensive package covering terms and conditions for teachers which are effective July 1. The economic terms must still be funded by the County Commissioners. The school board's budget is expected to be submitted to the commissioners next week with formal action on the contract to follow.

Increases in fringe benefits are included in the pact to cover expected increases in premium costs of group insurance, improved life insurance, disability income protection and increased board participation in dependent basic group hospitalization and medical insurance.

Other items include provisions for groups of teachers of the association to file grievances over alleged violations of terms or policies of the board; faculty advisory councils to participate in non-teaching assignments of faculty, and action to relieve teachers who have unreasonably large class sizes.

Elementary teachers also will have a minimum of 120 minutes per week of planning time and all teachers are guaranteed a 30-minute duty free lunch period.

New contract provisions cover personnel files and teacher evaluation protection in support of teachers in maintaining classroom control and discipline.

Teacher association negotiators included Judy France, Linda Samec, James Zimmerman, Melvin Schwing, Robert Yunker and Mr. Humberson. Chief negotiator was Thomas Shaffer, Western Maryland representative for state and national teacher associations.

Mildred Dunbar Is Elected President Of Garrett BPW

Mrs. Mildred Dunbar was named president of the Garrett County Business and Professional Women's club following acceptance of a slate of officers at the April 8 meeting.

Mrs. Dunbar is director of nursing at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and served the club as vice president this past year.

Other new officers will include Mrs. Carol Canan, vice president; Mrs. Bonnie Cowen, recording secretary; Mrs. Sara Jane Kuhn, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Anne Conner, treasurer. Mrs. Wilma Calhoun was selected as nominating committee chairman for the coming year.

Current president Mrs. Jean Deem presided at the meeting which followed a dinner at Will o' the Wisp. Ada Mae Welch, program chairman, introduced three new members and conducted a ceremony welcoming them. New members are Mrs. Eleanor Deal, Mrs. Sara Jane Kuhn and Joyce Pendergast.

Delegates to the 1976 state convention will be Mrs. Deal, Miss Pendergast, Mrs. Cowen and Mrs. Helen Harman. Mrs. Deem and Mrs. Lucille Shorb were named as alternates.

Garden Club Sets Flower Show

The Bel Air Garden club, the Garden club of Cumberland, and the House and Garden club of Frostburg will present a spring flower show, "America on Parade," on Thursday, April 29, from 2:30 to 9, and April 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at St. Paul's Lutheran church in Cumberland.

Amateur exhibitors are welcome to enter artistic and horticuiture classes. A special interest will be educational exhibits carrying out the overall theme.

Women Golfers Plan Program

The Women's Golf association of the Oakland Country club will open its season with a business meeting and brunch on Thursday, April 22, at 10 a.m., at the club. President Virginia Kemp will chair the meeting as plans are made for in-club tournaments, guest days, visiting days and other special events for the season.

President Kemp also has called a board meeting for Monday, April 19 to plan for the regular meeting. Officers for the coming season, in addition to Mrs. Kemp are Ruth Durst, vice-president; Pat Steyer, secretary; and Mary Lou Shaffer, treasurer.

Second in Speech Contest

Miss Patty Gutherie, Angie Gutherie, Francine Durst and Judy Speicher accompanied Mrs. Clyde Bowman to the Sunnyside Church of the Brethren at New Creek, W. Va. where Miss Patty Gutherie entered the speech contest conducted by the church.

The theme was, "In light of its past, should the Church of the Brethren assume a more active political role in the next two hundred years?" Patty won second place and will be competing at the Regional Round Table at Bridgewater College on April 24.

The nominating committee was alerted that election of officers will be held at the next meeting. Plans were made to order needed items for the church.

The women's district rally will be held at the Keyser Church of the Brethren on May 19.

The New Windsor World Service truck will be picking up used clothing around the first of May, with a special request made for children's clothing.

Those Who Blossomed Late

Learning, the "magazine for creative teaching," has a word of encouragement for the parents of a child who just doesn't seem to do very well in school. "If all else has failed in trying to reach a child who seems utterly hopeless," declares the educational publication, "don't give up. Resolve to be patient." It is also suggested to ponder a list of school failures compiled by a British pediatrician, Ronald S. Illingworth.

In the list we find, for example, that classified by their schools as "poor spellers" were William Butler Yeats, who became one of the most famous of Irish poets, and George Bernard Shaw, whose command of the English language enabled him to become one of the most skillful British dramatists.

Felix Adler, who, among other accomplishments, founded the German-American Ethical Culture movement; Carl G. Jung, the Swiss psychiatrist; and Ben Franklin were all classified as "poor mathematicians." Franklin confessed in his autobiography that as a youth, "I acquired fair writing pretty soon, but I failed in the arithmetic and made no progress in it." But, as we know, he went on to make a name for himself as a printer, author, publisher, inventor, scientist, public servant, and diplomat. Not bad for a "poor mathematician."

What is one to do when a child not only does poorly in school, but is at the very bottom of the class? That was true of Thomas Alva Edison, one of only nine inventors named to the Hall of Fame, and who went on to patent dozens of inventions, among them the phonograph, motion pictures, and the "incandescent lamp" — now commonly known as a light bulb.

Paul Gauguin, the French painter, was dismissed by his teachers as "a dreamer." James Watt, who invented the steam engine and was the very first scientist to apply the technique of "feedback" (in his centrifugal governor) was declared to be "dull slow." In fact, Einstein, along with Edgar Allan Poe, Percy B. Shelley, Wilhelm K. Roentgen, and James Abbot McNeill Whistler, were all such poor and "hopeless" students that they were actually expelled from school. Whistler, in fact, flunked out at West Point, went on to a very undistinguished career as a draftsman and map engraver with the Coast & Geodetic Survey in Washington, and, even after he became an accomplished painter, went bankrupt in mid-career.

So, parents, if you have a "slow" child, don't give up! There's lots of hope yet! — U.S. Press Association.

HIGHEST TELESCOPE

The NASA 24-inch reflecting telescope operated by University of Denver scientists is probably the highest telescope of its size. Located on Mount Evans, the telescope is 4,305 meters (14,125 feet) above sea level.

Scientists get to the site by snow vehicles and helicopters in the winter when the roads are blocked by snow.

On Wednesday at 2:14 A.M. the moon will pass through its Last Quarter phase. At that time the earth's satellite will be one-fourth of a turn to the west of the sun. Moonrise will be 8:43 P.M. tonight and at 1:18 A.M. next Wednesday.

Wednesday at 9:00 P.M. will be the maximum of the Lyrid meteor shower. About twice the normal number of meteors may be observed each hour. Normally an average of seven meteors may be seen each hour by a single observer.

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are visible to the unaided eye this week. Mercury will be above the western horizon just after sunset. Venus rises in the east about one-half hour before the sun. Mars, among the stars of Gemini, sets soon after midnight. Jupiter is very low in the west at sunset. Saturn is halfway across the sky with the stars of cancer at sunset.

Twenty-one minutes more daylight will be gained by the end of the week. The sun rose at 5:40 this morning. Thirteen hours fifteen minutes later the sun will set at 6:55 P.M. Wednesday the sun rises fifteen minutes earlier and sets six minutes later than today.

Gorman VFD Called To Two Flue Fires

Members of the Gorman Volunteer fire department answered two calls to flue fires earlier this week. The first call came at 7:10 p.m. Sunday, from the residence of M. E. Williams in Gormania.

The fire apparently started when the flue to the fireplace became overheated. The house sustained some smoke damage. Gorman responded with two trucks and 15 men, and also called Bayard Volunteer firemen for assistance. The fire was controlled by the time of the Bayard company's arrival, however.

A flue fire at approximately 12:10 p.m. Monday at the Charles Cooper residence on Kempton Road caused little damage, according to the Gorman report. One truck went to the scene.

High winds toppled two large cranes in Baltimore harbor.

Fleeing, False Statement Draw Heavy Fines

Fleeing a police officer and making false statements to obtain unemployment pay drew heavy fines from Judge Lewis R. Jones in District Court during the week ending April 13.

Lance Uphold, Rt. 560, Gorman, pleaded guilty of fleeing or attempting to elude a police officer and was fined $205. His plea of not guilty of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was sustained. Uphold also pleaded guilty of two criminal charges. For assault and battery on Kathy Sue DeWitt at Loch Lynn March 28, he was fined $50 and costs. A 10-day jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year. On the charge of malicious destruction of property he was also fined $50 and costs. Damage was to the door of the car of Loretta Friend in Loch Lynn, March 28.

Harvey Bowser, RD 5, Oakland, pleaded not guilty of making a false statement in collection of unemployment compensation by failing to disclose certain information. He was found guilty and fined $100 and costs. A 60-day jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year.

Two men pleaded guilty of larceny of goods of Wayne R. Koerner, Jr., at Jennings, February 7. David Charles Wilburn, and Blain Wilt, both of Star Route, Grantsville, were fined $50 and costs. A 60-day sentence for each was suspended and they were placed probation for one year and to make restitution. A charge of breaking and entering the cabin of Koerneer against each one was dismissed.

David Lee DeWitt, RD 2, Swanton, pleaded not guilty on two charges, assault and battery on Carolyn L. Lipscomb on Dennett road in Mt. Lake park, February 14 and destruction of property of a pick-up truck parked at the same location the same day. He had been found guilty by Judge Miller Bowen earlier, but following a presentence investigation, the guilty verdict was stricken and he was placed on probation for two years before judgment.

Daily Franklin Lewis, Jr., Mt. Lake Park, pleaded not guilty of receiving stolen goods, the property of Steven Tressler at Mt. Lake Park, January 5, before Judge Bowen. Lewis was found guilty and sentenced to 90 days in jail. Of the 90 days, 41 days were suspended with the other days having been served since he was first committed to jail, February 19. Lewis was then placed on probation for 18 months under supervision of the Department of Parole and Probation. He is to remain out of trouble, work and support his family.

Leallon Julius Irvin, Louisville, Ky., pleaded guilty of larceny of gasoline, the property of Daniel N. Cosner at Ft. Pendleton, April 2. He was sentenced to ten days in jail and paid costs. The sentence was suspended on condition he make restitution. He was given credit for seven days served and probation was suspended.

Vicki Diane Broadwater, RD 1, Lonaconing, pleaded not guilty of shoplifting at Grantsville Foodland March 30, in the value of $10 worth of goods. She was found guilty and fined $50 and costs.

David Charles Wilburn and Marvin Elwood Wiley, both of Star Route, Grantsville, have been charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, items from a bulldozer, the property of Becker Machine Co. near Grantsville, on April 4. Wiley was released on recognizance April 6. Wilburn was released on his own recognizance at a hearing Monday. That same day both cases were transferred to Circuit Court.

Two not guilty pleas were sustained. John Durst, Grantsville, had been charged with non-support of a minor child. John B. Townsend, Gormania, W. Va., had been charged with being a vagrant and tramp at Gorman March 28.

Glenvil Moreland, RD 3, Deer Park, had been charged with non-support of seven minor children. The case was dismissed as the prosecuting witness refused to testify.

Two other non-support cases were dismissed due to lack of evidence. Frank L. Johnston, Alder street, Oakland, had been charged with non-support of four minor children and Mary Crosco, RD 3, Oakland, one child.

1977 Budget Is Finally OK'd By Legislature

The House of Delegates gave its final approval and enacted the $3.6 billion state operating budget for fiscal 1977.

The 80 to 47 vote approving the budget taken with no debate, assured the session would not be extended to handle the state's spending plan.

The budget bill, snarled for two weeks in the Senate filibuster over the $120 million appropriation for the Baltimore subway, was to have received final approval early Sunday in the House of Delegates after the Senate finally completed its torturous and sometimes wacky approval of the spending program.

Finally freed from days of indecision, talk, debate, false starts and broken compromises in the Senate, the budget failed to clear the House simply because not enough delegates hung around the State House until early Sunday.

When the House took what was to be the final roll call, the tally stood at 70-38, one short of the required majority, with 33 delegates either sitting out the vote or missing from the chamber.

The roll call was taken after the House had spent an hour joking, partying and congratulating itself for not being dragged further into the havoc that 22 anti-subway senators created with the filibuster and parliamentary maneuvering in their 47 seat chamber.

After the House's failure to enact the budget bill the leadership resisted dissident efforts to kill the measure with a quick reconsideration and postponed the expected proforma enactment until Monday when most if not all members were present.

Vehicles Collide; Four Are Injured

A Keyser young man whose car ended up wrapped around a tree along New Creek drive, in a wreck on U.S. route 220 last Friday evening was still in critical condition in Memorial hospital, Cumberland.

He is Ronald Swick, 19, Newton street, Keyser, who was traveling alone.

The other vehicle, a pickup, wound up in New Creek after overturning with three of its occupants injured. They were Dr. Jack Harvey, 35, of LaVale; Mrs. Rebecca Harvey, his wife, and 11 year old Scott Harvey. Dr. Harvey sustained a shoulder separation. He was hospitalized at Sacred Heart hospital along with his son. His wife was treated and released. Dr. Harvey and son returned to their home on Monday.

Dr. Harvey is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harvey, of Fort Pendleton, near Gorman. Mrs. Harvey is a daughter of Howard White, 8th street, and the late Mrs. White.

Pays Visit Here

Theodore Noel, who is 92 years of age, was in the area this week visiting his grandson, Richard Noel, who is pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church, north of Oakland, and planned to continue visits to relatives in Pennsylvania. He was accompanied by a son, who resides in Alabama.

Mr. Noel was a fireman on the B. and O. railroad, working out of Keyser, and left the area in 1907, but not before coming to Mt. Lake Park during the early 1900s on numerous excursions.

He walked up the long stairway at The Republican office without much effort. He was employed as a fireman on the Keyser-Grafton division for two and one-half years.

Development Of Wisp Ski Resort Shown At Deep Creek Meeting

A motion picture history of the development of the Wisp Ski Resort area, since its beginning in 1955, was presented at the April meeting of the Deep Creek Lake Business Association.

The unique color documentary was filmed and edited by Charles (Skeeter) Bowman, McHenry. Both Mr. Bowman and Helmuth Heise, developer of Wisp, provided additional commentary throughout the showing.

Association vice president William Robeson commended Mr. Bowman on his foresight in recording the challenges and problems involved in transforming a bare, 3,000 foot-high grassy slope into a nationally recognized ski resort complex. Included in the presentation were such early scenes as the filling in of a gaping limestone quarry excavation on the main face; the installation of the first poma lift machinery atop Marsh Mountain; and the pouring of 350 cubic yards of concrete for foundations when erecting the chair lift tower supports.

The next meeting of the Association will be held on May 3 at 8 p.m. at Point View Inn.

Garrett Team Wins 1, Loses 1

Reeling off six runs in both the second and sixth innings, Garrett Community college romped to an easy 17 to 7 nightcap victory over California State freshmen after dropping a 5 to 4 squeaker to the Pennsylvanians in the opener last Thursday afternoon at McHenry.

Ray Neill rapped out three singles and a double for the Lakers in the second game while Steve Didik had three singles and Bob Ingram a pair of singles. Garrett had 14 safeties as Mark Deutsch, third of three Laker Hurlers, earned credit for the win.

Neill also scored four runs for the winners, Ingram crossed home plate on three occasions and Didik, Randy DiSimone and Craig Orshoske had two runs each.

In the opening game both teams had eight safeties but the Lakers were unable to solve the pitching of California's Komaneek. He struck out five and walked five. Andy Zitzer relieved in the fifth inning by Cullen, was tagged with the loss.

Bad Votes at The United Nations

The United States, in our opinion, exercised poor judgment in two recent votes on U.N. Security Council resolutions dealing with Israel and South Africa. The result was a further defeat for truth and justice.

The Council resolution on Israel criticized that country for allowing Jewish settlements to take place in the occupied Arab territories and for actions which tend to alter the status of Jerusalem. There was little doubt as to the truthfulness of the allegations. U. S. delegate William Scranton infuriated the Israelis by himself criticizing the establishment of the Israeli settlements as illegal and an obstacle to negotiations. Nevertheless, Scranton vetoed an otherwise unanimous resolution calling upon Israel to stop these practices, using as an excuse that the resolution "would not help in the process of peaceful settlement." This action, of course, infuriated the Arabs. We thus managed to make both sides angry at us.

A few days later the issue of Angola came before the Security Council. This time the Council acted with its much more usual contempt for facts by branding South Africa as the sole aggressor and demanding war damages. Nothing was said in the resolution, of course, about the Moscow-supported Cuban army which was the decisive factor in the Angola war, and which prompted South Africa to intervene in the expectation that the U.S. would do likewise. Although the U.S. brought up the Cuban intervention in the debate, it was content merely to abstain on the anti-South Africa resolution, thus allowing it to pass.

In both of these actions we see only the familiar U.S. fence straddling, rather than a firm, consistent, and coherent policy. If Israel is wrong, let us say so — with our vote as well as our rhetoric. If we are serious about opposing further Cuban adventures in Africa, then we should have vetoed the resolution which put the blame on the wrong party.

Our actions brought us no respect from anyone. And the authors of American policy brought no credit to themselves. — U.S. Press Association.

New Features Are Offered At Parks

New features of varying types will add enjoyment to state park outings in the county this year, according to park managers in charge.

Sailboats have been added to the lake at Herrington Manor State Park this summer, for the first time. Four boats will be put into use as an experiment to determine popularity.

At Deep Creek Lake State Park, the boating facility should be open this summer, providing boat launching space and limited docking for transient boaters. Also, it is hoped that two new washhouses now under construction may be opened this summer. The camping area in which they are located will not be put into use this season, however, as work remains to be done on these sites.

Picnic sites and other recreational facilities in the parks will officially open next month, May 15. Parking is $1.50 per car or motorcycle; $10 for a small bus, $15 for a large bus.

Beaches are open from Memorial Day to Labor Day with a lifeguard on duty each day from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Cabins may be rented at Herrington or New Germany in Annapolis, beginning May through the Maryland Park Service in Annapolis, beginning May 7. Early reservations are advised.

Picnicking sites have been expanded at all parks, with a total of 450 tables now at Herrington Manor and Swallow Falls. The picnic sites at Deep Creek remain the same, although additional tables have been installed.

Concession stands in the various parks will be open Memorial Day through the Labor Day weekend.

The nature programs in the parks will be continued this year, with the addition of two naturalists for Herrington and Swallow Falls. This season, John Willetts will be working at Herrington Manor, William Devlin at Swallow Falls. At Deep Creek, Robert Jackson will continue the nature program for his fourth year.

Miss Jackie Torres is the area park naturalist, overseeing campfire, hiking and nature projects for the Herrington, Swallow Falls and Deep Creek parks.

Park programs will begin May 19 on weekends, then begin daily the second weekend in June.

Charles Thomas, superintendent of Swallow Falls and Herrington Manor parks, reminds all campers that year-round camping is offered in specified areas at Swallow Falls state park, complete with heated, winterized washhouse. All state parks are open all year round for hiking during daylight hours.

Camping fees are $4 per night. Deep Creek offers 57 sites, 25 of which are available by reservation if campers wish to secure a place during peak vacation times.

Pavilions in the parks may be reserved by contacting the superintendent in charge. Few weekend reservations remain, however, according to Mr. Thomas.

Four Named To Health Systems Agency Group

Appointment of the county's representatives to the established Health Systems Agency for Western Maryland was announced at the Monday meeting of the County Commissioners. They will be Kenneth Richmond, the new administrator for Garrett County Memorial hospital, and the three commissioners, George Edwards, Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton.

It was explained the Health Systems Agency was mandated by Federal Law PL 9461 and encompasses the four Western Maryland counties. Included in the organization is a governing board the four from this county as members.

Under the governing board is a governing body consisting of both providers of health services and consumers. Commissioner appointees to the governing body are Dr. Gilcin Meadors and Lowell Bender as providers, and as county consumers, Mrs. Mary Friend, Friendsville; Col. J. Haig Jackson, Oakland and Mrs. Marilyn Filemyr, Mt. Lake Park.

The by-laws of the agency and appointees have been submitted to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the Federal government, and to the State of Maryland for final review and approval.

Other Business

Commissioners met with Dr. William Pope, Mrs. Shelby Paugh and Edgar Harman in their capacity as the county health board. They discussed the increasing costs of administering the various environmental health permits required for new development, including percolation tests, sewage disposal permits and water well permits.

Mr. Harman pointed out that many counties charge a nominal fee for these permits to help defray the costs. Commissioners unanimously voted to institute a fee system effective May 1, of $10 per percolation testing, $10 for sewage disposal permits, $5 for water well permits for single family dwellings, and $10 for other water well permits.

Anticipated revenue from the fee system will be used exclusively to defray Health Department expenses incurred and to reduce the local property tax funding requirement in the Health Department.

In other commissioners business, bids were opened for a rescue utility truck for Southern Rescue squad. Bids were received from A. R. Statler Body Works, for $8,178.31; Casselman Motor Company, for $5,650; and Shaffer Ford Sales for $5,514. Following evaluation by Southern Rescue squad the Commissioners are to make a decision on awarding the bids.

Tuesday the commissioners continued budget hearings, meeting with the sheriff's department, the Ruth Enlow library and the Extension Service. Next Tuesday the commissioners will meet with the Board of Election Supervisors at 1:30; civil defense at 2, and the Promotion Council at 2:30.

Recent Mishaps Injure Several

Several persons were injured in recent accidents with one woman being hospitalized three days, following a one-car mishap March 31.

A Friendsville woman was brought to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Northern Rescue Squad. Jetna Josephine Kelly was admitted to the hospital and discharged April 1. She was traveling west on the Accident-Friendsville road about a mile east of the Accident-Bear Creek road about 3:10 a.m. when the electrical system of the car went out. This was caused when a battery cable became disconnected. Having no lights she could not see and the car went over an embankment. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore investigated.

One person was treated at the scene of the accident on the Hutton road just west of the Old Crellin road last Friday morning, also a one-car mishap. Carl Joseph Herman, Boiling Spring road, Deer Park, was driving west on the Hutton road when his vehicle went out of control. The car went to the left of center of the road, back and off to the right side of the roadway and struck an embankment. Cindy Graczyk, Grantsville, was injured, being one of two passengers in the Herman car. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater investigated.

Two persons were slightly injured in a two-car mishap in Grantsville last Thursday about noon. The two injured were the driver of one car, Donald R. Durst, Accident, and a passenger, Ethel Lively, in a car driven by Glen E. Lively, both of Grantsville. Durst was driving south on the Springs road. Lively was driving north and in the process of making a left turn. Durst came over the crest of a hill, noted the Lively car, applied his brakes, went into a skid and struck the Lively car, partially in the southbound lane. Tpr. J. E. Foley charged Lively with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

A few non-injury accidents were noted.

Carmer V. Currall, Davis, W. Va., was traveling on U.S. 40 about a mile east of Keyser Ridge last Monday morning. He stated an unidentified red truck came around a curve on his side of the road. He swerved to avoid the vehicle, skidded on the gravel shoulder, struck a guard rail and overturned. Tpr. R. C. Georg made no charges.

Anna M. Baker, RD 3, Oakland, was traveling north on the Smouse road near the Doc Bernard road about 1:30 Saturday morning. Her car ran off the right side of the road, struck a culvert and got hung up on it. Tfc. E. J. Upole charged her with failing to reduce speeds under certain conditions.

Cynthia L. Graham, RD 1, Oakland, was traveling west on High street, at Highview drive, just east of Oakland, last Wednesday afternoon. At that time, Lee W. Weekley, Bridgeport, W. Va., attempted to turn left off of Highview drive onto High street, failed to yield the right-of-way to the Graham car and struck it. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant charged Weekley with failing to grant the right-of-way when entering a through highway.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

What is your position on Fort Detrick?

I have been in contact with Army Secretary Martin Hoffman urging support for maintaining Fort Detrick in its present structure. I am firmly opposed to any suggested reduction in force because this post has been developed over many years for a very specialized mission. In short, base operations support to the tenant units can best be managed through a continuation of the present system.

Do you have any information on the Soil Conservation Service?

My office has several copies of a brochure entitled "Maryland's 1975 Conservation Record" which outlines the services provided by the Soil Conservation Service. Interested citizens need only write me, c/o 1730 Longworth Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What seems to be on the minds of citizens these days?

I believe that excessive government spending and higher taxes are the key issues on the minds of citizens this year. There is an increasing awareness of the nation's financial problems coupled with a concern toward embarking on new and costly federal programs. The average wage earner is beginning to question the costs of attractively worded programs because he feels increased government spending can only lead to higher taxes. In short, what the people want the federal government to do is to live within the budget.

Who can I talk to concerning "excessive" overseas shipping charges?

Any person needing aid or information regarding claims or complaints involving excessive charges, failure to fulfill shipping commitments or possible illegal activities, should contact: Arthur J. Dennis, Office of Public Information, Federal Maritime Commission, Washington, D.C. 20573

What percent of the federal government's revenue comes from individual income taxes?

According to estimates from the Office of Management and Budget, 39 percent of the revenue for the Federal budget is derived from individual income taxes; 29 percent from social insurance receipts; 13 percent from corporation income taxes; 11 percent from borrowing; 4 percent from excise taxes; and 4 percent from other sources.

Does the government publish any educational literature on the metric system?

A general information booklet, "What About Metric" is available for 60 cents from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Among other things, the leaflet contains conversion tables for weight, volume and measurements

Capitol Comment

By Senator
Charles McC. Mathias Jr.

Calls For Crackdown

In a sweeping criticism of the nation's criminal justice system, Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) called for reforms in pre-trial detention procedures, capital punishment, and mandatory minimum sentences for those convicted of violent crimes. Beall, in a speech before the National Lodge Fraternal Order of Police in Ocean City, said the nation "now has a criminal justice system which neither corrects criminal behavior, nor shields society from the dangerous offenders."

"It's time to get tough and down on the persistent perpetrators of crime and fear in the American society," said Beall. "It's time for the voice of the people to be heard, loudly and clearly, and to tell those members of our society who refuse to follow the basic principle of common decency and respect for others that their actions will no longer be tolerated, they will no longer be able to walk our streets, stalk our lives and property, abuse our values and threaten our security."

Beall outlined several proposals to accomplish reform of the system:

—Amend the Bail Reform Act of 1966 by requiring pre-trial detention of defendants where judges have reason to believe that the accused poses a danger to the community;

—The implementation by the courts of the "Speedy Trial Act" provision which is designed to reduce crime and the repeat offender by reducing the time period from arrest to trial; —Institute mandatory sentence laws for violent crimes and other crimes involving the use of firearms and other deadly weapons;

—Establish firm minimum sentences for repeat offenders;

—Re-establish capital punishment under the guidelines set by the Supreme Court.

Beall said that recent polls he has conducted in Maryland indicate that the majority of those responding place crime as the number one priority facing the nation and that 87 % of those replying favor capital punishment.

In addition, Beall is calling for increased protection for the victims of crime. "Fortunately, Maryland has passed legislation to provide money to victims," said Beall, "but federal legislation is also needed. The unfortunate thing is that most victims of crime are twice victimized. They are robbed, mugged or raped, terrifying enough in its own right, but then they have to bear the knowledge that they must live every day in the same neighborhood or area with the threat of being victimized, once again, by the same robber, mugger or rapist. Clearly, something must be done to get these people off our streets."

Beall says that by "vigorously enforcing laws already on the books; by providing for swift prosecution and sure penalties, we would go a long way towards returning credibility to the old adage that 'crime does not pay', shield society from the dangerous offender for longer periods of time, and deter other would-be criminals from harming the innocent."

Denounces Food Stamp Bill

Charging that the costs are too high and that needy people are being excluded from participation in the food stamp program, Senator Beall, voted against the Dole-McGovern Food Stamp Bill. Beall urges that no federal program is in greater need of Congressional attention than the nutrition program, and that the current operation has lost credibility with millions of Americans.

"The Dole-McGovern bill, aside from drastically increasing the cost of the program, failed to eliminate the purchase price for food stamps," says Beall. "Such a change would have been a much-needed improvement over the current program, and would have assured that those Americans most in need of help, the people this program is supposed to help, would receive that help. Many millions of people at the lowest income levels are prevented from participating in the food stamp program because they cannot find the cash to 'buy' their way into the program. Over one-half of the people with incomes falling below the poverty level are not now participating in the Supplemental Security Income Program (SSI) receive food stamps."

Beall says that the current law must be changed to incorporate these needy people. "I have voted against the Dole-McGovern food stamp bill because I simply cannot support, even under the label of 'reform', a bill that would raise the cost of the food stamp program to the American taxpayer. This proposal would have raised the cost of the current program by $400-500 million and is a gigantic $1 billion more than recommended by the Agriculture Committee of the Senate."

Beall continued, "The entire food stamp program is in dire need of reform, and we must assure that those genuinely in need receive benefits with a minimum of bureaucratic delay. But we cannot afford this bill and I hope that we can find a better way to deal with this serious problem."

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 100 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1976 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 8

Proven Winner . . .

A review of America's 200 year history would be incomplete without mention of our free enterprise heritage, according to an editorial in Industrial Press Service, and we agree. We are fortunate to be living in a society with an economic system of private investment and ownership, where competition in a free market determines prices, productivity and distribution. The increase in our gross national product in recent weeks is showing the way.

American capitalism has compiled a truly outstanding record. Most of our people prosper. Quality of jobs has improved while average hours spent on the job continue to decline. Industrial health and safety standards, salaries and benefits improve. Quantity and quality of leisure life have been upgraded at a steady pace.

Competition in the market has improved in vitality. Allowed to function freely, it attracts investment capital, utilizing physical resources and labor to the maximum advantage of the greatest number of people, so the editorial asserts, and here again we agree.

By achieving and maintaining the greatest good for the greatest number, American capitalism has proved itself a sure winner.

Auto Emissions Testing Program Set For May 4

The American Lung Association of Maryland, the Allegany-Garrett Advisory Council, and the Automobile Club of Maryland (AAA) are co-sponsoring a free auto emissions testing program on Tuesday, May 4, from 2 to 5 p.m., in the parking lot of the Browning Foodland market east of Oakland, it was announced by John Heavener, program consultant.

The test, which is part of Clean Air Week, takes less than 60 seconds for each vehicle tested. The test will measure the amounts of carbon monoxide and unburned hydrocarbons emitted. In addition the em test will indicate engine efficiency. Each individual will be given free advice on how to improve gas economy in his/her car. There are no fines or penalties involved for those drivers whose cars do not meet pollution standards, Mr. Heavener said.

The association is extending a special challenge to various clubs and civic groups to participate in the testing and some twenty-five clubs in the Oakland area have received notice of the event. Each organization will have the opportunity to compete for the first annual clean carburetor award, to be given to the organization which has the most members participating with passing autos. A "dirty muffler award" is also being considered as a gag for the organization have the most members with failing autos.

Youths Forced From Highway

Two young motorbike riders were forced off a dirt highway near the Fingerboard road, west of Oakland, Sunday afternoon by an unidentified motorist who failed to stop.

Eric Sanders, 15, and John Lantz, 14, were traveling at a moderately slow speed due to the rough condition of the road when they noted a car approaching. It apparently was heading directly at them.

The youths went into the ditch. Sanders suffered a cut on his left arm and a cut on his chin, both requiring stitches. Both boys sustained brush burns but there were no broken bones. Both were treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital and released. Sanders is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer Sanders, Oakland, while Lantz is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lantz, Hutton.

High Temperatures, Little Rain Bring Several Forest Fires

A rain squall during the night has helped to alleviate the critical problem with fires in the local area. Wednesday, the fifth day the mercury reached the 80s, brought a rash of forest fire problems to this county.

Hardest hit was the area between the Chessie Systems railroad tracks and Maryland Rt. 135 west of Bloomington, where several fires were reported. The largest fire was between Bond and Crab Tree Creek Wednesday. Three others had been quickly controlled.

Parkway Idea To Get Study For Lake Area

A scenic parkway along U.S. Route 219 in this county is being studied as a possible way to alleviate some heavy traffic problems in the Deep Creek Lake area.

The parkway idea and other highway transportation programs will get attention in a Federal Highway administration economic growth study, planned for the county.

Consultant work for the study is now being advertised by the State Highway Administration, which is working in conjunction with the federal agency. Bids for consultant proposals are due by April 30.

County Commissioner Wayne B. Hamilton said that the idea for looking into the scenic parkway was generated by the county's planning commission.

He said traffic was creating problems in the main recreation and residential sections of Deep Creek Lake, and it was believed that a parkway night drain off some of the traffic flow and alleviate the lake's traffic congestion.

He added that such a scenic route has also been discussed by West Virginia officials for that state;s highway system in the areas bordering this county.

The federal study is aimed at collecting improved data and analytic measures that are sensitive to the inter-relationships between transportation investments and regional development, according to highway officials.

Included in the study will be consideration of designing and accessibility requirements of recreational facilities in the county.

The bid specifications for the consultant work state that the study will have three phases.

Phase one will include a definition of the county's corridors and planned highway investments; evaluation of social, economic, environmental considerations of investments in each corridor; development of alternative strategies for investments; and proposal for alternative strategies of public hearings.

The second phase will cover an evaluation of reactions within the community; integration of new or modified projects into the corridor investment strategies; development of revised strategies and a re-evaluation of social, economic and environmental consideration.

Third phase work will include an analysis and development of a long-range transportation plan.

Once all phases are completed, a final plan will be presented at public meetings.

SHA Spending Reduced $125,000 By Mild Winter

A reasonably mild winter, with only 97 inches of snow, and a reduction of the use of road salt combined to reduce State Highway Administration spending by $125,000 this past winter.

According to William Goldsborough, resident engineer for the SHA, it cost $683 per mile of the state system in this county for materials to keep roads passable last winter. There are 192 miles in the county network of state-maintained highways.

The state crews used 12,711 tons of sand, at a cost of $50,844; 4,452 tons of salt, at a cost of $80,136; and four tons of calcium costing $280, for a total cost of $131,260 for materials.

Labor and equipment costs reached nearly $315,000, including $95,000 for labor costs; $30,000 for equipment and $57,000 for hired equipment.

The SHA record of storms and snowfall listed two storms in November bringing five inches of snow; nine in December, 15½ inches of snow; eleven in January, 37 inches of snow; six in February, 15½ inches; four in March, 18 inches; two in April, 6 inches; for a low total of 97 inches of snow. Above figures for storms and accumulation do not include ice storms.

Resurfacing jobs on Route 219 have been started early, due to April's balmy weather. Resurfacing is now underway on the four mile stretch between Oakland and Gortner.

Work will begin soon on the 12 miles between McHenry and Keyser Ridge, and on the three miles from Route 40 at Little Meadows to the Pennsylvania line.

Right now, the center line and edge striping machine is at work in the county. Work has been completed on Route 40 and the equipment is making its way south along Route 219.

No date has been set for the opening of the final freeway stretch between Finzel and Route 219, but all signs indicate an opening at the end of July, according to Mr. Goldsborough.

Will Endeavor to Have "Blue Law" Taken To Referendum Vote

A meeting has been scheduled for Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 3 o'clock to organize the work of circulating a petition for referendum vote on legislation passed by the Maryland legislature, which would abolish the county's "Blue Laws." It will be held at the Mt. Top Christian Assembly, east of Mt. Lake Park with Rev. Walter Leake as host pastor.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Rev. John A. Grant, one of the organizers of the petition drive, is to sign up persons who wish to volunteer in obtaining signatures on the petition to be circulated.

He emphasized the short time available to get the signatures to fulfill legal requirements for a referendum vote. He said it appeared that there would be about ten days between the time that the governor signs the bill into law and the last day in which a petition could be filed. Once filed and with legal requirements fulfilled, the question would be placed on the ballot at the general election in November.

There were 80 registrations at the office of the Board of Election Supervisors on the final day of registering qualified voters until June 1, on Monday.

The breakdown showed 47 Democrats registered, 30 Republicans, and three who declined to state preference. From the figures it is apparent that more people are moving into the community than are leaving it. The board sent 30 cancellations to other areas, meaning that 30 people were registering who had previously been registered in other places, and it was necessary to notify these other areas that these individuals had registered here and their names should be taken off the voting lists there. Six cancellations were given for persons moving from this community.

May 1 countdown.

The Maryland Ornithological Society is the only group in the nation which has sponsored annual, consecutive bird counts in May since 1948.

Mrs. Pope will show a film on hawks and owls on Friday, April 30, the day before the bird count, at 7 p.m. at the film room of the Ruth Enlow Library. This short film will aid in identifying these birds both by sight and sound. There will be no admission charge.

A display of mounted birds is currently on display in the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland, with specimens loaned from the Maryland Ornithological Society. The display will be in Oakland until the first week in May.

assisted by boys from forestry camps and by volunteers carrying Indian pumps and rakes, battled the big blaze on into the night. A fire line was established around the major sections about 8 p.m.

At 6 p.m. about 25 volunteers from LaVale, Bowling Green, Cresaptown and Bowman's Addition were directed to the scene.

The Allegany County chapter of the Red Cross and members of the auxiliary unit of Potomac Fire Company No. 2, Westernport, set up a canteen for fire fighters.

Two fires were contained on North Hill near Kitzmiller Tuesday, each fire destroying about one-tenth of an acre. Causes of the fires were unknown.

Also on Tuesday the Gorman Volunteer Fire Company assisted the West Virginia community of Bayard in extinguishing three fires in that area, probably caused by passing Chessie trains. All three were brought under control quickly.

Larceny Cases Are Noted By State Police

Cases of larceny, breaking and entering and tampering with a motor vehicle were noted among the criminal investigations in the Oakland office of the Maryland State Police April 20. No suspects were named.

Chestnut lumber, fence rails and seven large truck radiators were removed from the property of James W. Ronk, of Clinton. The property is an unoccupied farm on Green Lantern road. The items were taken sometime between February 15 and April 16, when Mr. Ronk visited his farm. Due to the remoteness of the farm, the owner was unable to supply clues or locate witnesses. The radiators were intended for scrap and copper value.

Firearms and related items were taken from the house of Herbert Lee Garlitz of RD 1, Lonaconing, Garrett Co., the evening of April 11. Rifles, shot guns and a bow and arrow valued at $555 were removed. Entrance, sometime between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., was apparently gained by a rear door. A key to the door was hung in a shed but was apparently not disturbed. The items were taken from a second story room but nothing else was disturbed. The owner felt the responsible person or persons were familiar with the layout.

A tool box with some tools was removed from the back of a pickup truck sometime between 3 p.m. April 16 and 7 a.m. the next morning. Some damage was also done to a radio and CB. Carl H. Garrett Lakers Trim Frostburg J.V.

Ray Neill smacked a key home run in each game and Chris Cullen turned in a stellar relief performance in the nightcap, as Garrett Community College won 12 to 2 and 5 to 2 victories over the Frostburg State Junior Varsity team Tuesday afternoon at McHenry.

Andy Zitzer pitched a three-hitter in the opener, striking out seven and walking four. Cullen blanked the Bobcats over the final six and one-third innings after Garrett starter Mark Simpson couldn't find the range.

The double win gives Coach Dennis Fearnow's Lakers a record of 24-8 for the season.

Neill's first game circuit clout came in the second inning when the Lakers opened up a six-run lead. Craig Bosley and Dave Shotwell singled and Cullen and Randy DiSimone drew bases on balls. DiSimone came through in the fourth inning with a two-run single. In the second game Neill got his homer in the fourth after Shotwell had singled.

Zitzer is now 5-2 and Cullen is 2-0. The Lakers play again Friday in a doubleheader at California, Pa., and on Sunday they host Allegany CC at McHenry.

Four Injured In Car Wreck

Four Grantsville persons were treated and released from Meyersdale Community hospital following a 2:30 a.m. accident last Thursday on U. S. Route 219, one mile south of Salisbury, Pa.

Police said the elder Durst lost control of the vehicle while rounding a curve at an apparent high rate of speed. The vehicle veered onto the west berm, damaged guard rails in the amount of $650, struck a stone embankment, and rolled over several times.

Salisbury volunteer firemen were at the scene controlling traffic about one hour, police added.

NOAH'S ARK to be REBUILT

Pastor J. Richard Green of the Frostburg Church of the Brethren Will be Speaking at the United Brethren Church

In Crellin, Md.

Wednesday, May 5, 1976

At 7:00 P.M.

Pastor Greene and his congregation are REBUILDING NOAH'S ARK as their new church. The Ark will be one and a half times as long as a football field (450'), three stories high and 75' wide.

In April, May and June of 1974, Pastor Greene kept having a Vision night after night in which he saw a large Ark located on a hilltop in Frostburg, Maryland. This parcel of land is located along Interstate Routes 48 and 36. The story of how the land was purchased and paid for is one of the many miracles that have happened which Pastor Greene will share. A book is being written about all that is happening and a record about the Vision has been made.

You have to compare it to believe it.

The Justus Company cordially invites you to look at other kinds of homes. Before you look at ours. Because when you compare, you'll find that there is no comparison to our solid cedar home. Solid cedar means more durability and lower maintenance for you. And you can't top the warm natural beauty of cedar. The Justus system is flexible. You can customize our basic designs to suit your needs better. Justus offers you warmth, beauty and flexibility for your year-around or leisure living.

Schedules Tour

Congressman Goodloe Byron is scheduling a week of visits to Central and Western Maryland communities, his office announced.

The "opinion tour" of 20 communities is designed to supplement the recent questionnaire Byron mailed constituents.

"Questionnaires are one way to find out what is on the minds of the people but talking to citizens at the grass roots level on a face-to-face basis is also important," Byron noted.

The tour schedule for Allegany and Garrett Counties includes post office stops on Friday, April 23, at Lonaconing, (10:30 a.m.), Oakland (2:00 p.m.) and Grantsville (5:00 p.m.) On Saturday, April 24, he will be at the post offices in Spring Gap (10:00 a.m.) and Oldtown (11:00 a.m.).

Citizens with opinions on upcoming legislation or those experiencing difficulty with federal matters are welcome to meet with Congressman Byron privately during his visits.

Two Hurt Same Place and Time Early Sunday

Two accidents occurred at about the same place and time, about 1:30 Sunday morning. One person in each accident was injured and both charged with driving while intoxicated. One was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Both wrecks occurred on Old 219 in the McHenry area.

Sherman Lee Savage, RD 5, Oakland, was driving north on Old 219 when he lost control of the car, went off the left side of the road and struck a telephone pole. Savage was treated at the hospital.

Tfc. G. D. Broadwater investigated both and charged both with driving while intoxicated.

Another person was injured in a one-car mishap on U.S. 50 just west of Mason School road last Thursday morning. Darrell F. Severe, Gormania, was apparently only slightly injured. He was traveling west on Rt. 50 when Terry W. Pennington, Bayard, W. Va., pulled from a private drive in front of him. Severe then went off the roadway, first to the left then to the right striking guard rails on each side. Tfc. C. H. Hinnant investigated.

A two-vehicle mix-up occurred on the Pleasant Valley road near the Smouse road Tuesday morning. All involved escaped injury. James A. Swinson, RD 3, Oakland, was traveling south on Pleasant Valley road. He attempted to light a cigarette and failed to keep to the right side of the road. In failing to keep to the right, Swinson struck the pickup of Rita S. Liller traveling north, which in turn struck a road sign on the right side of the road. Tfc. Hinnant investigated.

Last Tuesday afternoon, another accident was caused by a person backing from a private drive, just east of Keyser Ridge. John B. Furr, RD 5, Oakland, pulled from a private drive onto U.S. 40 and struck the car of Ralph Simmons, Washington, Pa., traveling west. Tfc. Broadwater placed a charge against Furr of not yielding the right-of-way pulling from a private drive.

If You Smell Gas— Call Us!
Natural gas has a distinctive odor added for your protection. When you smell gas, first check pilot lights and burners on gas appliances and equipment. If you still smell gas after making these checks, then call us.
Why not make a note of the telephone number now? Also be aware that the source of a gas odor could be external—gas from leaks in service lines or street mains that could migrate into your premises through walls or drain lines.
If the odor is strong:
• Ventilate the house—open doors and windows.
• Shut off appliance valves.
• Don't use matches or operate any electrical appliances.
• Don't use any light switches or other switches. Leave them alone!
• Leave the house—make your call to the Gas Company from a neighbor's home.

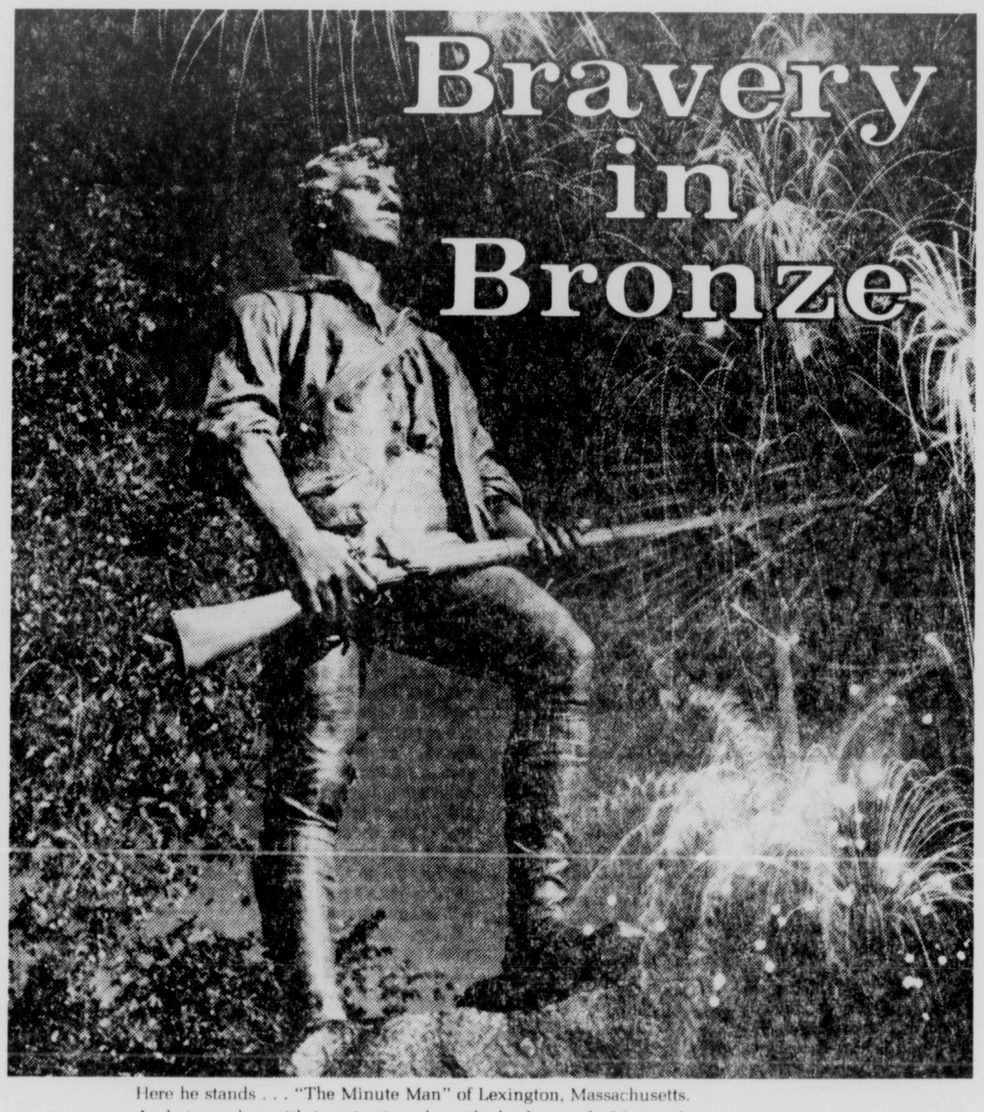
Bravery in Bronze



Here he stands . . . "The Minute Man" of Lexington, Massachusetts.

A photographer with imagination chose the background of fireworks.

But that April night when Paul Revere alerted the Minute Men, there were fireworks of a different kind. The bravery that night was not in bronze!

It is no accident that this historical encounter occurred in the same colony which the pilgrim fathers founded in their quest for religious liberty. The very kernel of American freedom sprung from the right to believe in God and to worship Him — each in his own way. The heritage of the Minute Men was a courage born in conscience that defied any invasion of liberty — religious or political!

Two centuries ago patriots established with their blood a nation of conscience, of faith. Celebrate that with your heart and soul . . . it cannot be preserved in bronze.

Background Scripture: Colossians 3:1-21
Devotional Reading: 2 Corinthians 5:16-21

A woman recently appeared on a television "talk show" and called the women of America to "forget women's lib" and restore their husbands to the position of "head of the house." She was quickly attacked by another woman who asserted that such a point of view was a return to the "dark ages." Governing the household, she said, should be equally shared by both husband and wife.

Rev. Althouse

A youth in the audience rose to object that both women were "offbase," for they were ignoring, he said, the role of the children. They too need to be equal partners with the parents in running the household.

Who's in charge?

Someone has rightly observed that the American family today is engrossed in a bitter struggle for sovereignty. Everyone, it seems, wants to be in the driver's seat and is concerned with his or her "rights."

This is not so much a matter of whom we say is in charge—for what we say and what is actual may be quite different. Often we still maintain that "the man is head of the house." But that may be more apparent than real. It may be the woman of the house—wife and/or mother—who makes the decisions. Or it may be the children who actually wield the power, bending parents to their wills by one means or another.

I am reminded of the story of the man who said that while his wife made the "low-level decisions" as to how they spent their money, where they would go for their vacations, how they'd educate their children, he made all the "important decisions, like 'Shall the USA send military aid to Israel?', 'Should we grant amnesty to conscientious objectors?' etc."

Put off the "old man"

The Apostle Paul, however, sees family life in different terms than these. The struggle for power within the family circle is not the focus for the Christian. That kind of concern is something that he needs to grow beyond. "Put them all away...", says Paul of destructive and devisive family dynamics. Even more than that, "seek the things that are above" (Colossians 3:1). The Christian family needs to look higher than the struggle for family power.

Above all, says Paul, "put on love which binds everything together in perfect harmony" (3:14). There will be differences in the family and there is none that does not experience conflict. But if there is love—genuine love—there will also be the cement that binds the family together. This love will transcend all questions of "Who's in charge?", for the Christian will realize that however decisions are made in the family circle, there can only be but one "Head of the house," and every struggle for power within the family is a usurpation of the power that belongs to God alone.

Spring Turkey Season Underway

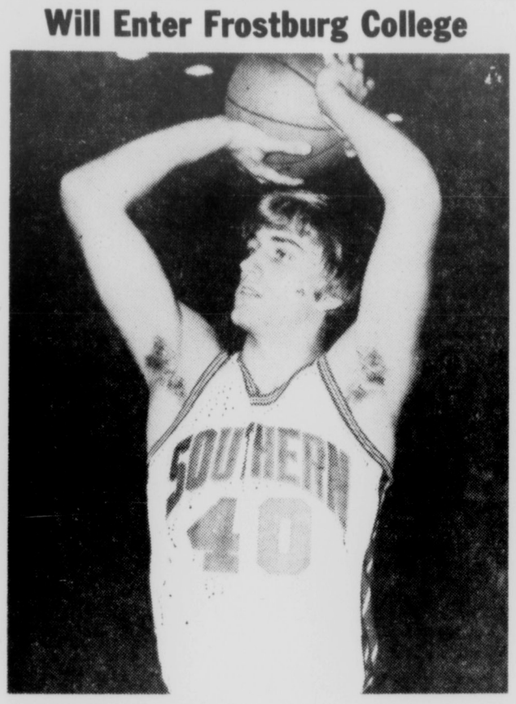
Will Enter Frostburg College



Kevin Liller, Southern High School's record-setting senior in basketball has decided to enter Frostburg State College in the fall, Bobcat coach Kurt Wolfe has disclosed.

"We're really pleased to get a student-athlete of Kevin's caliber," says Wolfe of the 6'3" Ram cager. "He's the type of kid who can come in here and contribute to our program right away. His potential is unlimited."

Liller shattered nearly every school basketball mark in his three year varsity career. He eclipsed the career scoring record of 1,035 points held by Bob "Ruffy" Ridder, the former Ram star who played an integral part in the Frostburg State basketball program the last four years. Liller ended his career with 1,209 points in 69 games, good for a career mark of 17.5 ppg., setting seasonal marks of 585 points (21.7 ppg.), 254 field goals and 264 rebounds in his senior year. Coach Don Stemple's prize pupil hit on 54.8% of his shots, and his 122 assists and 53 steals this past season stand as a testimony to his unselfish play and versatility.

"Kevin's major strengths are his basketball intelligence and his dedication to the game," says Ram mentor Stemple. "He's as good as he is now because he's worked harder than the average kid."

Liller was named to the All-PVC 1st team and to the All-State honorable mention list as a senior, and was a 3rd team All-PVC selection and co-MVP pick in his junior year.

"I'm happy with my decision to attend Frostburg," says Liller. "It means a great deal to me to be able to play college basketball in this area."

Kevin, who carries an impressive 3.51 GPA in the classroom, admits the spacious new $7 million physical education facility partly influenced his decision to matriculate at the Mountain City campus.

Liller will continue a tradition of fine Ram basketball players at Frostburg. Former Southern standouts Ridder and Tom Bosley, both senior guards on FSC's basketball team this past winter, are quite pleased Liller has chosen to follow in their footsteps.

Liller, used primarily as a swing man at Southern, will no doubt switch to guard at FSC. Used by Coach Stemple as a solution to enemy presses this past season, Liller has the ballhandling skills and the quickness to make him a definite contender for a starting berth for the Bobcats at a guard position next winter, though only a freshman.

Kevin's older sister, LuJean, graduated from Frostburg last May, but Liller maintains she had nothing to do with his decision to attend FSC.

Kevin plans to major in business administration, with "law school or graduate school in business" his future goals.

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Liller, of Oakland.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I am opposing all bills now in the making and hope others will do likewise.

The bill to make it illegal for parents to have parental authority over children. Idle hands and minds make juvenile delinquents. If Biblical exhortation is pushed aside, this makes children more aggressive toward home chores and parents. To make a law to state it illegal for parents to demand respect due them, is not a Christian attitude and most shameful.

A bill to ban marriage and give government the right to do surgery on male and female children. Whoever started this should be asked if the Lord God Almighty has given this authority.

The birth control pills, contraceptives, devices given to our young generation, as well as free abortions without parental knowledge, are sinful and against Biblical training, as well as spreading uncontrollable and incurable diseases.

We are moving swiftly into a totalitarian state. We do not want this young generation of ours living under a Russian type government.

Such contemplated laws should be banned to keep a free America.

Mrs. Jacob Oester,
Accident

Dear Editor:

In your front page column "Hearing Held on Youghiogheny" April 15 you completely bypassed the Yough landowners. The state and federal boys said the April 8 public hearing was to let the landowners voice their wishes.

The landowners did voice their wishes clearly and definitely. They rightly own the land, because they, their parents, and grandparents, worked and earned it, paid the taxes and took care of the properties these many years. They have done a much better job than the government has done with their lands. The landowners suggested, asked, and told them to report that they do not wish to give, sell, trade, or give controls to the government, and asked them to reverse all legislation that would give the state any controls and let the land ownership in the jurisdiction of the rightful owners as in years past.

Russia made land controls too until finally they took the farms and the dairies. Oh, yes, they let the rightful owners on the farms to farm and care for his ??? cows. But the government controlled it to the extent that the farmers were forbidden to use the milk.

Do you think freedom loving Americans want this? Don't try to kid us.

Ruth Snyder
Rt. 2, Oakland.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Samuel Eugene Thomas who passed away April 24, 1975.

One sad and lonely year has passed since you so suddenly went to rest,
We ask God's forgiveness for questioning why
And look forward to meeting you bye and bye.
You left our hearts saddened and with burdens hard to bear
And together we talk as tho' you're still here.
You're in our thoughts with each passing day
And our tears are shed in silence,
But we pray to God above to show and gives us Guidance.
Altho' to many you may be forgotten to some just one of the past
But to us you'll never be, your memory will always last.

Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Miner celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday afternoon, April 11th.

They were married in Somerset, Pa., on April 5, 1926. They are the parents of five children, Elmer Miner, Elgin, Illinois; Mrs. Anna Heston, Clarksburg, Md.; Reed and John Miner and Mrs. Melda Bittinger, all of Grantsville. They have sixteen grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

Their children honored them with a special religious service at the Bethesda Church of the Brethren on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. About seventy friends and relatives attended.

The couple was presented a gold and white corsage, and boutonnire of carnations. Baskets and bouquets of golden flowers were arranged for decorations. A special gift table held the gifts.

The refreshment table featured a three-tiered cake, topped with the number "50" and decorated with golen bells and white roses with gold leaves. Coffee, punch and other assorted snacks were served to the group along with the cake.

A service of remembrance and dedication was conducted by the Rev. Preston Miller. The choir sang three special numbers, with the congregation singing, "Great is the Faithfulness". Special Palm Sunday and anniversary music was furnished by Mrs. Martha Glotfelty.

Accident Girl Scouts Tour Washington

Members of Girl Scout Cadette troop 52, and Junior Troop 63, of Accident, toured Washington, D. C., March 21 to 25. Highlights of the tour included Arlington National cemetery where they saw changing the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and gravesites of President John F. Kennedy and U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy; the Wax museum, the Dolphin Theatre, and Washington monument.

Tuesday, March 23, the group toured the White House, the Senate gallery where they heard Senator Ted Kennedy present views on proposed legislation for aid to Angola. Senators Barry Goldwater, John Glenn, Mike Mansfield, and Robert Byrd were actively engaged.

Staff members of both houses encouraged the scout's interest and explained the legislative process. Congressman Goodloe E. Byron and the group were photographed on the steps of the House. He personally escorted them to the House gallery to observe legislative matters. Scouts heard Shirley Chisholm speaking about a day care center. Library of Congress was toured where the scouts were among the first visitors to view personal possessions which had been on the body of President Abraham Lincoln at the time of his death. Until three weeks before their tour these possessions had been contained in a box never before opened for the public.

An evening meal was had at a Polynesian restaurant. The Organization of American States represented the tour's only international aspect.

The tour was continued through portions of the Smithsonian Institution complex and the National Gallery of Art. They attended a performance of "The Heiress" in the Eisenhower theatre of the Kennedy Center for the performing arts. Prior to leaving for home on March 25 they visited the Jefferson and Lincoln Memorials. Scouts were lodged at the Rockwood National Center for Girl Scouts, in Potomac.

Is Commended For 22 Years In Air Force

Technical Sergeant Frank D. Bowser, of the 4900 AB group at Kirkland Air Force Base in New Mexico, was presented a letter of commendation upon his retirement from the service, from M.R. Reilly, major general ISAF, AF Weapons commander.

The general expressed the gratitude of the Air Force "for your long and distinguished career, marking more than 22 years of military service." The letter continued: "It is noteworthy that along with many other accomplishments during your career you were awarded the AF commendation medal while serving as maintenance specialist at Com Rhon air base in South Vietnam. You can be justly proud of your achievements. The strength and security of the free world depend on people like you who are willing to devote themselves to a demanding job involving personal sacrifices and ever increasing responsibilities."

Sgt. Bowser also served in Thule, Greenland, and some 13 years at three other bases in England and other countries. The Sergeant's wife and son make their home in Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Sgt. Bowser and Mrs. Bowser have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Bowser, on Deep Creek Lake for the past ten days, as well as his brothers and sisters.

Lynn Robeson, of Garrett County, won the senior girl division in the annual Western Maryland District 4-H Public Speaking contest held recently at Cresaptown United Methodist Church.

Robin Wendt, Allegany county, was named alternate.

In the intermediate division, Mindy Andrews of Allegany county took the girls division and Kim Bruner of Garrett was alternate. Robby Shaw, Washington county, won the intermediate boys division with Tim Diehl, Allegany, chosen alternate.

Senior boys division winner was Allen Duncan, Washington county, with Barry Glotfelty, Garrett county, as alternate.

Top place in the junior girls division went to Cindy Perrin, Allegany, with Mary Flurie, Washington county, named alternate. David Rohrer of Washington county won the junior boys division with Merel Chaney, Allegany, alternate.

Other participants were Kim Duncan and Korby Kesselring, both of Washington county, and Tracey Zimmerman, Donna Ringer and Frank Custer, all of Garrett.

The senior winners will participate in the state-wide speech contest at the Maryland 4-H Conference in July.

Rev. Harold McClay, Jr., pastor of Cresaptown United Methodist Church, gave the invocation for the district contest. The participants were also served a meal prepared by the United Methodist Women.

Judges were Miss Beverly Liston and Miss Ann Riggleman, Allegany county; Ben Thorn and Mrs. Sandy Stanton, Garrett county; and Mrs. Esther Whitley and Mrs. Mary Martz, Washington county. Cynthia Morral, 4-H agent in Allegany county, was chairman of the event.

Special Meetings

The Keeler Glade Church of God through its pastor, Rev. Jack C. Gray, announced a spring evangelistic series of meetings for the week of April 25 through May 1, beginning each evening at 7:30.

Speaker for the services will be Pastor Dennis Dawson, presently pastor of the Fort Hill and Ursina Churches of God General Conference, Ursina circuit. Special singing also is being planned.

State Farmers Produce Half of Maryland Needs

Maryland farmers despite a three decade urban population boom which has seen their members and their farmlands shrink, still are able to produce 56.5 percent of the basic food needs of the state.

State Agriculture Secretary Young D. Hance said, "I asked the director of the Maryland Department of Agriculture's division of Marketing, to investigate the degree of self sufficiency potential we have in Maryland in the basic food groups.

He charted the 1975 production information and compared that to average food consumption levels for the population. During 1975 the percentages he supplied are an indication of what degree we could, based on current production, supply consumer demand in a given food category.

In summary the dairy industry has the present capacity to supply our needs, our poultry industry can put more than enough chickens on our tables, our vegetable growers could supply about half our needs, we could make about half our flour but we are rather short when it comes to beef, pork and fruits.

Ancient Business Card Is Found

A business card advertising a commercial hotel in Oakland in the early 1900s was found recently by Edwin G. Davis, while rummaging through some of his father's belongings.

It was a card advertising the Schley hotel, on Railroad street, next to the B. and O. station with rooms at $2 per day. S. F. Herr was proprietor. It boasted being the Commercial Men's headquarters. The Schley hotel later became the Frantz hotel which operated for a number of years. The Schley hotel was in operation probably around the turn of the century.

Mr. Davis has been a resident of the Oakland area since 1924, and his father prior to that in the Hutton area.

Garrett County Secondary Schools

By Sara Ramsey
And Dorothy Leighton
League of Women Voters

Presently, there are two secondary schools in Garrett County. According to 1975-76 figures, Northern Garrett County Junior-Senior High School had an enrollment of 915 pupils and an administrative and teaching staff of 47. Southern Garrett County Junior-Senior High School had an enrollment of 1536 pupils and an administrative and teaching staff of 79, with three county professionals also assigned to Southern.

It is to the needs of each Garrett County School student that the secondary school program must be directed. These needs must be assessed. Standards, goals, and procedures must be adopted, and programs implemented, and evaluated.

Guidance Department

The following services are among those provided by the guidance departments: orientation of elementary students and of junior high students interested in a vocational curriculum; student scheduling and schedule changes; testing and diagnosis of problems and of achievement; class grouping; class group counseling; pupil placement; follow-up of graduates; student records; team conference arrangements; federal and state records and reports; and student counseling.

The prime responsibility of the guidance department is to assess the needs of individual students and to help students plan programs to fulfill these needs. The above mentioned services are integrated in this effort. The ratio of pupils to counselors is approximately 500 to 1.

School Program

Four courses of study may be pursued in the Garrett County secondary schools: general, business, college preparatory, and vocational.

According to the new graduation requirements of the Maryland State Department of Education, a student must earn a minimum of 20 credits beyond the eighth grade. Eleven of these credits must be in the following areas: English language arts, 4 credits; social studies, 3 credits (one in US history and one dealing with contemporary issues including local, state, and national government); science, 2 credits; mathematics, 2 credits. A physical activity is now required each year.

Students entering ninth grade with marked deficiencies in reading, writing skills, and practical mathematics must include in their programs instructional activities to improve their skills in the identified areas of need.

A high school diploma indicates only that the student has completed the required number of years in school and obtained the necessary credits. There are no minimum levels of proficiency required for graduation.

Curriculum Development

At present, curriculum development and changes are initiated within the individual departments in each school and approved by the Assistant Superintendent, Curriculum and Instruction, and those who work under him.

Although in various departments, curriculum guides have been prepared, no uniform plan of study exists for each grade level in each subject area, and no county-wide curriculum guide, as such, is used in Garrett County. Curricula are currently being developed in the areas of consumer education, health education, and metric education.

Evaluation of curriculum is on an on-going basis in the secondary schools.

Evaluation

Currently, the individual teacher determines his own method of testing and scale grading pupils. At the present time, new report cards are being tried out in all schools to effect a more uniform grading and reporting system.

Evaluation of the secondary school program, as well as evaluation of the system as a whole, consists mainly of the Maryland Accountability Program, and evaluations of teaching, administrative, and supervisory personnel are described in the appropriate articles.

Group Completes Training Program

Project P.U.S.H. — Outreach has just completed an extensive two week training program for the staff of the Garrett County Early Childhood Intervention Program.

The County program, coordinated by Mrs. Sarah G. Wilson, is a state funded, home based program providing services for children ranging from birth to five years of age. It is designed to accommodate children with various problems as well as children with above average skills. Also participating in the program were members from Garrett County Head Start. Both groups received college credit from West Virginia University for successfully completing the program.

The training sessions, conducted at the Clary Street Learning Center in Keyser, West Virginia, included such topics as, The Importance of Early Identification, Screening, Assessment, Behavioral Objectives, Task Analysis, Error Free Learning Techniques, Language Development and Speech Stimulation Techniques.

A session on Treatment Techniques and one on Learning Disabilities were presented by Mrs. Dorothy Marsh, an Occupational Therapist from Potomac.

In depth training on administering the LOOK Survey was also provided by the P.U.S.H. staff. The LOOK Survey is the county wide, interagency project, developed for the expressed purpose of locating young children who may need special intervention before entering the public schools.

The P.U.S.H. — Outreach staff consists of Mrs. April Beavers, Director; Arthur Harrig, Training Coordinator; Mrs. Deborah Kania, Speech Pathologist; and Frank Grivalsky, Media Specialist.

Project P.U.S.H. utilized the pre-school demonstration classes at the Clary Street Learning Center for the purpose of allowing the participants to observe, first hand, many of the teaching techniques employed by the classroom staff. The demonstration classes, under the direction of Mr. Robert Miller, consist of Betsy Lang, Anne Baer, and Candy Rotruck, teachers; and Joan Clark, Mildred Washington, Janet Smith, and Sonya Miller, instructional aides. Many of the components of the Clary Street classes, as well as those of the LOOK Survey, will be adopted for use in the Maryland program.

Participants from the Early Childhood Intervention Program were Tabitha Woy, teacher; Marian Harvey, Jean Marple, Lana McCrobie, Sandy Wildman, Alma McMinn, Louise Nealis, Dorothy Carder and Viola DeVore. Linda Tichnell, Ruby Allison, Alice Wilhelm, and Kathy Ridder were from Garrett County Head Start.

Two Meetings of Bicentennial Activities Set

Two meetings concerning Bicentennial activities will be held the last week in April, it has been announced.

The first meeting is set for Sunday afternoon, April 25, at 2 o'clock at Camp Hickory, located behind Northern High School. This meeting will pertain to all the general business and activities of the overall program of county Bicentennial events.

The second meeting is set for Thursday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock, also at Camp Hickory. Plans are to be made at this time relative to activities to be held during the Garrett County Harvest Festival which will take place during September 17, 18 and 19 at the county fair grounds at McHenry.

Interested persons are invited.

Ten Are Killed On State Roads

Ten persons lost their lives on Maryland highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed seven were drivers, two were passengers and one was a pedestrian.

At least three of the deaths in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Advancing age cuts nighttime ability to see, but that doesn't seem to be the main problem, Heiger said.

Actually, it is the younger driver, 15 to 24 years of age, who is "over-involved" in highway accidents during the hours of darkness between 6 p.m. and 4 a.m., according to the National Driving Center, Duke University. Older drivers tend to be over-involved during morning daylight hours.

Persons killed through April 18 totaled 148 compared to 202 for the same period last year.

Tydings, Democratic candidate for nomination for United States Senate, does a little politicking in the stores of Oakland on Tuesday during a quick visit to this area. Glenn Beall, Jr. Tydings is endeavoring to win the Democratic nomination over Paul S. Sarbanes and several other candidates. Primary day is Tuesday, May 18. DAYLIGHT TIME

On Sunday we begin our day an hour late according to the sun. Clocks will be set ahead one hour so that they will read Atlantic Standard Time and our time will be four hours behind Universal Time instead of the usual five hours.

A. Adler Hirsch of Louisiana has calculated that the best time of the year for daylight saving time is from the first Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September. His calculations are based on the times of sunset and sunrise which provide rising times requiring the minimum heat and evening hours which are not too cold for outdoor activities in the months at the beginning and the conclusion of his proposed daylight saving time period.

The moon passes through no phase this week. Yesterday it passed through its Last Quarter phase and on next Thursday it will be a New Moon. Moonrise varies from 1:54 a.m. this morning to 4:51 a.m. next Wednesday morning.

Tuesday the moon will be 406,400 kilometers (252,600 miles) from the earth. This apogee occurs at 7:00 a.m.

Visible among the stars this week are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn. Jupiter will be on the other side of the sun in line with sun and earth on Tuesday at 3:00 p.m. Mercury is near the Pleiades and is setting almost an hour after the sun sets. Venus rises only one-half hour before the sun rises and may be lost in the predawn twilight. Mars is moving through Gemini, well up in the west at sunset. Saturn is also in Gemini and is halfway across the sky at sunset.

Daylight continues to increase this week so that Wednesday will have thirteen minutes more daylight than today. Sunrise this morning was at 5:30. Thirteen hours thirty-two minutes later sunset occurs. Wednesday the sun rises eight minutes earlier and sets five minutes later than it does today.

$150 Goes To CROP

Members of the Oakland Rotary club provided the price of the meal that they ordinarily would have paid for Thursday's evening dinner at the American Legion home, turning a total of $150 to CROP, for the hungry people of the world, in cooperation with the community churches and the Mt. Top Ministerial Association.

Rotarians had their Thursday meal at their various homes and many attended Maundy Thursday church services in the various churches.

Attend Maryland Night Meeting in Washington

Twenty-five members of Oakland Lodge of Masons, and several sojourners in the area, traveled by bus to Georgetown area of Washington on Monday to attend a Maryland Night meeting of Potomac Lodge of Masons.

Norman Penn, past grand master of masons of Maryland, was the principal speaker. The group had dinner at a restaurant near Hagerstown, and returned to Oakland early Tuesday

Garrett Lakers Sweep Dundalk

Garrett Community College's pitching limited Dundalk Community College to only two hits in each game as the Lakers won both ends of a doubleheader 5-0 and 9-1 Saturday at Dundalk.

In the opener Jim Kostyak posted his second straight shutout to win his fourth game against no losses. Chris Cullen, with help in the seventh from Kevin Grant, recorded his first win of the season in the nightcap.

The sweep gave the Lakers a 20-8 record. In the opener Garrett was leading 1 to 0 in the top of the sixth when Chris Cullen walked, went to second on a sacrifice by Dave Shotwell and scored on Glenn Wrzensinski's single. Ray Neill doubled to drive in Wrezensinski and Steve Didik singled to score Neill. Didik later scored on a single by Randy DiSimone.

Trailing 1 to 0 in the top of the third inning of the nightcap, the Lakers scored two runs to take the lead and later tacked on three in the fifth and four in the sixth.

Others in the lineup include Whitfield, Bosley, Danel, Deutsch, and Orshorsk.

PROJECT COMPLETED — Special students at the Green Street School have completed a project of making tool boxes over a period of two months. This was a boy scout troop project and this is the second year that such a project has been carried out. Lumber for the tool boxes was contributed by the Beachy Lumber Company, and five students from John Fitzwater's woodworking class at Southern High School aided in the project on four weekends.

One Drug And One Shoplift Case Noted

A variety of cases was noted in District Court for the week ending April 20. Included were a bond hearing on a drug case and a shoplifter was fined.

Keith C. Louie, RD 1, Oakland, has been charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (LSD) with intent to distribute, in Oakland April 10, 1975. He was apprehended January 31 and bond was set at full $5,000. At a bond review Tuesday, bond was to remain the same and he is to be held for trial in Circuit Court.

Larry Lee Brenneman, Deep Creek Lake, pleaded guilty of shoplifting at Super Dollar April 10, goods valued at $2.25. He was fined $50 and costs.

Maurice A. McFarlin, Lonaconing Forestry Camp, has been charged with destruction of property at the camp and assault and battery on James Reed, also at the camp March 16. At a bond review last Wednesday bond remained the same at full $1,000 and trial reset for Monday.

Wayne Martin Casteel, Friendsville, has been charged with assault on Maxine M. Casteel at her home in Friendsville April 14. He is also charged with disorderly intoxication in connection with the same incident. He was released on his own recognizance pending trial Monday.

The not guilty plea of Madison Watson, Piedmont, W.Va., was sustained. He had been charged with assault on Delores Semon at her home in Kitzmiller July 10.

Gorman V.F.D. Assists Mt. Storm At Dump Fire

Members of the Gorman Volunteer Fire company were called to assist the Mt. Storm company about 7:50 p.m. Monday, at a fire at the Mt. Storm dump.

Gorman responded with one truck and 15 men to the dump on the Kuhn Mine Road near Mt. Storm. Bayard firemen were also called, as it was feared that flames would spread to an adjacent wooded area.

The fire was contained on the dumping site, however, and was under control by 10:30. Contents of the site were still smouldering for several hours but no further damage resulted.

Cause of the fire has not yet been determined, according to the Gorman company.

National Youth Week Observed

The Origin Of The Oakland Rotary Club

-1925-

It was a year when our country was in an era of prosperity. Calvin Coolidge was the 32nd President of The United States and perplexed with the problem of what to do with the surplus of money in the U.S. Treasury. Prohibition, moonshiners, and gangsters were riding high and Chicago was at its peak with gangland crime. The Florida land boom was in full swing. Silent movies were the attraction of the times with stars like Mary Pickford, Tom Mix, Charlie Chaplin and Rudolph Valentino. Vaudeville was great with stars like Al Jolson and Will Rogers. Flappers, sheiks, bobbed hair dos, stockings rolled below the knees, smoking cigarettes, and drinking cocktails were the social contagions of the day. The "Sheiks", a takeoff from Rudolph Valentino's movie, were imitated by dressing in spats, slick hair, vests, argyle socks, and sometimes knickers as the men's modern dress code. The Model T Fords sold for about $409.00 in 1925 and were made available in colors that year. All Fords sold prior to "25" were only available in the perennial basic black. The most popular song in 1925 was "Show Me The Way To Go Home." On the local scene, Deep Creek Lake was filling with water. The B&O National Limited started. The Oakland Fire Department was organized and the Oakland Rotary Club's Charter was signed on December 7, 1925.

The Oakland Clubs origin was triggered by a visit and subsequent meeting by Mr. George Stern, past president of the Frostburg Rotary Club, on August 25, 1925 at the William-James Hotel. The meeting was held with a number of Oakland's more prominent merchants who heard Mr. Stern promote the Rotary idea for Oakland. It was a mere two months later that the seed sprouted and the Oakland Rotary Club held its first meeting on October 6, 1925 at the William-James Hotel, which was established as the club's meeting place for years to come. The club continued to meet and on December 7, 1925 Dr. Henry W. McComas, 1st President of the Oakland Rotary Club received the official club charter from Rotary International. The charter was delivered to Dr. McComas by Mr. M. W. Fleming, District Governor of the 34th Rotary District on January 28, 1926. Prior to that the Oakland club had made a trip to Kingwood, West Virginia on January 21, 1926 to help Kingwood organize a club in their community.

Some very significant events took place in that first year for Oakland Rotary members. The club's first ladies' night was held on March 19, 1926. Mr. Henry Lauer was the toastmaster for the program and spoke on the meaning of Rotary. The most important event of that first year took place on August 25, 1926. The Oakland club sponsored an Interstate Rotary meeting at the Deer Park Hotel grounds. The response to this three day event was made by fourteen clubs, over 250 members, including three District Governors. Highlights of the meeting were golf, swimming and a dinner dance.

From a community service standpoint, the first Rotary club of Oakland had its share of projects. The club was involved in undertakings such as the dairy herd improvements project, organization of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, Crippled Adults & Children project, Oakland Boys' Band, Boys' Potato Club and an all-week boys' celebration.

This was the Rotary Club of Oakland in 1925. In 1976 it is still an active club. It is a changed club; just as it needed to with the times. Its future is strong and the members in Rotary years to come will continue to place "service above self."

Paul P. Harris

Founder Of Rotary

Paul P. Harris was the founder of Rotary. He was born in Racine, Wisconsin, on April 19, 1868, and spent his early years in Wallingford, Vermont, prior to attending the University of Vermont, Princeton University and the University of Iowa. Following his graduation from the law school of the University of Iowa in 1891, he spent the next five years in seeing the world and in coming to know his fellow men before settling down to practice law.

He worked as a newspaper reporter, a business college teacher, a stock company actor and as a cowboy. He traveled extensively as a salesman for a marble and granite concern in the U. S. A. and Europe. These varied experiences broadened his vision and were of material assistance in the early extension of Rotary.

In 1896, Paul Harris went to Chicago to practice law. One day he dined with a lawyer friend. After dinner they took a walk and he was impressed by the fact that his friend stopped at several stores and shops in the neighborhood and introduced him to the proprietors, who were his friends. Paul Harris' law clients were business friends, not social friends, but this experience caused him to wonder why he couldn't make social friends out of at least some of his business friends — and he resolved to organize a club which would band together a group of representative business and professional men in friendship and fellowship.

On February 23, 1905, the club's first meeting took place and the nucleus was formed for the thousands of Rotary clubs which were later organized throughout the world. The new club, which Paul Harris named "Rotary" because the members met, in rotation, in their various places of business, met with general approval and club membership grew rapidly.

When Paul Harris became president of the club in its third year he was ambitious to extend Rotary to other cities because he was convinced that the Rotary club could be developed into an important service movement.

The second Rotary club was founded in San Francisco in 1908 and then other clubs were organized until in 1910, when there were 16 clubs, it was decided that they should be united into an organization which would extend the movement to other cities and serve as a clearing house for the exchange of ideas among the clubs. Representatives from the clubs met in Chicago in August, 1910, and organized the National Association of Rotary Clubs. When clubs were formed in Canada and Great Britain, making the movement international in scope, the name was changed, in 1912, to the International Association of Rotary Clubs, and in 1922 the name was shortened to Rotary International. Paul Harris was the first president of the National Association and the first president of the International Association.

When he passed away in January, 1947, he was president emeritus of Rotary International.

"Rotary is an ideal in action."

"Rotary is thoughtfulness of and helpfulness to others."

"Rotary is the experience of men of different faiths, different opinions and different nationalities growing in fellowship, wherever they may be."

Receives "Best Rotary Bulletin" Award

The Object Of Rotary

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST . . . The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND . . . High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD . . . The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business, and community life;

FOURTH . . . The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

This Is Rotary!

More than three-quarters of a million men in 151 lands belong to the 16,000 Rotary Clubs associated as Rotary International.

Rotary's purpose is service to others through efforts to improve the community, to promote high ethical standards in business and professional life, and to advance the cause of world peace by building bridges of knowledge and understanding among peoples of different nations.

Rotary clubs meet weekly, usually for luncheon or dinner and a program. Membership in a Rotary club is by invitation only, and is on the basis of one representative of each business, profession, or institution, a classification system that ensures a wide cross section of community representation.

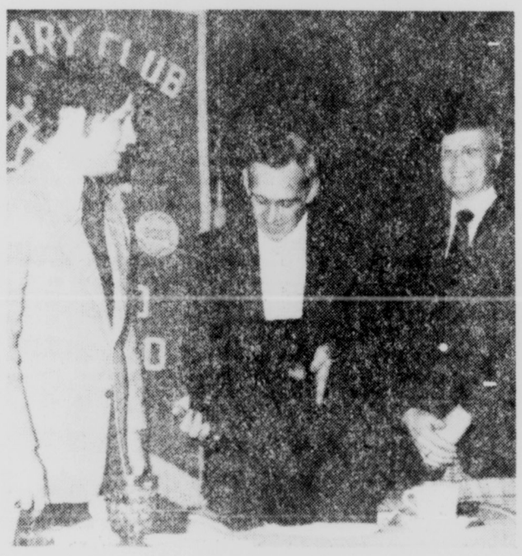
"Service above Self" is a Rotary motto.

Fireside Meetings

Annually, thousands of Rotarians meet around firesides or under tropical palms in informal sessions with high purpose. In many countries the sessions have come to be called "fireside meetings"; their purpose is discussion of important Rotary questions of service in an atmosphere of congeniality and fellowship.

They have become a tradition in literally hundreds of Rotary clubs. As distinguished from forums and the formal programs of regular meetings, the fireside session, with its relaxed atmosphere, provides greater opportunity for member participation in the process of making decisions. Usually held at the home of a member, they help equip Rotarians to translate the ideal of service into the practices of daily life by making the members more conscious of the deeper implications of Rotary.

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR



RECOGNIZING his outstanding achievements in community service, the Oakland Rotary Club presented its first annual Citizen of the Year award to Robert B. Sincell. Mr. Sincell, Production Manager of The Republican, was commended for his efforts in church and community leadership. He was further recognized as being instrumental in the establishment of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, having been the instructor for the Emergency Medical Technician classes in Oakland. He also serves as an active squad member.

Mr. Sincell is married to the former Hannah G. Wagoner and is the father of five children. The family resides in Mt. Lake Park.

Broadford Recreation Area

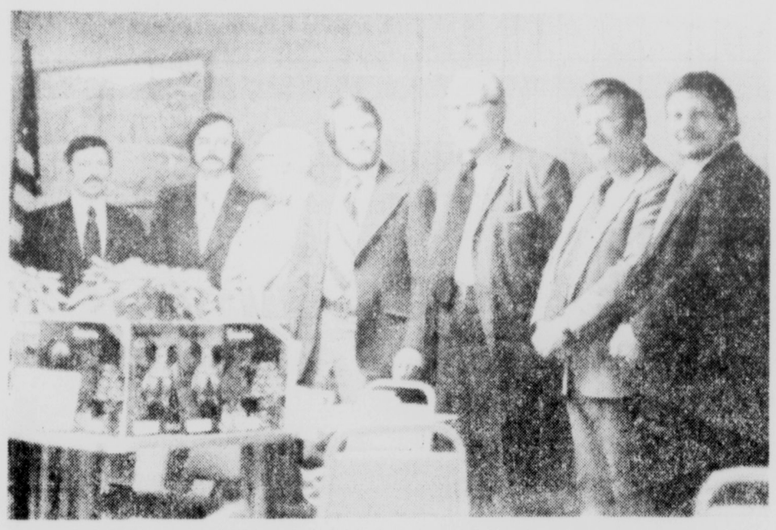
THE HEP STORES

CONGRATULATES THE ROTARY FOR THEIR 50 YEARS OF OUTSTANDING SERVICE TO OUR COMMUNITY.

Annual ROTARIAN Magazine Program



AN ANNUAL February program all Oakland Rotarians look forward to is Baity Ridder's Magazine Program. The program is intended to foster and promote the Rotarian Magazine which is published monthly for all Rotarians. Baity gets everyone into the act in one of the clubs best internal events which goes a long way to promote fellowship.

Rotary Activities

Wherever Rotary clubs are located — in any of 150 countries around the world — the activities of Rotary clubs are based on the same general objectives.

True, Rotarians meet and they eat at weekly luncheons or dinners — but their activities go far beyond these meetings. Rotarians find many outlets for their activities, both in committee work and as individuals. Rotarians are active in civic and community welfare work, in leading boys and girls into good citizenship, in the betterment of rural-urban understanding, and in helping boys clubs and other youth movements.

Rotarians are active in raising the standards of their own businesses and professions, and of their entire vocation.

Throughout the world, Rotarians of many diverse nationalities are working together, personally and as members of their Rotary clubs, for the advancement of world understanding and peace.

Rural - Urban Night

One of the Oakland Rotary Club's annual events is a Rural-Urban Night in which each member invites a member of the rural community. The program is usually presented by one of the areas more prominent farmers who explains modern farming techniques, the problems of the modern day farmer, and changes in the industry.

Vital Statistics

Did you know there are 16,632 Rotary Clubs throughout the world with 777,250 members in 151 countries and geographic regions.

Also there are 2,274 Rotaract Clubs with 45,480 members in 67 countries and 3392 Interact Clubs with 74,624 members in 69 countries.

The Rotary Foundation

The objective of the Foundation is the furthering of understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations through projects of an educational or charitable nature.

Since 1947, The Rotary Foundation has made approximately 4,280 educational awards to young men and women for graduate and undergraduate study and technical training in countries other than their own. A new program provides such awards to teachers also. Another 2,054 young business and professional men have benefited from Group Study Exchange awards for study-visits abroad. Since its inception, The Foundation has made grants to young men and women totaling more than $17,500,000. In 1973-74, more than 800 young persons will study abroad under these programs. The Foundation is supported by voluntary contributions from Rotarians and others.

Interact And Rotaract Clubs

Interact is a worldwide program of clubs for outstanding high school boys and girls sponsored by local Rotary clubs. The purpose of an Interact club is to provide opportunity for young people to work together in a world fellowship dedicated to community service and international understanding. Inaugurated in 1962, the program has 69,000 members who belong to some 3,130 clubs in 70 countries.

Rotaract, for young men and women between 18 and 28, was launched in 1968. The purpose of a Rotaract club is to develop leadership and responsible citizenship through service to the community, to promote high ethical standards in vocation, and to promote international understanding and peace. Rotaract has 33,000 members in some 1,640 clubs in 59 countries.

French Fries Aplenty!

A FAMILIAR SIGHT at the Garrett County Agricultural Fair is the huge crowd of people standing around the Oakland Rotary Club's French Fry Booth, awaiting those fresh, delicious fries. In 1975 Oakland Rotarians and their Rotary Anns washed, peeled, sliced, fried and sold over 10,250 pounds of potatoes, and dispensed [or consumed] over 7,000 cups of soft drinks.

The 1925 - 1976 Oakland Rotary Clubs In Contrast

It was on December 7, 1925, that the Oakland Rotary Club's Charter was presented to Dr. Henry W. McComas, the club's first president. Since that time, the club has contributed uninterrupted service to the community. Its tradition and pride has grown and strengthened over the years. In 1925, it took 23 dedicated men, now charter members, to uphold the traditions and spirit of the club. In 1976 we are now 50 strong and still promoting the objects of Rotary. We are proud to present the rosters for that original club in 1925 and the 1976 club, all of whom were, and are dedicated Rotarians who place "Service Above Self."

Rotary Has Four Kinds Of Service

The program of Rotary covers four distinct avenues of service: Club Service, Vocational Service, Community Service and International Service.

The object of Rotary expresses the program in these words: "The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise, and in particular, to encourage and foster:

"The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

"High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

"The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business, and community life;

"The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

The first avenue — the development of acquaintance — is Club Service.

It embraces everything a Rotarian does to help make the administration of his Club a success. This includes being present at meetings, participating in the fellowship, taking part in programs, serving on committees, serving as an officer, paying dues on time, welcoming new members, visiting other Rotary Clubs and making the most of opportunities to inform non-Rotarians about Rotary's program.

The second avenue — the promotion of high ethical standards in business and professions — is Vocational Service. It has been called "the cornerstone of Rotary," and Rotarians often sum it up by saying, "It simply means putting Rotary to work where we work."

Vocational service derives from the principle which is the very core of Rotary. The selection of members on the basis of business or professional classification. As a trustee of his classifications, each member is obligated to share Rotary's vocational practices with others who are not Rotarians and to bring to his Rotary Club information about his club. One of the tools of vocational service for Rotarians is "The Four-Way Test":

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build good will and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Beyond setting objectives for themselves, Rotarians take seriously their relationship to young people. "Every Rotarian an Example to Youth" is a motto with significant vocational service overtones.

The third avenue — service to and within one's community — is Community Service.

It requires of a Rotarian a personal interest in his community and its people, an obligation he meets by studying his community's problems and how to solve them. Rotarians support and are active in civic educational, patriotic, philanthropic and other organizations having as their object the betterment of their community. They draw public attention to possible measures for meeting community needs not already cared for, promote good will between their towns or cities and surrounding rural communities, and between their immediate communities and neighboring towns and cities.

Rotarians are active in leading boys and girls into good citizenship and in helping boys clubs and other youth movements such as the Boy Scouts. Rotary itself has two worldwide programs of clubs for young people. Interact for high school students provides opportunities for young people to work together in a world fellowship dedicated to community service and in national understanding.

Rotaract, for young adults between 17 and 25, stimulates among its members acceptance of high ethical standards in all occupations, develops, leadership and responsible citizenship through service to the community and promotes international understanding and peace.

The fourth avenue — the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace — is International Service.

The accomplishments of Rotary Clubs in international service demonstrates that opportunities exist regardless of size or geographical location. The Rotary club far from an international border has opportunities to exchange programs with other clubs overseas.

VOLUME 100 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, APRIL 29, 1976 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 9

On Employment . . .

Last month H.R. 50 was unveiled for the Congress. Its name is the Full Employment and Balanced Growth Act, and it is sponsored by the same group which last year introduced the Balanced Growth and Economic Planning Act of 1975.

According to Dr. George S. Benson, president of the National Education Association of Searcy, Arkansas, and author of "Listen Americans," the bill appears to be the immediate successor to the Humphrey-Javits Planning Bill of last year and is called the Humphrey-Hawkins bill. It is sure to be a major campaign issue. It offers the American people a clear cut choice between the kind of Socialism which has taken Great Britain to the point of total bankruptcy and loss of freedom, and the kind of freedom which has made the United States the richest nation on earth.

At heart, according to Dr. Benson, the new approach to Socialism guarantees to every person the right to be fully employed with the Federal government as the employer of last resort. Boiled down to what it really means is that in the name of jobs for the unemployed the Federal government would be empowered to plan your life for you and tell you where you will live and what kind of work you will do. The same planners and the same backers as the Planning Act of 1975 are now peddling the same old Socialism as a political year issue.

One doesn't have to go far to find an example of the folly of the Federal Government control of jobs. In 1973 Congress enacted the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. In North Carolina alone, as of last February, CETA funds had put 73 people in jobs at a cost to the taxpayers of $130,540.67 per trainee. For almost three years of effort at Federally guaranteed full employment, the total cost of the program was one million, two hundred ninety seven thousand, nine hundred and thirteen dollars. Only four percent of trainees it was supposed to place got jobs, a 96 percent failure.

What the Humphrey-Hawkins bill offers is just more of the same...and a loss of freedom.

County Gets Cigaret Tax

Checks were mailed to Baltimore city and the 23 counties this week totaling $3,716,007, covering their share of the cigaret tax revenues for the third quarter of fiscal year 1976. The amount was $28,182.33 less than the amount for the third quarter.

Total amount of cigaret tax revenue distributed for the first three quarters was $11,897,642.91 as compared to $12,200,482.84 for the same three quarters of the last fiscal year.

Figures showed that Garrett county received $19,684.19 for the third quarter, making the total for the three quarters, $63,011.66.

"Brainstorm" Session Produces Civic Club Beautification Ideas

A brainstorming session to find ways to beautify the town of Oakland was one of the highlights of the April 27 meeting of the Oakland Civic Club, held at 12:30 at Will o' the Wisp.

The other highlight of the afternoon was an informative session on House Bill 1119, concerning an elected school board, which was presented by guest speaker by Mrs. Bobbi Genco, president of the County Council of P.T.As.

Mrs. Polly Hanst, chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, informed the group that a project was needed which would meet Horizon Bicentennial guidelines for town-beautification set up by the state.

The club was divided into small groups and each group produced many suggestions. Those appearing most often were public toilets in the town, installation of a park area downtown, possibly by the historic B&O station, planting of flowers at various spots, including around the county Historical museum, and asking owners to clean up old, unused buildings in the town.

Mrs. Ann Englander was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the possibilities for such a beautification project, and to choose several which are feasible. Mrs. Hanst and committee will then choose a project. Each member has agreed to donate a flower or other type of plant for planting, in memory of a late member. The Civic Club for many years was active in promoting landscaping around area homes and planting trees on hillsides under the leadership of Miss Lottie Loar.

Mrs. James Riley, president, presided at a short business session following the brainstorming. Club members who wish may be included in historical treks to Uniontown and Philadelphia.

State Tax Rate Will Be 23 Cents

The Maryland Board of Public Works, consisting of Governor Marvin Mandel, State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, and State Treasurer William S. James, has set the state real estate property tax rate at 23 cents per $100 of valuation for the taxable year beginning July 1, 1976. The board is required by law to set a tax rate by May 1 each year.

Revenue produced by the state real estate tax is used to pay the principal and annual interest costs on Maryland's General Obligation bonds.

The tax rate was set at 21 cents on May 1, 1972 and remains at that level for fiscal 1976.

"The increase in the state real estate tax rate is primarily because of the accelerated growth of the Maryland Public School Construction program under which the state not only pays for construction of all new public school bonded indebtedness," Comptroller Goldstein said. "This program has resulted in significant savings on the local property tax rates. Local tax rates would have skyrocketed if the 23 counties and Baltimore city had to pay for these new school facilities."

The 23 cents real estate tax rate will produce an estimated $68,675,196 in tax revenues on a statewide assessable base estimated to be $31,102,897,000 for fiscal 1977.

In the county by county analysis it is shown that Garrett county's assessable basis is $130,837,000, with a county tax rate of $2.73, with receipts from county totaling $3,571,850, and revenue from the state amounting to $2,972,220, for a savings on the county tax rate amounting to $2.27.

Board Accepts Elementary School At Friendsville

At a special meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education on Wednesday, April 14, the members spent about two hours in the newly constructed Friendsville Elementary School with the architect, J. Prentiss Browne, the State Building inspector, the Garrett County Board of Education building inspector, and members of the staff. Following a thorough review of the project the decision was made to accept the building under the condition that $50,000 would be withheld pending the completion of a few minor items inside the building plus seeding and site work and exterior work.

Dr. William H. Buser, Superintendent of Schools, indicated that the town sewerage system is still not completed and it is unlikely that it will be completed in time to house students in the building this school year.

Mrs. Jane Fox, principal, and members of the teaching staff have had workshops in the past year related to implementing improved programs of instruction in the new building and a similar workshop is proposed for the school staff for the summer of 1976.

A building dedication program will be planned for late summer or early next school year, Dr. Buser indicated.

A gunman killed a Baltimore City Councilman in the City's temporary City Hall in mid-April.

Registration Totals 10,284 As Of April 19

Official registration for Garrett county as of Monday, April 19, shows 10,284 names, according to figures released this week by the Board of Election Supervisors. This is an increase of 512 names over the figures released on November 3 of last year.

There are 5,933 Republicans registered compared to 4,099 Democrats, 11 American party and 241 others. This compares to 5,713 Republicans, 3,828 Democrats, 11 American party, and 220 others listed in the November 3 figures. Republicans had an advantage of 1885 in November but fell to 1,834 as of the present date. There are the same number of the American party and 21 more Independents or other parties.

Republican voters carry majorities in seventeen of the voting precincts, with Democrats holding the edge in two, Finzel and Kitzmiller. Registration is even in Bloomington for the first time at 203 each.

Jennings, Sang Run, Ryan's Glade and Bittinger precincts have Republican majorities of two to one while The Elbow maintains its three to one margin for the GOP.

The tabulation appears by precincts in another section of today's issue.

Boiler Explosion Rips Fitzwater Store Wednesday

An employe of Fitzwater Furniture Store in Mt. Lake Park narrowly escaped injury yesterday afternoon when a furnace boiler in the store exploded.

Mrs. Louise King, the only person in the store at the time, had just left the lunchroom area about 2:40 when the explosion occurred. Force of the blast blew out a section of wall of the furnace area at the rear of the store by the lunchroom, moving the furnace about 10 feet and flinging the furnace jacket some 30 feet into the store.

The explosion is thought to have been caused by a faulty pressure valve on the gas furnace boiler, which allowed pressure to accumulate and finally blow the boiler apart.

Debris and water were flung along a path through the store, reaching even to the front display windows. No estimate of damages to walls, ceiling or furniture stock has been given as yet.

LIKE THE PATH OF A TORNADO — The force of the explosion of a gas boiler at Fitzwater Furniture Store Wednesday afternoon caused much damage to furniture, mattresses and appliances. A furnace jacket blew approximately 30 feet toward the front of the store from the rear furnace room, and dirty water and other furnace debris was generously sprinkled throughout the merchandise. Several glass panes in buffets were also broken out. Estimates of damage have not been tallied as yet. Cause of the explosion is thought to be a faulty pressure valve on the boiler. Oakland firemen were called to the scene about 2:40.

A Living Celebration of Old Age

By Harriet Miller

I love old people and I wish they would feel less lonely, and that they would know that they are our teachers and our parents who often see quite far ahead of us.

[These are not the words of a young student paying homage to his or her elders. Instead, they belong to the forever youthful cellist and University of Southern California professor, Gregor Piatigorsky who, at 73, is a living celebration of old age.

Professor Piatigorsky recently took time out from his busy schedule of teaching master's classes in cello to speak at the dedication of USC's new Leonard Davis School of Gerontology, the first undergraduate facility of its kind in the United States. Based upon lessons learned from his own lifetime of experience, his remarks were so inspiring that I would like to share some of them with you.]

On Numbers: Many people seem not to like being the age they are. For whatever reason, some want to be younger and some older. I once caught a rascal of 82 who said he was 93. Evidently, being 93, he felt, he would be admired more.

Harriet Miller

It seems that arbitrary numbers give us orders: when to drive, when to drink wine, when to vote and when to retire—as if it were possible to determine a person's capacities by a numerical figure. . . . Everyone is too old for some things and no one is too old for everything.

It is possible to enjoy any age, as any weather, if one is prepared for it. . . . I agree with Heine who said, "It is only fools who try not to act their age." I think the entire art of aging is to find oneself in harmony with the age one is."

It can happen that a person of 90 only has the experience of a mature baby, and I knew a few people of 50 who, according to their wealth of experience, could correctly estimate their age at 420.

On Growth: All that grows continues upward and that which stops growing can only decline. The best fruit ripens slowly. I wish we would find a means to grow slower ourselves, so as to reach our peak not too early, and thus delay the decline. Fortunately, intellectual and spiritual development continues after physical growth reaches its peak. I never met a person without a talent for something. But that something should be detected early enough for it to develop.

We are eager to help the old and we try to raise enough funds to make their lives more comfortable and healthy, and all this before we even know what an old person really is. . . . I hope the schools of gerontology will not tolerate segregation of the old, but will rather think in terms of the entire humanity. Indeed, there should be rest homes, but no homes for the old. Even cemetaries are for all ages. Humanity shall be one humanity.

On Searching: Living in this time of high specialization, one spends a lifetime in search of specialists. It is ridiculous to say, but I derived the most important help from our untrained and fat dog named Blooper.

Suffering from severe arthritis, orthopedists provided me with an assortment of corsets, medicines and stretching devices in the form of hanging oneself. Nothing seemed to help until one day, looking at Blooper lying on the floor, yawning and stretching, I was reminded that men were equally provided with such exercises and that nature would not waste its time for useless invention.

I began at once to copy Blooper until I attained a supreme mastery of gaping and stretching, and thus directing the circulation to reach every ailing spot of my body. My persistence and diligence in the Blooper exercises after a few months made me forget ever being arthritic. Thank you, Blooper.

On Loving: Try to develop the capacity for affection—for love, and for falling in love. The object of affection does not necessarily have to be human. It can be an object, it can be a painting, a melody, a color or a wave. There is such a marvelous variety to this great feeling.

I have been in love all my life with something—were it an apricot tree, the scroll of a cello, a voice, eyes, or a woman's hair. And I will always be in love with Michelangelo's Moses.

So, please try. It is impossible to run out of lovable things.

(Miss Miller is the executive director of the non-profit nonpartisan National Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons.)

To live with economic changes you can spend less and have less; you can use what you have to better advantage; or you can increase your resources by adding more money and doing more things for yourself.

Planning is the key to managing your money more wisely. Steps to consider include:

1. Look at the amount of money you have each month after taxes.

2. Keep records for a month to see where your money goes.

3. List the amounts of major monthly expenses-housing, food, transportation, clothing, etc.

4. List other payments you make only at certain times of the year, such as car insurance, life insurance, etc. each month. List how much you are spending on installment payments each month.

5. Look at the amount you are saving each month.

Some of the alternatives to lower spending might include reviewing your resources and exploring how you might maintain your present insurance coverage at a lower cost; using your credit more wisely and limiting your buying, and in making comparisons before buying expensive goods and services.

Keep up to date on what's happening in the nation and around the world so that you'll be aware of the changes that may affect your own life style. Living with change is a challenge.

Solzhenitsyn On National Communism

The Soviet author/exile Alexander Solzhenitsyn continues, like a modern day Jeremiah, to pour forth his warnings to the West that it is doomed to an early destruction if it cannot regain its vitality and gird up its loins to resist the onrushing surge of communist totalitarianism. He made his case so effectively in a recent appearance on British television that even some of the most confirmed British sceptics seem to have had their more optimistic assumptions seriously shaken.

Solzhenitsyn has also attacked the notion that "national" communism will somehow lessen this threat to human freedoms. In an interview with C. L. Sulzberger of the New York Times, Solzhenitsyn made these key points:

1. As demonstrated by Lenin and his disciples, there is a great discrepancy between prerevolutionary promises and post-revolutionary actions. One thing is said before gaining power and another thing is done afterwards.

2. If the French and Italian communist parties are as nationalistic as they pretend to be, why do their leaders go to Moscow and attend closed meetings of the Soviet leadership?

3. Titoism is not a deviation from the communist line. The differences between Tito and Stalin were personal, and this induced Tito to make changes in his system in order to provide a basis for the split.

4. It is nonsense to conjecture that there is any chance of "convergence" of ideologies. Such a possibility is rendered even more remote by the shifting power balance in which, Solzhenitsyn maintains, "the West is surrendering political, economic and moral positions everywhere."

So speaks a man who knows the communist system intimately. If he is right, the idea of independent, democratic communist parties replacing the old motto of "dictatorship of the proletariat" is merely another snare and delusion intended to lead the gullible and unwary to their destruction. —U.S. Press Association.

Yough Program Still Undecided

A joint meeting of the two Youghiogheny River advisory boards and the State Review Board was held last Thursday at McHenry but no final determination made on what government would do to preserve the scenic and wild qualitites of the Maryland portion of the river.

After a series of public hearings conducted by the Department Resources and a year long study to develop regulations, DNR officials and the local advisory board agree that property owners along the river should have their property rights preserved, and at the same time, attempt to preserve the Youghiogheny.

Secretary of Natural Resources James B. Coulter said the 22-mile segment of the Yough had been qualified as a National Wild River by the Federal Bureau of Recreation. But he said the federal government is not now in a postition to purchase and manage the corridor. He added that the federal government was looking to the state to take the initiative in preserving the Yough.

Four options for the state to keep the Yough in its current state were: outright land purchases, zoning regulations, state land trade-offs, conservation easements.

Mr. Coulter said each option presented problems. The outright purchase approach would require allocation of funds from the General Assembly to buy all of the private property within the scenic corridor. He said because purchase of the land within the corridor would not be in the capital budget, it would be unlikely that the state would sell bonds to purchase land in the corridor.

In the case of zoning regulations Mr. Coulter said if the state adopted such regulations, it would be the first time the state would be required to administer regulations which have up to this point, been administered by the local government.

The state land trade-off proposal, he noted, would entail disposition of land currently owned by the state in an equal dollar value to land acquired within the corridor. He said the state requires four appraisals, two for the land to be acquired and two for the land to be sold, plus a review by all state agencies.

The final option, conservation easements, would require the property owner to place his property into a conservation trust. Mr. Coulter said there are tax benefits to the property owner in accepting this option but he said some parcels may be too small to be included in a trust.

Robert Proudfoot, chairman of the local advisory board, said his board would like to talk to individual property owners before making a final recommendation to the state. The committee will be available on Monday and Tuesday evenings at Garrett Community College to answer any questions and clear up any misunderstanding land owners might have. Appointments can be made by calling 334-3119 and they must be made on an individual basis. Mr. Proudfoot said that this is a good will attempt to show local citizens that the advisory committee is working only for the good of the county and its people. He said that the committee is of an advisory capacity only and does not make the regulations. He added that the advisory board feels the property owners should be fully involved and informed before any firm determination is made.

Another advisory board member, Nevin Umbel, said that to put the burden of policing the shoreline on the property owner is unfair. He said publicity about the Yough study has brought in more people who trespass over private property to get to the river.

John Capper, Director of Land Planning Services for the Department of Natural Resources, stated that a letter will be sent out to all land owners in about two weeks, explaining the regulations, outlining possibilities for the future, and offering times that the Department will be available for discussion.

Final determination as to what the state government will do with the river must be made by January 21, 1977.

Bids Sought On 4th New School

Three new schools will open this fall in the county and a fourth school, Northern Middle School, is being advertised for bids this week with a target date set for the fall of 1978.

Scheduled for opening this fall are the South Middle School, Broad Ford elementary and Friendsville elementary schools, which along with the Northern Middle School, represents a combined value of $13 million, according to Dr. William Buser, county superintendent of schools.

The Northern Middle School is to be constructed on a 150 acre site at Cove, north of Accident, which presently includes Northern High along U.S. route 219. It will include supportive facilities, Dr. Buser indicated, including a gymnasium and cafeteria. At the same site is the the outdoor school, Camp Hickory.

Dr. Buser said the new school would relieve congestion of other schools of the northern end of the county. Northern High now has 950 students.

Bishop Walsh Raps Southern Rams 4-0

Bill Malec teamed with Larry Edwards to hold Southern Rams to only one hit and lead the unbeaten Bishop Walsh Spartans to a 4 to 0 victory yesterday on the Bishop Walsh diamond.

The PVC victory moved the Spartans to an 8-0 record. B-W opened with a 1-0 lead in the last of the second when Stu Shaffer doubled, was sacrificed to third by Scott Schroyer and scored on a passed ball.

Walsh loaded the bases in the bottom of the fourth but Southern dampened the threat by turning a double play which left runners at third and first. In the last of the sixth B-W went ahead 4-0 as Schroyer singled and was doubled home by Joe Powers who was then singled in by Malec.

Southern had runners on first and third with two out ir the first inning and also had runners on first and third with one out in the sixth, but was unable to score. DiSimone took the loss for the Rams.

Cold Freezes Leaves, Blossoms

Cold temperatures of the past few days have frozen fruit blossoms and leaves. This condition will vary with location.

According to various sources, fruit blossoms off the Mountain Top were not subjected to as low reading as here, where the mercury remained 4 to 6 degrees below freezing for considerable length of time. In some locations the mercury remained below the freezing mark from late Monday until early Wednesday, long enough cause heavy freezing.

Young Man Charged With Growing "Grass"

A young man from the Wilson area has been charged with manufacture of a controlled dangerous substance by the Garrett County Sheriff's department.

Steven Chester Dixon, 20, of Wilson-Corunna Road, was charged by Deputy D. W. Tucker April 23. Dixon reportedly was growing marijuana plants at his home. An investigation is continuing.

Dixon was lodged in the county jail overnight until released on $500 bond.

Three reports of destruction of property were investigated by the department, one sometime between April 22 and 23, the others about 12:30 a.m. April 25.

Kenny Eugene Schrock, Crellin-Underwood Road, reported that an unknown subject used an iron bar to break the windshield of his 1969 Chevrolet while it was parked overnight at Gank's Esso in Hutton. Estimated damage was $100. Deputy William Barnard is investigating.

Two mailboxes were knocked down at approximately 12:30 a.m. April 25 on Highland Drive near Dennett Road School. Some $20 damage was done to the mailbox of Ray Porter, while an estimated $25 damage was done to the mailbox post and mailbox of Dr. Porter Welch, whose mailbox is beside the Porters. Considerable damage was probably done to the automobile which struck the boxes, as the Welch post was firmly cemented in the ground. Investigators Chief Deputy Frank Finch and William Barnard ask that anyone noticing a recently-damaged vehicle notify the sheriff's department.

Balance beam acrobatics both forwards and backwards caused many a near misstep as youngsters competed in different groups for Special Olympics winner ribbons. High wire artists couldn't take their acts more seriously than these two earnest competitors.

34 Participate In Special Olympics April 21 at GCC

A lighted, Olympic-style torch touched off the 1976 Special Olympics program held at Garrett Community College last Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Some 34 participants, students at Green Street and Accident Schools for Special Education, took part in various Olympic events. Events this year included balance beam, rope jumping, tumbling, long jump, relays, soft ball throw, 50-yard dash, ring toss, cage ball race, and bowling.

Dr. Alfred O'Connell, president of GCC, welcomed the group of participants, judges, teachers and others. Mrs. Leslie Brudenell, executive director of the Maryland State Special olympics, read the Special Olympics pledge while Bob Steyer and Paul Rice carried in and held a lighted Olympic torch.

Propelling a scooter board takes concentration if one is not to use his hands. The scooter board was the final obstacle to be overcome in the relay race at the Special Olympics.

Winners in the various events were given first, second or third place ribbons. Participants each received honorable mention ribbons. At the conclusion of the activities, GCC students who served on the Special Olympics committee gave each of the 34 participants a gold medal. There were 25 students from Green Street School and nine from Accident. Teachers and aides accompanying the children included Mrs. Regina Stork, principal at Green Street; Robert Wilson, principal at Accident; Mrs. Judy Thomas, Mrs. Barbara Weaver, Mrs. Vera Graham, Mrs. Vicki Plevyak, Mrs. Louise White, Miss Loretta Friend, Mrs. Pat McBee, Mrs. James Smith, and Miss Joann Heisel.

Student coordinators were Jeff Carlisle and Doug Stanton. Committee members were Diane Barry, Brenda Broadwater, Bonnie Broadwater, Mary Jane Fike, Todd Tichnell, Craig Bosley, Tom Panther, Darla Fike, Lisa Hinebaugh, Gretchen Maunder and Tina Wotring.

Again this year, the Olympics were video taped by Gary Stanton, from the county Board of Education. The film will be shown later at the college and elsewhere, complete with audio presentation by Miss Lana McLaughlin.

Faculty coordinator again this year was Mrs. Joan B. Crawford. Mrs. Dorothy Leuba was training coordinator. Mrs. Sally Wilson is coordinator for special education in Garrett County.

A happy relay runner completes one set of obstacles only to be confronted by two more, but this doesn't seem to bother this young man as he enjoyed the Special Olympics' events. Youngsters competed in groups of comparable skills for ribbons and each was given an Olympic gold medal at the conclusion of the activities.

A winning smile blossomed on this young lady's face after the balance beam event at the Special Olympics last Wednesday. Even honorable mention ribbons were greeted with delight - in schools for the handicapped and retarded there is no such thing as a "poor loser."

BICENTENNIAL FEATURE

Indiana

Indiana is called the Hoosier State. Its people are known as Hoosiers, a nickname which may have come from the Indiana pioneer's traditional greeting to visitors, "Who's Here?"

The tulip tree is the state tree. The Cardinal is the state bird and the state flower is the peony.

Indianapolis is the state capital, and largest city. Present governor is Otis R. Bowen, Republican.

Indiana became the 19th state December 11, 1816. The Hoosiers chose "The Crossroads of America" as the state motto because of its central location.

The state lay on the path of the westward movement of the 1800's. In 1811, General William Henry Harrison defeated several Indian tribes in "The Battle of Tippecanoe." Harrison, Indiana's first territorial governor, became the ninth U. S. President in 1841. He died only 30 days after entering the White House. His grandson, Benjamin Harrison, a Hoosier for many years, became the 23rd U. S. President in 1889.

Another Hoosier, Wendell Wilkie, was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for president in 1940.

Vincennes, founded in 1731, was the first permanent settlement. George Rogers Clark and his band of frontiersmen captured it from the English on February 24, 1779.

Fort Wayne was founded in 1794 by General Anthony Wayne. It once protected settlers from raids by hostile Indians.

The National Road from Cumberland, Maryland to Vandalia, Illinois was completed across Indiana from Richmond, Va. to Terra Haute about 1850. This road is now U. S. Route 40.

The rapid-fire machine gun was invented by Richard J. Gatling at Indianapolis in 1862. The first machine gun fired 250 shots a minute.

Dust Causes Light Accident Near Oakland

Dust was the apparent cause of an accident just south of Oakland last Tuesday.

A truck of the Phoenix Construction Co. had just finished sweeping the south shoulder along U.S. 219 just at the north end of the railroad bridge. Workmen were removing the sweeper unit from the rear of the truck. Lawrence B. Wolfe, Mt. Lake Park, in a pick-up, failed to notice the stopped vehicle due to the dust and struck it. Irvin H. Sivits, Star Route, Grantsville, was driver of the truck.

MAXCO, Inc. Will Open in Friendsville

MAXCO, Inc., a new store offering groceries, hardware, gasoline and lawn and garden supplies, will open in Friendsville in mid-May, it was announced this week by corporation heads Burton Lytle and I. Lynn Beckman.

The new store, which is located at the corner of Maple Street and Route 53 in Friendsville, is the site of the former Countryside Inn, which had been operating as a restaurant until recently. A portion of the Inn was once used as a grocery store years ago.

Mr. Lytle has resigned his position as cashier at the First National Bank's Oakland office effective Friday, April 30, and will manage the store full-time.

New ceilings, floors, removal of partitions, and other extensive remodeling work began last week and is continuing. Coolers and shelving are expected to begin arriving soon, according to Mr. Beckman, who is public relations officer at the First National Bank.

Negotiations for the new corporation have been underway since January of this year. The name MAXCO is simply a name the corporation chose, and has no special connotations according to Mr. Beckman.

THE TALKING BICYCLE, Scamp, brought useful information about bicycle safety to Loch Lynn School on Monday as part of a joint effort between the Maryland State Police and the county Extension Service. Scamp, a bicycle fully equipped with safety features, "told" the youngsters many facts about proper handling and care of a bicycle, and about safe riding habits. Also part of the program in addition to the bicycle [donated for use by the Oakland Western Auto store] were a film and a slide presentation about bike safety and rules, and a question and answer period with Tfc. C. H. Hinnant of the Maryland State Police. Miss Alice Hevner, county extension agent for 4-H and Youth, presented the slides and assisted with the programs. A test had been administered at Loch Lynn about a week prior to the program, and showed that most children were dangerously ignorant about bicycle safety. The program will appear at Center Street School today and at Dennett Road School May 4. Adults above are Miss Hevner, and Tfc. Hinnant, along with fifth-grade young men who had additional questions following the program.

Need SS Card For Summer Job

Students and other people who plan to get a summer job should apply immediately for a social security number if they don't have one, according to James E. Robertson, Social Security District Manager in Cumberland.

"You should apply for your number several weeks before you need it for a job covered by social security," Mr. Robertson said. "Applications must be screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure that a second number isn't issued to that same person. Screening generally takes several weeks.

"Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," he said. "A worker builds retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to his social security number.

THAT VITAL SOMETHING

The trust of a child is a beautiful thing. Do you merit it?

Sure, you work hard every day to keep up payments on the nice, modern house where he has a room of his own — with enough toys in it to make two kids happy. You give him the best modern medical and dental care. You even started a special bank account for him — for the years when he will be going to college.

But — haven't you missed something? In your concern for his mental and physical well-being, haven't you overlooked that elusive, vital "something" called the soul?

Remember, man is neither all mind nor all body. He has a spiritual side, too!

KEEPING THE FAITH

Lesson for May 2, 1976

Background Scripture: Genesis 12:1-9; Hebrews 11:1,8-16.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 139:1-10, 23-24.

"Keep the faith, baby!" has become a commonplace expression in our society. Along with "Hang in there, man," it may be delivered lightly and thoughtlessly.

Rev. Althouse

At the same time, however, it may be most appropriate and significant, for "keeping the faith" is one of the great tasks of life.

As in a foreign land

Particularly "in a foreign land."

The writer of Hebrews reminded his readers that Abraham had "kept the faith" when he responded to God's call to leave his familiar surroundings and journey to an unknown land which "he was to receive as an inheritance" (Hebrews 11:8). His response may seem not all that remarkable to us today, unless we put ourselves in his shoes and consider how we might react if in some way God called us to leave our homes and go off into a foreign land virtually unknown to us.

But Abraham also "kept the faith" in what he did when at last he arrived in and began to dwell in that "foreign land" which today we know as Israel. It had taken great courage to leave his homeland for the unknown, but it took also great courage to maintain his faith in those unfamiliar surroundings.

Perhaps this was an even greater test of his faith, for there is nothing so debilitating to our faith than an environment either indifferent or even hostile to that faith. It is relatively easy to "keep the faith" when people around us are keeping it too.

When I was a teenager we used to say that our church youth camp was "a miniature kingdom of God," for it seemed easy to be a Christian in these supportive surroundings. The trick, of course, was to maintain that same level of Christian commitment and character when we returned home from church camp. That's when "keeping the faith" became much more difficult.

The City of God

Actually, this is the problem that confronts every Christian: to keep the faith in an environment that may not be conducive to faith and may, in fact, be even hostile to it. There was a time in our nation's history when most communities were heavily influenced by the presence of their local churches (of course there were glaring limitations to this influence, too). Today this is less likely to be so. Most of us—including many rural people, too—live in what Theologian Harvey Cox called "the secular city." Whatever is the meaning of that "city"—and there is much disagreement on that score—it is obvious that the Christian feels much more like a "stranger and exile" there than ever before.

Many people mourn the loss of our religiously-oriented communities, yet, as Hebrews makes clear, the Christian can never be truly "at home" here, but "keeps the faith" in this "foreign land" so that at last he may know that "better country"—the City of God!

HEALTH NOTICE!

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Treating high blood pressure takes more than one person. It is a combination of the patient, the physician and the pharmacist.

1. If you don't know whether you have high blood pressure, ask your doctor to check your pressure, or go to your nearest clinic or health center for a pressure check. You should do this even if you feel well, because high blood pressure may not have any noticeable symptoms.
2. If you have high blood pressure, follow your doctor's instructions about taking medicine, diet—including weight loss if you are overweight—and changes in general health habits, such as rest and recreation. These measures will reduce the risk of stroke, heart attack, kidney failure and heart failure.
3. When your physician prescribes medications, keep taking them whether you feel well or not, and whether you think the drugs are helping or hurting. Report exactly how you feel to your doctor. He can then make any suitable changes needed in your treatment program, or he can ask us to dispense a different medication that may be more suitable to your individual condition.
4. Cooperate with the health team of physician and pharmacist. Working together, blood pressure can be kept under control.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Youth Learn A's To Z's Of Agriculture In 4-H Program

CHICAGO—"Almost everything you can think of starts on a farm in some way or another. Even cosmetics, soaps, candy, coffee, inks, rubber and cements are made with soybeans," says Charles K. Baker of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The scope of agriculture is so broad encompassing the production, processing and marketing of food, fiber and related products—that all Americans have a vital stake in it.

Encouraging boys and girls from 9 to 19 to take pride in agriculture and its importance to the nation and the world is a major objective of the national 4-H agricultural program.

Harvester offers awards

International Harvester Company, donor of awards in the program, has supported 4-H work for more than half a century. Awards are arranged and announced by the National 4-H Service Committee.

4-H'ers acquire up-to-date, practical skills in this Cooperative Extension Service-supervised program. And they apply them in projects covering a broad range of specialties: automotive, beef, commodity marketing, conservation, dairy, electric, entomology, farm management, field crops science, forestry, horticulture, poultry, sheep, small engines, swine, tractor and veterinary science.

Career opportunities

Their 4-H experiences may inspire them to choose careers in farming and ranching. Or they may explore the rapidly expanding professional opportunities in such fields as agricultural research, engineering, economics, communications, education, agribusiness and industry.

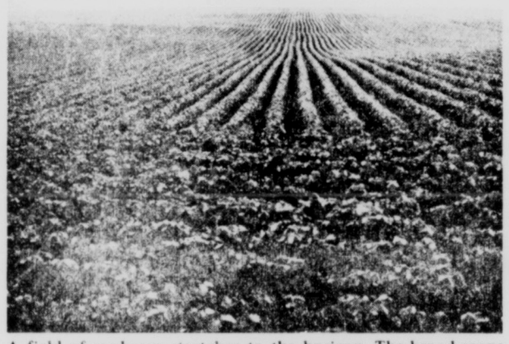
To meet the challenges of tomorrow, last year's winners of $1,000 college scholarships donated by International Harvester have opted for careers as extension agent, veterinarian, animal scientist, agronomist, communicator and farmer. These young people attribute their interests, skills and pride in agriculture to 4-H-related projects.

In addition to six national college scholarships, International Havester will provide one outstanding program member from each state with an expense-paid trip to the 54th National 4-H Congress to be held Nov. 30-Dec. 4 in Chicago.

The company also awards up to four medals of honor to qualified program participants in each county.

All winners are chosen by the Extension Service on the basis of their record books.

Additional information on the 4-H agricultural program is available from county extension agents.



A field of soybeans stretches to the horizon. The broad scope of American agriculture and its challenges for the future are emphasized in the national 4-H agricultural program, which enrolls one million young people in projects ranging from automotive to horticulture to veterinary science.

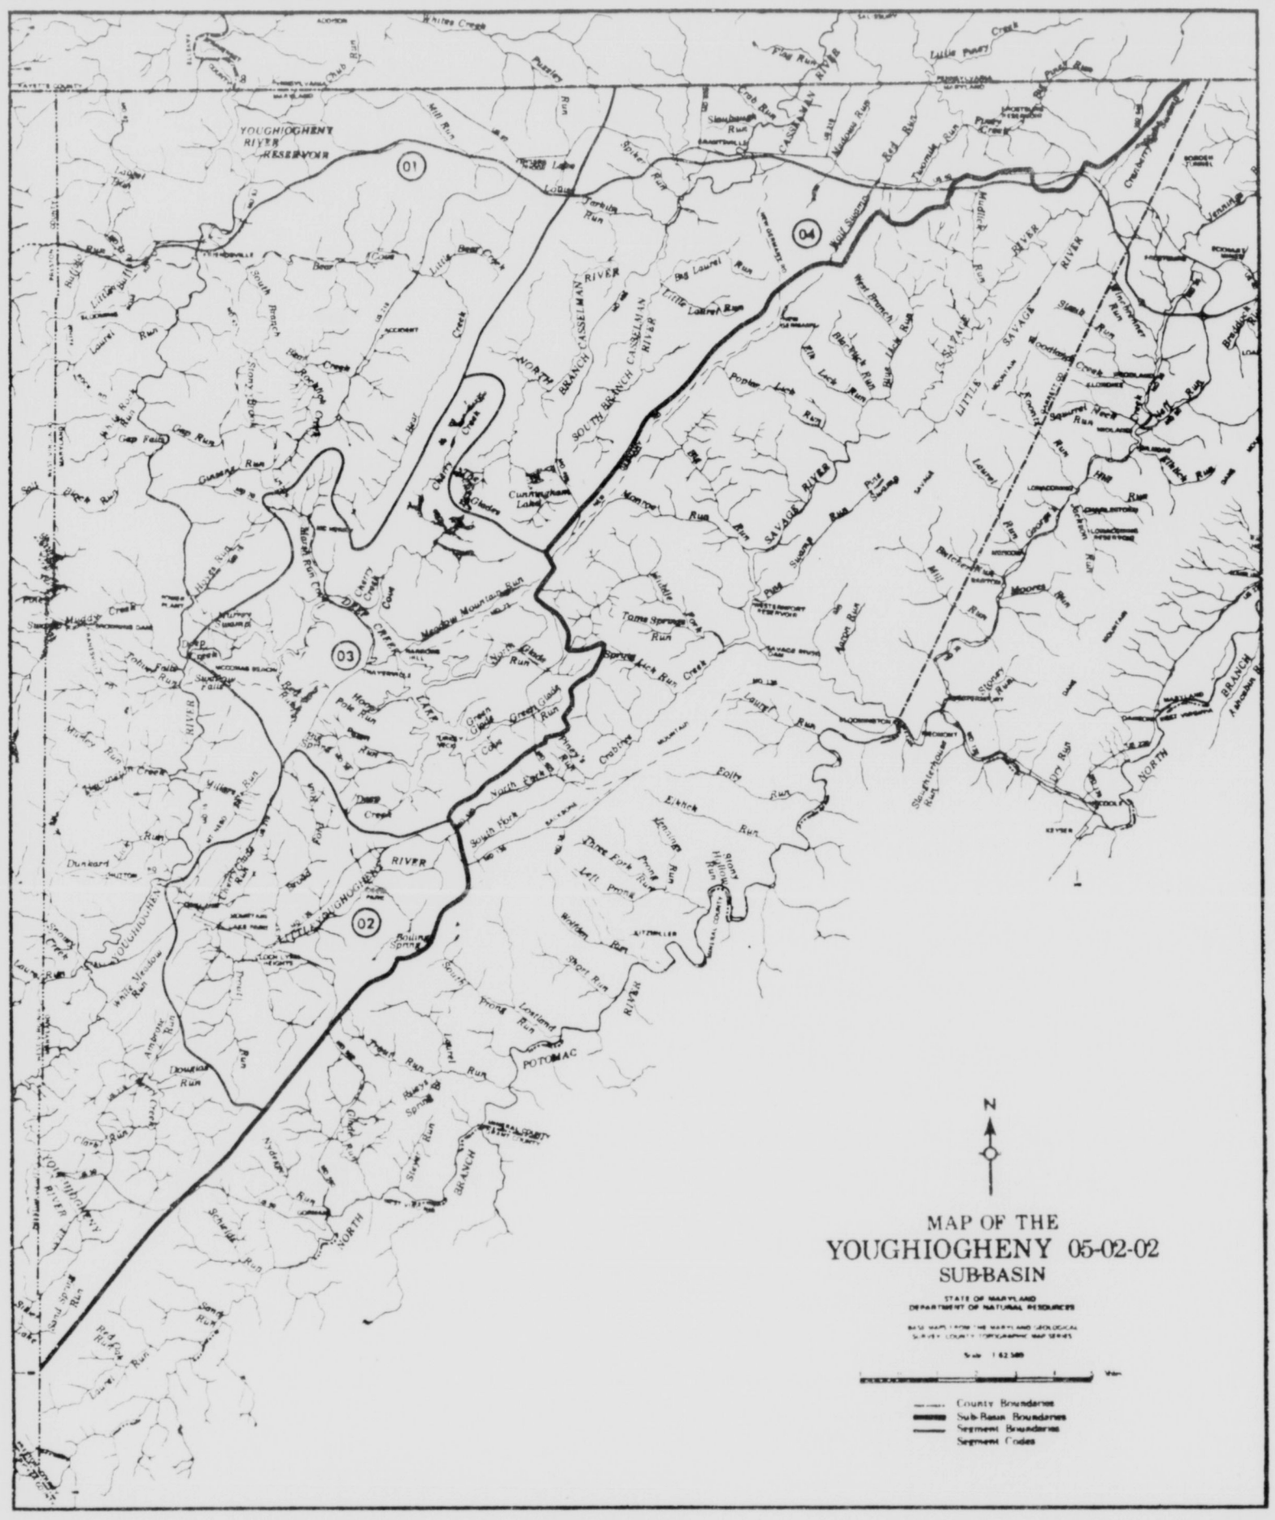
Youghiogheny River Water Plan Drafted, Public Meetings Planned



This is the first of two articles which will present the findings and recommendations of the Youghiogheny River Basin Water Quality Management Plan. A public information meeting on the plan will be held at Northern High School May 12, and a hearing will be held two weeks later, on May 26.

The Maryland Water Resources Administration, the Youghiogheny River Basin Public Advisory Council and the Governmental Policy Group have worked together this past year to prepare a plan to control water pollution in the Youghiogheny River Basin. The area that is covered in the plan is shown on the above map.

The members of the Public Advisory Council are Chairman Jack Fridinger, Stewart Jackson, Gene Straub, Charlie Ross, Jim Ross, Brooks Hamilton, Bob Proudfoot, B. O. Aiken, Col. R. C. Browning, Sandy Douglass, Pasquale Fischetti, Jean Frantz, Randall Harman, Burton Lytle, Leo Martin, Art Naylor, Gary Fratz, and Don Carstens.

The members of the Governmental Policy group are Tim Dugan, Edgar Harman, Marshall Rickert, Charley Miller, Jessie McCullough, John Kurilla, and Col. J. H. Jackson.

The goal of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, which requires that this Basin Plan be written, is to eliminate all water pollution in the nation by 1985.

The Yough Basin Plan will be prepared in two phases. Phase 1, which has just been completed, concentrates primarily on the control of existing and future pollution from municipal and industrial sources, including strip mines.

Control of pollution from such sources as abandoned mines, agriculture, forestry and road construction will be the subject of Phase II. However, these subjects are also discussed in a preliminary way in Phase I. Phase II is to be completed in 1978.

The first step in the Basin Plan was to determine what streams are polluted, what the pollutants are, and where they are coming from. The following conditions were found in the Youghiogheny Basin:

1. A high percentage of domestic wastes enters the streams inadequately treated or in a raw state (untreated).

2. The Youghiogheny River at the Little Youghiogheny and south is polluted by domestic wastes and acid mine drainage.

3. The Little Youghiogheny is seriously polluted by domestic wastes, particularly in the Oakland area.

4. The Casselman River is polluted by poorly treated domestic sewage downstream from the Casselman River bridge.

5. There are failing septic systems throughout the area.

6. Pollution from abandoned mines is prevalent throughout the basin. More specifically, a major portion of Cherry Creek, a portion of Meadow River and several small Casselman tributaries are severely polluted by acid mine drainage. Two tributaries to Glade Run, the North Branch of Laurel Run and Coal Bank Run, are significantly polluted; the lower half of Cherry Creek, the North Branch Casselman River and most of Meadow Run are marginally polluted. The South Branch Casselman and the Casselman mainstem and Shade Run are slightly polluted by mine drainage.

7. Approximately 40 active coal mines are permitted to discharge into the waters of the basin. The heaviest concentration of mines is in the Cherry Creek area.

8. Over 10,000 tons of salts and 30,000 tons of abrasives were applied to the roads in the basin during the winter of 1974-75.

9. Agricultural, forestry and construction activities are suspected to be the major contributors of sediment in the basin.

The greatest impact of this plan will be on towns or other developed areas with inadequately treated sewage, and on individual homes with failing septic systems or raw discharges.

Recommendations in the plan, which will be presented May 12, will appear next week in The Republican.

Music Program Is Planned At Center St. PTA

A musical program, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," will be presented by second and third grade students of Center street elementary school at the school's May Parent-Teacher association meeting on Monday evening, May 3, at 7:30.

Following the musical program an important business meeting will be held, according to Wayne R. Johnson, Principal.

A Maryland man got an 80-year sentence in drug cases.

It was alleged that everyone works 122 days a year just to pay taxes.

Persons who wish to volunteer in obtaining signatures on petition to force a referendum question on the November ballot concerning "Blue Laws", are being asked to meet Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 3 o'clock, at the Mt. Top Christian Assembly, east of Mt. Lake Park.

Rev. John A. Grant, one of the organizers of the drive, said 650 signatures will be required on the petition in order for the question to be placed on the ballot for a referendum vote. There will be about ten days to collect the signatures prior to the deadline, and volunteers are needed. The number of signatures needed is ten percent of the number of voters who participated in the last state election here.

Legislation was passed by the Maryland legislature which would abolish the county's "Blue Laws."

NOAH'S ARK to be REBUILT
Pastor J. Richard Green of the Frostburg Church of the Brethren Will be Speaking at the United Brethren Church
In Crellin, Md.
Wednesday, May 5, 1976
At 7:00 P.M.
Pastor Greene and his congregation are REBUILDING NOAH'S ARK as their new church. The Ark will be one and a half times as long as a football field (450'), three stories high and 75' wide.
In April, May and June of 1974, Pastor Greene kept having a Vision night after night in which he saw a large Ark located on a hilltop in Frostburg, Maryland. This parcel of land is located along Interstate Routes 48 and 36. The story of how the land was purchased and paid for is one of the many miracles that have happened which Pastor Greene will share. A book is being written about all that is happening and a record about the Vision has been made.

In memory of my dear husband, Boyd E. Shaffer, who died on May 11, 1975.

Yes, Dear, I kept the watch with you, my dear husband, till the end, but now I watch and pray that God will grant me the grace that I will meet you over there someday.

Fishing Contest, Picnic Planned For Sr. Citizens

The Garrett County Senior Citizens Fishing Contest and Picnic are set for Herrington Manor State Park, Thursday, June 3rd, beginning at 9:00 a.m. The contest lasts until 3:30 p.m.

A picnic lunch will also be served at 12 noon by the Hot Meals Program headed by Mrs. Vivian Tasker and members of her staff.

W. Dale Ellis, Director of Senior Citizens Programs for Garrett County Community Action Committee, and the Commission On Aging, said the cooperation of officials of Herrington Manor State Park will make the contest successful.

Charles Thomas, Park Superintendent, indicated that admission to the park and the use of boats would be free.

Some 200 trout are expected to be stocked for the contest.

Ellis and Mrs. Tasker urged that Senior Citizens, over 60, who want to participate in the contest or the free meal must call the Community Action Office and make a reservation by Friday, May 21st.

Ellis indicated that the contest will be held rain or shine but the picnic will be held only in good weather.

Sign up for the contest and picnic can also be made at the Hot Meal sites at Crellin, Jennings, Kitzmiller, and Finzel.

Prizes will be awarded in several categories.

Other programs are being planned in connection with the contest and picnic such as musical entertainment.

Earns Medal Of Commendation

Specialist Five Jeffrey L. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Bowman, 1 N St., Mt. Lake Park, was presented the Army Commendation Medal at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, April 13.

The medal was awarded for meritorious service. Such service can be over an extended period of time or for outstanding achievement in a single situation. In either case, the recipient must have demonstrated skills and dedication far above the average.

Spec. Bowman received the award while assigned as a finance specialist in the 125th Finance Company of the 25th Infantry Division.

He entered the Army in 1972 and was last stationed at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1972 graduate of Southern High School, Oakland. Before entering the Army he was employed by Will-O'the-Wisp on Deep Creek Lake.

His wife, Pamela, is with him in Hawaii.

Fee Schedule Established

At the Garrett County Board of Health meeting on April 12, 1976, the following fee schedule was established to be effective May 1, 1976:

1. Observation of percolation test and site evaluation for each septic tank system - $10.00.
2. Final inspection of sewage disposal (septic tank system) system and permit to cover and use system - $10.00.
3. Water well permit for single family dwelling - $5.00.
4. All other water well permits - $10.00.

Maryland Health Laws require that a permit be obtained before any installation of a water supply system or sewage disposal system is begun.

Recreation Area Opening Despite Financial Worries

Broad Ford Recreation area, operated and maintained by the town of Oakland, will open officially May 1 despite serious financial problems hovering over the park.

Members of the Mayor and Town Council decided at a special meeting last Thursday to open the park for its second season, and hope that public support and usage will help make up the financial deficit incurred last year. Since the town is solely responsible for the area, an operating loss constitutes a drain on the town's budget.

Costs of season passes were raised but most other charges are to remain the same. Price schedules decided upon are: 25 cents, children walk-ins; 50 cents, adults; $1.00 per car plus 25 cents per occupant; $20 for adult season passes (April to April); $7.50 adult walk-in passes; $15 season pass for senior citizens 65 or over; $5 for senior citizens walk-ins; $5 for children walk-ins. Passes may be obtained at City Hall, Third Street, Oakland.

Available at Broad Ford are picnic sites, boating for rowboats or crafts with electric trolling motors; fishing, and swimming. A lifeguard is on duty daily during the summer months. Bathhouses and a boat launching facility are also features.

This year, additional soft drink and sandwich dispensers have been added.

Quartet To Sing

Rhodes, Benjamin Gilman, and Margaret Heckler, as well as Gen. Fred C. Weyand, Chief of Staff of the United States Army. The delegates also attended committee hearings, Senate and House sessions, and had an opportunity to meet their Representatives and Senators.

Red Run Theatre Closes, Upstairs Lounge Planned

Red Run Theatre, on Mayhew Inn Road, closed its doors to moviegoers Easter Sunday, April 18, after providing over two years of movie entertainment.

According to Manager Glenn Lyons, the theatre was closed to aid in keeping noise pollution levels below acceptable levels for the Red Run Condominium owners nearby.

Renovations have been underway to establish a low-key indoor lounge upstairs, to be called the Upstairs Lounge. Also, the Crab Shack facilities will be moved indoors, also upstairs, with the new location to be called Crab Galley. Movie equipment has already been sold and removed.

Entertainment in the Upstairs Lounge will be furnished by Bill Kurilko, Kingwood, who has been a band director over 23 years and who is presently band director for Kingwood High School. Mr. Kurilko will entertain at the organ with melodies from previous years.

Mr. Lyons plans an opening for the Upstairs Lounge at the end of May. Restaurant facilities at Red Run remain the same.

To Head Group To Switzerland

The Experiment in International Living, of Brattleboro, Vermont, has appointed Marilyn Englander of Vail Mountain School, Vail, Colorado, to lead a group of 10 students to Switzerland this summer, Elizabeth Warner, director of leadership, announced.

Marilyn will join her experiment group at an orientation site in New England for cultural orientation and intensive language training prior to departure.

Once in Switzerland each member will live with a host family, learning about local customs and traditions on a day to day basis. The homestay lasts about a month. After a homestay the ensuing three weeks are spent in either travel or some specialized activity. The Switzerland group will attend an Alpine climbing and mountaineering school.

The experiment in International Living is a private, non profit educational organization. Now in its 44th year it has an annual exchange of some 8,000 young men and women among 50 nations. In earlier years Miss Englander participated in the program. She is the daughter of W. C. Englander, North Second street.

Areas in the Mississippi River basin were hit by two earthquakes in late March, along the New Madrid, Mo. fault.

Farm Equipment Must Have Lights Traveling At Night

Due to farmers working late and using the highways after dark, Sgt. Howard Graham, of the Md. State Police wishes to advise them that lights are required on farm equipment.

Maryland motor vehicle laws require two headlights on farm tractors and related equipment where vision is limited to 1,000 feet. Also two red lights are required on the rear in addition to two red reflectors, both visible 1,000 feet to the rear. Reflectors may be part of the red lights if the lens are reflectorized. If the tractor is towing other farm equipment, tail lights and reflectors must also be on the rearmost piece of equipment and visible 1,000 feet, in addition to those on the tractor.

If there are any questions, one may call the State Police for additional information, Sgt. Graham concluded.

Career or Vocational Education In Garrett County

By Elizabeth Randel and Dorothy Leighton League of Women Voters

There is considerable evidence that students, parents, and the public consider career planning and preparation one of the major objectives of education. Although a personal commitment to a career field as a means of support is a life changing decision, it nevertheless should be recognized that many people will change occupations several times in their lives. Therefore, it is important to gain firsthand knowledge of the wide variety of job possibilities.

Career education in Garrett County has its beginning in elementary school. From kindergarten through 12th grade, it represents the coordinated effort of the educational system and the community to help each person discover one or more working roles that offer fulfillment.

Maryland has a plan for career education in which the process takes place in identifiable phases that are (1) awareness stage (K-5th grade); (2) exploratory or investigatory stage (6-8th grade); and (3) choice making and preparation stage (9-12th grade).

In the awareness stage, students begin to accumulate information, knowledge, and experiences which provide insight into themselves, their environment, and future possibilities for careers.

During the exploratory and investigatory stage, students continue to be concerned with self-esteem, with careers, and with ideals. They explore a wide range of jobs, education, and training options. The need for decision-making skills becomes apparent. The student should be beginning to adjust his vocational choices to fall in line with his personal characteristics and abilities.

Between the 6th and 8th grades each student spends a week in the Career Laboratory. A test of vocational preference is administered and interpreted to each student. Various occupational films are shown and discussed. In addition, each student explores 32 individual job stations, each of which concentrates on a particular occupation and provides films, reading references, and other materials to the student.

In the 9th through 12th grades, "career education" becomes "vocational education," a choice making and preparation stage. Now the student should acquire skills and knowledge that will lead to further training, higher education and/or employment.

The enrollment in vocational programs in grades 10-12 for September, 1975, was 70.7 % of the total enrollment.

Vocational teachers and counselors survey businesses in the area to keep informed about the local job market, and they relay this information to students.

Each year a follow-up study is made to determine the number of students employed and the number employed in the field for which they were trained.

The Cooperative Vocational Education (work-study) program came into existence two years ago. The arrangement is that of part-time study and part-time work during which the student is given practical experience in the vocation of his choice. This program was designed primarily to teach the basic social skills of employment and good work habits. The student receives pay for his work and school credit for successful participation.

The employer of the work-study participant evaluates the student-trainee. Approximately 75 % of the work-study trainees in 1974-75 were retained by the employers as regular employees.

Vocational education has both state and local advisory councils made up of business, educational, and community leaders. The state council is composed of 25 members from across the state appointed by the governor. The local council is composed of 18 members appointed by the Superintendent of Schools of Garrett County. The purpose of the councils is to evaluate the vocational program and to assist and advise on vocational matters.

Fourteen Killed On State Roads

Fourteen persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed eleven were drivers, one was a passenger and two were pedestrians.

At least six of the deaths in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

The top road speed limit for all vehicles is 55 miles per hour. By respecting this limit, you are saving gasoline, you are stretching the miles you can drive on a tankfull, and you are protecting both your life and your license to drive. This reminder is from the office of Central Accident Records Division, of Maryland State Plice.

There Is An Answer . . .

Q. We are taught that God is everywhere — in the humblest home, in the great outdoors. Why, then, is it necessary to have such massive, elaborate, costly buildings to serve as places of worship? They add nothing to the greatness or glory of God, only to the conceit of man — one sect trying to impress others. This is my gripe about modern Christianity.

A. A rather high proportion of the cost of modern churches goes into the educational facilities and service plants, we believe, rather than in facilities for worship. That is because today's churches tend to be available every day of the week — and most evenings, too — to serve members and neighbors in a wide range of programs.

The thought behind beautiful church structures is not to impress other groups; it is based on scientific understanding of the psychological and spiritual requirements of man, the sense of beauty and wonder.

But what is your objection? This is a free country and all can worship — or not worship — as we please. If some people like beautiful churches and are willing to pay the cost to erect them, they are entitled to have them as places of worship as they choose.

Q. I have been engaged for two years and have dated my fiance for four years. We are both juniors in college. He works every night as a assistant theater manager in our home town, commuting to college every day. Weekends I go home to be with him for only a short time during the evenings. His job is coming between us. When he has a night off every six weeks, he won't go to dances or parties. We are like a couple of dull, old married people. Also, he seems to resent my father, who gives us things my fiance can't afford. [My father worked up from a poor family to a comfortable living.] My fiance has turned against the church, too. What do you advise?

A. It seems that three obstacles have already been created to a happy marriage for: 1. Your fiance may have self-mistrust and inferiority feelings. This possibility is demonstrated by burying himself in a job, even granted he needs the money to continue his studies.

2. His inadequacy reaction, which expresses itself in resentment of your father.

3. His rejection of the influence that could help make him a normal, happy person, namely, religious faith.

Try to talk to him frankly and lovingly about the problem and encourage him to seek counseling. Persuade him that counseling often does much to help people improve the quality of their lives. Today there are ministers of all faiths trained to provide pastoral counseling. Perhaps your pastor might recommend someone who will help your fiance to arrive at a normal attitude toward you, his job, your father and the church, and especially to himself. The fact that he will work hard at a job is good, but it must never become a retreat from normal relationships.

Q. [To Dr. Peale] I have an uncle who is getting a pretty rough going-over by the rest of the family, and for the dumbest possible reason, I feel. His hobby is gourmet cooking. The men in the family snicker at him as though this hobby, which relaxes him on weekends, isn't entirely masculine. What do you say?

A. (Dr. Peale) Sure, let him cook if he wants to. Those who make fun of him probably enjoy what he prepares in his kitchen. Personally, I've never had any interest in culinary activity, but some of my friends — and they are he-men, too — can turn out some of the best food you ever sat down to. Besides that, practically all professional chefs are men, and come to think of it, they always seem to be big rugged guys. Maybe that is from sampling their own food!

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

National 4-H Council Opens New Chapter in 4-H History

CHICAGO—A new chapter in 4-H history will open when the National 4-H Council goes into operation on or about July 1.

A nonprofit educational corporation, the Council will unify functions of the National 4-H Foundation, Washington, D.C., and the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. The two organizations for many years have represented 4-H nationally on behalf of the private sector.

The new Council is expected to strengthen the private sector's role as an effective partner in the overall 4-H program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Private resources enrich 4-H

Funds from business, industry and foundations channeled through the Service Committee and the Foundation have supplemented public support of 4-H by making possible such extras as educational materials, citizenship-leadership training courses, international travel and youth exchange programs, operation and expansion of National 4-H Center, and awards that recognize the achievements of 4-H'ers in a broad range of projects.

Some private-sector donors have lent their support to 4-H through the Service Committee for more than half a century. Among them are International Harvester Company, donor of awards in the 4-H agricultural program; Montgomery Ward & Co., consumer education program; Wilson & Co., Inc., sheep program; Armour & Company, general support; The Santa Fe Railway System and Gulf Central Pipeline Company, A Santa Fe Industries Company, educational awards and scholarships; Chicago & North Western Transportation Company, college scholarships; and The Milwaukee Road, grain marketing-transportation scholarships.

Donors provide incentives

Donors supporting 4-H for more than 30 years include Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corp., food preservation program; Westinghouse Electric Corporation, electric energy; Coats & Clark Inc., clothing; The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, automotive; Amoco Foundation, Inc., petroleum power; and General Motors, safety program. These donors are among about 30 that offer a full schedule of awards to 4-H members: medals of honor at the county level, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress for state winners, and national college scholarships.

Other long-term support of 4-H has come from Alpha Gamma Rho Educational Foundation, agricultural scholarship; The Conrad Hilton Hotel, Report to the Nation; Burlington Northern Inc., educational awards; Allis-Chalmers Corporation, Agricultural Equipment Division, general support; and Elgin Watch Company, awards to winners of special 4-H events.

Hundreds of other private-sector donors have been partners in the 4-H program through the years. Private resources channeled through the new Council are expected to help the Extension Service reach its goal of involving more young people in 4-H by the close of the 1970s.

The new National 4-H Council is expected to strengthen the role of the private sector as an effective partner in the 4-H program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. At the Council's charter board meeting in February, E. Dean Vaughan, left, assistant administrator, 4-H—youth, Extension Service, USDA, and Omer G. Voss, right, chairman and president of the Council's board of trustees and executive vice president, International Harvester Company, review articles of incorporation. The Council will unify functions of the National 4-H Foundation, Washington, D.C., and the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago.

Drive For Concert Members Ends May 1

The Tri-State Community Concert Association, which annually brings musical attractions to the Fort Hill High School auditorium in Cumberland for entertainment of residents of the entire Tri-State area, is now in the home stretch of its 18th annual membership campaign which ends Saturday, May 1.

Mrs. Robert Stanton, 415 East Oak Street, Oakland, is captain of the Oakland team in the membership drive. She is assisted by Mrs. Robert Sincell of Mountain Lake Park.

Three attractions already have been booked for the 1976-77 season. The first is the George Shearing Quintet, featuring the blind pianist with guitar, string bass, drums and vibraphone, scheduled for November 7.

Also certain for the coming season will be the return engagement of the Young Americans in Meredith Wilson's The Music Man on Monday, February 21. The Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater of Boston also will make a return engagement, coming to Cumberland on March 11 for a performance of Madame Butterfly in English.

Kitzmiller Fire Company Now On Central Alarm

The Kitzmiller Volunteer fire department has joined other fire companies of the county in the Central alarm system, for the purpose of coordinating fire fighting abilities.

The change went into effect on Sunday, April 25. Gerald Iman, president of the fire company, suggested that all area residents cooperate with the new system. Any time a fire is to be reported it should be made to the system's main station at the sheriff's office in Oakland 334-4444. The person on duty at the sheriff's office will then trigger the Kitzmiller fire alarm and alert Kitzmiller firemen as to the location of the fire.

Kitzmiller is one of the last departments in the county to join the system.

Plan To Prevent Damage To Cable Lines Started

Several local utilities are cooperating in a program designed to prevent damage to underground lines or other facilities.

The program, called "Miss Utility," will offer a central clearing point where locations of underground lines will be provided.

Persons planning to excavate, dig, bore, plant, pile drive, blast or in any way disturb the earth in such a manner as to cause damage to any sub-surface structure are being asked to call collect 301-559-0100 at least 48 hours in advance to obtain location of underground lines.

"Miss Utility" was established through combined efforts of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, Potomac Edison Company, Potomac Valley Television, American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Antietam Cable Television Company. It is for residents of Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties. The number may be called between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. T. E. Morsberger, manager of construction for C and P., is serving as coordinator in Allegany and Garrett counties.

When the center is called and the facilities do exist underground, the path will be marked and/or staked on the surface. When no facilities exist the caller will be notified.

Garrett College Win One of Two

California tallied single runs in the second and third and added two in the fifth. Max Carpenter got a homer in the second.

Garrett had runners on first and third in the second game with two out but couldn't score. Chris Cullen's single with the bases loaded scored two runs in the second game for Garrett while Randy DiSimone walked with the bases loaded in the fourth and Rob Whitfield scored on a wild pitch.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

How do you feel our welfare system can be improved?

Effective welfare reform means closing loopholes, correcting excessively liberal eligibility standards, tightening work requirements and reducing fraud. A study by the Joint Economic Committee indicates there are now some 35 million people on welfare receiving $40 billion a year from over fifty separate programs. I support aid for those who have no potential for work and self-support—such as the aged, blind and totally disabled—but I also support legislation to get higher income persons off the welfare rolls, to strengthen family responsibility and work requirements, and to simplify administration.

When did the Federal budget first reach the $100 billion mark?

It took 186 years for the Federal budget to reach $100 billion, a line we crossed in 1962. It took only 9 more years to reach $200 billion and then only 4 more years to break the $300 billion barrier.

Does the government publish any other performance data on cars, in addition to gas mileage ratings?

Yes. The Department of Transportation annually publishes data comparing performance levels on brakes, tire reserve load, and acceleration and passing ability for all current year model passenger cars and motorcycles. All three publications are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

I understand that Congress has raised the ceilings on federally insured loans for the purchase of mobile homes. Please explain.

As passed, the bill would allow the Federal Housing Administration to insure loans of up to $12,500 for mobile homes and $20,000 for double-width homes.

Did you vote to stop any negotiations concerned with giving up our rights to the Panama Canal and Canal Zone property?

Yes. I fully supported this vote to stop any such negotiations because to do otherwise could adversely affect our economic and national security.

Does food play a major role in giving the U.S. a favorable balance of payments?

Most certainly. U.S. farm exports in 1975 totaled a record $21.6 billion and according to the Department of Agriculture "helped strengthen our international economic position and to pay for the high cost of petroleum products."

When is Congress going to allow retirement income to be untaxed?

Legislation has been introduced in Congress to provide a $5,000 exemption from income tax for amounts received as annuities, pensions or retirement benefits. I have co-sponsored this measure along with an amendment to the Social Security Act which would increase to $3,600 the amount of outside earnings that can be made without any deduction from benefits.

How did you vote last week on the Defense Procurement Bill?

I supported passage of the authorization measure which covered fiscal 1977 weapons procurement and military research and development programs of the Defense Department.

It is my understanding that over 5,000 small businesses have submitted notices of intent to terminate their voluntary pension plans because of the additional costs and complexities imposed by the enactment of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. Based on this, do you believe the Pension Reform Act can be changed?

I would hope some changes could be made. In fact, I have joined with 69 other members of the U.S. House of Representatives in an appeal to the General Accounting Office to conduct an immediate investigation of the effects of the Pension Reform Act on small businesses. I am hopeful such an investigation can be undertaken as quickly as possible and that it will be a thorough and complete study of the facts. Many small businesses are not equipped or staffed to comply with the extremely complex regulations implementing the new law. In short, Congress has a responsibility to see that pension reform does not become pension obliteration.

How much of our country's energy is supplied by oil?

According to the Energy Research & Development Administration (ERDA) oil and gas supply approximately 76 percent of our country's energy demand. Natural gas accounts for 30 percent and oil accounts for 46 percent.

Do you feel that inflation, or unemployment, is our most serious economic problem?

According to the 15,000 Central & Western Maryland citizens who responded to my recent questionnaire — 67 percent felt inflation was the most serious economic problem facing our country.

Do you have any information on volunteer jobs for senior citizens?

A booklet entitled "Employment and Volunteer Opportunities for Older People" may be ordered, without charge, from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

One Pays High Exceeding Creel Limit On Trout

Exceeding the creel limit made some trout rather expensive for one man, as noted among the Natural Resource violations in District Court for the week ending April 26.

Norman E. Winebrenner, RD 2, Frostburg, paid $45 for exceeding the creel limit for trout with the possession of three extra.

Robert L. Stewart, Jr., Cockeysville, fishing in a designated trout stream without a trout stamp, $15, and fishing without a license, $15.

Boyer M. DeWitte, Columbia, burning before 4 p.m. within 200 feet of a woodland, $10.

Ryan's Glade 4-H Club Meets

The Ryans Glade 4-H Club held their April meeting at the White Church Community Building.

The date of the next meeting has been changed to May 11th — the place of meeting to be announced.

Mrs. Janet Tichnell, leader, announced to the club that the County Campfire has been set for Tuesday evening, June 22nd, in order that the Nebraska 4-H Exchange members might attend during their stay in the County.

Kathy Nice said she is planning to ask one of the Exchange members to stay at her home during their visit.

MRS. Tichnell told members as soon as possible the work on the new Community Center would begin and all members and parents are being asked to help.

Lois Knox gave a brief talk on Arbor Day and displayed two drawings she had made of trees to illustrate her story.

Allegany Trims Garrett 13-8

Carcella got two home runs in a game that saw Allegany Community college defeat the Garrett Community college Lakers 13 to 8 Sunday afternoon at McHenry.

Twenty-seven hits were registered in the clash with 15 of them going for extra bases. The hosting Lakers ran into difficulty early, committing six of their seven errors in the first four innings and giving away six unearned runs.

ACC opened a 2-0 lead in the top of the first when Clarence Sines doubled and Carcella cleared the bases with his first homer.

Garrett defensive problems began in the second frame as ACC got two doubles on errors, upping the ACC edge to 4-0. The Trojans increased the lead to 7-0.

Lakers came alive in the bottom of the third when Bob Ingram walked and Steve Didik punched a homer to reduce the lead to 7-2. Wrzesinski doubled in two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to make it 7-4. Allegany then made it 10 to 4 and Carcella then hit a solo homer in the sixth to make it 11-4. Wrzesinski then doubled in another pair to make it 11 to 6. He also got his third double of the day driving in another run in the eighth and Whitfield got a homer in the last of the ninth to give Garrett its final run.

Andrew Zitzer and Kevin Steffenhagen were pitchers for Garrett. Ritchey was the winning pitcher for ACC.

An oil rig in the Gulf of Mexico sank, killing 13.

Defeat Recommended . .

Defeat of the bill calling for an elected School Board is once again being recommended, because in our opinion the measure has a number of provisions that are not good.

Several reasons for defeating this referendum are given here. The five members with no previous experience could be elected every four years. There are no staggering terms to make some semblance of continuity. A salary of $840 per member is indicated but there is no limit to the expense account, according to the bill. No elected school board would have any more authority than the appointed board because they both would have to comply with state laws. Nothing would prevent a school teacher from running, who, if elected, could sit on both sides in negotiations.

Biggest objection to the bill itself, even among those who might favor an elected school board, is the lack of restrictions on the expense account of board members.

A panel discussion of the matter is scheduled for Garrett Community College on May 16, at 2:30, when three persons will speak in favor of the bill and three against. Members of the Parent-Teacher associations have been expressing their opinions and although no votes have been taken it is the concensus of those who have talked to PTA members, that some 85 percent are against the bill as enacted. When persons in favor or on the fence, read the provisions of the bill carefully, they almost inevitably declare they are against the measure.

Elected boards in other areas have thus far shown no improvement. By and large appointive members of the board have interest in the welfare of the students, with no axe to grind, no selfish motives involved, and certainly no desire for any monetary advantage. Keeping things as they are, it seems to us, far outweighs any change at this time.

Major Coal Mine Complex to Open In Garrett County Near Wilson

Robert E. Thomas, chairman and president of MAPCO, Inc., Tulsa, Oklahoma, announced plans this week to construct a major coal mine complex on a 6,000 acre reserve near Wilson in Garrett County.

By 1980, this operation should employ approximately 500 people, at least three-fourths of them from this area. The new mine complex will be called the Mettiki Mine, and will be operated by the Mettiki Coal Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of MAPCO, Inc. Ultimately, the mine is expected to produce 1,800,000 tons of metallurgical and steam grade coal per year.

Site clearing and access road building are now underway by Frank Arnold, Arnold Construction, Oakland. Prime contractor to build the preparation plant facility is McNally-Pittsburgh Manufacturing Corporation of Pittsburg, Kansas, which is expected to move on the job early this month.

McNally has already taken several hundred job applications from the area through the Employment Security office, managed by Mrs. Mary Browning, and will hire approximately 40 people the first month. By the end of the summer, McNally will have a total work force of 100-150 people who will be needed until the facility is completed in the spring of 1978.

McNally will be responsible for manufacturing coal handling and loading facilities, and will construct a railroad spur to the existing Western Maryland Railway line which reaches the property.

MAPCO leased the 6,000 acre-property from Western Maryland in the spring of 1974, then drilled to determine coal reserves and quality. By this time, most engineering surveys have been made and actual mine development work by Mettiki will start during the summer of 1977. Until that time, Mettiki will have only a small staff of supervisory and engineering personnel.

George Kutchman will be general superintendent, and has moved into this area from central Pennsylvania. He recently purchased a home near Deer Park for his family, who will be moving here in June.

Mr. Kutchman and MAPCO senior vice president of coal production, Bruce C. Wilson, Tuisa, were in the area this week talking with the members of the local Soil Conservation Service and Water Resources Administration from Cumberland to make known the company plans for control of pollution from the deep mines.

According to Mr. Thomas, the president, "The Mettiki Mine will be developed using the latest and best available technology to protect the environment as well as efficiently produce and prepare coal. Our engineering plans call for spending over $2 million on environmental protection facilities alone."

These facilities include a high energy scrubber for the stack gases from the thermal dryer, two large thickeners and three large filters for clarifying the water so that it may be recycled and used over and over to clean the coal in a closed circulating system; and facilities for treating the water that will be produced in the coal mining process. By recycling its water, Mettiki will not require the unsightly slurry ponds and dams used in other mining systems.

Solid waste such as rock which is a by-product of mining will be buried in abandoned strip pits on the prop-

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT BAUMAN ADDRESSES GOP DINNER — Congressman Robert Bauman, Republican conservative from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, told 150 or more attending the Lincoln Day dinner last Saturday evening, that politics was an honorable profession but that several representatives in the Congress weren't aiding in bringing that image to bear.

Groundbreaking Held For 10 Apartment Units Near College

Groundbreaking for ten apartment units one mile east of Garrett Community College was held Tuesday, May 4, by Atlee Snyder, owner of Appalachian Construction Company.

According to Mr. Snyder, these units on Mosser Road should be open for occupancy by July 15, offering almost dormitory convenience for students at GCC. Each apartment will have a living room, dining room, kitchen, bath and two bedrooms.

The first unit is to be one story high, of brick and frame construction. A community room will also be built. Cost of the first ten-apartment unit is to be $210,000, according to Mr. Snyder who has operated a construction company locally for six years and who previously worked in commercial, industrial and residential construction near Washington, D. C. for nine years. Mr. Snyder employs 10 to 15 men.

A second ten unit structure is planned in the not-too-distant future. Mr. Snyder had recently purchased ten acres of land for the units from Raymond Klotz.

Dr. Alfred O'Connell, president of GCC, said that he was delighted at the prospect of having very convenient housing for students available, but noted that the college will not be directly involved in the venture.

Mr. Snyder had originally wished to purchase land from the college to build the structures, but the college board agreed that it would not sell land to private developers.

State law forbids community colleges to build dormitories with public funds, as these are stipulated to be essentially commuting institutions.

Woman Injured When Boat Runs Aground Sunday

A young woman from Pittsburgh was listed in satisfactory condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital this week from injuries sustained in a boating accident on Deep Creek Lake Sunday afternoon.

Gina Amato was a passenger in a boat owned and operated by Robert Martin, Jr., also of Pittsburgh, when it ran aground shortly after 3 p.m. just east of Glendale bridge. The fiberglass boat, a 1973 Chrysler with a 125 h.p. engine, sustained about $500 damage to the hull and the propeller.

Among the first on the scene were two Department of Natural Resource policemen, Officers John Williams and Richard Tower. According to Officer Williams, Martin said he lost control and ran aground. No charges were made. Cpl. Harry Miller, also

Technical Center Contract Awarded

The Board of Trustees of Garrett Community college awarded a contract for $337,600, to the Jackard Construction company to construct the college's new technical center, it was announced by Dr. Alfred O'Connell, president.

The building was designed by Jerry Gzesh, A.I.A. Work on the project was startedon April 27. Donald Carstens will serve as the college's project engineer throughout the construction phase. College officials expect the building to be ready in time for classes next September.

The 15,000 square foot building will be constructed on the western edge of the campus. Exterior design is similar to existing facilities on the five-year old campus. The Technical Center will provide facilities for a number of courses including basic agriculture, drafting, surveying, fluid power, electrical power, machine components, industrial materials, building construction, landscape

Roads Dept. Costs Total $507,418 For Last Winter

Winter expenditures for the Garrett County Roads Department totaled $507,418.60 for this past season, according to Clayton Smith, acting administrative engineer. Costs for the previous winter amounted to $499,480.50.

The figure this year included all expenses — snow fence, anti-skid, salt, cinders, tire chains, the hours men and equipment worked, and restocking the cinder piles for the next winter season. Also calculated were costs for snow removal at the hospital, schools and the airport.

Five new three-ton dumptrucks have been ordered for the forthcoming season and should be arriving soon. During the 1974-75 season, seven new trucks were purchased.

According to Mr. Smith, approximately the same amount of salt was used this year as for the previous year, along with three times the amount of cinders.

The spring work season has not gotten into full swing as yet, although road maintenance has been underway whenever weather permits. Underway now are projects involving grading of dirt roads, patching potholes in hard top roads, cutting roadside brush, and minor relocating jobs such as bank sloping, in preparation for the major construction season.

Major contracts this summer will be to finish the stretch of roadway through Swanton, putting in sidewalks and driveway entrances; prepare a road into Broad Ford School from the Old Deer Park Road to Broad Ford Road; and finish the New Germany Road from Route 495 through to Route 40, which was begun last fall.

Minor jobs to be done include upgrading of Old Crellin Road and finishing the Boy Scout Road project.

Mandel Signs Bill Exempting Garrett From Blue Laws

Gov. Marvin Mandel signed HB 983 Tuesday, officially exempting Garrett County from prohibitions of Sunday sales of merchandise and ending a 20-year "blue law" rule for this area.

There was one certain exemption according to the bill sponsored by Del. DeCorsey Bolden, which is for car salespeople.

The bill was one of 300 signed by the governor, who said that this past General Assembly session would go down in legislative history as one of the most productive, "Accomplishing more than has been accomplished in many years."

Ralph Burnett, state's attorney for this county, has stated that merchants who now wish to stay open on Sundays may do so without fear of

Amtrak Service Not Yet Begun

An Amtrak passenger train rolled through Oakland one day last week but no paying customers were aboard.

Railroad and Amtrak officials made the dry run to inspect track conditions and clearance in preparation for the long-delayed return for passenger service to this area.

The previously announced May 1 starting date for the new passenger service from Washington to Denver has been ruled out by Amtrak.

A spokesman blamed the delay on the Department of Transportation and its cuts in the Amtrak budget.

"The Department of Transportation pulled the rug out," Rep. Harley O. Staggers, West Virginia Democrat, said. "This was an unfortunate decision that I'm working to correct." He said he was confident that Congress would restore the funds within about three weeks.

Neither Staggers nor Amtrak would forecast a new date for starting passenger service. The budget trimming also caused work to fall behind on renovation and new construction at passenger stations along the route.

Larceny Of County Equipment Reported

A transmitter and microphone were stolen from a Garrett County Roads Department payloader while it was parked overnight on the old Blooming Rose Road between Monday evening and 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Estimate of the total amount of loss has not been given to Deputy Harland Tichnell, who is investigating.

The payloader, from the garage at Accident, was being used in road widening and grading operations in the Friendsville area.

Southern High Plans Athletic Banquet May 13

The annual Southern High School sports banquet in honor of the 1975-76 athletes is to be held in Southern's cafetorium on Thursday, May 13, at 6:30 p.m.

Featured speaker will be Kurt Wolfe, head basketball coach at Frostburg State college. Master of ceremonies will be Thomas Thayer.

Southern is winding up one of its better years in varsity athletics, according to Tom Kuhn, athletic director. The football team won its last seven games, completing the season with an 8-2 record and a Tri-Valley conference co-championship. The Rams narrowly missed a state playoff berth. The basketball team had an 18-9 record which included breezing through district playoffs enroute to College Park for the first time in five years and only the third time in Southern history. Their victory in the semi-finals game placed them in the finals for the first time since 1961. The Southern golf team is currently 11-0 and is headed for its fourth undefeated season in its five year history.

Coach Kurt Wolfe, a 1967 graduate of Frostburg State, where he was captain for two years, has posted a six year record of 87-61, making him the winningest coach in Frostburg State basketball history. His 1970-71 record was 24-4 including sixteen straight wins. His Bobcats finished the year ranked first nationally in team defense and received a post season NAIA district 18 playoff bid. The past season was a 10-15 record.

Following the dinner and address, trophies will be awarded to outstanding athletes in all sports categories.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at Proudfoot's Pharmacy, Liller's Barber shop, or from any Southern High school coach or athlete.

Price of the tickets is $5 which also pays for the meal of an athlete. A second ticket for a member of the immediate family may be purchased for $3. The banquet is open to the public.

Congressman Bauman Is Dinner Speaker

Congressman Robert Bauman, Republican conservative from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, declared last Saturday evening that politics was an honorable profession but had little to say favorably for the liberal element in the Congress that was endeavoring to place the country into deeper and deeper debt, by spendthrift legislation.

Congressman Bauman was the speaker at the annual Lincoln Day dinner sponsored by the Republican State Central Committee and the two Republican Women's clubs of the county. Mr. Bauman was introduced by Delegate DeCorsey E. Bolden, of Oakland.

Some 150 persons attended the affair given at the Grantsville fire hall.

Mr. Bauman pointed out that the citizens had the power at their command to change the liberal and wasteful setup in Washington but that they would have to bestir themselves and use the power of the ballot to "turn the rascals out."

He maintained that the political system was all right but was not too effective as long as the voters were apathetic. "We have the power at our command," he said, "but we must use that power."

He cited the top heavy bureaucracy in Washington, mentioning specifically the OSHA, a government commission that has the power of almost life or death over a business if it didn't bow down to their regulations.

Serving as master of ceremonies was Tom Butscher, Oakland. He recognized all of the elected officials as well as members of the Republican State Central committee, Republican Women's club officers, Miss Louise Gore, national committeewoman from Maryland and others.

State Senator Edward J. Mason spoke briefly about his activity in the recently concluded General Assembly where he served as minority leader in the Senate. The meal was provided by the Fire auxiliary.

Two Members Of AAUW Given State Honors

Two members of Garrett Branch, American Association of University Women, were given state-wide recognition at the 34th annual state convention held in Rockville April 30 and May 1, for the two name grants of $500 each announced originally at the AAUW fund raising party at the American Legion home in Oakland on April 2.

The two name grants of $500 each will go into the National AAUW organization for fellowships. The name grants were given in honor of Mrs. Kathryn Helbig and Mrs. Polly Hanst, charter members of the Garrett branch, and in celebration of the 30th anniversary of the founding of the group here. The two were formally recognized at the Friday evening banquet of the entire group.

Attending the convention in addition to Mrs. Helbig and Mrs. Hanst were Mrs. Jean Grose, president; Mrs. Sarah Smith, member of the state board; and Miss Anne Bishop.

Among Maryland women also getting special recognition was Bertha Adkins, former National Republican committeewoman.

Theme was "Discharging our Special Responsibilities to Society." The two day session included various workshops and business sessions. Sarah Smith was Co-chairman of a workshop on "Economic Facts of Life." The other co-chairman is Joan Lambert, also of Garrett Branch, who was unable to attend the convention.

Know Your Country

BICENTENNIAL FEATURE

Bicentennial Feature
Iowa

Iowa is sometimes called the Corn State and is known as the land where the tall corn grows. Its most famous nickname is The Hawkeye state, honoring Black Hawk, famous Indian chief. He led the Sauk and Fox tribes against whites in the Black Hawk war of 1832. Indians were defeated and gave up a strip of land along Mississippi river. It was known as the Black Hawk purchase. Permanent settlement began there in 1833.

Iowa became twenty-ninth state Dec. 28, 1846. State bird is the Eastern Goldfinch, state flower, the wild rose, and Oak is state tree. State capital and largest city is Des Moines. Governor is Robert D. Ray, Republican. Motto is "Our Liberties We Prize and Our Rights we will Maintain."

State's first railroad bridge over Mississippi was finished in 1856, linking Davenport with Rock Island, Ill. Josiah B. Grinnell left New York in 1854 and founded Grinnell after Horace Greeley advised him to go west and "grow up with your country."

Herbert Hoover, 31st president, was born in West Branch, August 10, 1874. Iowa is one of the greatest farming states, ranking second only to California in value of crops and livestock. Is one of the nation's wealthiest agricultural states, a leading producer of beef cattle, and most important source of farm income. More hogs raised there than in any other state.

In field crops it ranks first in corn, second in soybeans and fourth in alfalfa. Many industries process farm products or produce farm implements. Waterloo has large tractor plant.

Tourist attractions include Hoover birthplace and library.

Little Brown church near Nashua is where William S. Pitts was inspired to write hymn, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale." Is popular place for weddings. State fair is one of the most important events in the state, held at Des Moines. Another attraction is the annual tulip festival at Orange City and Pella. Mississippi system forms Iowa's eastern and western borders.

Open farmlands of Iowa provide excellent nesting grounds for many kinds of birds. Quail and ring-necked pheasants feed in grain fields. The State hatchery in Boone county raises quail and pheasants to release for game birds. Mississippi flyway is the major route for migrating birds.

Protestant churches have largest membership. There are 55 institutions of higher education. Leads states in percentage of literate persons which is more than 99 percent. Has held this leadership since 1910. School system has produced many famous men like Henry A. Wallace, vice president under F. D. Roosevelt; Herbert Hoover. Scenes of people of rural Iowa won worldwide fame. Davenport municipal art gallery has such collection of paintings by painter Grant Wood.

Other famous Iowans include Buffalo Bill Cody, Billy Sunday, Susan Plaspell, Harry Hanser, Marquis Childs, James Norman Hall, Carl V. Vechten, Margaret Wilson and Meredith Willson.

Kansas will be next state in the series.

Major Coal Mine

erty. It is estimated that by the time mining is complete 25 years from now, many of these highwalls and pits will have completely disappeared.

The property MAPCO has leased is located approximately three miles south of Table Rock on both sides of Kempton Road, where the south branch of Sand Run intersects Kempton Road.

MAPCO is an integrated energy and pollution control company operating the nation's largest liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) common carrier pipeline system and the world's first anhydrous ammonia pipeline. The company also produces and markets oil, gas, gas liquids, coal, liquid plant foods, sonic instrumentation devices, filtration equipment and other water pollution control products.

MAPCO is a relatively new company, formed only 15 years ago. During the past ten years, however, net income increased from $3,129,182 in 1965 to $49,314,059 in 1975. Employes doubled, from 1,142 to the current 2,197.

In addition to paying union scale wages for miners, which are now $55 per day, MAPCO is known for its progressive employe fringe benefit plans including a monthly production bonus based on 70 cents per ton of coal mined; a yearly profit sharing plan with an annual presentation banquet attended by president Thomas; and hospitalization and retirement plans. The company has other large mining operations in Martin, Henderson and Webster counties, Kentucky.

According to Mr. Wilson, employes are carefully selected for minimum turnover. McNally-Pittsburg will soon begin hiring needed welders, machinists, carpenters, laborers, pipefitters and equipment operators at the site rather than through the employment office. Mr. Kutchman will be in charge of filling positions for the MAPCO-Mettiki division. Mine training will be provided for those hired, said Mr. Wilson.

MAPCO chose the name Mettiki as this is a metallurgical seam of coal, and all company-owned mine names traditionally end in "tiki," a word for Polynesian good, a good fortune symbol.

Technical Center

design, plumbing, heating refrigeration, and stone masonry. Laboratory spaces are included for courses in soil management, forestry, game and fishery biology. The shop areas have been designed to provide maximum future flexibility so that these spaces may accomodate new and emerging technologies. The building will also include an 80 seat, tiered lecture-demonstration hall.

In commenting on the new facility Dr. O'Connell indicated that the new technical center would significantly increase the college's ability to respond to regional and county educational needs. He noted that much of the college's future growth would be in the occupational and technical fields.

The center will provide adequate and efficient facilities for the expansion of existing technical courses as well as the introduction of new offerings. Dr. O'Connell also cited the new wildlife management program which has been jointly developed with Frostburg State college. This program which will be introduced next fall, will be housed in the new building.

The Board of Trustees also announced the formal ground breaking ceremonies would be held on the college campus on Saturday, May 15, at 11:30 a.m. The groundbreaking ceremony will follow immediately after the college's fourth annual commencement program. State and county officials have been invited to participate in the event. The public is also invited.

Blue Laws

prosecution, until such time as the law should change.

This now places the decision to open or remain closed on Sundays in the hands of individual merchants or businessmen.

HB 983 grew out of a public meeting in Oakland January 5 when a decision was made to present such a bill to the General Assembly. The blue law previously in effect had ruled that "no persons in this state shall sell, dispose of, barter, or deal in, or give away any articles of merchandise on Sunday, except retailers who may sell and deliver on said day tobacco, cigars, cigarettes, candy, sodas and soft drinks, ice, ice cream, ices and other confectionery, milk, bread, fruits, vegetables, gasoline, oils and greases."

Two local ministers are spearheading a drive to obtain a necessary 607 signatures on a petition to bring the bill to referendum. Revs. John A. Grant and Walter Leake held a meeting Sunday and chose a dozen team captains who will take the petition to various churches beginning next Sunday.

The deadline for obtaining the required number of signatures is May 30.

Two Friends Hold 63-Year Reunion

Mrs. John Holman, Sr., of Friendsville, recaptured a bit of her past this past week when she was visited by an old school chum from 63 years ago, when both were girls growing up in Annapolis.

Mrs. Holman had lost touch with her friend after she graduated in 1910 and moved to Friendsville upon her marriage in 1916. The past was recalled when, while reading the Baltimore Sunday "Magazine" section of March 24, 1974, Mrs. Holman saw the name Jessie Hurst Childs. Mrs. Childs had written an article about the 1911 Annapolis High School graduating class, and included a picture. The article told about girls in grade school wearing aprons or pinafores and high schoolers taking manual training and painting.

Mrs. Holman wrote to the Sun, asking Mrs. Childs' address and the two women corresponded for the next two years. Mrs. Childs recently called her friend and indicated that she would like to see her, so a reunion was planned May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Walton Childs and their son-in-law and daughter spent the afternoon at the Holman home, reminiscing and discussing their lives and families. They had lived as neighbors on the same street from kindergarten to graduation, walking the full length of town, and coming home for lunch daily as there were then no cafeterias.

WINS THIRD PLACE — Karen Casteel, age seven, displays her winning picture she drew for entry in a contest sponsored by King's Department Store in LaVale, a picture which won a third place out of over 2,000 entries. King's held a "What Spring Means To You" art contest for children in kindergarten through grade six in the two western counties, and gave each child who entered a large box of crayons. Karen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Casteel, near Gortner, is a first grader in Mrs. Paula Mattingly's room at Center Street School. At right she displays the $15 gift certificate for use in King's which was her prize. Karen was unsure how she would spend the money — if she could, she would probably buy a present for a hoped-for foal from her family's mare.

Club activities for Monte Vista included planting flowers in front of the Post Office, collection $677.00 for the Heart Fund, held a bake sale and members went carolling at the Nursing Home and hospital.

The Ryan's Glade 4-H Club was under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tichnell with Mrs. Evelyn Wildesen and Mrs. Charlotte Mousch as project leaders. Ray Steyer was 4-H Club President, Renata Shillingburg, Vice President, and Cathy Nice as Junior Leader. The club had 21 members who achieved an 85 % re-enrollment and an 80 % record book completion. The Ryan's Glade Club is currently involved in the construction of a new facility for the White Church Community Building. To further this community Building project the club engaged in the fund raising activities of selling tickets, Father's Day Bake Sale, sold brooms, and other activities. In addition, the club participated in roller skating, bowling, and campfire activities. They also conducted First Aid classes with the assistance of the Northern Rescue Squad.

During the Citizenship Tour Pauline Hanft, North Star Club, received a CITIZENSHIP Scroll and Pin for her active participation in the 4-H program in the county until she reached the age of 19.

WATCHING HIS CAR as it was tested for fuel waste and exhaust emission levels is Oakland Mayor M. D. Swartzentruber, center, standing. The mayor's was one of 74 vehicles tested in a three hour period Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. at Browning's Foodland parking lot near Oakland. The testing was jointly sponsored by the American Lung Association of Maryland and the Triple A Automobile Club of Maryland. Devices were used to measure auto emission of carbon monoxide and unburned hydrocarbons. Shown above in addition to Mayor Swartzentruber are Tom Crisler, standing, left, and William Norris, with Automobile Club of Maryland, and George Evans, manager of Foodland. Not pictured is John Heavener, who is head of the Allegany-Garrett Lung Association. Of the 74 vehicles tested, 43 passed and 31 failed, a better record than at most testing places where some two-thirds usually fail. Mr. Heavener said this is indicative that cars locally are having pretty good care. The club or company having the largest number of employes turn out for the free testing was Foodland, which will be awarded a trophy next week.

Fire Marshal Is Investigating Mobile Home Fire

Fire marshal Robert Shimer, Westernport, is investigating a fire which totally destroyed a mobile home on the Bethlehem Road near Deer Park early Tuesday morning.

Deer Park firemen were called at 12:27 a.m. to the home of John White, but found the trailer involved in flames when they arrived. Eighteen firemen and two pieces of equipment remained at the scene until nearly 4 a.m. Members of the Oakland fire department were on stand-by duty at the Oakland fire hall in case Deer Park received a second call.

Neither Mr. White nor his brother, who also lived there, were at home at the time of the fire. A deputy from the sheriff's department was called, as firemen felt the fire was of suspicious origin.

Harold Trickett Is Re-elected Head Of Band Boosters

Chaperones were named for Sunday, May 9, trip to the Preakness in Baltimore. Listed were Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Filemyr, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders, Mrs. Phyllis Field, and Mrs. Ellen Zimmerman. Bus pull-out time will be 8 a.m., return time is slated for 11 p.m.

Richard Clever, band director, termed the April 28 annual covered dish band dinner "very successful" with 200 band members and parents present. Senior band members and their parents were honored guests. Seniors each received a place card with their instrument pictured, and a thank-you scroll.

Plan Memorial Monument At Court House

A monument project on the Court House lawn, a project which the Business and Professional Women's club plans to undertake, was discussed Monday at the regular weekly meeting of the County Commissioners, George Edwards, chairman; Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton. Discussing the project was Mrs. Debra Clelland, from the women's organization.

Mrs. Clelland told the commissioners that the organization hoped to erect a six foot native stone bicentennial marker, commemorating 200 years of the nation's history and the contribution made by pioneer women in this county. The commissioners agreed to locate the memorial on the Court House lawn.

Do Evaluations

The commissioners spent most of Monday evaluating budget requests. Tuesday they met with Dr. William Pope for the health department budget hearing for fiscal 1977. Dr. Pope said the budget request would be the same as this year. Next Monday the commissioners are continuing budget activities with the Board of Education at 1:30 p.m.

Wednesdays In May To Be Free Days At Broad Ford

To better acquaint residents with facilities at Broad Ford Recreation area, the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland have decided to designate each Wednesday in May as free admission days.

The Council has put in an order for good weather, according to Gordon (Sandy) Douglass, who noted that picnicking, fishing and use of rowboats or fishing boats are currently allowable. Swimming on a lifeguard-protected beach will be permitted as soon as weather is warm, probably in early June.

Best Time For Calling Mother's Day Is Given

On Mother's Day, the best time to telephone a long distance greeting is in the afternoon.

"The volume of calls is usually not great between 1 p.m and 5 p.m.," a C&P Telephone spokesman said. "The next best time on Mother's Day is early morning. But don't wait until Sunday evening, when calling volume really builds up."

Here are some more tips about Mother's Day calling:

— If you're placing a call through an operator, allow a little extra time for an answer.

— Check your personal number list ahead of time.

This May 9, the Bell System expects to handle more than 12 million long distance calls.

To meet the needs of callers on Mother's Day, a full staff of operators will be on duty, and special circuits will be added.

HOW HAVE THE MIGHTY FALLEN is the popular question this week, after it was discovered that someone had cut this mighty oak on the Oakland Country Club golf course Sunday night to make the seventh tee an easy par four. According to word at the country club, many, many persons have wished harm to the oak, especially when it consistently deflected their balls in the wrong direction, but so far no one has owned up to the deed. The tree was neatly and knowingly severed with a power saw to fall downhill. View above is from the seventh tee looking toward the eighth hole. The tree prevented easy shots to the green uphill, and caused more than one golfer to utter nasty words.

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

When will the next Social Security increase occur?

Social Security payments will rise 6.4 per cent beginning with the July benefits. Social Security and Supplemental Security Income (SSI) payments are linked automatically to the rise in the consumer price index between the first three months of successive years. There are nearly 37 million recipients of the two programs.

Does your office have any information on the Fair Credit Reporting Act?

A leaflet describing the Fair Credit Reporting Act is available without cost from the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. The booklet outlines the consumer's right to learn his own credit rating and how to dispute incorrect information and have it removed.

What were the results of your survey as regards the Panama Canal?

By a 4-to-1 margin, the 15,000 survey respondents opposed giving control over the Canal Zone to Panama.

I understand Congress has released some impounded soil conservation funds. What are the funds to be used for?

Several weeks ago Congress freed up $18 million in budget authority for emergency watershed and flood prevention operations of the Soil Conservation Service.

Last year you sponsored legislation to provide for the research and development of solar energy heating and cooling units. What is the status of this project?

According to the Energy Research & Development Administration, 4,000 solar demonstrations residential units will be put into operation by the end of 1979.

Who can I get in touch with at the Commerce Department to discuss some fire prevention ideas?

The National Fire Prevention and Control Administration assists in the development of fire safety standards and conducts an education program on methods of fire prevention. You should contact Joseph E. Clark, Administrator, National Fire Prevention and Control Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C. 20230.

"Clean-Up-Week" Was Topic Of Town Meeting

A new "Stop" sign is to be installed on Eighth street at the intersection with Memorial drive.

The Revenue Sharing report was received designating Oakland's share as $14,060 for the Seventh entitlement period from July 1 to December 31.

Mrs. Frances C. Riley has been nominated as president of the Executive Committee for the Maryland Municipal League. The dues for the Town of Oakland are $468.33 for the 1976-77 membership in the League.

The Potomac Edison will erect two 400 watt high pressure sodium lights on the town parking lot, one on the west end and one on the south side at the alley.

A letter has been received from Midwest Tele Communications of Clarksburg, W. Va., stating a franchise has been obtained for Oakland as of March 31, 1977.

A group of persons appeared at the meeting protesting the admission cost to the Broad Ford Recreation area.

The fourth annual meeting of the Tri-County Council will be held at the Village Inn at McHenry May 20 and 21.

Free Showing Planned At Ruth Enlow Library

Beginning May 12, the Ruth Enlow Library will present free showings of an award-winning film series for adults, "The Six Wives of Henry VIII." This six-episode series is being shown as part of the library's participation in "Films Plus," an experimental project funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

"The Six Wives of Henry VIII" depicts the famous ruler's disastrous marital career and a reign that was both glorious and gory. Originally produced for television by the British Broadcasting corporation, the series has won five awards from the British Society of Film and Television Art, the British equivalent of the Emmys. Following the series' debut on American television, the "New York Times" stated that it "... bubbles with fascinating history, personalities and complications. And in the reliable British mode, the whole is magnificently acted, designed and costumed."

The Ruth Enlow Library will show the series over a six-week period, one episode weekly. Each 90-minute episode will be presented twice in the library's film room, first on Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 p.m. and again on Friday evening at 7:00 p.m. The dates of the showings to be held at the Ruth Enlow Library follow: Episode I, May 12 and 14; Episode II, May 19 and 21; Episode III, May 26 and 28; Episode IV, June 2 and 4; Episode V, June 9 and 11; Episode VI, June 16 and 18.

Members of the audience will receive a free, illustrated Film Guide providing background on the series. Because the presentation of the "Films Plus" series is part of an experimental program, audiences will be asked to fill out short questionnaires giving their opinion of the series, the Film Guide, and the project in general.

"The Six Wives of Henry VIII" was written by six different playwrights, each of them choosing one of the King's wives as the central figure of an episode: Catherine of Aragon is Henry's wife for twenty-four years. Anne Boleyn's marriage to Henry severs England's ties to Rome and ends in Anne's beheading. Jane Seymour dies trying to give him the male heir he longs for. Anne of Cleves, the German princess, manages with wit and flattery to escape from a potentially fatal marriage. Catherine Howard, a young beauty barely twenty, has her head cut off. And finally, Catherine Parr, Henry's last wife and sober nursemaid, lives to see him die.

Henry himself is seen from several different viewpoints. He is a ranting tyrant, a genius and a fool, a gentle lover and a great king. Keith Michell, one of England's most noted actors, plays Henry from the age of 18 to his death at 56, aided by a make-up that sometimes required two hours to complete. For his performance, Michell won the British Society's award for Best Actor of the Year.

The Ruth Enlow Library plans to show "The Spoils of Poynton," a two-week series, beginning June 23 and "The Search for the Nile," a six-week series, beginning July 7.

Meetings Slated On Yough River Water Quality Plan

This is the second of two articles discussing the Youghiogheny River Basin Water Quality Management Plan. The Maryland Water Resources Administration, the Youghiogheny River Basin Public Adisory Council and the Governmental Policy Group have worked together this past year to prepare plans to control water pollution in the Youghiogheny River Basin.

A public information Meeting will be held in Garrett Community College auditorium on May 12 at 7:30 p.m., instead of at Northern High School as was erroneously reported in last week's edition of The Republican. During this meeting there will be a more detailed presentation of the plan and an open discussion. All interested citizens are urged to attend.

The Public Hearing for the Management Plan will be held on May 26, also in Garrett Community College auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Citizens are asked to note that the Water Quality Management plan bears no relation to the Youghiogheny Wild and Scenic River regulations. The scenic river regulations will not be discussed at the meeting or the hearing.

The goal of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, which requires that this water management plan be written, is to eliminate all water pollution in the nation by 1985. The plan which has just been completed concentrates primarily on the control of existing and future pollution from municipal and industrial sources, including active strip mines. Pollution from abandoned mines, agriculture, forestry and road construction are discussed in a preliminary way, but will be the subject of a second plan to be completed in 1978.

The first article on the Water Quality Management Plan discussed the water pollution problems in the Youghiogheny River and its tributaries. To eliminate or control those pollution problems from municipal and industrial sources and strip mines, this plan recommends the following:

Develop a wastewater management plan for the Upper Youghiogheny area, which includes Oakland, Mt. Lake Park, Loch Lynn Heights, Deer Park and Crellin.

Develop a wastewater management plan for the Grantsville area, including the Chestnut Ridge community.

Determine the extent of the failing septic systems and raw discharges in Finzel and Jennings so that the best solution may be determined.

Design and construct a sewage treatment plant for the Deep Creek Lake area.

Inititate a citizens' instream water quality sampling program to collect more water quality data and to aid in determining the effectiveness of strip mining regulations.

For those who are interested in studying the plan, copies are available at all library branches, Garrett Community College Library and at the Garrett County Planning Commission, Alder Street, Oakland.

Loar Auxiliary Plans Annual Tea

The Loar hospital auxiliary will hold its annual membership tea at the regular meeting scheduled Tuesday, May 11, at 2 p.m., in the cafeteria of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

All persons interested in becoming members are invited. Information about hospital volunteer services will be given at the meeting.

In the past, the auxiliary has provided many services at the facility, including a cardiac bed, a transfer crib for infants requiring transfer to other hospitals; thermal pots for beverages on meal trays; purchase of a complete cassette projector for use in in-service training at the hospital, and purchase of paintings by local artists which were hung in the private rooms and in the hospital lobby.

The members hold an annual Christmas bazaar and workshops for this event begin in September. The group also operates a cart with needed personal items, such as toothpaste, mouthwash, books, candies, and small gifts on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons.

Unhappy Happenings

Plague Ed Fitzwater

Three unfortunate things happened to Ed Fitzwater last week. First, his furnace boiler exploded, damaging about 25 mattresses in his Fitzwater Furniture Store and slinging water and debris; secondly, The Republican erroneously reported that appliances were damaged and Mr. Fitzwater was besieged by readers who wanted a reduction on a supposedly damaged appliances.

Third, he refused admittance to a man who claimed to be a boiler inspector without an official permit and wound up with a warrant for his arrest.

Mr. Fitzwater is slated for a hearing May 17 in District court on a charge brought by Herbert D. Hickman, deputy boiler inspector from the department of Licensing and Regulations for Maryland. The warrant alleged that Mr. Fitzwater "denied access to Mr. Hickman to the premises of Fitzwater Furniture impeding Mr. Hickman in his official duty of making an inspection."

The store owner is free on an unsecured appearance bond pending the trial.

According to a spokesman at the sheriff's office, this is not the first time businessmen have refused admittance to a boiler inspector, since most people are unaware there is such an official person.

Be that as it may, we regret any and all inconvenience and problems caused by the error in The Republican last week.

Thieves Take Antiques From Home at Wilson

A thief or thieves with an eye for antiques broke into a home in the Wilson area last month, making off with $385 worth of valuable property.

Edmund Getty, owner of the summer home, reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's department, that someone had entered his home sometime between April 20 and 30, and had stolen clocks, a brass bed, a hall tree, and other antique items. The theft was reported May 1. Deputy Truman Paugh is investigating.

Herbert F. Harvey, Route 2, Oakland, reported to the sheriff's office that someone had struck his mailbox sometime during the afternoon of April 30. According to the report filed by Deputy Paugh, it appeared that some type of farm machinery struck the box.

Maintenance Course Will Be Taught At GCC Next Fall

Garrett Community college will introduce a new associate degree program in Maintenance Technology, beginning in September, it was announced by officials. There will also be a certificate option for students interested in a program which can be completed in one academic year.

The program, which has been developed over the past two years in cooperation with local industrial firms, provides training in the economic operation and maintenance of plant facilities and related machinery. The primary emphasis will be in the areas of electrical and mechanical maintenance.

In announcing the introduction of the new offering, Dean Robert Trantham indicated that the program is intended to service existing workers by upgrading their job skills. The program will also provide additional trained personnel with job entry skills and knowledge for immediate employment.

Specialized courses in the new curriculum include Industrial Safety, Fundamentals of Maintenance, Machine Tool Processes, Machine Components, Refrigeration and Air Conditioning, Fluid Power, Mechanical Maintenance and Electrical Technology. Most of the courses will be taught in the College's new Technical Center, scheduled to be opened next September.

The Maintenance Technology program is open to both full and part-time students. Those interested in applying for admission should contact the college.

Local Handicapped Take 13 Medals At Splecial Olympics

Thirteen medals were captured by the Garrett County participants from the Appalachian Adult Activities Center in the Allegany county Local Special Olympics held Saturday at Allegany Community College.

Two local people made the longest softball throws of the day, establishing local Olympic records in both the male and female categories. Gary Shafer had a throw of 170 feet, six inches, and Jean Dill pitched the ball 77 feet.

The event was part of the National Special Olympics for the handicapped and has been endorsed by the Kennedy Foundation. Sponsors were the Greater Cumberland Jaycees and Wamba Caravan 89 of the Alhambra.

The Garrett County Center chose to participate in the event in order to compete with other adults of the same age and physical abilities. Approximately three months were spent in preparation for the event. A Special Olympics for school-age handicapped was held April 21 at Garrett Community College.

Events included the 50-yard dash, 220-yard dash, standing broadjump and softball throw. Approximately 85 participated.

Winners were presented with gold, silver or bronze medals and each individual was presented with a tee shirt, certificate of participation and a ribbon for the events entered. Transportation to Cumberland was by Garrett Bus System.

Gold medals went to Gary Shafer for his softball throw; Jean Dill, softball throw; Patty Beckman, softball throw; Theresa Perry, softball throw; and Carolyn Sisler, softball throw.

Silver medals for second place honors went to Gary Shafer for standing broadjump and to Myron Griffith for softball throw.

Bronze medals for third place honors went to Virginia Simons, softball throw; Roger Dillsworth, softball throw; Bill Faulkner, softball throw; standing broadjump; Carolyn Sisler, standing broadjump, and Tom Savage, softball throw.

Receiving ribbons for their participation were Ralph Friend, Patty Beckman, Donald Tasker and Tom Savage.

Staff members of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center attended as chaperones. Those going were Fred Peters, Director, David Koontz, Mike Brandes, Burce Aliff and Jodie Bennett.

The Activities Center still has openings for several more adults in its program. For additional information, contact Mr. Peters at Community Action.

Chris Donley, left, and Doug Oxford, right, accept the donation of three Bushnell scopes for rifles on behalf of the 4-H Rifle Club at Bausch and Lomb on Tuesday afternoon. Making the formal presentation was Bausch and Lomb manager Pat Fischetti, center. The scopes, minus the tripods, will help youngsters in the 4-H program to better compete in state contests and also learn better shooting through safe usage of rifles and related equipment.

Rifle Club Gets Donation From Bausch & Lomb

The Garrett County Junior Rifle Club announced that it has received a donation of three Bushnell spotting scopes from the Oakland-based Bausch and Lomb firm for use in the Junior Rifle Club's Competitive Marksmanship Program, according to 4-H Marksmanship Leader, Chris Donley.

Jack King, Industrial Relations Manager for Bausch and Lomb, related that the donation of three spotting scopes was arranged when the Junior Rifle Club negotiated the purchase of three optical devices of a like nature. Bausch and Lomb is no longer involved in the sales or manufacturing of scopes, this transaction was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

Doug Oxford, Chief Instructor for the Junior Rifle Club, will utilize the Bushnell Spotting Scopes in the training program for the fifteen youth who participate in the Tuesday evening Competitive Marksman unit. This nucleus of Garrett youth are training for the Statewide 4-H Small Bore Rifle Matches to be held in Hagerstown and Denton later this summer.

In a similar manner, the spotting scopes will be employed in the Monday evening Hunter Safety Course conducted by Marvin Guthrie, Sr., and Terry DeWitt. The Hunter Safety course currently has an enrollment of thirty-five youth who are learning more about the safe handling and use of firearms as potential hunters in Garrett County.

The Garrett County Junior Rifle Club is an active 4-H Club which meets weekly at the Oakland Armory for the purpose of teaching youth the principles of safe handling firearms in the home and in the field. Its programs are available to all Garrett young people.

Trace of Snow Hits Mt. Top

Winter-like weather was seen and felt on the Mt. Top Monday morning with a trace of snow and near freezing temperatures. Sub-freezing readings were noted last Friday and yesterday. A warming trend started later yesterday.

There was a dry spell with less than a tenth of an inch of rain between the 4th and 22nd. The .43 inch of precipitation on the 2nd fell as 4 inches of snow, the only measurable amount of the month. There was a trace on the 4th and the 27th. Snowfall for the season totals 54.6 inches or 16.5 inches below normal.

There were thunder storms on the 4th and 24th. Winds were fresh to strong at times but mostly light to calm.

Twenty-two young people will be honored for their services in the Candystriper program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital capping ceremonies May 11, in the hospital cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Mother knows how to do everything. If you don't believe it, ask any child. A child's faith in his mother's ability is a wonderful thing. She can fix broken toys and mend broken hearts. Mother knows how to stop sores from hurting and how to make the greatest peanut butter sandwiches in town. She has the answers to a trillion questions.

Regardless of our age, we still have questions we would like to have answered. Some will never be answered to our satisfaction, unless God sees fit to impart His special wisdom. He often reveals Himself to us in a special way when we worship. The answers we seek may come as we meditate, pray, and listen to His Word. Church is a good place to find what we are seeking.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

DOES CHRIST LIVE HERE?

Lesson for May 9, 1976

Background Scripture:
Ephesians 4:25 through 6:4
I Peter 3:1-12
Devotional Reading:
Ephesians 4:25 through 5:2

Paul is often accused of being a male chauvinist, and the fourth and fifth chapters of Ephesians—if we assume that they are representitive of Paul's views—certainly seem to confirm that judgement:

Rev. Althouse

Wives, be subject to your husbands... (5:22)
...the husband is the head of the wife... (5:23)

Those two statements alone seem sufficient to make countless women "see red."

Be subject to one another

Paul's reputation, I believe, is undeserved. For one thing, we must realize that Paul's view of women was actually miles and miles ahead of the views of most of his contemporaries. He frequently mentions them in a significant manner in his letters, sometimes giving the impression that the women have been more responsive to his ministry than many men. His recognition of the valuable role of women in the early church was in considerable conflict with many of the prevailing views in his society. Paul exalted women in a manner unmatched by most of his contemporaries.

Nevertheless, Paul was a man of the first century A.D. and he brought the light of the Christian Gospel to the family structure as he found it in that time. Paul's society generally did not value women and they had few rights in the home or the community. The power of the man was virtually unlimited.

Paul saw his task as exposing the family structure to the authority of Jesus Christ. Although it is hardly evident to us today, Paul's approach to the family was revolutionary! Although he did not call for the radical change of the family structure his proposals for the inner dynamic of the family relationship brought sweeping changes to Christian families.

As Christ lived

What he was calling for was an entirely new spirit in the family. We can get hung-up on the idea of wives being "subject" to their husbands and the husband being the "head of the house." But what we must not miss is Paul's revolutionary thrust for the family: the key is not so much who is "subject" to whom, but that in all that we do in the family we are to be governed by our reverence for Christ. "Wives, be subject to your husbands, as to the Lord." It is their love for Christ that is to govern their relationships.

A husband arrived home from work one day and his wife told him that the new minister had been to see them and had asked a strange question of her. "Does Christ live here?" "Did you tell them we are members at St. Luke's, that I'm on the board there and you teach Sunday school?" asked the husband. "He didn't ask that," replied his wife, "he only asked if Christ lives here, and it didn't seem to mean the same thing. And it doesn't."

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. Is there any way to teach a man to be considerate? I tried giving and loving [for 10 years]. It made my husband pompous. I tried indifference. He didn't notice it. Then I tried hammering the facts with fury. This worked, but it is exhausting, and the results didn't last long.

Recently at a gala annual dinner dance, for which I always have a new dress, my husband danced with everyone else and had only one duty dance with me. Much of the time I found myself sitting alone or with a nondancing couple. My husband was the life of the party.

He cannot understand when I tell him how miserable I was. I cannot get him to admit that he did anything wrong. In his way, I know he loves me, but he has outmoded ideas about men in their relationship to women.

I want love and beauty and cherishing and companionship in the home — as an example to the children. Instead, they see too often a stony-faced mother and a father, perplexed, who says: "What's wrong, darling?" and a mother who doesn't answer — for how can you repeat over and over and still not get to first base?

It's getting worse. Recently in a moment of anger I threw a footstool at him.

A. Of course your husband's thoughtlessness is to be regretted. There is no excuse for such neglect. One might call it downright bad manners. A man should treat his wife with courtesy, if not with gallantry. At the least he should be thoughtful.

However, the asperity of your words and your obvious impatience might indicate that you may be more difficult than you realize. If you will cultivate a more impeturbable spirit, plus the philosophical ability to take things as they come, it can make you happier, perhaps even more lovable.

It is an important thing to learn in all human relations, marriage included, to accept people as they are. Don't rail against your husband, or throw things at him. Try loving him for what he is. When he senses that you have inwardly relaxed, he may in time become more understanding. You will be less frustrated, and perhaps at the next dance you will not be left sitting on the sidelines.

Q. I am a girl only 12, but I have a question. When my father hollers at my brother for nothing and sends him to bed, I get so mad because the hollering isn't fair. My father usually is very kind, but I don't know what to do when he isn't. I just get burned up and I hate him. This is very important. It happens every month.

A. This situation gives you a chance to help your father. It seems that about once a month your brother irritates your father, which, incidentally, isn't too bad an average. But instead of letting things reach the anger point, see if you cannot keep your brother from annoying your father. If an explosion seems to be building up, be extra nice to your father; he probably regrets getting upset as much as you do. If it does happen, wait a day or two and then tell your father how his outbursts affect you. Then together you have a little strategy session about how to handle it better the next time. Your partnership with your father can keep things under control. Never underestimate how much a 12-year old girl can help her parents, particularly her father, who can be handled better by a little daughter than about anyone else.

Q. I am Jewish, married to a Lutheran. I don't want to be converted, but would like to understand basic points of Christianity and find a common ground where we can meet in our worship. Can you help us?

A. Your solution, it seems, is to get beyond the forms and doctrines of your respective faiths and arrive at the fundamental reason for religion — God. Make a list of your unities rather than your differences — you both believe in God, in goodness, in spirituality, in love, in helping others, in mutual respect. Learn to be together on the higher level of spiritual experience rather than trying to find unity in worship. That will flow naturally into a deep God-centered fellowship.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N. Y. 12564.

Tel-Med, the medical and health information service in operation for several months in Allegany County, has proven successful, and has been expanded to this County area, announced Loay (Bud) Twigg, Program Director.

Sponsored by the Allegany County Medical Society and funded through the Appalachian Health Planning Council, Tel-Med is designed to assist the telephone caller to remain healthy by giving preventative health information, to help recognize early signs of illness, and to adjust to a serious illness. The program is not designed however to diagnose illnesses, to replace family physician, or to be called in the case of emergencies.

The tape library consists of over 150 subject tapes, which are written in easy-to-understand language and are carefully screened by a panel including physicians representing the Medical Society, before selection, it was stated.

Brochures listing the available tape topics are distributed throughout Allegany County, and are currently being distributed in Garrett County. The distinct difference in the brochures is the telephone number to call in the respective counties.

The topics are broken down into the following categories: Alcoholism, arthritis-rheumatism, cancer, children's diseases and impairments, dental health, digestive system, drugs, emotional problems, first aid, heart disease, circulatory problems, men, parents, respiratory, skin disorders, smoking, veneral disease, vision and hearing, and women.

The Tel-Med Program is also presently being coordinated with the Berkeley Project in Allegany County, which is the study of the human body in the fourth through sixth grades, in the local school system. After the summer recess, the Berkeley Project in Garrett County will also be included with the Tel-Med Program.

For information to where brochures may be obtained or to volunteer your time by simply answering the telephone, call 334-4455 in the Garrett County area, as this is a toll-free number.

55 Women Attend 2 Cancer Clinics

Some 55 local women have taken advantage of the free cancer detection clinics being sponsored in the various communities in this county by the Garrett County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

The first clinic was held April 19 in Kitzmiller, when 15 women turned out for pap smears and to learn about breast self-examination.

The second clinic attracted 40 women to the Oakland Health department facilities this past Monday evening.

Future clinics are planned at Friendsville May 3 from 6 to 9 p.m.; Bloomington May 10; and Grantsville May 17. All clinics are held in the health department facilities from 6 to 9 p.m.

Ten Are Killed On State Roads

Ten persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed four were drivers, three were passengers and three were pedestrians.

At least two of the deaths in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

It would seem obvious that keeping speed down is not enough for survival on the highways, said Lt. Heiger. It takes a thorough knowledge of the rules of the road. It takes common sense and courtesy. It takes a vehicle in good mechanical condition, tires with plenty of road-gripping tread. It takes constant alertness. Never drive for long periods without a break to stretch and relax, and if traffic is especially nervewracking, make that stop sooner.

Persons killed through May 2 totaled 172 compared to 226 for the same period last year.

Cut rates.

There are a lot of ways to save money on phone calls, and the more you know about them, the more you can save.

The first thing you should do is cut out this coupon. It has the new interstate long distance rates.

Now you're charged by the minute for interstate long distance calls you dial yourself.

So if you keep your calls short, you can really save.

Use your coupon or check the front pages of your telephone directory for the exact times and days of the week when the lower rates are in effect.

And try to plan your long distance calls for those times when special rates apply. You may have to wait a few hours before you make your call, but it's worth it.

Also, dial all your long distance calls yourself, direct, whenever you can.

Here's another tip. Write down a few notes on what you want to say before you call so you can keep your phone conversation to the point.

That'll help you save, too.

You and your phone can save a lot of money together. Just get to know each other a little better.

Man Goes To Pen On Intent To Murder Charge

A Mountain Lake Park man found guilty of assault with intent to murder by a jury a month ago was sentenced to ten years in the Penitentiary by chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Tuesday. Another man received a suspended sentence on assault and battery.

Robert Russell McRobie, Mt. Lake Park, received two, concurrent 10-year sentences, on the charges of assault with intent to murder two sheriff's deputies. McRobie pleaded not guilty at the jury trial April 2 and a presentence investigation was ordered.

The assaults took place in Mt. Lake Park, March 2 on Deputies Finch and Livengood.

Jean Pierre Hostetler, Pittsburgh, was sentenced to the Commissioner of Correction for one year. This sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for one year under supervision of the Department of Parole and Probation. He is also to pay court costs and to pay half of the damages caused at Pizza Pub last October. Hostetler was originally charged with assault and battery on William Ravenscroft and this also was the charge on which he was convicted at the January 28 trial. A presentence was ordered at the time.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Lowell E. Sines who passed away May 7, 1975.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought your death so near.
To some you have been forgotten and to others just part of the past.
Our hearts ache with sadness and tears we often shed,
Your memory is our keepsake from which we shall never part.
They say time heals all sorrow and helps us to forget;
But time so far has only proved
how much we miss you yet.
We try hard to understand why God took you from us;
But we know God does all things best.

Department Adopts Wildlife Seasons

Regulations governing wildlife seasons and bag limits have been adopted by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources, according to James B. Coulter, secretary, after months of public comment and public hearings.

There has been a reclassification of raccoon and opossum from furbearer to forest wildlife. There is now a hunting season for them from September 10 to March 31. Special seasons exist for squirrel, ruffed grouse, rabbit quail and pheasant. The seasons begin on the same day as the hunting seasons, however, all continue until March 31. Bag and possession limits are the same with exception of quail, 4 per day, possession 8.

The following seasons, etc., are listed:

Squirrel, gray, black and eastern fox, Oct. 5-January 31, 6 per day, possession 12. Red or piney, same, no bag or possession limits.

Wild Turkey, fall season, October 5 to 19, one per season. Spring season, April 25 to May 7, 1 bearded per season.

Ruffed Grouse, October 5 to January 31, 2 per day, possession 4.

Black Bear, closed season, endangered species.

Raccoon and Opossum, firearms, bow and arrow and dog, September 10 to March 31, no bag or possession limits.

Whitetailed deer, bow and arrow season, either antlered or unantlered, September 15 to November 26 and December 6 to January 1, 1 per season. Firearms season, November 27 to December 4, 1 per season.

Rabbit, November 8 to January 31, 4 per day, possession 8.

Quail, November 8 to February 15, 6 per day, possession 12.

Pheasant, male only, November 8 to January 31, 2 per day, possession 4. Both sexes, hunted with aid of raptors only, November 8 to March 31, limit 2 per day, possession 4.

Blackbirds and Grackles, September 1 to August 31, no limits.

Woodchuck, September 1 to August 31, no limits.

Beaver, January 16 to March 15, bag limit varies by counties.

Otter, January 1 to March 15, bag limits vary.

Muskrat and mink, November 15 to February 15, no limits.

Skunk, September 1 to August 31, no limits.

Fox, red and gray, September 1 to August 31, no limits.

Nutria, January to March 15 on lands owned or controlled by Wildlife Administration September 1 to August 31 on all other areas, no limits.

Win Awards At Twirling

Tammy Rowan, a ten year old competitive twirler and Karen Eddy, Tammy's instructor, won awards at a United States twirling association competition on April 24 at Wheeling, W. Va.

Tammy captured five first place awards, one second place, and one third. Her firsts were for hoop twirling, flag twirling, a beginner basic strut, advanced basic strut, and beginner military strut. She received a second place trophy for advanced military and a bronze medal for advanced flag twirling. She competed against hurlers ranging from 10-14 years old.

A day previous to the competition Tammy won the title of "Junior Miss Oakette," at the fourth annual "Oakette Pageant." Her twirling awards now total 35. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowan, Mt. Lake Park.

Karen Eddy, Tammy's instructor, added five trophies to her collection. They were for advanced hoop twirling, advanced flag, intermediate solo one baton, intermediate military strut, and intermediate solo twirl-off.

Her first place win in solo enabled Karen to compete in a twirl-off against all other first place solo winners. She received a large trophy and was named as the twirl-off winner. She now has about 170 trophies and 150 medals.

Next competition is May 16 in Wheeling.

ASTEROID BETULIA

A two-mile-wide planet will pass 19.5 million kilometers (12.1 million miles) from earth on May 22nd. This planet passes close enough to earth during the month of May every thirteen years to be seen in small telescopes. This year it travels through the constellations of Hercules, Serpens, Libra, Hydra and Centaurus. This asteroid has the largest inclination of its orbital plane to that of the earth of all the known asteroids. It revolves around the sun once each 3.25 years.

Tomorrow the moon passes through its First Quarter phase at 01:35 A.M. Moonrise varies from 12:17 P.M. to 7:16 P.M. a change of about seventy minutes each day.

Wednesday at 1:00 P.M. the moon is 359,170 kilometers (223,220 miles) from earth. This perigee is the closest the moon comes to earth during the month.

Mars and Saturn are the most easily seen planets in the night sky. Saturn is among the stars of Cancer. Mars is also in that constellation. These planets are in exactly the same direction from earth at 10:00 P.M. on Tuesday evening. This event is called conjunction. The ringed planet and the red planet both set shortly after 1:00 A.M.

Eleven minutes of daylight are gained by the end of the week. Sunrise was at 6:12 this morning. Sunset will be at 8:16 this evening. Wednesday, sunrise will be six minutes earlier, and sunset will be five minutes later.

Byron Receives High National Security Rating

Rep. Goodloe Byron has received a 90 percent rating from the American Security Council, a national organization which provides citizens with information on how elected representatives vote on national security issues.

Congressman Byron received the rating from the Council for his support of a strong defense budget and support for the right of the U.S. to maintain control over the Panama Canal. His positions against weakening the CIA budget and prohibiting any aid to North Vietnam also were cited.

THE REPUBLICAN

VOLUME 100 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD., THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1976 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 11

Voting a Privilege . . .

Voting is not only a responsibility but a privilege. This has been stressed over the years but the percentage of persons who exercise the right to vote has never totaled more than 65 percent in Garrett County. Most of the time the voting has not reached much over 50 percent.

There is some expectation of a record turnout of voters this year but the vote will still fall short of the total in other countries if we remain apathetic. In Italy, we are told, 93 percent of the citizens normally vote; in West Germany, 88 percent; in Britain, 77 percent; and in Japan, 74 percent. This is regarded by many as uncomplimentary to Americans, who are lucky in some elections to bring 50 percent to the polls.

As a "get out the vote" enthusiast, we will endeavor once more to encourage citizens to vote in the coming primary election next Tuesday and return to the polls in November to elect their favorites. Many times the primary election is more important because there the least qualified can be eliminated. But in a free society all elections are important. Once that privilege was taken away by a dictatorship where a citizen would be compelled to vote for one candidate or else possibly lose his head, — only then could some people realize what they had missed.

So accept the responsibility and privilege. Go to the polls and vote on Tuesday.

Mrs. Browning Promoted To Manager Of Employment Administration In Oakland

Mrs. Mary M. Browning has been named manager of the Oakland office of the Department of Human Resources, Employment Security Administration. Mrs. Browning received official notification May 5, exactly one year following her acceptance of the position of acting manager at the retirement of Charles Briner.

Mrs. Browning has worked continuously for the department since December 1937, except for 18 months from November, 1953, to July, 1955. She began her career as a junior clerk with a salary of $70 per month; was promoted to interviewer in 1953, and served most recently as employment service specialist until her promotion to acting manager.

In addition to several certificates of commendation, she has been presented with a jeweled pin for completion of 35 years of service.

Long active in community business, Mrs. Browning is the county chairman for the Governor's Committee to Promote Employment of the Handicapped; a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Planning Commission and the Garrett County Advisory Council.

She has served as past president of the Business and professional Women's Club, Matron and is a current member of the Order of Eastern Star, and as past president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, joining that organization one year after it was chartered.

She is also a member of the International Association of Public Employment Services, and the Maryland Classified Employe Association.

Mrs. Browning and husband George live on Mayhew Inn Road, where their property offers enough space for her to indulge in her best-loved and only hobby, that of transplanting wildflowers to their wooded property. Her greatest pride is in the transplanting of ladyslippers—at one time, her woods contained over 450 of the rare and delicate flowers. She enjoys seeing flowers and herbs growing "as God intended."

She has two children, Mrs. Mary Jane Byrd, Albany, New York, and son Chris, 17 years younger than his sister; and three grandchildren. The Brownings are of the Episcopal faith.

With the addition of Mrs. Jody Enten this week, there are now seven staff members working with Mrs. Browning. Mrs. Enten will be counseling, testing and offering specialized job service help to veterans.

Three square city blocks of St. Louis, Mo., were destroyed by fire recently.

Commissioners Study Proposed School Budget

The proposed budget of the County Board of Education was discussed by school officials and the County Commissioners on Monday afternoon with the Commissioners agreeing to take the requested budget under consideration. No other definite commitment was made.

Officials from the Board of Education, representatives of the Maryland State Teacher association met with the county officials. Dr. William Buser, county superintendent, presented the budget request and pointed out that the board was requesting an increase from local appropriations of $473,132. Dr. Buser added that most of the budgetary increase requested was due to the cost of opening and operating the new Broad Ford elementary and the Broad Ford middle school, and to fund a 7 percent employe salary increase. Mrs. Judith France and Harold Humberson, representing the teacher association, requested that the Commissioners fund the teacher salary increase.

Meeting as the Health board the commissioners discussed this year's operating expense with Dr. William Pope, county health officer; Mrs. Shelby Paugh and James Stanton, of the health department. Dr. Pope pointed out that the health department would complete this year's operations with no budget surplus but was not requesting any additional funds for next year.

Monday also Commissioners George Edwards, Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton along with Kenneth Kenner, from the Civil Defense office, discussed recently solicited bids for the Central Communications system. The commissioners moved to award the bid to the Communications Control Center, Hampstead, the low bidder, to purchase the equipment and to renovate the Civil Defense headquarters and install the equipment. The commissioners pointed out that the central communication system was nearly completed with emergency medical services component yet to be bid for purchase.

Bolden Reviews School Board Bill Provisions

A review of the provisions of the measure that would call for an elected school board instead of the present appointive one, was given this week by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, who introduced the measure in the legislature.

The vote for or against the bill will be taken at the Primary election next Tuesday.

In reviewing the provisions Bolden pointed out that the present five member appointed board would be replaced January 1 by five elected members in the November general election and every four years thereafter, if the bill passes. Three members would be elected by voters from the commissioner district in which the candidate resided. Two members would be elected at large. Chairman of the County Commissioners would be an ex officio nonvoting member without additional compensation.

Nomination for candidacy would be by petition endorsed by a minimum of 100 registered voters from the county. Voting for the candidates would be on a nonpartisan basis, with independents eligible to vote.

Each member would receive annual compensation as set forth in the budget with no compensation less than $840. After submitting vouchers board members would be paid for all necessary and actual travel and other expenses incident to their duties.

Delegate Bolden pointed out that the Commissioners were the budget levying body and any abuse of expense accounts would be curtailed by the commissioners and any increase in salary would have to be approved by them. Article 3, Section 35, of the Maryland Constitution prohibits any elected official from receiving an increase or dimishment of compensation during his or her term of office, Bolden concluded.

Oakland Firemen Answer 4 Alarms

The first of four alarms for the Oakland Fire Department in the past five days occurred last Saturday morning at 10:55 when a motor home owned by Carlton Callis caught fire on Third Street. Twenty seven men and one pumper were on the scene within 90 seconds, however Mr. Callis had extinguished most of the flame with a fire extinguisher. Damage was estimated at $50.00.

A second alarm sounded that evening at 10:05 for an assist to the Gorman Fire Department. The fire was thought to be a structural fire on Rt. 50 but turned out to be a woods fire. It was quickly extinguished by Gorman fire fighters and Oakland was called back to the station.

Fire fighters were again called at 2:10 on Friday afternoon to 219 North 11th Street to the Graybill residence after a dishwasher had caught fire. Twenty eight men, a pumper and tanker responded. There was little damage.

The fourth blaze was on Tuesday evening at 11:33 at the Dewey Leslie residence in Hutton. A storage building and its contents were completely destroyed. Thirty men, a pumper and tanker responded and were dismissed at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday. The loss was set at $200.00.

Two Are Sentenced For Welfare Fraud

Glenville Moreland, Rt. 3, Box 203 Oakland, and his wife, Rosemary, pleaded guilty to welfare fraud and were each sentenced to serve two years in the custody of the Commissioner of Corrections. The term was imposed by Circuit Court Judge Stuart F. Hamill on Wednesday, May 5. The Morelands were also required to make full restitution to the Garrett County Department of Social Services in the amount of $4,809.75.

This case was investigated under the joint co-operation of the Garrett County State's Attorney's Office, Department of Social Services, and the Maryland State Police Welfare Fraud Squad, which was formed at the direction of the Governor, and placed under the supervision of Edwin R. Tully, Maryland Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services. The State Police Fraud Squad was formed in order to investigate and effect prosecution of cases of welfare fraud in Maryland.

The Moreland case was found to be one of the most flagrant welfare fraud violations prosecuted in Garrett County as well as the entire State of Maryland, Ralph Burnett, state's attorney, said.

Two other charges placed against the Morelands were dismissed; false pretense and false application. Seven children of the Morelands were placed under the temporary custody of the Department of Social Services for finding a suitable and proper foster home for them. The fraud occurred in 1974.

They were traveling north on the Finzel road about .2 mile south of the Md., Pa., state line. Poland stated that the right front wheel ran off the right side of the road way causing him to lose control of the car. The vehicle then went over an embankment, struck several gravestones and then came to rest on its wheels facing south. Tfc. Dale Williams charged Poland with negligent driving.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our mother, Mrs. Evelyn Browning, who passed away one year ago May 5, 1975.

We do not know the pain you had.
We only know you went away,
Without a last goodbye.
No one knows how the heart aches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
For the grief we bear inside of us,
For the one we loved so well.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps us to forget,
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
God gave us strength to fight it
And courage to heal the blow,
But what it meant to lose you Mother
No one will ever know.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memories of those happy days
When we were all together.
Some may think we have forgotten,
When at times they see us smile.
But only God knows the heartaches,
That we have all the while.
The Golden Gate stood open,
And with goodbyes left unspoken,
You gently slipped away
Safe in the arms of God.

Love,
Your Daughters
Lena, Wilma, Margaret and son Jerry

Buying Carcass Beef?

What you see isn't always what you get!

Dollar-conscious consumers who are looking for special deals to fill their freezer are apt to find that the dollar isn't the only thing that shrinks in the market place.

This is expecially true when they buy carcass beef and aren't really aware of all that is involved in such a purchase. For example, a beef carcass, side or quarter, is normally sold by its hanging weight — which means the weight before cutting and trimming. Therefore, the amount of usable meat will be considerably less —how much less can vary substantially.

For a beef carcass, cutting loss (bone, fat trim and normal shrinkage) could vary from 20 to 30 percent or more according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). A 25 percent loss, which is not unusual, means that a 300-pound side of beef would yield 225 pounds of usable meat cuts.

George Kablesh, meat grading supervisor in the Northeast for USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said that consumers should take other things into consideration when buying meat for their freezer.

"The first thing a consumer should do is make sure that the freezer unit is in excellent working condition and that there is sufficient space for the entire purchase," he said. "Second, it's important to know what quantity to buy, which cuts will best suit the family's needs and likes and the total price of the intended purchase."

A good rule of thumb when purchasing a beef carcass is to expect 25 per cent waste, 25 percent ground beef and stew meat, 25 percent steaks and 25 percent roasts. Not all of the roasts and steaks, however, are from the loin rib — the most tender portions of the carcass.

"Buying a quarter involves many of the same considerations as buying a side of beef," Kablesh said. "In addition, there is a difference in the kinds of cuts derived from a hindquarter as compared with a forequarter."

A hindquarter of beef will yield more steaks and roasts, but will cost more per pound than a forequarter. A forequarter of beef, while containing the delectable rib roasts, has more of the less-tender cuts than the hindquarter. The chuck, or shoulder, makes up about one-half of the forequarter's weight. On the other hand, the yield of usable lean meat is greater in the forequarter than in the hindquarter.

Kablesh said that quality is another important factor in buying beef since beef varies in quality more than any other meat. "Unless the beef has been graded, there is no way for a consumer to be sure of the quality of the purchase," Kablesh pointed out.

Beef For The Barbecue

Those harbingers of spring—yellow jonquils, purple crocus, and red-breasted robins—are out, or coming out, and reminding us that the time to start converting the backyard to a barbecue center is fast approaching.

Beef is clearly the favorite in this location. It's also plentiful now and prices are down. Another significant figure is that the number of cattle on feed as of March 1 was 48 percent higher than the March figures of a year ago. That's an indication that we may continue to have big beef supplies beyond April, according to marketing specialist with USDA's Agriculture Marketing Service.

While consumers benefit from the big supply and lower prices, cattlemen are not faring as well. Many are receiving prices for their cattle at well below break-even levels. Many report losses from $30 to $50 a head.

The situation suggests that it's a good time to buy beef, serve it frequently, and freeze it for barbecue events when warming temperatures decree that spring is here and summer is on the way. One of the good ways to serve beef from the barbecue is offered below:

Marinated Char Broiled Beef

1 full cut round steak, 2 inches thick; ½ cup soy sauce, 3 tbsps honey, ¼ cup cider vinegar, 1 tbsp garlic powder, 1 tbsp ground ginger, 1¼ cups salad oil, 2 finely chopped green onions.

Trim fat from steak and marinate for 4 hours at room temperature. Turn steak at the end of each hour. For marinade, mix together all ingredients except the steak. Drain off the marinade and grill steak on outdoor grill for 15 minutes on each side (less time for very rare). Remove from fire and let stand 10 minutes before carving. Slice as thin as possible on the diagonal across the grain. Serves 8 to 10.

Brown Bag Lunches

You miss a couple of days work because of a "flu bug" or the kids come home from school suffering from "a bug that's going around." Maybe so. Maybe not. The bug may well have been a mild case of food poisoning. And you may have sent it to work or school in that innocent brown bag lunch. Most germs that cause food poisoning are killed when the food is cooked. But some germs that produce poisons are not destroyed by heat or they can be introduced when foods are handled after cooking. Leaving food at room temperatures for more than 2 hours, including preparation time, allows these germs to grow to dangerous numbers. Brown bag lunches can provide them a prime environment. The key to packing a safe brown bag lunch is simple: Good, sensible sanitation, personal hygiene and sound food care. Some practical tips on packing a safe lunch are included in the fact sheet, "Safe Brown Bag Lunches" issued by USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. For single free copies of the fact sheet and of other food safety information write to APHIS Information Division, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

It further declared that "in the performance of his duties Mr. DeWitt displayed wisdom in decisions made while keeping the citizens he served uppermost in mind. In facing difficult problems he radiated an aura of confidence, displayed a sense of honor and arrived at conclusions equitable to all concerned. His leadership in planning, developing and implementing the rules and regulations for the county merit system was invaluable."

Eleven Killed On State Roads

Eleven persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week, according to the weekly news release compiled by 1st Lt. H. J. Heiger of the Maryland State Police. Of those killed three were drivers, one was a passenger and seven were pedestrians.

Due to the increased number of pedestrians killed last week, only one of the deaths in the opinion of the investigating officers, could have possibly been prevented had seat belts been in use.

When driving in heavy traffic, avoid sudden changes in speed or direction. Plan your moves in advance, and make sure they will not create a hazard for other motorists as well as pedestrians. There are many things a motorist can do to make each trip safer, but common sense and a buckled safety belt are of the utmost importance, said Lt. Heiger.

Persons killed through May 9 totaled 182 compared to 230 for the same period last year.

A piece of the energy puzzle.

The Lady is big, beautiful and expensive.

Her name is El Paso Columbia, and she's one of a new breed of ocean-going tankers designed to carry natural gas liquefied at -260°F. She's a very sophisticated lady.

She's as big as an aircraft carrier and can carry enough natural gas in one trip to supply fourteen thousand homes for a full year.

But she's expensive. In fact, she's the costliest commercial ship ever launched. Over one hundred million dollars! And she's just one of nine such tankers being built to bring vital natural gas to America from overseas. Deliveries start in late 1977.

Solving the natural gas shortage is a big job. Gas from overseas will help. It won't be cheap but it'll be a lot less expensive than doing without.

Students Present Patriotic Program To Green Streeters

Students from Southern's creative writing classes, ninth grade general music classes, and senior chorus entertained students of Green Street School with a "Folk Festival" and "Bicentennial Party" last Friday morning, May 7. The purpose of the program was both to entertain the students and to help them to better understand the heritage of America's past.

The program actively involved the Green Street students. Each one had the opportunity to shoot a wild animal by hitting wild animal targets with a rubber ball, the reward for hitting the target was an animal cracker presented by Paul Mateer. Richard Orr encouraged and helped each child to hit the targets.

Another sport that captivated the students was that of fishing. While Ruby Tichinel Bargy told some wild fish tales, Janet Zimmerman, Julie Liller, and Joyce Winters took the children fishin' in a play pool.

Sondra England told an animal story and the children provided the appropriate animal sounds.

Beginning the "Folk Festival," the Southern Students sang "Country Roads," with the Green Street children joining in singing and playing various instruments. Instrumentalists from Southern included Tammy Mason, guitar; Roslyn Rodeheaver, harmonica; Patty Weimer, spoons; Deb Boone, tambourine; Jeri Storey, drum; and Julie Liller, morrocas. At the end of the "Folk Festival," Tammy, Roslyn, and Lou Sturm sang "Let Me Be There," "Friends," and "You Are My Sunshine," with all joining in the last song.

Mrs. Carolyn Lambert Wilt's music students introduced the "Bicentennial Party" section with "Turkey in the Straw," a jug band, square dancers, and the Baldwin sisters, as they performed numbers from "Of Thee I Sing." They ended their performance with "The Kittery," a version of The Lord's Prayer composed by William Billings, early American composer. The choral section was narrated by James K. Shaffer.

Next, as six students formed a pyramid symbolizing the struggles of America to remain free, Linda Holtschneider narrated a brief historical story and asked the children several questions about America's past. Climaxing the story was the planting of the American flag, as Brenda Scott stood on top of the pyramid, waving the American flag.

Charlie Brown, Lucy, and Snoopy were on hand to entertain the students as George Washington, Betsy Ross, and Paul Revere. Carla Ulery, Nita Shaffer, and Clara Shockley presented "Peanuts' Salute to America's Birthday."

A highlight was the birthday party for America. Tammy Mason recited her poem "Happy Birthday America" to Gale Pennington who was dressed like Uncle Sam. An air of excitement prevailed as the young students circled around the cake decorated like the American flag by Nita Shaffer. The lights were dimmed, candles representing the stars on the American flag were lit, and everyone sang "Happy Birthday."

After the candles were blown out and the cake served, Uncle Sam presented old-fashioned toys to Green Street School: clothes pin dolls, made by the creative writing classes and Jacob's Ladders, made by Mr. Tim Siljander's and Miss Marcette Danner's classes.

The program was coordinated and narrated by Mrs. Joan Lambert, creative writing teacher at Southern.

Huskies Defeat St. Francis Nine

Tim Humberson allowed two runs in the first inning, then blanked St. Francis the remainder of the game as Northern rallied with three runs in the second and four in the sixth for an 8-2 win.

Ken Sines singled twice and Tim Miller doubled to spark the Huskie attack. The Huskies, now 7-3 for the season.

THE RUPLI — BYRON DEBATE

Dan Rupli is running for Congress. He wanted to debate the issues, but it takes two people to debate . . . and time after time Rep. Byron has been afraid to come out. We think we know why:

DAN RUPLI

ON TAXES: Our current system is an outrage; it allows the wealthy and priviledged to pay far less than their fair share. We need a system which will take the tax burden off the shoulders of working people.

ON JOBS: We must get the economy moving again by putting people back to work. Each point added to the national unemployment rate costs the U.S. $16 billion in loss of tax revenues and expenditures to compensate those out of work.

ON OIL COMPANIES AND UTILITIES: The oil companies and utility corporations must be brought to justice. This means fair taxes on all profits, no depletion allowances, and an end to fuel rate adjustments by utility companies.

ON SENIOR CITIZENS: We are duty bound to provide greater economic security for our older people. It is criminal that in a country as rich as ours we cast our senior citizens onto the poverty heap.

Woman Sustains Broken Arm In Sunday Wreck

One woman was taken to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, with a broken left arm following a three-car smash-up Sunday afternoon. Twelve other persons were treated and released from the local hospital as the result of the same accident.

Mrs. Patricia Ann Helmick, 32, of RD 4, Deer Park, was taken to the Cumberland hospital. She was the operator of one of the cars involved. Her two daughters, Renee A., 6, and Rhonda, 13, were treated and released from the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Sherman Harold Lewis, Mason street, Oakland, driver of one of the other cars, and his six passengers, were treated and released from the local hospital. These were: Claude Sisler, 62; his wife, Sereanna, 45; three children, Elsie, 10; David, 16 and Sereanna, 15 and Donald Hoffman, all of Oakland.

The operator of the third car, Margo L. Baggett, 21, and his two passengers, Serena Valentine 19, and William Moran, all of Winchester, Va., were also treated and released from the hospital. Cpl. Ronald Lewis charged him on two counts: failing to stop at a stop sign and failing to have driver's license in possession.

Lewis was traveling west on Md. 135 with the Helmick car following. Mrs. Helmick started to pass the Lewis car. As she did, Baggett, traveling north on Main street, just north of Deer Park, failed to stop and pulled into the left side of the Helmick car. This forced the Helmick car into the Lewis car, and in turn the two cars ran into the guard rails on the northwest corner of the intersection.

A passing motorist, Carl Rebele, a member of the National Ski Patrol, rendered first aid to several of the injured until the Southern Rescue Squads arrived. Three ambulances then conveyed ten of the injured to the hospital. Apparently three others were taken to the hospital in private vehicles.

The accident occurred at 5:20 Sunday afternoon.

Oakland Elks Lodge Will Be Dedicated May 15

Dedication of the BPO Elks Oakland lodge is being planned for Saturday afternoon, May 15, at 2 o'clock.

The lodge, founded in 1972, now has some 200 members. The facility recently was completely renovated. The lodge room will be dedicated to the memory of Darrell Malone, who helped to found the lodge and served as an officer.

Various tri-state Elks officers will join with the local lodge members and state officials in attending the dedication.

A roast beef dinner is scheduled for Friday evening, a luncheon on Saturday prior to the dedication, and a dedication dance at the National Guard armory Saturday evening.

Rent Free Homes Available For Sr. Citizens

The Director of Senior Citizens Programs said that 19 homes are now available in return for some light housekeeping or for care of an elderly person.

Ellis said the homes are in different sections of Garrett County.

"We will try to match up the people as near as possible," Dale Ellis director of the program said, "before any contacts are made."

Towson Golfers Aided By Local David Sharps

Towson State college varsity golf team had its most successful season ever this past year. Dave Sharps, of Oakland, was one of the members and he has qualified in the national insurance youth classic.

The team compiled a record of 15-8. All but one loss were non-conference matches against the University of Maryland, Bucknell, U. S. Naval Academy and Glassboro college. Only conference loss was to George Mason university. The team finished in first place in the Mason-Dixon conference by beating Loyola college by one stroke and George Mason university by 2 strokes.

The team is now waiting for a bid to the NCAA Small College division II playoffs, set for May 24-25 in Youngstown, O. As an individual Dave was Medalist in the match with the U.S. Naval Academy. He played two under par for eight of the last nine holes to pace the Towson squad. He had a score of 77 on the south course at Turf Valley CC against the University of Maryland, Baltimore Campus which helped establish a new school record.

In the Mason-Dixon tournament after a disappointing start, Dave contributed to the team's championship title and highlighted the day with an eagle two on the par four 410 yard 13th hole at King's Valley C.C.

This is Dave's second season as a letterman but his last at Towson State. He has been accepted to the University of Florida at Gainesville where he plans to major in management his junior and senior year.

Dave also is a member of the dean's list with a 3.6 grade point average for his first three semesters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sharps, Crook Crest, Oakland, and a member of the Oakland Country club.

SPECIAL MUZZLELOADING DEER SEASON NOW OFFICIAL — Joint House Resolution No. 128, was signed by Governor Marvin Mandel at Annapolis last Tuesday, May 4, and members of the Backbone Village Mt. Rifle shop were there to witness the occasion.

The resolution requests the wildlife administration to provide a special muzzleloading rifle deer season beginning this year. Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, who introduced the measure, was also present. Gov. Mandel took time out to comment on the flintlock rifles and primitive costumes which the Garrett County visitors were wearing for the occasion.

Regulations for the special season were expected to be decided sometime prior to the regular hi-powered rifle deer season.

This will be the first time since the days of Meshack Browning that a hunter will be allowed to hunt deer with a muzzleloading rifle without having to compete with the hi-powered repeating rifles.

Given Further Recognition By AAUW

Further recognition was given to two members of Garrett Branch, American Association of University women, at the annual Fellowship dinner of the group Tuesday evening at the Oakland Country club. The two members had been given state-wide recognition some two weeks ago at the AAUW state convention for two name grants of $500 each for national fellowships, provided by the local branch. The two members honored were Mrs. Kathryn Helbig, left, and Mrs. Polly Hanst, right. Mrs. Helbig was not present at Tuesday's meeting but had attended the state meeting.

Robert L. Trantham, dean of Garrett Community college, was the speaker at Tuesday's dinner meeting. Miss Anne Bishop was installed as president, succeeding Mrs. Jean Grose; and Mrs. Dorothy Straub was installed as secretary. Holdover officers include Mrs. Marilyn Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. Elaine Marple, treasurer. Officers were installed by Mrs. Grose.

A report of the state convention was given by Mrs. Sara Smith and Mrs. Joan Lambert outlined 30 years of the local branch in poetry.

Plaques were presented to the name grant honorees citing the "significant service to the program of AAUW, Garrett County Branch."

Foster Children Week Proclaimed

The week of May 9 to May 15, has been proclaimed National Action for Foster Children Week. The theme for 1976 action week is "200 Years of Caring." Depressing sight, isn't it? And what is it we say when something old, familiar, once-cherished, once-useful has succumbed to the ravages of time? it served its purpose!

Could all the churches in our town someday look like this?

They could!

Maybe they will . . .

if they have served their purpose . . .

if we don't need them anymore!

Even if you haven't been to church recently, I think you'll protest that we DO need our churches. We need the truth they teach — the faith they instill — the hope they inspire — the God-given strength with which they undergird our life.

This is the very point: We ALL need our churches.

And to bring ALL of us to realize and fulfill our need . . .

That is their purpose!

THE MOULD

Lesson for May 16, 1976

Background Scripture: Joshua 24:1-18, Romans 12
Devotional Reading: Psalms 24

"But Mother, all the kids are doing it!"

Children have been saying those words or their equivalents from the beginning of time. The pressure to conform to alien standards and values is a perennial problem for both children and parents. The underlying reason is usually the same for both: for all we say about the importance of individuality, few of us will dare to be different if our acceptance by others is likely to be at stake.

Rev. Althouse

The world's mould

The child is afraid that if he or she is different in any way, acceptance by peers will be endangered. Thus, although youth and adolescence is a time when children are struggling for independence and individuality, the pressures to conform are powerful and often override all other considerations.

The parent, on the other hand, is often fearful of being "different" from other parents. The parent is strongly tempted to give in and go along with something to which he or she is normally opposed. Once again, the root cause is an overwhelming desire for acceptance. He not only wants to "keep up with the Jonses," but often wants to get ahead of them!

Although it has been a long-standing problem for the family, it is particularly significant today. Our children want to look alike, sound alike, think alike and be alike—all of this often in the name of achieving their own individuality!

So, very often the key to family values and morals is not the question of whether something is "right or wrong"?, but whether "Everybody else is doing it!"

Although Paul wasn't thinking specifically of the family, he was nevertheless addressing himself to this problem in Romans 12. He knew of the tremendous pressures upon Christians to conform to the values and practices of others. Thus, he writes, "And be not conformed to this world: but be transformed by the renewal of your mind" (12:2).

Let Christ remind us

I like the J. B. Phillips translation of that verse: "Don't let the world around you squeeze you into its mould, but let God remake you so that your whole attitude of mind is changed." Thus, the Christian—particularly the Christian family—is constantly in a struggle to maintain a Christian identity. The world attempts to mould us, our ideas, our attitudes, our values, but we must resist that pressure. So, instead of letting the world put its mark upon us, we are called by Christ to place our mark—the mark of Christ—upon the world. As our own lives are to be moulded from within by the power of Christ, so we are to let that same power work through us and mould the life of the world around us. Thus, the power of Christ transforms both us and the world around us as well.

ACCEPT KEYS FOR NEW AMBULANCE — Members of the Board of Directors for the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad accepted the keys Sunday for a new ambulance to be located at Accident. Purchased by the NGCRS with the aid of funds secured by the Appalachian Region I Emergency Medical Services Advisory Council, the vehicle is one of two to be based at Accident. Funds for such vehicles are part of a nation-wide project to develop emergency medical service systems, through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Shown above, left to right, are Dave Ramsey, Region I EMS coordinator; Don Bender and Wayne Hamilton, County Commissioners; George Edwards, chairman of the County Commissioners; Don Ringer, Lieutenant for NGCRS; Mary Friend, vice president and board member; Robert Enlow and Hobert Bowser, board members; and Jim Wilburn, president of the Board. One other member, Raymond J. Yoder, was out on a rescue call at the time the photograph was taken. Over 40 new EMT-A trainees recently completed an 81-hour course to prepare for the operation of the new ambulance, which is housed in the Accident Fire Hall. Volunteers from the Accident, McHenry and Friendsville areas will provide 24-hour-a-day ambulance service to residents. National Road Designated Historic Engineering Landmark

The National Road, located between Cumberland, and Vandalia, Ill., has been designated a National Historic Civil Engineering Landmark. This highway was the precursor of today's federal system and represented the highest standards of road design and construction at the time.

A bronze plaque will be placed in the National Road/Zane Grey Museum, Zanesville, Ohio, on Saturday, June 19 at 2:00 p.m. Arthur J. Fox, Jr., President of the American Society of Civil Engineers, will present the plaque, which will be permanently displayed at the museum. This Bicentennial award ceremony will be held in conjunction with the Annual Zane Trace's Day Celebration to commemorate the heritage of today's highway system.

The history of The National Road is typical of American ingenuity. A route westward, while actually envisioned by George Washington in 1789, was not realized until some 22 years later by Albert Gallatin, Secretary of the Treasury under President Jefferson. Gallatin, once a surveyor himself, supervised construction of The National Road—the "Main Street of America," as it came to be known in its prime—the great land link to the West. The first highway to be built by federal funds, "The Old Pike," today U.S. Route 40, became 600 miles of fabled folklore.

The National Road, which bridged streams and crossed difficult land barriers, was constructed from 1811 to 1839. Earlier, however, Ebenezer Zane, founder of Wheeling, W. Va., cleared a road from Wheeling west through Ohio County. Zanesville, Lancaster, and Chillicothe prospered on what was then known as Zane's Trace. Later, part of the Trace became a portion of The National Road.

Originally The National Road was a forged link between the seaboard states, such as Virginia, and settlers of the Ohio Valley. In those early days, all sought access to markets for surplus crops and products, as well as a land bridge to opening new territory for settlement.

George Washington sought, he wrote, to "open a wide door, and make a smooth way for the produce of the country to pass to our markets before the trade may get into another channel." The National Road became that wide door and continued so, until the coming of the railroad.

The National Road has been called the Appian Way of America. Certainly, for the frontier, it represented a new innovation in road-building.

This landmark is one of 57 National Historic Civil Engineering Landmarks designated by the American Society of Civil Engineers. ASCE is the oldest national professional engineering Society in the United States. Currently, there are 72,000 ASCE members.

Child Development Staff Attends Tennessee Conference

Eight members of the Garrett County Child Development Project, Garrett Community College, McHenry, attended the "State of the Child in Appalachia Conference," held in Knoxville, Tennessee, April 27-30.

The conference was developed on the assumption that the experts on "the state of the child in Appalachia" are those who work directly with the Region's children. As a result, nearly every participant could contribute from personal experience to many of the twenty-five workshops that were held.

During the conference, every aspect of the Appalachian child's life was examined. Family and outside influences, both public and private, that touch the child were explored.

Those attending the workshop sessions were Patti Wright, Peggy Lambert, Pat Work, Maggie Mellington, Donna Cook, Juanita Stonebraker, Pamela Workman, and June Harsh.

New County Trucks Not Purchased Yet

The Republican rushed things a bit last week when it stated that the Garrett County Roads department had purchased five new three-ton trucks.

Actually, five trucks will be purchased after the first of July, when the department's new budget goes into effect.

The purchases are subject to the final approval of the three county Commissioners. The Republican regrets the error.

Opens Headquarters

U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R.-Md) opened his state Campaign Headquarters in Rockville, on Saturday, May 8. The headquarters will be located at 5640 Nicholson Lane.

The Rockville Headquarters will be the central office for Beall's 1976 re-election drive.

Real Choice, In November

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R.-Md.) said this week that Maryland Democrats have little to choose from in the upcoming Senate primary election, and that the real choice will come in November when "Marylanders will decide whether they want a Senator who will work for better government instead of bigger government and for curbing federal spending instead of encouraging greater excesses." Beall's comments came at the opening of his State Campaign Headquarters in Rockville.

The Maryland Senator told his supporters that "serving the people of Maryland has been my primary concern for the past 5 years in the United States Senate. It is a full time job and, I believe, a most worthwhile one." Beall says that in the coming campaign he is going to take his record as a Senator and his campaign to the people of Maryland and that he believes the choice will be clear in the November election.

Beall pointed to his record of having worked to reduce federal spending through his efforts on the Senate Budget Committee; his call for reform of the criminal justice system; his work to restore the death penalty for certain crimes; his legislation to improve education while opposing forced busing; as well as his work to improve health care and to improve the quality of life for older Americans.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me c/o U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

What is being done to control inflation?

I continue to feel that inflation is directly related to the level of government spending and the size of the federal deficit. Therefore, inflation cannot and will not be controlled until such time as government spending is controlled and the budget moves in the direction of overall balance. I have voted against the public debt ceiling, and I have introduced a balanced budget constitutional amendment in an effort to address the root causes of inflation.

Does the government publish any information on saving energy?

The Consumer information Center, Pueblo, Colorado, currently has two free booklets on home energy conservation. "Save Energy, Save Money" outlines simple do-it-yourself projects to insulate your home. "Tips for Energy Savers" outlines ways to conserve energy in household heating, cooling and appliance use. Please tell me your views on busing.

I have always opposed busing to achieve racial balance in our schools. The answer to racial discrimination lies in improved schools in all political jurisdictions. Forced busing has yet to show any results in improved education, but it clearly has disrupted the neighborhood concept of schools on which our educational system has been based.

How big a business is agriculture in our State of Maryland?

According to the Maryland Department of Agriculture, our state's 14,000 farms sell more than $400 million worth of products each year. All the operations in the production, processing and distribution of the food, fiber and forestry products provide over 14 percent of the Gross State Product—more than $2.3 billion. Agriculture in this sense is one of our largest industries.

Do you have any information on the Supreme Court—how it works, who are the Justices, etc.?

My office has limited copies of an educational booklet entitled "The Supreme Court". Interested citizens need only write me, care of 1730 Longworth Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

There Is An Answer . . .

By Norman Vincent Peale
And Ruth Stafford Peale

Q. What is the matter with us? My husband and I have tried everything we know of to be good neighbors, but we are shut out of every neighborhood activity. Most of our neighbors decline invitations to our home, and I have been inside the homes of only a few of them.

Two families come to see us only if invited. We have had them join in our cookouts, but then they leave early, to spend the rest of the evening with other neighbors. We are never invited to impromptu get-togethers and are never asked to neighborhood picnics and parties although the folks on the block seem to be friendly when we meet. What is wrong? Please help us.

A. Obviously something is "the matter," as you put it. We find it odd that people would accept invitations to dinner and then leave early to spend the rest of the evening with others.

Perhaps you should ask yourself some questions to try to develop a few psychological insights and discover if in some way you are creating barriers between you and others. You may, for example, suffer from self-consciousness—an inability to achieve an easy naturalness that makes it difficult for you to be genuinely warm and friendly. Search your mind for any incidents that may be at the root of your alienation from your neighbors. Have you or your husband said anything to offend anyone? Do you bicker or discuss family problems in front of others? Do you gossip? Are you critical? Have you ever really gone out of your way to do something nice for a neighbor?

If you really have no idea what the trouble is, seek guidance from someone you feel can be objective. A local pastor trained in counseling may be able to help you—if you are willing to accept what he says without taking offense. A minister, like a surgeon, sometimes causes pain in the process of curing.

Q. [To Dr. Peale]: What do you do with a rebellious teenager who won't give a civil answer to any question, who is rude at the dinner table, brags about smoking pot and humiliates his father by telling him that he is a failure? We are at our wits' end wondering what we have done that is wrong and what we can do to make things right.

A. (Dr. Peale): You are going through what countless other parents—and young people—are enduring. The teen-age years are difficult for everyone, with the young people growing rapidly and maturing at an ever younger age. Patience and love are the main elements required to face up to teen-age traumas. Some youngsters need counseling by experts—and sometimes the entire family needs counseling.

I have written a booklet designed expressly to help families through situations such as you have described and have sent it to you. It is available at NO charge to others reading this column if they will write to me asking for TUNE IN ON LIFE—YOU AND THE GENERATION GAP, at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Q. My wife has an obsession about my mother. They live many miles apart, but my wife keeps remembering and harping on a few sharp remarks my mother once made. I have about decided to get out of this needlessly unpleasant situation and go home to mother. Can you blame me?

A. Certainly we blame you. Are you a child or a man? Only a child would run home to mama. You married a wife. She wants a man for a husband. Perhaps the reason for her remarks about your mother is that she thinks you are still tied to mama's apron strings. Show both of them in a quiet but firm manner that no woman can dominate you. When they really believe this, they will both think you are wonderful. and the next thing you know, they'll get to liking one another too.

Would you like to find some answers for yourself? If there is something you would like to ask Dr. and Mrs. Peale to discuss in THERE'S AN ANSWER! write to them in care of Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Bond Sales Are Going Well

More than 60 billion dollars worth of Series E bonds and over 8 billion dollars worth of series H bonds were held by the American people at the end of February.

E and H bond sales of $607 million, the greatest for any February since H bonds were issued, brought year to date sales to over $1.3 billion. In Maryland the total February sales amounted to $14,849,171 and $29,152,804 for the first two months of 1976, which was 16.6 percent of the state goal.

In Garrett county the quota for the year is $652,000 and February sales totaled $53,392, or $125,896 for the first two months or 19.3 percent of the quota. The county stood sixth among Baltimore and the twenty-three counties. Queen Annes county was first, Talbot county second, and Wicomico county third. Allegany was 17th.

Three Placed On Probation In Drug Cases

Three who pleaded guilty of possession of Marijuana were placed on probation under the provision of first offense in District Court by Judge Lewis R. Jones last week.

Arthur L. Redman, 25, Clarence D. Redman, 19, both of Petersburg, W. Va. and Robert L. Thomas, Clay, W. Va., pleaded guilty of possession of Marijuana at Keyser Ridge in February. All three were placed on probation for two years with the plea stricken under the provision of the first offense.

Woodrow Harrison Thrasher, 30, Deer Park, Md., pleaded not guilty of carnal knowledge of a female (not his wife) between the ages of 14 and 16. He was found guilty and paid costs. A three-month jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years and to pay for proper expenses.

Wayne Ronald Casteel, Friendsville, has been charged with larceny of rifles and ammunition of Dana Umble at Friendsville January 13. He was released on a personal bond and the case has been transferred to Circuit Court.

Roy M. Livengood, Grantsville, had been charged with non-support of two minor children. The case was stetted as an agreement was signed to make payments.

Darrell W. Miller, RD 2, Grantsville, had been charged with malicious destruction of property and tampering with a motor vehicle. The case was dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

Lakers Take Two Over Howard CC

Garrett Community College backed an 8-0 shutout with a 23 to 4 rout to sweep a doubleheader from Howard Community college Sunday at McHenry.

In the opener Garrett pitcher Andrew Zitzer was on the mound to keep Howard scoreless. He is 6-4 on the season. Zitzer allowed four hits, walked a pair and fanned nine.

The pair of home stand victories closed out the spring and fall baseball season and let the Lakers finish with an overall mark of 22-11.

The first two innings were scoreless but Garrett opened a 3-0 edge in the last of the third after two outs. The key blow was a two run homer by Craig Bosley. A five run attack also occurred in the last of the fourth.

Dave Shotwell, Bob Ingram and Ray Neill got three singles and then Steve Didik drew a walk to force in a run. Whitfield cleared the bases with a three run triple and he was driven in by Randy DiSimone.

In the second game Howard opened a 2-1 lead but in the bottom of the second Garrett opened a big run burst. The igniting hit was a two run single by Ed Danel. Then there were seven more runs to give the Lakers a 10-2 lead. Garrett got four more in the bottom of the third with DiSimone getting a two run triple. Garrett got nine more runs in the last of the sixth with a six hit attack.

GARRETT COUNTY VOTERS!

VOTE

AGAINST

Elected School Board Bill 1119

On Tuesday, May 18th

This bill would give you an elected board of education will all the following faulty provisions:

1. Minimum compensation or salary of $840.00 per member per year. There is no maximum salary set in this bill so the salary could be raised as high as the five board of education members and the county commissioners decide. The MINIMUM salary costs will be $4,200.00 per year and this DOES NOT include any other expenses. This bill also provides for an unlimited expense account for the five elected board members. This bill literally provides for all expenses-travel, lodging, food, etc., to be paid to the elected members for both in county and out of county. The total expenses AND salary for our present five member board of education is $2,952.88 for the last fiscal year. Can you afford the unlimited cost provisions of this bill? If not, vote against elected school board on May 18.

2. ANYONE with a 100 name petition and a $25.00 filing fee may run as a candidate for the board of education. THERE ARE NO OTHER QUALIFICATIONS, other than residency and age. If you disagree with this provision, vote against elected school board on May 18.

3. As a registered voter, you will be allowed to vote for ONLY three of the five members of the board of education. You will be able to vote for one member from your commissioner district plus two members at large. Since ALL five members of the board of education will represent your children, make decisions affecting your children and plan programs for your children, you should be allowed to vote for ALL five members. This bill will not allow you to do so. If this makes you unhappy, vote against elected school board on May 18.

4. According to this bill, all five members would begin office on January 1, 1977. Their terms would last a straight four years and since there are no provisions for staggered terms, we could have another set of five members with no previous experience come four years later. If you feel we need someone on the board of education with experience at all times, vote against elected school board on May 18.

GARRETT COUNTY TAXPAYERS NEED YOUR VOTE AGAINST ELECTED SCHOOL BOARD BILL 1119 —

—We can't afford it and it doesn't give a fair chance to vote for all Board of Education members.

GARRETT COUNTY CHILDREN NEED YOUR VOTE AGAINST ELECTED SCHOOL BOARD BILL 1119

— The quality of their future education depends on your vote against this bill.

IF YOU ARE IN FAVOR OF AN ELECTED BOARD OF EDUCATION, HELP TO DEFEAT THE FAULTY PROVISIONS OF THIS BILL AND THEN WORK TO GET A BILL WHICH WOULD BE IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF ALL CITIZENS, ESPECIALLY CHILDREN.

Bird Watchers See 5,380 Birds

Almost the worst possible bird watching weather was available Saturday, May 1, for the annual bird count in Garrett county.

Mrs. Fran Pope, coordinator for the count, noted that 138 species were counted this year, comparing favorably with 143 species last year. Mrs. Pope also noted that cold weather immediately preceding the day of the count possibly kept the figures lower this year.

Last year, 7,033 individual birds were counted. This year 5,380 birds were seen. Most common bird for the fifth consecutive year was the red-winged blackbird, with 592; second was the robin, 437; third, starling, 352; fourth, evening grosbeak, 315. Grosbeaks are getting ready to migrate which possibly accounted for their numerous appearances.

Unusual birds counted included some Willets, a type of shorebird, spotted at Broad Ford Lake. This was only the second sighting for the bird in this county.

Mrs. Pope felt encouraged by the increase in purple martins, up to 53 from only 32 last year. This may indicate that the population is growing following death of many of the birds in 1971 when Hurricane Agnes wiped out many insect-eating birds.

One Sora Rail, a very secretive type of marsh bird, was also spotted.

Thirty-six observers helped in the count, which took place from 4:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Results will also appear in the June issue of Maryland Bird Life.

BetterVision Repairing Oakland Cable Lines

BetterVision Systems workmen have been on heavy work schedules during the past two weeks, attempting to clear up difficulties with the new tower site at Thayerville.

Lines have been replaced where needed, according to Oakland manager William Butler, and other work is in progress to alleviate problems which began last year after the antenna was moved from Crook Crest.

Additional workers, including the company engineer and assistant engineer from Clarksburg, have also been assisting the local manager and workmen, Ben Rawlings and Doug Reckard. Cable service in many parts of Oakland has been disrupted during the few weeks as repair work progresses.

Mr. Butler said he hopes to have the major repairs finished during the next week or ten days.

An Answer To Arguments Against An Elected School Board

ARGUMENT NO. 1: "I'm in favor of an elected school board for Garrett County, but I've heard that this particular referendum bill is a bad bill."

ANSWER: We are not sure what is meant by "A Bad Bill," but technically, the bill has been checked three times by the Attorney General's office and is considered technically sound and consistent with the Maryland Constitution.

ARGUMENT NO. 2 : "An elected school board will be very inefficient and confusing. All five members with no previous experience could be elected every four years. Without the staggering of terms, there may be no continuation of programs and policies."

ANSWER: This argument has no substance. The entire U.S. House of Representatives has been totally elected every two years since the founding of our nation. Every four years Maryland's Governor, Lt. Governor, Attorney General, Comptroller, the entire General Assembly in Annapolis, and the local Board of County Commissioners are all elected at the same time. It is possible that our entire state and county government could be elected without previous experience, with no staggering of terms and no guarantee of continuation of certain programs or policies. This right to change is basic to our democratic form of government.

ARGUMENT NO. 3 : "If we elect the school board, we may not get qualified members. Anyone with a hundred names on a petition and $25 filing fee can run."

ANSWER: To argue against an elected school board for fear of electing unqualified members is an insult to the intelligence and sincerity of the voters of Garrett County. This is the first time it has ever been argued that the democratic process should be abolished because the people aren't smart enough to make an intelligent choice. Past experience proves that with an appointed school board it is even more probable that some political hack, whose only qualification is his pull with the governor, will get appointed to the school board.

ARGUMENT NO. 4 : "An elected school board will be too expensive. Each member's salary will be at least $840 per year and they will get an unlimited expense account."

ANSWER: This argument is very misleading. Although the salaries for an elected school board will increase the cost several hundred dollars, you will always get what you pay for! $840 is an extremely small amount compared to the board of education's multi-million dollar annual budget. Few would complain about the minimal increase in cost for an elected school board, if they knew that Dr. Buser, Supt. of Schools, has an annual salary of $31,600 along with a county automobile and traveling expense account.
Concerning the elected school board's so-called "unlimited expense account," it will be the same voucher system that is presently used by the appointed school board.

ARGUMENT NO. 5: "Well, I read that everything the Board does is mandated by the State, so there's no sense in concerning ourselves with an elected school board."

ANSWER: Wrong Again! Although there are minimal state standards, the local school board must approve all matters concerning curriculum, location and construction of schools, appointments and dismissals of teachers and administrators, and the Garrett County education budget. They also make important policy decisions about controversial issues such as "sex education" and humanistic open education. The local school board does not have to be a rubber stamp for the state.

★ ★ ★ ★

As you can see, every major argument against the elected school board bill amounts to nothing. These false assumptions are seeds of doubt circulated by those who oppose an elected school board for Garrett County.

We believe that government of the people and by the people is very important, especially when it concerns something as personal as our children's education. The appointed school board must be made responsive to the people, instead of the politicians to whom they now owe their appointments. Let the people speak!

MAY DAY IS PAY DAY — Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr., is discussing his "Tax Freedom Day" resolution with legislative assistant, Clare Comiskey. The Senator's resolution declared May 1, "Tax Freedom Day."

"If the national average can be applied," Beall commented, "then May 1st is the day the average taxpayer in Garrett County stops working for Uncle Sam and starts working for himself. All the income earned up until May 1 will go to pay federal, state, and local taxes.

Beall said he hoped that by designating May 1st as "Tax Freedom Day," attention would be focused on the "mushrooming tax mentality" of the federal government and the need to streamline our present spending policies.

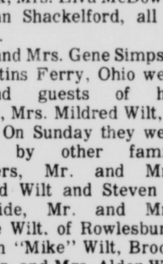
American Freedom and Christian Responsibility



By
Rev. W. H. Leake, Deer Park, Md.

America - Thank God! A government of the people, by the people and for the people. But in order for it to work, the people must be involved and involvement means more than just complaining about something or someone in government you don't like. Next Tuesday Marylanders will have the opportunity, privilege and responsibility to be involved. Abuse it, don't use it and history tells us, we will loose it. As a Christian citizen, I feel I have not only a right but an obligation to be involved in the elective process: First, To God who is the Author of all Freedom; Second, To My Country, the greatest in the world; and last, but not least, to my family whom I love very dearly.

After studying the candidates and issues, and after much prayer, if I were a Democrat, I would support Gov. George Wallace and his slate of delegates for President; Mr. Roy Chambers (whom I know personally to be a true American) for U. S. Senate; Congressman Goodloe Byron for the U.S. Congress (he has done a great job for us in the 6th Congressional Dist. and for America in general; he is more than just a politician, he is a dedicated legislator). If I were voting on the Republican side, I would vote for Gov. Ronald Reagan and his delegate slate for President. Then if for some reason I was not voting for any of the above, I would still go to the polls and cast my vote for an elected school board.

Let others say what they will, the fact remains that the local school board has more influence over our local school system than any other group anywhere. They hire and fire all people involved in the field of public education, also they determine the salary educators will be paid. They determine the type of school books and material that will be used in all public schools and many other important items. As for carrying out or implementing State-by-laws, the local school board has a lot of flexibility if they would use it.

For the most part, I have found Garrett Countians to be a fine group of people who are much too wise to be tricked or deceived into leaving control of the local school board under a Politician in Annapolis who has never gotten a majority of votes in our County.

As for the Bill-HB1119, giving us the opportunity to vote for an elected school board, don't take anyone's word for what it is. Do like I did; get a copy and study it; I think you will find, as I have, it is a very good bill. Support freedom of Choice—Vote for an elected school board.

REMEMBER: Freedom is Fragile-Handle it with Prayer.

Political Advertisement

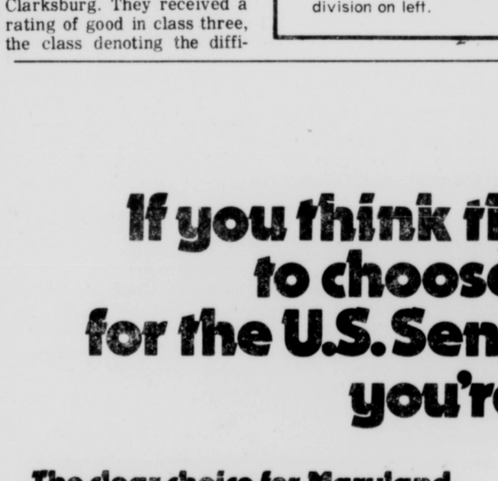
If you think there isn't much to choose between for the U.S. Senate on May 18th, you're right.

The clear choice for Maryland won't come until November.

When Maryland's Democrats go to the polls on Tuesday, May 18th, they will have two major candidates to choose between.

But because the frontrunners' records are so similar, the voters will have no major issues to choose between.

One liberal supports excessive government spending and regulation, as a Congressman. The other liberal's voting record clearly shows support for similar inflationary and regulatory programs, as a former Senator.



Senator Beall: the right choice.

Maryland's Democrats are going to have a tough time trying to figure out how to vote for the lesser of the two big spenders on May 18th.

But Maryland's Republicans, Democrats and Independents can all vote against big spending and big government in November -- by voting to re-elect Senator Glenn Beall.

Senator Beall: for responsible government.

Glenn Beall has consistently opposed excessive government spending and regulation.

Glenn Beall wrote the Truth in Spending bill and co-authored the Budget Reform Act which protect taxpayers money by requiring strong checks on federal spending programs.

Glenn Beall was a sponsor of the original Revenue Sharing Act that has already returned 500 million dollars to Maryland governments.

Senator Beall: working for Maryland.

Glenn Beall is close to the people, and he understands their concerns.

Glenn Beall has done a lot for Maryland in six years. But there's still a lot to be done. And nobody else can finish the job.

I would like to help re-elect J. Glenn Beall, Jr. to the U.S. Senate.

Southern Splits With Fort Ashby

Joe DiSimone allowed just one hit, a lead off single, in the fourth inning to John Ritchey as he blanked Fort Ashby 1 to 0, to gain a split for the Rams in a twin bill last Thursday, after the Eagles held on for a 6 to 5 victory in the opener.

DiSimone fanned eight and allowed one walk in gaining the verdict over Dave Harris who turned in a five-hitter.

The Rams scored in the third inning on a double by Scott Stoner and a single by Steve Switzer.

In the first game Greg Welker and Harris rapped a pair of hits each and Davey Hayes survived a three run uprising in the seventh to give the Eagles the victory. Preston homered for the losers.

Playing on the Southern team were Green, Stoner, Lewis, Switzer, Glotfelty, Preston, Chapman, DiSimone, Savage, Robinette and Wildesen.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to our dear husband and father, Parker DeWitt, who passed away May 11, 1972.

Though I walk through life alone,
the path together we once trod
I walk with eager happy steps which lead nearer to you and God.
We do not forget you nor do we intend, we think of you often and will until the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be, but dear to our memories you will ever be.

Sadly missed by
Wife and family

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

As a concerned citizen, very much interested in our school system, I take issue with your editorials speaking against the bill for an elected school board. Your comments do not measure up to your usual standards of fairness and thoughtfulness.

You have insulted the people of Garrett County by insinuating that if we change from the appointive system, the voters will be likely to elect selfishly motivated axe grinders who are interested in lining their own pockets.

Last week you indirectly accused the County Commissioners of fiscal irresponsibility when you charged, "(The) biggest objection to the bill itself, even among those who might favor an elected school board, is the lack of restrictions on the expense account of board members." As you well know, the school board budget is approved by the County Commissioners, and two of them have made assurances there will be no runaway expense account for the school board members, either appointed or elected.

If there are valid reasons for Garrett County to defeat the Elected School Board Bill, let's hear what they are this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Garrett Community College. Thus far, only "fear and smear" tactics have been presented, and it seems to be beneath the dignity of your newspaper to be a party to the argument of derogation.

Sincerely,
Ernest Gregg, Jr.

Editor's Note:

Mr. Gregg is inserting several thoughts that have no connection with last week's editorial. The commissioners were not brought in either directly or indirectly. With unlimited expense account, school board members could present expenses after a board budget was approved. And can we say that voters never elected selfishly motivated persons to office?

Gorman Firemen Have Two Calls

Members of the Gorman Volunteer fire department answered two fires last weekend, with 14 men responding to each call.

On Saturday night, the men and two trucks responded to a call to the Kenneth Bosley property behind Backbone Mountain Inn. A trash fire had apparently gotten out of control about 10 p.m. and had spread to some nearby tires and pine trees.

Oakland firemen were called to assist, and had traveled as far as Red House before being recalled to the fire hall. Gorman firemen returned to the station about 11 p.m.

Two and a half acres of woodland on Western Maryland property two miles below Steyer were destroyed by fire about 5:45 p.m. Sunday. The fire company took one truck and assisted members of the Forestry department in fighting the fire, returning to the fire hall about 7:10 p.m.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE VOTING MACHINE

1. Move the Red Handle from the Left to the Right as far as it will go. (This will close the curtain around you.)
2. Turn DOWN A POINTER OVER the name of each candidate you wish to vote for (for each office) thus:

from this position to this position

AND LEAVE IT DOWN

3. Continue in the same manner to the end of the ticket, taking care to turn down a pointer for EVERY office that you wish to vote for, and LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
4. Move the Red Handle to the left as far as it will go. (This will register your vote and return the pointers to their unvoted position, after which it will open the Curtain.)

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

No votes are registered until you move the Curtain Lever to the Left to open the Curtain. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain lever is at the right (curtain closed). Each candidate's voting Pointer is directly ABOVE his name.

The machine is so arranged that you CANNOT TURN DOWN MORE THAN THE PROPER NUMBER OF POINTERS for an office.

BEFORE GOING INTO THE MACHINE ON ELECTION DAY

1. Examine the Specimen Ballot and decide what candidates you will vote for, and know where their names are located.
2. Practice a few times on one of the little Instruction Models, until sure that you know how to cast your ballot.

AFTER ENTERING THE MACHINE

1. Turn down the Pointers OVER each Candidate's name for whom you wish to vote.
2. LEAVE the Pointers DOWN.

Lakers Defeat Dundalk Twice

Jim Kostyak hurled his first no-hitter of his career at Garrett Community college at McHenry on Saturday to the Lakers to a 9 to 3 and a 12 to 0 sweep of Dundalk Community college.

The righthander of near Pittsburgh turned the no-hit trick in the second game of the twin bill, posting his fourth shutout in six decisions.

Garrett got 22 hits. Kostyak is now 5-1.

The only scoring threat posed by the Tigers from the first inning of the first game came in the top of the seventh when Kostyak walked two with two out. They managed to wind up on second and third base but a final strikeout ended the threat and the game.

Bell got a two run homer in the first game for Dundalk. The Tiger bats were silenced after that with Mark Deutsch on the mound for the Lakers. He got credit for his eighth win against three losses. He was lifted in the sixth for freshman Kevin Grant who pitched two more hitless innings.

Ray Neill and Robert Whitfield each got five hits, Neill rapping a two-run homer in the third inning of the second game and adding a double and three singles while Whitfield trippled among his five.

The U.S. is planning a crackdown on illegal aliens.

Miss Brenneman Wed May 8 To Mr. Resh

Christ Lutheran Church in Grantsville was the setting May 8, of the wedding of Miss Nancy Louise Brenneman and Morris Glen Resh.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. David E. Fetter and Mrs. Sadie Triplett. Mrs. Irma Miller, organist, accompanied Ted Varner, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen L. Brenneman of Grantsville. Mr. Resh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark E. Resh, also of Grantsville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sheer organza trimmed with blue ribbon threaded through Venice lace and scheffli lace. The bodice was enhanced by laces in a bib effect and designed with a wedding band collar. Deep lace cuffs terminated the Victorian sleeves. The full circular skirt swept to a godlet train edged in Venice lace. A Juliet headpiece of Venice lace held a lace-edged elbow-length mantilla of bridal illusion. She carried a white Bible covered with lace, white cymbidium orchids and streamers of white lace and ribbon.

Maid of honor was Miss Linda Resh, sister of the bridegroom, Grantsville. Guests were registered before the ceremony by Mrs. Joyce Yoder, cousin of the bride, Meyersdale, Pa.

Best man was Dalton Stanton, Grantsville. Ushers were William Bittinger, cousin of the bridegroom, Grantsville, and Charles Resh, brother of the bridegroom, Grantsville.

A reception followed at the Grantsville Fire Hall. Serving punch and coffee were Mrs. Aretha Brenneman and Mrs. Linda Brenneman. Cutting cake was Mary Mae DeWitt, assisted by Mrs. Wanda Yoder. Also assisting was Mrs. Cleda Baker.

For her going-away ensemble, the bride wore a pink, three-piece pantsuit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High School and attended Catherman's Business School. She is employed by Harbison-Walker Refractories Company, Grantsville.

Mr. Resh is also a graduate of Northern High school and employed by Harbison-Walker.

The couple will reside in Jennings.

One-Vehicle Accident Sends One To Hospital

Several one-vehicle mishaps sent one person to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, and slightly injured two last week. Two were charged with drunk driving.

Candace Lynn Keiter, Martinsburg, W. Va., was taken to the Cumberland hospital by an unknown person. The mishap occurred on the Freeway about a mile and a half east of the Md., W. Va. State line, just past noon last Thursday. The woman was driving east in the fast lane, lost control on the wet roadway, went off the right side, up an embankment and overturned. Tpr. R. B. Westmoreland investigated.

Carl H. Durst, RD 2, Grantsville, was slightly injured when his pick-up struck a utility pole along the Lower New Germany road late last Tuesday. He was driving north when he lost control of the vehicle which went off the road to the right and hit the pole. Tpr. J. E. Foley charged him with negligent driving.

Stephen Arthur Wells, Romney, W. Va., apparently escaped injury when his car overturned in a one-vehicle wreck Saturday afternoon on U.S. 219 just south of Oakland. He was traveling north on Rt. 219 just south of the intersection with Md. 135. The vehicle failed to stay on the right side of the road, went down an embankment and overturned. Tpr. L. W. Smith charged him with negligent driving and driving while intoxicated.

One person was injured slightly in a two-car mishap just before midnight Saturday. Gary Bruce Duckworth, RD 1, Swanton, the injured, was driving west on Md. 135 in the Deer Park area. Ronald Wayne Warnick, RD 1, Swanton, was stopped on the shoulder of the road, headed west. He then pulled on to Rt. 135 into the path of the Duckworth car. Duckworth struck the rear of the Warnick car. Warnick left the scene but was found later. Tpr. Westmoreland charged Warnick with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

A one-vehicle pre-dawn accident Saturday caused injury to the driver of the pick-up on the Glendale road near North Glade road. Charles Edwin Gosnell, II, Star Route, Oakland, was slightly injured. He was traveling east on Glendale road just west of North Glade road when he met an unknown eastbound vehicle. Gosnell went off the road to the right and struck a fence and tree on the property of B. E. Harvey.

Rodney C. Upole, RD 2, Oakland, was traveling north on Second avenue in Friendsville and attempted to make a right turn onto Old Selbysport road. David C. Humberson, RD 1, Friendsville, following, failed to reduce speed and struck the rear of the Upole car. Humberson was charged with failing to reduce speed under existing conditions by Tfc. C. D. Skidmore.

A Keg Of Nails

When the hostess escorts you through James Whitcomb Riley's home in Greenfield, Indiana, she shows you some nails which were so precious at that time. They are manufactured nails, and she explains that some people, in the later 1700's, would burn one house and take the nails from the ashes to use in constructing their next house. Heretofore, there had been only wooden pegs for joining wood, so nails were new and precious metal objects. As in modern days, the colonial government was ready to interfere with the custom of burning for nails. In 1645, a Virginia law was passed to forbid this. For counting and surveying a man's old home, the legislature appointed two officers who decided upon the number of nails in the home. Then the man would be allowed to have that number of nails for his new house when he moved.

Up until 1786, families made nails as one odd job for the winter, for they had nailrods slit off sheets of iron. You heated this rod in a forge, then hammered it, and cut it, making the head by hammering it into shape on a vise. This produced wrought nails, tapered on all four sides, and hammered to a point.

Then Ezekiel Reed invented a nail-making machine. Its mechanics were the same as are now used for making nails. A slicer would cut strips into square nail lengths as the strips were fed through the machine. Cut nails were tapered on one side only and were not pointed. Through another invention in 1810, nails could be cut at the rate of 100 per minute. This production rose to 1,000 per minute, depending upon the kind of nail being completed.

In the older machines, a heading hammer bangs upward against the nail end to flatten its head. Present-day machines have cutter dies to make a point on the opposite end, and a grip die to form grooves next to the head. Into the drum of sawdust goes these nails, for sawdust takes off tiny whiskers of unnecessary steel.

In various types of work we now use masonry nails, spikes, tacks, clouts, clasps, fencing staples, and roseheads. Nails are usually classified according to their use. Hand-wrought nails usually date a building as pre-1800, although they were used after this time in shutters or doors where they were clinched over. The most striking use of today is in horseshoeing, as they must be clinched over the hoof.

Wire nails are the ordinary building type, but in finished carpentry (casing, attaching ornaments, hardwood floors) machine-wrought and cast nails are used.

We often hear farmers talking of 20 penny, 8 penny, or 10 penny nails. As a child, I was asked by an elder, "Don't you know what a 20 penny nail is?" (The larger the penny, the bigger the nail, dear readers). Those nails derive their names from the custom in England of selling nails by the penny. Most nails are sold by the pound in this country, although they may be purchased in larger amounts (kegs). In nail script, penny had "d" as its symbol.

It is impossible to tell exact origins, but a column on nails is incomplete without mentioning our folk expression. When you planned to have refreshments of a grand type, and have a friendly country time, you invited your friends by saying, "Come on over. We're going to open a keg of nails".

Local Youths To Participate In Fund-Raising Event

Many Garrett County youths will be participating in the first annual National Memorial Bowl Association Scholarship Walk-a-thon, scheduled Saturday, May 22, in Largo, a suburb of Washington, D. C.

Funds raised through the organized efforts of the Memorial Bowl College All-Star Football game and its scheduled events will net approximately $1.4 million. Memorial Bowl hoped to award some 3,000 full scholarship grants to college-bound youths this fall.

Youngsters who will be marching in the Walk-a-thon have been asked to pledge citizens to sponsor them at a specified rate per mile, for each of the 20 miles the students walk.

The Southern High School band has been selected as the Memorial Bowl Honor Band, and would have full expenses paid if they should attend, said Edward E. Proudfoot, Jr., Memorial Bowl president. There would be seven days of activity centered around the Memorial Bowl in December, and 119 high school bands were invited.

Exchange Student Home Sought

The stay of an exchange student in the Oakland area is about to come to an end and the American Field Service is now endeavoring to find volunteers who will host another exchange student in the coming year.

This year Southern High school has been hosting Rossy Santana, from the Dominican Republic. She has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Custer. Her year in the community will conclude on July 5 when she begins the return trip to her home.

The American Field Service is an international organization designed to promote intercultural understanding through the exchange program. The Oakland chapter is currently involved in finding an interested family willing to host a student for next year. The student would arrive in August and stay throughout the school year. The family would be expected to provide room and board for the student and accept him as one of their own children. Medical expenses are covered by AFS headquarters in New York. Additional information is available from Miss Anna May Norris at Southern high school.

Generator To Go Back In Action

After six months repair work at the Richmond, Va. shop of a Switzerland firm, the rotor of the generator of the No. 3 unit at the Vepco Mt. Storm power plant will be installed soon.

Harold Turner, superintendent of the facility, said the rotor weighs 100 tons and will be shipped to the Mt. Storm plant on a special railroad car from Richmond.

The No. 3 unit has been out of use since last December, pending completion rotor repairs. Mr. Turner said that all three units of the power plant will operate during the summer and early fall months to provide electricity during the peak months of usage.

Most of the power from Mt. Storm, is transmitted to northern Virginia and the Washington area. The No. 3 unit will produce 565 megawatts of power along with the other two units which have the same capacity.

Each unit burns 5,000 tons of coal daily and the return of the No.3 unit will add to the coal production in Grant and Tucker counties.

Study Underway On Trout Habits

Some 600 clipped fin trout have been stocked in the Savage River Catch and Release area in a study of the growth and migration of stocked trout. The study is being sponsored by the Nemacolin Chapter of Trout Unlimited in cooperation with the Maryland Fisheries Administration.

Each trout has the ventral, anal, or dorsal fin clipped. The catch and release area has been divided into three sections marked by red, white or blue flagging tape on streamside trees.

Fishermen catching a fin clipped fish are asked to call 729-1209 to report the following: which fin was clipped, and the section of stream (whether red, white or blue), and the length of trout.

Westvaco Receives National Award

Westvaco Corporation's nationally recognized Matching Seedling Program to promote reforestation and woodlands management among private landowners has won the Arbor Day Foundation's 1975 Public Relations Award.

The award was accepted for Westvaco in Nebraska City, Nebraska, recently by Fredrick W. Kinard, Jr., of Summerville, S. C. He is Wildlife and Reforestation Manager for Westvaco's Timberlands Division. One of Westvaco's Mills is at Luke.

Announcing the award to Westvaco, an Arbor Day Foundation official said, . . . our hats are off to Westvaco for making the residents in Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia more aware and appreciative of their tree resources."

The citation noted that Westvaco's forestry centers in the areas where the company manages woodlands and purchases forest products for its pulp and paper mills distributed approximately 11 million seedlings last year.

Established by Westvaco in 1966, the Matching Seedling Program establishes approximately 15,000 acres of new forests annually in the 150 counties where the company operates. Westvaco replants some 20,000 acres a year on its own million-acre ownership, and assists neighboring private owners of about 400,000 acres in the company's Cooperative Forest Management Program.

Summer Camp Is Ready For Scouts

Camp Potomac, located near Oldtown, the boy scout summer camp, is being readied for occupancy by members of the troops of Potomac Council.

Among the activities that Scouts find at Camp Potomac are canoeing, rowing, learning to use a .22 caliber rifle properly, and nature study. Members of the camp staff for the five week season are selected carefully and are skilled in their relationship to boys and in helping leaders be effective in administering the troop program at camp.

Special features planned include outpost camping, a campout along the C. and O. canal, and some spelunking near Petersburg, W. Va.
